SOONERS ARRIVE AT 11:45 THIS MONING

Band and Few Hundred Students Coming With Football Men.

The Oklahoma team will reach Lincoln on a special train at 11:45 this morning on the Rock Island in time for a light workout on stadium field this afternoon. Several hundred students and a band are coming with the Sooner squad in anticipation of a victory. Coach Benny Owen is bringing seventeen letter men and six first-year men with him.

Reports coming from Norman about the Sooners of this year have been as variant as the north and south poles. One of the earliest reports stated that Coach Owen had seventeen letter men on the team, but that only three of them are third-year men. Later bearish news was given out about the weak line and the success of the freshmen in scrimmage. The latest bear dope from Norman camp was to the effect that Herbert Schafer, veteran center, had left school and would not be in the lineup. Schafer is the man who scored Oklahoma's only touchdown against Nebraska last year, and Owen had begun to build up his team about him as center.

Tomorrow's game will be the first of the season for Oklahoma. As a result they have not been scouted yet by any opposing coach, and their tactics outside of the general passing game they play every year are unknown. Coach Benny Owen himself scouted the Illinois-Nebraska game and has been drilling his men on probable Nebraska formations. The southerners have an advantage in this respect.

Coach Owen has been working his men hard on straight football, hoping to meet Nebraska on even terms in this department of the game, and to clinch the victory by excelling in forward passing. He has built up a defense that he thinks will stop line smashes and end runs, and at the same time has developed an offensive mixed with enough deception and straight football to make the team dangerous in this respect.

The Oklahoma line as announced by Owen yesterday will have two third-year men, Bowles and Thompson, playing at guard two second-year men, Hickman and McBride. Quarterback Johnson is a third-year man. The halves, Bristow and Hammett, are second-year men and Lamb, fullback, is a first-year man. There are nine letter men in reserve, and several more first-year men.

The Oklahoma squad for the first time in the five years that they have played Nebraska will have the edge in weight. The team average of the Sooners is about three pounds higher than that of Nebraska. The line averages about five greater. The backfield is about the same weight as Nebraska's. The exact figures are: Team average, 185; line average, 189 3-4; backfield average, 176 3-4.

Forward passing has played an important part in all games played by Oklahoma during the last twenty-two years in which Owen has been coaching the Sooner team. Given a good dry field and clear weather and the Sooners handle the pigskin much as a basketball five handles basketball on a gymnasium floor.

The Sooners have had hard luck with weather condition in the last three times they played Nebraska. Forward passing was eliminated from play and Nebraska generally excelled in straight football. The weather outlook for tomorrow indicates that there will be a dry field with hardly any prospect of rain. This year, if any, the Sooners will have a chance to win.

Four Go to Meeting of Regional Council

The Regional Council of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. for the Nebraska district is in session at Manhattan, Kas., this week, October 10-13. The University of Nebraska sends a delegation of four to this meeting.

Miss Erma Appleby, secretary of the local Y. W., Emily Ross, regional editor of the Woman's Press, official Y. W. C. A. magazine, William Aldstadt, president of the Y.M.C.A. and Paul McCaffree, secretary, are the Nebraska representatives.

HARRIERS MAKE FIRST SHOWING SATURDAY

Meet Between Nebraska and Sooners to End Between Halves of Game.

The first appearance of the Cornhusker cross-country team will be Saturday against the Sooner harriers. The Nebraska team this year is thought to be superior to last year's squad, but the comparative strength of the Oklahoma team is unknown. It has been suggested that chasing the K. K. K.'s should put the Sooner bunch in first class shape for the meet.

According to Coach McMasters, the team will start in front of the east seat stands in the new Stadium, and follow the regular course through Belmont. The finish will be in front of the west stands between halves of the football game.

The six men who will win Saturday for Nebraska are: J. C. Lewis, J. W. Cohen, E. D. Dickson, Paul Zimmerman, R. T. Rogers, and L. K. Howard.

EGYPT SUBJECT OF SPEECH TO CLASS

Will Hardy Gives Illustrated Lecture to European History Section Wednesday.

"Egyptian Civilization" was the subject of a talk given by Will Hardy to Miss Pfeiffer's class in European History Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in Bessey hall lecture room.

Mr. Hardy first talked for a half hour on historical Egypt. He then showed pictures illustrating Egyptian civilization and also pictures of the pyramids and tombs of the ancient kings. He had some drawings that he had made illustrating the construction of the tombs which showed how robbers were kept out.

The lecture was based on observations made by Mr. Hardy in a trip he took to Egypt about a year ago. He has made a special study of Egyptian civilization and he gave the students the results of his personal investigation.

PROFESSOR WEBSTER PUBLISHES A HISTORY

New Book Dealing With Entire World Attracts Great Attention.

Professor Hutton Webster, professor of history at the University of Nebraska, has published this month the library edition of his "World History." This is considered a literary event of great importance.

This book, first put out in 1921 as a textbook, has been wholly reprinted and made into a work less for the technical student than for the general reader.

When H. G. Wells published his "Outline of History," he intended it to be a forerunner of other books of similar nature. He stated that there were three writers of history of our time who were capable of this. One of these named was Dr. Webster, author of several texts widely used in American education

The intention of the history, as pointed out by Dr. Webster, is to present a survey of human progress, rather than a chronological outline of events; it is addressed to all who feel an interest in man's past and nourish hope for his future. His aim is to trace civilization through its various stages up to its present high state of development.

It is of interest to note that Prof. Webster's work is dedicated to Dr. George Elliott Howard, professor of sociology and one of the well-known sociologists of the day.

Heaven does not mean the same old crowd more comfortably located, but the right sort of people regardless of residence.

A woman wants beauty, so she buys a box of it and rubs it on. A man wants calmness and peace, so he buys a cigaret. A nickel's worth of beauty and a nickel's worth of peace!

Some people would not hesitate to drive up to heaven's gate and honk.
