Nebraska Makes First Entry on New Page in Her Athletic History

The University of Nebraska made the first entry on a new page in her athletic history last Saturday. The new Memorial Stadium saw its first game. Although the official dedication of the new field is to be held this week at the Kansas-Nebraska game, about 16,000 Husker rooters celebrated the unofficial opening of the structure. The band, the Corncocks, the cheerleaders, the quartet, and the old-time Nebraska spirit were strikingly apparent.

The game started at 2 o'clock with the east stand completely filled and that on the west side about half full. Several thousand youngsters who were admitted free under the direction of the Boy Scouts, lined the ends of the gridiron. The cheer leaders were at once busy warming up the student body on the "locomotive" and the famous "No. one." The first selection of the band, "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," came soon after.

The psychology of the first quarter was not difficult to follow. The crowds were slow to warm up, slow to catch the spirit, and slow to realize that Nebraska had a real team. Lack of spectacular runs or grandstand plays were largely responsible. After the first three points the ther-

Stuff Speaks at Vespers Tuesday

Professor Frederick A. Stuff will speak on "The Individual in Relation to His Group" at the Vesper service tonight in Ellen Smith hall. Gertrude Tomson will lead the meeting. Special provision is being made to arrange for adequate seating room.

Music by Mayme Pecha will precede the service. Frances Weintz, Charlotte Baker, Margaret Drummond, Helen Guthrie and Laura Whelpley will be hostesses.

"Q" OFFERS LOW RATE FOR HOMECOMING DAY

One and a Half Fares for Round Trip; Return Limit October 19.

A special round trip rate of one and a half fares for Homecoming day, Saturday, October 20, will be made by the Burlington railroad from all points in Nebraska. Other roads running into Lincoln are expected to follow the "Q's" lead. The tickets will go on sale October 19 and 20. The final return limit is October 21 with a possibility that it will be extended to the 22nd.

This is the first time that railroads have ever granted a special rate to Nebraska homecoming alumni. This year's action was due largely to the efforts of W. S. Whitten, secretary of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, who telegraphed to Chicago headquarters of the Burlington and negotiated the convention rate. Similar reduced rates have been made by Kansas railroads in the past for Kansas University homecoming on Thanksgiving day.

Attendance at the game Saturday is expected to be greater than ever before on account of the reduced railroad fares and the ample accommodations in the new stadium.

Observatory Open to Public Tuesday

The University Observatory will be open to the public Tuesday, October 16, from 7 to 10 p. m., if the skies are clear for a view of the moon. At 8 o'clock there will be a lecture on "The Recent Total Eclipse." The observatory will be open every third Tuesday evening of each month this winter for a brief lecture at 8 o'clock, and if the skies are clear the telescope may be used before and after the lecture.

Have More '27 Pins.

Freshmen! Have you lost your green buttons? Call at Miss Appleby's office in Ellen Smith hall and get one. Every freshman girl must wear the green '27 until the Olympics when she may discard it—if the class wins the meet.

HOLD ALL-UNIVERSITY PARTY FOR OLD GRADS

Entire Evening to Be Spent in Dancing; Committee Appointments Out.

The second all-University party of the year will be held at the Armory at 8:15 Saturday evening, and will be the third big event of the day, the stadium dedication coming in the morning and the Kansas football game in the afternoon. Committee appointments will be made today for the party.

At a meeting of the all-University party committee held Monday evening, it was decided that the entertainment of the evening would consist entirely of dancing. Welch Pogue, chairman of the entertainment committee, resigned and Harold Edgerton was elected to take his place.

Old grads who are back for the homecoming and dedication ceremonies are especially invited to attend the mixer. Watson's orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing. The first party, held several weeks ago, was a splendid success, and the committee plans on repeating the accomplishment Saturday night.

APPOINT CHAIRMAN FOR MILITARY BALL

Monroe Gleason in Charge of Committees for First Formal of Season.

Monroe Gleason, cadet lieutenant colonel, has been appointed general chairman of the committees for the military ball to be held December 7 in the city auditorium.

The military ball is the first formal of the season and 300 tickets are to be issued. The cadet officers are expected to take half of these so only 150 will be available for the public. The tickets will go on sale three weeks before the dance.

This is the time when the honorary colonel, chosen at the elections held a week ago, will be introduced. She will lead the grand march of cadet officers, accompanied by the cadet colonel. The ball is given under the auspices of the cadet officers association which is made up of 146 officers. There will be a ten-piece orchestra and plenty of favors according to those in charge. The various committees will be announced later.

Dad's Day Set for Date of Irish Game

Dad's Day will be held November 10, the day of the Notre Dame game. The Innocents will be in charge. Last year there was a large attendance and a banquet was given for the dads at noon. After this they attended the game in a body, sitting with their sons. A number of campus organizations are planning special programs for the fathers.

Agronomy Club Holds First Open Meeting

The Agronomy club of College of Agriculture will hold its first open meeting on next Wednesday, October 17. A feature of the meeting will be a talk by Dr. Kesselbach of the agronomy department on "Wheat Investigations at the Nebraska Experiment Station."

All men who wish to hear the lecture should come to D. I. 301 at 7:30 o'clock.

Kindergarten-Primary Club Elects Officers

New officers were chosen for the Kindergarten-Primary Club last Thursday. The following were elected: President, Ruth Atkinson; Advisory Committee, Gertrude Broadwell, Mary Lou Parker, Iris Ludden.

The Club is a department organization including all girls specializing in this field. It is a branch of the National Council of Primary Education. In connection with the Lincoln branch of this organization, the Club is planning a luncheon in honor of Miss Patty Hill of Columbia University during her visit in Lincoln November first.

The initiation of new members will be held October 25 and the first monthly dinner will occur October 31. Bizad day takes place November 9. Everyone is urged to attend the next regular business meeting of the club, Thursday at 11 o'clock in Social Science, room 303.

SPHINX LAY DEFINITE PLANS FOR BARBECUE

Speakers Will Be Chancellor Avery, Dr. Condra, Coach Dawson and Captain Lewellen.

Definite plans and arrangements are being made for the annual freshman barbecue to be held Thursday evening at 6 o'clock on the new stadium field. Tickets are now on sale by members of Iron Sphinx, sophomore men's honorary, under whose auspices the affair is being held.

Any male student in the University may attend the big feed if he buys a ticket. The price is 50 cents. The sophomores are being urged especially to attend. It has been suggested that plans for the coming freshman-sophomore Olympics can be started at the barbecue.

The barbecue of last year was one of the most successful ever held in the history of the University, as classmen say. The Iron Sphinx of that year received a great deal of credit for the excellency of the entire program and the way in which they made every freshman feel at home and get the famous "Nebraska spirit."

The program will consist of the meal, music, and speaking. Dr. Condra, the founder of the "Olympics," has promised to make one of the speeches. Others who are expected to speak are Coach Dawson, Chancellor Avery and Captain Lewellen.

Receive Applications Today for College Editors of Annual

Applications will be received today for the positions of college editors for the Cornhusker according to Robert F. Craig, editor in chief. Positions on the staff of the college editors are also to be filled. There are still some vacancies among the typists and assistant editors of all departments. Applications should be filled out in the Cornhusker office in the basement of University hall.

University Directory.

Today is the last day that corrections may be handed in for the University Directory. Please notify Mr. McCaffree, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the Temple.

Stadium Edition to Be Issued Saturday

A Stadium dedication edition of the Daily Nebraskan will be published Saturday, and distributed before the formal dedication of Nebraska's memorial stadium on Saturday morning. In order that the Nebraskan staff can devote more time to the preparation of the stadium edition, there will be no issue of the Daily Nebraskan Thursday morning.

CLASS MEETINGS TO COME ON SAME DAY

All Four Groups Plan Meetings for Next Tuesday Morning.

For the first time in the history of the University all four classes will hold their class meetings at the same time.

The meetings will be held next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, it was announced yesterday. Minor class officers will be elected by each class at that time, and the regular business of the classes will be taken up. The four class presidents will be chairmen of their respective class meetings. The places of the meetings will be announced later.

Altho it was impossible to have classes dismissed, Dean Engberg commended the idea of having the classes meet at the same time and urged every student to attend his class meeting.

With the dedication of the stadium being held this Saturday, it is expected that class spirit will be increased, and that the stadium dedication will be the keynote of the various meetings.

Juniors and seniors are especially urged to attend their class gatherings, because the junior-senior prom is scheduled for this semester, and early action is needed in order that the annual hop may be a success.

Hale Collection to Hang in Art Gallery

A collection of the drawings of Philip Hale will hang in the art gallery of the University from October 15 until November 15.

Mr. Hale is one of the foremost American artists of today. He was born in Boston in 1865, where he now has his studio. He studied at the Art Students' League and with J. Alden Weir in New York and at the Julien Academy and the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris.

His paintings hang in the collection of the Pennsylvania Academy, Philadelphia; the Museum of Montevideo, Uruguay; the Corcoran Gallery, Washington, D. C.; and the Philadelphia Art Academy. He has received a large number of medals and prizes. Mr. Hale was a member of the International Art Jury at the San Francisco Exposition, 1915. He was an instructor at the Boston Museum School and the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

The Gallery is open to the public on Sunday afternoons from 3 to 5, in addition to the regular hours, 9 to 12 daily and 9 to 5 Saturdays.

Girl's Cornhusker Luncheon to be Held in Armory Homecoming Day

The girl's Cornhusker luncheon needs no introduction to upperclassmen. They know that it is an annual event, a tradition for girls alone, always held on Homecoming day. They remember that it used to be held at the Lincoln hotel, that 500 girls was the maximum number that ever could attend, and that there were always disappointed co-eds who could not go. They could tell the freshmen many glorious tales of past Cornhusker luncheons.

But this year it is going to be "bigger and better" than ever before. In the first place it will be held in the Armory, where at least 750 girls can be accommodated. In the second place, the all-University party decoration committee is co-operating with the W. S. G. A. board to make the place "a thing of beauty," fit to be the scene of such an event. In the third place, the girl's Cornhusker luncheon, being held on the campus, will be more than ever

PRIZE FOR HOUSE ADORNED BEST ON HOMECOMING DAY

"Red" Long of College Book Store Offers Lettered Skin to Winner of Competition.

GREEK ORGANIZATIONS AND "DORMS" ELIGIBLE

Innocents, in Charge of Contest, Will Appoint a Committee to aid in the Judging.

A contest for the best decorated fraternity or sorority house or dormitory will be held next Saturday for the homecoming game. "Red" Long of the College Book Store is offering a skin, similar to the ones given for track and basketball championships, for the best decorated house.

The Innocents Society is in charge of the contest and will appoint a committee to assist Mr. Long in the judging. This is the first year that this plan has been put on a competitive basis and should furnish a real outlet for the artistic minds at the various houses.

There have been decorations on the houses in the past few years but a prize has never been offered. Practically every school in the Missouri Valley conducts a contest similar to this on Homecoming day and the Innocents expect to make this a permanent tradition at Nebraska.

No organization is expected to spend a large sum of money for the decorations; the judging will be based on the cleverness and originality of the ideas presented.

Every organization on the campus is expecting a large number of alumni to return for the homecoming game and the decorated houses should furnish some attraction for all visitors from Kansas.

With special trains coming from Omaha and a large crowd of out-of-town visitors here to see the Cornhusker and Kansas eleven in action, the gaily decorated fraternity and sorority houses and dormitories will play an important part in the day's program. More announcements concerning the decorating of the houses will be made in the Daily Nebraskan in a few days.

Athletic Ticket Sale Over State Is Heavy

The individual ticket sale to alumni and football fans out over the state has been heavy, according to the student activities office. The ticket office at Latsch Brothers reports a steady sale of tickets for all the games.

Sections "J," "H," "G," "E," and "K" are sold up to the thirty-third row. These reservations comprise over 3,000 seats. There remain enough good seats to accommodate the expected crowds, however. The thirty-third to forty-seventh rows in all sections and the balcony sections are still unreserved. Reservations should be made at once as they are filled in the order that the checks are received.

a school function, and it will be much easier to reach the stadium. Never before have such extensive plans been laid. Special tables are being constructed for the occasion. Truck loads of flowers, favors, and food have been ordered. The Scarlet and Cream will be carried out in decorations; the stadium idea will be used in the toast lists. Every girl will receive red and white flowers along with favors and serpentine to throw at the game. On the whole it will be the best luncheon staged in recent years and by far the largest.

Tickets are on sale at Ellen Smith hall between 11 and 1 o'clock, 3 and 5 o'clock today and tomorrow, and according to Ruth Carpenter, general chairman, are being sold fast. They are 75 cents this year, because of the enlarged plans and added attractions. Every girl who plans to take in this "bigger Nebraska event" should get her ticket at once, while they last.
