FIFTY REPORTERS ARE ON STAFF OF DAILY NEBRASKAN

Organizations Not Getting Publicity Asked to Consult Managing Editor.

WRITERS NAMED TO HELP NEWSGATHERING

About fifty students of the eight thousand enrolled in the University are more or less regularly engaged in reporting news for the Daily Nebraskan. Some of the reporters have regular "runs" and others write up anything required. While it is against the policy of the paper to credit each story to its writer, it is felt that the gathering of news will be somewhat facilitated if more of the reporters are known.

Student organizations whose activities are not getting the proper publicity in the Nebraskan should appoint a reporter or make arrangement with the managing editor of the Nebraskan to have a staff reporter cover their activities for the "Rag."

John Hollingsworth is the sports editor of the Nebraskan, and writes daily stories on the progress of the "fighting Cornhuskers" on the grid field. Included in his list of assistants is William Cejnar, who covers the activities of the freshman moleskin warriors. Judd Crocker reports on Missouri Valley football, while Kenneth Cook presents the Nebraskan readers with news of Nebraska's eastern opponents, and the football world in general. Paul Zimmerman, star runner on the Husker cross-country team, is reporting the activities of the harriers from day to day and William Card handles fall track.

News from the Agricultural college is handled by Marx Koehnke, Amos Gramlich, and Yeshwanter Bhosale. William Hilliker is cover-

SENIOR PRESIDENT PICKS COMMITTEES

Oliver Maxwell Named General Chairman of Junior-Senior Prom.

H. Stephen King, president of the senior class, has announced committees for the first semester. Seven committees, with Oliver Maxwell as general chairman, will work on the annual junior-senior prom, the date of which has not yet been definitely set. It will probably be held early in the formal season. Other committees are athletics, Olympics, debate, finance and class gift.

Men's athletics—George Smaha, chairman; Frank Adkins, Herbert Dewitz, Ross McGlasson, Joy Berquist.

Olympics—Henry Bassett, chairman; Cecil Hartman, Newton Woodward.

Debate—Merle Loder, chairman; Julia Sheldon, Norman Cramb, Floyd Ammer, Louis Somberg.

Finance—Stanley Matzke, chairman; Mary Ure, Margaret Wattles, Herbert Mayer, Harlan Coy.

Class Gift—Knox Burnett, chairman; John Long, William Alstadt, Neil Sanborn.

Women's athletics—Lois Pederson, chairman; Marie Snavelly, Adelheit Dettman.

Junior-Senior Prom. General committee—Oliver Maxwell, chairman; Ranson Samuelson, Aurel Foreman, Virgil Northwall, Robert Craig.

Entertainment—Dietrich Dirks, chairman; Joe Wood, Ruth Miller, Dorothy Hisabeck, Ruth Gnam.

Social Service Worker Speaks to Sociology Classes

Miss Ida Cannon, director of the social service department of the Massachusetts general hospital, addressed sociology classes Tuesday on training for medical social service. She stressed the need of specialization in the big hospitals, which will lead to the elimination of the human element. There is a need, she said, for making medicine less an art and more a science.

ADD ATHLETIC EVENTS TO DAD'S DAY PROGRAM

Varsity Quartet, Orchestra, Speakers and Boxing for Luncheon Nov. 10.

In addition to the varsity quartet, an orchestra, and various speakers, several athletic events, such as boxing, are planned for the entertainment of the dads at the luncheon on Dad's Day November 10, according to information given out Wednesday afternoon by members of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

Dr. George P. Shidler of York, a Nebraska graduate and a prominent young men's worker, is scheduled to give the principal address at the luncheon. Dr. Shidler, well known to many Nebraskans, gave the alumni address last alumni week.

Tickets for the luncheon are expected to go on sale Monday, and may be secured from any Viking.

The luncheon starts at 11 a. m., and serving will begin at 11:30. Immediately following the luncheon and short program, the body will go the stadium where the student section has been extended to take care of the dads for the Notre Dame game.

As soon as possible students are asked to ascertain whether their fathers will be present, and to give the information to Philip Lewis. This is highly important, members of the committee state, in order that preparations may be made for luncheon.

Students who failed to get a copy of the Nebraskan containing the letter and story concerning the plans for the day, may receive a copy by calling at the Nebraskan office.

An innovation this year is that coats have been requested to ask their fathers down for the day also, for while the daughters themselves cannot attend the luncheon at noon, the fathers can go with someone else, and attend the game with their daughters.

Tickets for the game may be obtained in advance by calling at the student activities office, accompanied by the father, the morning of the game.

Dads a thousand strong took possession of the campus last year and twice as many are expected for the event this year.

Freshmen, Will You Do Your Part Towards Beating Irish?

Freshmen, would you like to help Nebraska's "fighting Cornhuskers" defeat the "fightin' Irish" from Notre Dame in the memorial stadium a week from Saturday?

Certainly you would. Furthermore, you are going to have an opportunity to help win the Notre Dame contest, that "game of games," at which you will see the greatest display of traditional Husker fight ever exhibited at the Cornhusker school.

How? By pledging one or more units towards the payment for the new memorial stadium.

"But how will this help to win the Notre Dame game?" ask the freshmen. Here is the explanation:

Nebraska's football squad, under the direction of Head Coach Dawson, Coach Schulte and assistants, is out on the athletic field today, tomorrow, and every day preparing for the contest with the Notre Dame team, which is being hailed as the "greatest football machine in the country." The moleskin warriors are grinding and drilling, making every effort to be able to turn back the Irish onslaught on the 10th.

The team is doing its part toward the winning of the Notre Dame game. Something more, however, is necessary, if Nebraska is to defeat Notre Dame in the conflict "next week." Loyalty and support by the student body is an indispensable factor

ENGINEERS' STAG TOMORROW HAS VARIED PROGRAM

Professors' Story-telling Contest, and Athletic Events Followed by Feed.

WILL HOLD DRAWINGS FOR PRIZE NOTEBOOK

The annual Engineers' Stag with a program including a story-telling contest by professors, the singing of a "ditty with pointed words," athletic events, and drawings for a prize, followed by a feed, is dated for Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the Mechanical Engineering building.

All engineering instructors and students are invited to attend by the student chapter of the American Association of Engineers, sponsors of the stag. "Bring your own smokes," is the advice offered by Harold Edgerton, chairman of the committee in charge.

The party will open in room 206 where the head of each department will deliver the highest-powered story he knows. Other professors may enter the contest committee members said.

Henry Sargent, president of A. A. E., will speak following the talks by professors, on the purposes and functions of the association.

Marshall and Edgerton are next on the program with a "musical knock" designed to hit the "highlights and humorous side" of the college.

Nebraska and engineers' yells are to be led by Hendricks, Krage, and Skinner, and a new engineers' song may be introduced. An orchestra composed of engineers is being organized to play some of the latest popular songs.

A fencing match between Henry Sargent, Western Inter-collegiate Conference champion, and an unknown will be staged in the wood-working laboratory on the second floor. Boxing and wrestling events are also planned.

Coffee and "Coney islands" will be served in the foundry on the first floor, and then the free tickets that are being distributed to all engineers will be used in drawing for a regulation engineering notebook furnished by A. A. E.

Will Choose W. A. A. Vice President Friday

The Women's Athletic association election for vice president is to be Friday. The nominees for the vice presidency are Esther Swanson, Louise Branstad, and Irene Mangold. Polls will be open to members of W. A. A. all day Friday at the west entrance of Memorial hall.

GRIDSTERS GRIND AWAY PREPARING FOR NOTRE DAME

With Every Man in Pink of Condition, Dawson is Drilling Squad to Win.

SCRIBE PREDICTS IRISH INVADERS DUE TO SLIP

When the invading Irish from Notre Dame hit Nebraska in their annual grid clash here November 10 they will know they have hit something. The Cornhuskers have been putting in the hardest licks of the year this week and when the Scarlet and Cream warriors take the field they will be a more experienced and much better drilled team than they have been so far this year.

Head Coach Dawson and his assistants have been working overtime whipping their proteges into shape and good results have been noticed already. There is such a thing possible that Notre Dame gridsters will come out loaded for bear and so sure they will get a lot of game that they will slip up on something. Many slips are expected by the Nebraska followers.

Every Man in Shape.

With every man in tip-top shape, Coach Dawson has plenty of material to work on for the big game and is using every available method to put out a winning team.

Practice Wednesday was slowed up a trifle by the foggy field but the squad was out there working and grinding. Everything was on the bill from kicking and passing to "knock 'em down" scrimmage with the freshmen.

The varsity gained consistently from the yearlings and the frosh were seldom able to make yardage. Hendrickson and McGlasson were tearing 'em up in the line on the varsity and good gains were made consistently through these forwards.

Three hours of hard practice are on the schedule for every day of the remaining week and for the first part of next week when the procedure may be changed slightly according to the coaches.

Use Notre Dame Plays.

Ten days of gruelling scrimmage and battering from the varsity face the freshmen as they help prepare

Y. W. RAISES THIRD OF BUDGET IN HALF-DAY

Team Under Desma Renner First to Go Over Hundred Dollar Mark.

Over one-third of the Y. W. C. A. budget was raised in the first half-day of the campaign. The first team to go over the hundred dollar line was that under Desma Renner who reported $123.90 at noon Wednesday. About 100 girls attended the team luncheon at Ellen Smith hall served under the direction of Lois Thompson, social chairman. Reports are made by the team captains at daily luncheons.

Team	Amount
Dorothy Dougan	$18.50
Eleanor Flatmensch	45.50
Charlotte Baker	24.00
Laura Whelpley	19.00
Ruth Wells	23.00
Rosanna Williams	11.00
Dorothy Davis	38.00
Julia Sheldon	22.00
Pauline Gellatly	50.00
Frances Weintz	23.00
Millicent Jaeke	29.50
Helen Guthrie	34.50
Desma Renner	123.90
Arvilla Johnson	30.00
Frances McChesney	31.00
Margaret Williams	34.50
Mildred Daly	31.00
Marjell Flynn	31.00
Marjell Flynn	30.50
Margaret Wattles	5.00
Jessie Sutter	25.00

The total budget requirement will probably be raised in the two remaining days of the drive those in charge say. Two sections of the huge candle on the porch at Ellen Smith hall have already been removed indicating that the $600 mark has been reached. Electricity lights the taper by night but by Friday evening it is expected to have burned to its $1,700 goal.

FOURTH OF Y QUOTA IS RAISED FIRST DAY

Gleason's Team Takes Honors Wednesday Noon With $38.50 Pledged.

Five hundred dollars, about one-fourth of the quota in the University Y. M. C. A.'s drive for funds, were raised during the first day of the campaign, according to reports made by the team captains at the luncheon of the drive workers held yesterday noon at the Grand hotel. Only a few students have been interviewed by the solicitors, but as the drive gets into full swing it is expected that reports this noon will show most of the quota raised.

All workers will meet again this noon at the Grand hotel to report their progress and discuss further plans. The final report will be made at the luncheon tomorrow.

Monroe Gleason's team with a total of $38.50 to its credit captured the honors for yesterday among the twenty teams. The team captained by Wendell Brown was second with $37.00. The lowest report was $12.

"The spirit shown by the men of the University in response to the appeal of the 'Y' for money with which to carry on its work, has been very gratifying," Bennett S. Martin, general chairman of the drive, said yesterday. "The men who are working on the committees are showing themselves to be hard and willing workers."

The captain of the winning team, "Duke" Gleason, gave the workers a little advice on how to approach their prospects. Prof. A. A. Reed also gave a short talk.

W. Paul McCaffree, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., called the attention of the workers to a "Y" activity that is little known on the campus, the weekly World Forum dinners. Speakers of national importance address these meetings.

Any student who has not been asked to subscribe to the fund and who wishes to do so may give his contribution to the general secretary, Mr. McCaffree, in the Temple.

Members of the Oregon Aggie team who were to take part in the California-Aggie football game last Saturday narrowly escaped injury when the car in which they were riding was struck and overturned Saturday morning while they were sightseeing. There were six members of the Aggie team in the car.

STUDENTS RESPOND TO DRIVE LAST TWO DAYS

Officials Pleased With Success of Voluntary Payment of Stadium Pledges.

Payment of stadium pledges picked up during the last two days of the campaign and left officials pleased with the success of the voluntary payment plan. Law 106 is the place where students should pay the second installment of the pledges which came due October 24.

"The office is very well pleased with the interest shown by the students in the payment of their pledges and while we realize that all could not pay them during the booth campaign, they should meet their obligations within the month," stated Ray Stryker, yesterday.

The money is needed immediately by the men in charge of the financing of the stadium, and it is imperative, according to officials, that the payments be made before November 1 in Law 106.

The stadium pledge is a note, say committeemen, and the second installment fell due a week ago. An additional month will be given the students, however.

Professor George E. Condra is in Hastings this week on field work connected with the soil survey.

New Spirit To Awaken On Campus

You are about to witness and to take part in the awakening of a new spirit in the University of Nebraska. This spirit will make its appearance in an historic old building on the campus at the hour of 7 on Tuesday night, November 6. What will it be? Suffice it to say that whatever it is, it will be "something for nothing" and that something will stay with you for a long time.

At the hour of 7 this spirit will arise and spread itself over the assembled multitude of the University. Let us see you there, freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors. Watch tomorrow's "Rag" for more complete information concerning this mystic party.

Plan right now to see this unusual happening which will doubtless grow to be Nebraska's greatest, most cherished tradition.
