

EXPECT STIFF BATTLE WITH IRISH MACHINE

Record of Notre Dame Causes Cornhusker Mentor Some Worry.

Coach Fred "Snap it up" Dawson of the Nebraska Cornhusker football eleven is losing sleep these nights figuring out ways and means of trimming the "Fighting Irish" from Notre Dame on the new stadium field November 10.

The fact that Notre Dame has never failed to cause the Scarlet and Cream representatives much trouble and that the Rockneites have met and defeated some of the best teams of the country already this season has caused Dawson to grow a flock of gray hairs on his head. The coming mix is carded for Dad's day on the local battle grounds and is among the important confabs of the 1923 season, therefore the worry on the part of the Husker mentor.

Nebraska has played four games, lost the first, won the second and knotted the last duet, and still has more counters registered than its opponents.

Dawson with his able assistants have been working his proteges overtime during the past few days and has stiff workouts on program thru-out the coming seven days. Last night besides the regular scrimmage, blocking, catching and flipping the leather filled the afternoon's workouts. The frosh aggregation have been working Notre Dame plays against the varsity and it is more than likely that local formations are known on the Rockne practice field.

Notre Dame has exhibited a different type of football each time they have played this season. Against the Princeton artists the Irish demonstrated one of the best brands of straight football that has been seen in the east in years and surprised the Tigers when they failed to resort to the aerial game which was responsible for so much ground for the Indiana eleven against the Army. Eastern critics say that the light line of the winning aggregation has showed a new method of offensive play that is sure to be copied in the east. Veterans were scratching their heads and trying to recall if they ever saw a guard get out and assist the interference for a back or sweeping end runs. Last week against Georgia Tech the Dame guards did that very thing time after time.

Since that day when Rockne and his eleven came onto the field opposing West Point, only to forward pass the cadets delirious, Cornhuskers have uniformly had some worry concerning the coming mix. Captain Lewellen is piloting a new team since the past two knotted twists and Huskers have started to chase the dark cloud from over their heads.

The gridsters have a closed door program until the Armistice day meeting and Nebraska followers are assured of a different combination.

Registrar's Office Closed for Funeral

The registrar's office will be closed at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon because of the funeral services for Mrs. Eunice Field, which will be held at 3:30 at the Field residence, 2536 P street. Burial will be at Wyuka cemetery.

Influenza, complicated by pneumonia, was the cause of the death of Mrs. Field, who had been in the registrar's office since 1917. She was sixty-three years old, and is survived by two daughters.

The convention of the National Association of College and University Unions will be held at the Minnesota Union November 30th and December 1st.

Nevada's registration figures for this semester show the biggest enrollment in the history of the University with seven hundred and forty students enrolled.

A Peaches and Cream Complexion.

It was a wonderful summer but the price one has to pay. If we will swim, play golf, or do such things the inevitable tan appears. Now we want pink and white complexions and what can we do? I have found that the MARINELLO BLEACH PASTE from Giffens Beaute Shoppe will do wonders and you can use it at home. You leave it on for fifteen or twenty minutes and it will make your skin from two to five shades lighter without irritation.

A New Dress for You.

Did you know that there was a sale of dresses at Ben Simon and Son's? They have all sorts for every occasion. There are wool dresses of poiret twill and flannel which are so practical for school. For afternoon wear there are a number of silk and satin dresses. They are trimmed with beads, embroidery or bits of fur. You can each have at least one of these frocks for they are only $18.50.
