COLOR DOMINANT AT PAN-HEL BALL

Two Hundred and Fifty Couples Present at Annual Party.

HALL DECORATED WITH FRATERNITY CRESTS

A mass of color that changed as a shifting spectrum, a deep rumble of voices punctuated by a shrill and gay laugh, a spirited piece of music played by a lively orchestra—this was the annual Pan-Hellenic formal which marked the climax of the winter parties at Nebraska. For three hours, 250 couples danced in a distinctive college atmosphere at one of the most brilliant parties of the year.

The ballroom of the Scottish Rite Temple was decorated by every pin or crest from every fraternity on the campus. The multi-shaped forms of the various badges, hung in an artistic manner, gave the personal touch to the party that lent the gaiety and the splendor that could only have been attained by such a representative formal.

Five Hundred Attend.
At least five hundred students, representative students from this University, threaded in and out across the ballroom floor, exchanging greetings, remarks, and dances. Sponsored by the Kosmet Klub, the annual Pan-Hellenic party has grown to be one of the leading parties of the year. Suspended in favor of military activities for the duration of the war, the Pan-Hel formal was revived last year in all its former popularity. This year, but 250 tickets were released and they were sold long before the allotted time. Owing to a mistake a few extras were sold. Nothing could be done save to ask that they be turned in and that was done. The scarcity of the tickets and the popularity of the ball frustrated any attempt made to call in the extra tickets. The ballroom, however, was not overcrowded.

FRATERNITY RIFLE TOURNAMENT TO START

Seventeen Organizations Entered in Shoot Which Ends Saturday.

The annual interfraternity rifle tournament starts tomorrow with seventeen fraternities entered. Team members may come up any time Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, and can fire their score cards in about forty-five minutes.

A prize, probably a skin, will be awarded the winning fraternity. Last year a skin was given to the first place winners.

ISSUE INSTRUCTIONS FOR GROUP PICTURES

Photographs for Cornhusker Will Be Made at Campus Studio.

Instructions for all group pictures for the 1924 Cornhusker have been issued by the managing editor, Wendell Berge. Beginning tomorrow all group pictures will be taken at the Campus Studio located in front of the Mechanic Arts building.

Any group or organization which has not been interviewed about a page, and desires to be represented in the annual, should call the Cornhusker office early this week. The university studio, which will handle all group pictures, is one of the best equipped studios in the state and is under the direction of Dr. G. E. Condra with Al F. Larrivee, formerly with MacDonaldis, as the photographer. Fraternities and sororities are governed by separate instructions.

The following is the list of instructions issued to each organization on the campus: All organization group pictures must be taken before Saturday, February 2. Beginning Sunday the Cornhusker staff announces that all pictures will be taken at the campus studio located in front of the mechanical arts building. This is a University of Nebraska studio and is one of the best equipped for photography of any in the state. Some saving in the price to organizations will be made in this new plan.

Appointments for the various groups will be handled at the Cornhusker office in the basement of U hall (northeast corner, day phone B6891, exchange number 188-2R, night calls after 8 p. m. and on Sunday B6882). Appointments must be scheduled two days in advance of the sitting.

Studio hours at the campus studio available for appointments are: Week days 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.; Sundays, 10:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.; 2:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. Groups should take advantage of early morning hours if possible. Approximately three groups can be handled each hour.

The price of group pictures at the campus studio will be approximately $3. Extra prints may be obtained for 50c. Each group will make one person responsible for the key names to the pictures and the copy that goes on the page. This name should appear on the blank furnished at the photographers.

For further information call Wendell Berge, managing editor of the Cornhusker, at the office.

Omaha Superintendent to Address Teachers

Superintendent Beveridge of the Omaha public schools will speak at special convocation of the Teachers College Tuesday at 11 o'clock. FRATERNITY MEN WORK CLEARING OFF TRACK

Sixty Shovel Snow so That Track Practice May Begin.

Sixty men raked, shoveled, hauled, and scraped for two hours yesterday afternoon helping to get the new track under the east stand of the stadium ready for practice tomorrow. It is expected that the track will be completed by Tuesday.

Coach Schulte has sent out a call for track men to report tomorrow, and he says that work will begin in earnest. The team has already made a late start for the track season, and it was for this reason that student help was called.

The following fraternities sent from four to ten men who help with the work on the track: Acacia, Alpha Sigma Phi, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

TEAMS TO MEET IN FINAL DEBATE

Argument on Unicameral Legislature Will Decide Inter-class Championship

FRESHMAN TEAM WILL DEFEND AFFIRMATIVE

The junior and freshman debate teams will clash Monday evening on the question, "Should Nebraska Adopt the Unicameral Legislature?", to decide the inter-class championship. The debate will be held at 8:00 in Social Science auditorium.

The freshman team, which will uphold the affirmative of the question, is made up of Donald Becker, Maynard Arnot and Volta Torrey. The freshmen eliminated the sophomores in the first round of the debates staged on December 19.

The junior team, which defeated the seniors in the first round, and which will defend the bicameral legislature, is Bennett Martin, Devon Eyer and William W. Norton.

Direct argument speeches will be ten minutes and the refutation speeches five. The floor will be opened to open forum discussion after the formal refutation is over. The open forum discussion will not be taken into account by the judges.

This is the second time since the war that the debate tournament has been staged. This year it has been under the direction of the class debate committees and Delta Sigma Rho, honorary organization for intercollegiate debaters.

CAGE GAMES WILL BE PLAYED IN COLESIUM

Large Crowds at First Three Games Are Cause of Change.

Future Nebraska basketball games will be played in the Colesium where twice as many persons can be seated as in the Armory, according to Coach Schulte, acting athletic director.

The coach asked those at the game Friday night how many would like to have the rest of the games played in the Colesium and every hand in the Armory went up.

All three of the games so far have been unexpectedly well attended. In fact, many have been turned away, and it has been necessary to go early in order to get any kind of a seat.

About 200 seats will be reserved in the Colesium if the present plans are carried out. While about 2,200 attended the game with the Kansas Aggies Friday night, it is expected that fully 4,000 will see the next game on January 26 with last year's champions, Kansas.

EXTENSION DIVISION ADDS NEW COURSES

Subjects Include Courses in Education and Applied Psychology

With a view to aiding the teacher in secondary schools to solve some of the problems that arise, a correspondence-study course on "The Secondary School" is offered by the Extension Division of the University. Suggestive also to principals and superintendents, the sixteen lessons of the course will take up a study of practical topics bearing on the field. A second course in the program for teachers is "The Junior High School," also offered in sixteen lessons with appropriate examinations—a study of the history, ideals, organization, and program of studies of schools of this type. For superintendents of schools of medium size the Extension Division presents a third course. "School Organization and Administration," which gives a comprehensive view of the field of administration of public education in the United States, and presents practical suggestions to aid in the solution of many problems incident to the important line of school activity.

Applied Psychology, given under the direction of Prof. C. O. Weber, of the department of philosophy, is offered in correspondence by the Extension Division to acquaint students with the best current knowledge.

HUSKER RIFLE TEAM MAKES HIGH SCORE

First Week of Intercollegiate Rifle Shooting is Completed Saturday.

The Husker rifle team completed the first week of intercollegiate rifle shooting yesterday with a score higher than any made in the entire season of indoor shooting last year. Fourteen men fired during the week and the ten highest were counted in the official reports that were mailed Saturday noon to the six eastern schools which were firing against Nebraska at the same time.

The big schedule tackled by the rifle team, which includes some 53 schools scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, seems to be pretty well taken care of by the team that fired last week. With the scores already bigger than any made last year, and with the season just begun, Nebraska will have a rifle team which may assume nation-wide prominence.

The eastern schools which fired against Nebraska last week, have their scores in the mails now, and the results will reach Lincoln within three or four days. The colleges that fired were Northwestern, New Hampshire Aggies, Rhode Island State, Yale University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The results from Northwestern will probably be the first to arrive, and the rest will come in a day or two later.

The men who qualified for the high ten, together with the scores made by each are given below. The figures indicate the score made out of a possible 400.

- W. D. Dover 359.
- D. P. Roberts 355.
- Dale Skinner 351.
- William Lammi 348.
- R. M. Currier 334.
- L. DeFord 334.
- J. E. Hunt 334.
- D. D. Lewis 326.
- A. N. Huddleston 326.
- Learning 321.
- Total—3,398.

The shooting this week is against a group of colleges a bit farther west than the last, and will include New York University, University of Delaware, Syracuse University, Michigan Aggies, and College of the City of New York.

Dean Vivian Says Many Schools Waste Time of Students

Dean Alfred Vivian of the Ohio Agriculture College, in an address before the faculty of Nebraska Agriculture College and visitors of Organized Agriculture, said that many colleges waste student's time through poor organization of courses and presentation of subject matter.

He told of the need of going thru a course and carefully analyzing it to determine just how much it is worth while for a student to have in that particular subject. He declared that simply the fact that a course requires the use of a large amount of gray matter on the part of the student does not show that a large amount of time is not wasted.

OKLAHOMA—Statistics show that students' parents follow 85 occupations. One-fourth come from farms, 459 are merchant; and 174 lawyers.

REGISTRATION TOTAL IS HIGH

Will Be One of Largest Second Semester Enrollments in History.

EXPECT NUMBER TO EXCEED 4,000

Although final figures on registration are not yet obtainable, the enrollment for the second semester of 1923-24 school year promises to be the largest in the history of the institution. Some of the colleges have completed the compilations of their finished schedules and they show a marked increase in the number of students over the second term of any previous school year. The second semester registrations have always been smaller than those of the first semester. By noon Saturday, January 12, 2,656 had handed in their schedules to their deans, not counting the College of Arts and Sciences, in which the registration will be the heaviest. This college expects a final registration of about 2,000. This will bring the total up to 4,656, over 450 more than were registered the second semester of last year, when the total was 4,200.

The announcement in the second semester program warning students that a late fee will be charged all students who do not see their advisers by January 12 has in the past resulted in some confusion, a few thinking that if they saw their advisers it was not necessary to get their dean's signature by the designated time. It is expected that this may happen in a few cases this year and thus delay the offices in reporting the final figures.

Some programs may still be in the hands of the advisers and have not been accredited in the dean's office.

Comparative statistics in the Teachers College show that the heaviest registration began Wednesday, almost doubling the number of any previous day. In the Teachers College 253 freshmen, 235 sophomores, 141 juniors, 113 seniors, and ten adult specials have registered. Almost four times as many registered Friday as had completed their schedules Monday.

Following are the final figures from each college:

- Engineering 500.
- Business Administration 653.
- Dentistry 77.
- Pharmacy 115.
- Teachers 751.
- Agriculture 300.
- Graduate 60.
- Law 200.

A few late registrations in every college are expected. The College of Arts and Sciences was unable to give any figures, and no reports have come from the College of Medicine at Omaha.
