

PLAN UNIVERSITY NIGHT PROGRAM

All Organizations Must Submit Skits to Committee by February 1.

HOLD ANNUAL FROLIC AT CITY AUDITORIUM

All organizations desiring to present skits in the University Night fun-fest should have their acts ready by February 1. At that time the committee in charge will select those acts to be presented. No acts will be accepted after that date. The skits should be not longer than the allotted time of twelve minutes. This will enable the committee to select nine full acts for the program.

Each number presented will be carefully considered by the committee. The majority of the acts presented will be accepted according to plans now. There will be no partiality shown in the selection of the acts. They will be judged on cleverness, originality and the manner of presentation. Only the best ones will be selected.

University Night will be held in the City Auditorium on the evening of February 23. The annual frolic has become a very popular production, and plans are being made to make this year's program bigger and better than ever.

The University Night committee will meet Monday night, January 21, in Ellen Smith hall.

CADETS REGISTER FOR SUMMER CAMP

Major Erickson Expects Nebraska Detachment to Be 150.

Cadets are registering this week for the R. O. T. C. camp next summer at Fort Snelling. The registration is being made regular drill periods and will be completed this week. The total of Nebraska detachment will be definitely known after examination week.

The men do not have to sign contracts to attend camp, but they do agree to attend the camp unless something unforeseen happens that makes it impossible to go.

Major Sidney Erickson said yesterday that expects the Nebraska detachment at camp to be about one hundred and fifty men in the basic and advanced courses.

The camp is a great summer experience for those that attend, according to the Major, who said that many valuable friendships are formed with men from other schools in the valley and a closer acquaintance is made of the men from Nebraska university itself.

Equipment is Good.
The equipment of Camp Snelling is that left behind by the cantonment that was located there during the war. The barracks are permanent wooden buildings and are comfortable in the most adverse weather. The fort is headquarters of the Third Infantry and the cadets attending the camp have an opportunity of observing at first hand the organization and life of an army post. Every year the cadets inspect the equipment and barracks of the Third Infantry in order to see how the regular army does things.

One year of camp is required of all cadets that take the advanced course in military science. The basic camp is not required but many students go in order to get the additional military training and for the benefit of their outdoor life. Most of the non-commissioned officers in the cadet regiment are selected from those that have attended the basic camp since they are farther advanced in the subject and show more proficiency in the work.

Observatory Open to Public Tuesday

Now is the chance to discover whether the moon is really made of green cheese, as some would have you believe. The Observatory will be open to the public this evening from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m., at which time the moon may be viewed. A lecture will be given on "The Relation of Radio to Astronomy."

Nebraska Rifle Team Makes Good Showing

The Nebraska rifle team mis firing the second week of inter-collegiate meets this week. The shooting this week is against the University of New York, University of Delaware, Syracuse University, Michigan Aggies, and the College of the City of New York.

Dale Skinner made a perfect score yesterday in the prone position on the official target for this week's shooting, and others are firing targets almost as good.

A meeting of the rifle team will be held soon to decide on a schedule for shooting. Latelle DeFord is acting chairman of the team, and will announce the meeting on the military bulletin board.

Reports from the eastern schools meet last week are expected in the next day or so.

METHODIST STUDENT BANQUET IS PLANNED

Reports of Delegates to Student Volunteer Convention to be Given

A Methodist student banquet will be held Friday, January 25, at which students will give full and complete reports of the Student Volunteer Convention held at Indianapolis during Christmas vacation.

This banquet is under the auspices of the Methodist student council, and all Methodist students are invited to attend. There will be no duplication of reports given at the various churches in the city. Special attention will be given the subjects of race and war. Tickets for the banquet may be purchased at any Methodist church this morning or next Sunday.

The Methodist student council has outlined the program for the coming year which will include a banquet to be held Tuesday, February 26, at which representatives of the interdenominational deputation teams will speak. They have also planned a party for April and a picnic to take place in May.

OLD PIANO IS RELIC IN LIBRARY MUSEUM

Instrument Was Brought to Omaha From St. Louis in 1855

A piano whose music more than sixty-five years ago charmed roaming Indians and caused them to peer curiously through the windows of the house from which the strange sounds emanated, is one of the most interesting relics contained in the state historical society museum in the basement of the Library.

The legend of the piano, as stated by Mrs. A. N. Ferguson of Omaha who donated the instrument to the museum in October, 1914, is that the piano was bought in St. Louis and was shipped up the Missouri river to Omaha in the spring of 1855. It was owned by an ancestor of the donor who frequently told how, when she was practicing, the room would suddenly become darkened and she would find the Indians looking in at the windows to see and hear what was going on. Frequently, according to the account given, she would invite them in and play for them.

The case of the piano is of dark wood, and the body is of severe rectangular shape common to the very old pianos. The edges of the keys of the middle octaves have been worn into scallops from constant practice. The ivory is yellowed, but the tone is as beautiful as it was when it charmed the Indians over a half century ago.

The firm of Raven and Bacon, which manufactured the piano, dates its origin back to 1789 when John Jacob Astor imported the first English piano from London.

Pre-Medics Elect Lewis President

Raymond Lewis was elected president of the pre-med society for next semester at the banquet last week. William Hay was chosen vice president; Robert Preston secretary and treasurer; and Arthur Mulligan sergeant at arms. The pre-med society has 225 members. Over 125 attended the banquet.

FRESHMAN TEAM WINS INTER-CLASS DEBATE

"Should Nebraska Adopt the Unicameral Legislature," Is Subject.

By a split decision of two to one the freshman debate team defeated the junior team last night and won the second annual inter-class debating championship.

The freshman team, composed of Maynard Arnot, Volta Torrey and Donald Becker, upheld the affirmative of the question, "Should Nebraska Adopt the Unicameral Legislature?" and marshalled evidence in support of their stand from the experience of European and American commonwealth, with the successful example of the operation of the unicameral system in several provinces of Canada as their chief point in favor of the adoption of the plan in the state of Nebraska, as a substitute for the present system which they showed had certain inherent and irremedial defects.

The junior team made up of Burnett Martin, William W. Norton and Devon C. Eyer, countered the freshmen's arguments in favor of the unicameral plan by other examples which showed its failure, but failed to show that conditions had not changed enough to warrant a similar failure of the plan today. They also advocated a reform of the bicameral system as it is now in operation but did not refute successfully the affirmative contention that there are great evils in the unicameral system.

An open forum discussion followed the conclusion of the debate, and members of the audience put questions to the debate who had to answer them extemporaneously.

Judges of the debate were: C. L. Clark, Harold M. Hinkle, Floyd E. Leavitt and Alexander McKie, chairman.

NEBRASKA ATHLETE IS SOLD TO MAJORS

Thompson to Report to St. Louis Cardinals at Training Camp.

Announcement has been made that Fred Thompson, former Nebraska football and baseball performer, will be given a chance in the majors this spring. Tommy was recently signed to play state league ball. O. A. Beltzer, owner of the Lincoln club, sold Thompson to the St. Louis Cardinals. While enrolled at the University he played three years as catcher.

Thompson the second Nebraska athlete to go "up" during the last year, Verne Lewellen signing a Pittsburgh contract some time ago. Lewellen is a pitcher and has all appearances of making a handy twirler for the Pirates.

Thompson has never played organized ball but has been on the receiving end in many sandlot games.

Final Exams Like Unto Famous Last Stand of Custer

When final examinations start next Monday at 8 o'clock, students will have their last chance to retrieve reputations in subjects in which they have sluffed, or, if they have been conscientious, this will be the last time that they will be called upon to uphold their reputations.

In some classes, instructors exempt from the finals students who have done consistently good work. Sometimes the average which gains exemption is 90 per cent but frequently it is lower. The matter of thus exempting certain students is left entirely to the discretion of the individual instructor.

The question of how much the final examination counts toward the final grade in a subject is also left to the individual instructor. In some courses it means practically everything, in others, its weight is from one-third to one-fourth.

Regardless of whether or not the examination counts a great deal, they are very important because they are the time of accounting for the work of the whole semester. Attendance at the examinations at the time announced on the schedules is very important.

INTER-FRATERNITY RIFLE MEET STARTS

Scores Will Not Be Announced Until Competition Is Completed.

Greek letter men are occupying the stage at the gallery this week in the annual interfraternity rifle tournament this week. Delta Upsilon is the first fraternity to complete firing. The team composed of G. Randall, George Smaha, Paul Kroese, Harold Grunt, and Art Strory finished yesterday.

Captain Huskea is not giving out any scores until Saturday noon when the match ends.

About fifteen men from various fraternities fired yesterday. A total of ninety-five men will fire before the week is over. Last minute registrations were made by Alpha Sigma Phi, Beta Theta Pi, and Alpha Theta Chi which were not announced on the list of entries last Sunday. The number of fraternities entered is nineteen, almost twice as many as were competing in the tourney last year.

Fraternity teams are urged to do their firing as soon as possible in order to avoid a jam at the end of the week. The required shooting takes about forty-five minutes.

SOCIAL FRATERNITIES GO TO DOLE'S STUDIO

Other Organization Group Pictures to Be Taken at Campus Studio.

The Cornhusker staff announces that beginning today all social fraternities will have their group pictures taken at Dole's studio. Other organization group pictures that were to have been taken this week at the Campus studio will go to Dole's instead. This announcement supercedes all that have been made before.

The campus studio finds it impossible to accommodate both fraternities and other organizations and get the work all done by February 2, the date that has been set for all group pictures to be in. Social fraternities are informed that they should schedule their appointments for pictures at Dole's with Abe Martin at the Sigma Chi house, phone B2989. All group sittings (for campus studio) should be scheduled in the Cornhusker office or with Wendell Berge, managing editor.

A one dollar fine will be imposed on all groups from now on that do not keep their appointments.

The studios are giving almost all of their time for three weeks to the Cornhusker work and whenever a group fails to keep its appointments much confusion is caused for both the photographer and the Cornhusker staff. If an appointment cannot be kept, the Cornhusker office must be notified before 5 o'clock the night before or else the fine will be imposed.

All organizations are urged to make appointments at once. Over one hundred group pictures must be taken in the next three weeks and if many groups postpone until the last week the congestion at the studios will be too great for effective work.

Groups going to the campus studio are requested by the photographer to use the west door of the studio.

Wrestling Try-Outs Set for Wednesday

Varsity wrestling try-outs will be held tomorrow afternoon in the Armory starting at 3:30, according to an announcement made by Coach Clapp yesterday. The Nebraska mat representatives in the coming meet with Northwestern University will be made from the showings made at Wednesday try-outs. One man will be selected to represent Cornhuskerland in each of the seven weight groups. The Huskers leave to meet Northwestern at Evanston at the close of examination week.

KANSAS—A new Jayhawk will soon spread its wings on the campus. The designer has applied for a copyright on his "Perching Jayhawk." The bird is so balanced that when its beak is rested on the edge of an object it suspends itself horizontally in the air.

M. M. FOGG, Chairman, Student Publication Board.

WEBSTER IS AUTHOR OF WORLD HISTORY

Work is Special Study of Last Three Outlines of Progress

"World History," the latest and most painstaking publication by Dr. Hutton Webster, professor of social anthropology at the University, has just been published by D. C. Heath & Company of New York. Professor Webster covers the entire field of history, but he leaves ancient and prehistoric periods with only a general outline preparatory to a detailed and special study of the last three centuries of the progress of the volume is devoted to the period before the eighteenth century; the remaining two-thirds are concerned with the consideration of problems arising before the eighteenth century of special interest to this generation. Interspersing legendary narrative into the greater mass of historical data, Dr. Webster has made of his work an historical study of the idea of progress. The book contains over 100 maps.

In reviewing the volume the literary critic of the Christian Science Monitor of Boston says: "Professor Webster is a scholar who has supplemented his learning with a faith in mankind. In recounting the contributions of the world's civilizations to human progress he has brought together the evidence out of which the student may form, not alone an understanding of history, but a sympathetic appreciation of the human

TEAM TO START ON FIRST TRIP

Huskers Face Hard Schedule This Week on Foreign Courts

MEET FORMER VALLEY CHAMPIONS AT KANSAS

Nebraska plays three Missouri Valley games this week, all of which are scheduled to come off on foreign floors. Thursday night they battle the Kasas Aggies at Manhattan, Friday night they take on the Kansas University quintet, last year's Missouri Valley champions in the cage sport, and Saturday night they go up against the Oklahoma Sooners.

All of these games will be battles. Although the Huskers have played some good basketball at home in their three games, the outcome of the games on the trip will be in doubt until the final whistle. The Kansas Aggies showed some real basketball at times on the Nebraska court last Friday night and now that they are accustomed to the Huskers style of play and being on their home floor, it will tend to make things hard for the visiting boys from Nebraska.

The game against K. U. will no doubt be the hardest one the Huskers have, unless it would be the one with Creighton at Omaha February 1. The K. U. team is blossoming out again this year with a team that points to great things. The championship still remains a distinct memory and they are already expressing desires and predictions of duplicating their performance again this season. If they can dispose of Nebraska it will mean a feather in their cap. Nebraska hasn't had a chance to show her stuff in a foreign Valley game this year and the first opportunity will come on the trip.

The game with the Sooners ends the trip and will furnish a good terminator as the Oklahoma team has made a good record for herself in the games already played. The games in which she has been conquered were not one-sided games by any means.

The Schedule.
Nebraska has but five more games at home. The schedule for the remaining games is as follows:

- January 17—Kansas Aggies at Manhattan.
- January 18—Kansas University at Lawrence.
- January 19—Oklahoma University at Norman.
- January 26—Kansas University at Lincoln.
- February 1—Creighton University at Omaha.
- February 2—Drake University at Des Moines.
- February 4—Grinnell at Grinnell.
- February 8—University of Missouri at Columbia.
- February 9—Washington University at St. Louis.
- February 15—Grinnell College at Lincoln.
- February 22—Washington at Lincoln.
- February 27—Iowa State College at Ames.
- March 3—Iowa State College at Lincoln.
- March 5—Drake at Lincoln.

Tickets for the luncheon are twenty-five cents and are on sale at the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. offices. These World Forum Luncheons will continue throughout the next semester.
