

BOK PEACE PLAN TO BE VOTED ON

Student Council to Superintend Distribution of Booklets and Voting.

7,000 COPIES WILL BE CIRCULATED ON CAMPUS

Seven thousand copies of the plan which won the famous American peace award of $100,000 offered by Edward W. Bok are to be distributed among University students soon after the opening of the second semester, and a vote of all students will be asked.

The Student Council will have charge of the passing of the little booklets containing the plan and also the voting. With each booklet will be a ballot.

In a letter which was written to Chancellor Avery, the following statement was made: "We want the thoughtful and considered vote of those who have read the plan and who have a genuine opinion to register, whether favorable or unfavorable."

The vote on the plan is called as a national referendum and it will be presented to congress for ratification if it passes successfully.

JUNIORS TO RETURN PROOFS TO STUDIO

Work on Pictures for the Senior Section Begins Monday.

Juniors who have had their pictures taken, but have not returned their proofs to the studio, must make their selection and return the proofs before Monday, January 21. The work of mounting the pictures will begin then, and no picture will be accepted after that date.

Juniors who have not had their pictures taken should get in touch with the Cornhusker office at once, and make an appointment for some time this week.

Work on the senior pictures will begin Monday, which necessitates the finishing of all junior pictures this week.

It is expected that over 600 juniors will have their pictures in the Cornhusker. Of this number, over 400 have already made appointments. This is a larger number than in any previous year. Nearly every junior has been reached by the committee, so that the figures are accurate.

All groups and organizations should arrange for their pictures as soon as possible. Appointments should be made at the Cornhusker office. All sorority pictures must be taken by the middle of next week. Seniors will be able to take advantage of examination week to make appointments for their pictures, as no list will be printed then, and there will not be such a rush for appointments.

Wrestling Coach Is Placed on Committee

Dr. R. G. Clapp, head wrestling coach at Nebraska, has been elected a member of the advisory committee on wrestling rules for the National Inter-collegiate Athletic Association. This announcement was made following the annual convention of the association last week.

The rules committee is composed of veteran mat mentors and makes rules governing all inter-scholastic wrestling meets. It is expected that several important changes will be made in the rulings during the 1924 season.

Inter-fraternity Rifle Meet Is On

Firing in the inter-fraternity rifle tournament is progressing at a fair rate. Twenty-seven team members had completed shooting yesterday, and the remainder are going to finish in the next two days.

Results made thus far indicate that there will be close scores in the tourney. The gallery is reserved for fraternity and varsity team members, and no practice shooting is allowed this week.

Winner of the tourney will be announced Saturday noon after all the scores have been counted.

Registrar Announces Examination Schedule

Examinations for all classes will be held from January 21-25, according to the schedule released from the registrar's office.

BUCKNER TO DELIVER ALUMNI DAY ORATION

Class of '04 Chooses Prominent New York Lawyer for Round-Up.

(University News Service.)

The class of '04 of the University of Nebraska has chosen Emory R. Buckner of New York to give the Alumni day oration at the third annual round-up of the Nebraska Alumni at Lincoln, June 4, 5, and 6, in line with the custom of giving the twenty-year class charge of preparations for the reunion. Mr. Buckner is one of the outstanding alumni of the University. He is a member of the law firm of Root, Clark, Buckner & Howland, of New York, to whom Elihu Root is adviser.

As an intercollegiate debator against Kansas in 1903 and again in 1904 Mr. Buckner first made a reputation at Nebraska. He was graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors, going from Nebraska to Harvard law school, from which he was graduated cum laude in 1907.

Shortly after beginning practice in New York, he was appointed assistant United States attorney for New York City by Henry L. Stimson, later secretary of war under Roosevelt. In 1910 Mr. Buckner became first assistant attorney for New York county. He had just resigned that position in 1913 when the New York Aldermanic Committee selected him as chief counsel to investigate the police department. Secretary of War Stimson wrote the committee that at the New York bar there is not "of his years or anywhere near it" Mr. Buckner's equal.

Mr. Buckner's father, Rev. J. D. M. Buckner lived in Aurora, but now lives in South Dakota.

UNIVERSITY JOURNAL IS OFF THE PRESS

Announces Interesting Program for Charter Day, February 15.

The January number of the University Journal, published monthly by the Alumni Association is now off the press.

The Journal announces February 15 as Charter Day, when the alumni of the University will celebrate in honor of their alma mater. A radio program of music and speeches will be broadcast from WFAV, University of Nebraska radio station.

The program includes music by the University Glee Club, and the University band, an address by the Chancellor, a review of the 1923 football season, an address by Victor B. Smith, president of the alumni association, selection by the Varsity quartet, and greetings from several of the faculty.

A financial review of the 1923 football season shows it to be the largest in the history of the institution. Sixty-nine thousand people saw the Cornhuskers perform in the new stadium last year. The total receipts were over $81,000.

One of the interesting articles is by Guy W. Green, '97, "The Old Grad Sees the Game", a series of notes and reflections recorded during the Notre Dame game.

The University Publishers, Great Neck, N. Y. annually publish a volume of representative student literature. Compositions which have been handed in for assignments in English classes are used in this publication.

Convict Replies to Speech of County Attorney Matson to Square and Compass Club

That there two sides to the question "Crime and Criminals"—the prosecuting attorney's side and the convict's side—and that the criminal, who is human in spite of the fact that he is "sadly deficient and out of plumb", is made a greater menace to society than ever when incarcerated without hope of being able to redeem himself, is the opinion of B. Clark, an inmate of the state penitentiary, in a letter to Frank M. Johnson, president of the Square and Compass Club. Clark is opposed to the abolition of the indeterminate sentence and parole system for criminals.

Bud Clark, 8284, was sent up from Douglas county on November 30, 1921 for robbery. His sentence is from ten to fifteen years. He is a harness-maker by trade.

"To consign men and boys scarcely out of their teens to prison with excessive sentences, without hope of parole or commutation of sentence serves only to make them more dangerous and desperate when finally released—a greater menace to society than before. Under the parole system they are encouraged to work out their salvation. A parole gives them further incentive to redeem themselves," he says.

The letter refutes many of the arguments presented against the indeterminate sentence and pardon laws by County Attorney Matson in a speech before the Square and Compass club on December 12. Mr. Matson laid emphasis upon the need for heavy sentences and punishment for the commission of crimes. After reading a newspaper account of the county attorney's speech, "Crime and Criminals", the convict wrote in his opinion to the university Masonic club.

"Parole Law Does Not Apply."

"While some do fail in their first effort to make good, the number who are reclaimed to useful citizenship fully justify the existence and continuance of the indeterminate sentence and parole system," the letter continues, "This is offered on behalf of the first offenders, the juveniles and the potential criminals still at large. The parole law does not apply to my case at all."

He says further:

This will be the second election of the year.

THIRD ROUNDUP SET FOR JUNE 4, 5, 6

Class of 1904 to Have Charge of the Program This Year.

The third annual Roundup for University of Nebraska alumni will be held June 4, 5, and 6, according to information from the alumni office. The class of 1904 will have the honor of planning the Roundup, owing to the fact that it is the twentieth anniversary of that class.

Plans are already being made for the annual reunion and celebration for all students who attended the University in any of the years from 1873 to 1924. According to the office, the classes of 1874, 1879, 1884, 1889, 1894, 1899, 1904, 1909, 1914, 1919, are especially invited as the five-year classes for 1924. If they are not able to come every year, they are urged to make a special effort to come for the fifth year reunion.

Give Student Council Permanent Quarters

The Student Council will hold all meetings in the office that was formerly occupied by the Daily Nebraskan, beginning with the next meeting. In order that the council might dispatch its duties in a more business-like manner and in order that it might have a permanent place to meet, the office was given to the council, according to a statement given out by the president.

EIGHT AMES PLAYERS DISMISSED FROM SQUAD

Action of Coach Follows Repeated Breaking of Training Rules.

Following the violation of training rules,* after repeated warnings from their coach, eight members of the Ames basketball squad were requested by Coach Chandler to turn in their suits. The men will be suspended from the team until they make an apology for their actions to the student body. The eight men suspended were: Captain Roberts, Young, Norton, N. Behm, J. Behm, Anderson, Page, Norton and Berry.

Raff, forward, and Jacobson, center, are the two regular left on the squad. With two Valley contests scheduled for the week-end Coach Chandler will have to discover two new guards and a forward. Fisher can fill a forward position, but there are no guards on the squad capable of filling the suspended members' places.

In case an apology from the suspended members is not forthcoming before the end of the week, Washington U and Missouri U, the Farmer opponents for this week, are very apt to add to their percentage of wins.

Kansas Wins by Close Margin Over Sooners

The Oklahoma Sooners came very near putting a crimp in Kansas University's aspirations for the Valley basketball championship, in a game played on the Kansas court Tuesday, the K. U. team winning 21 to 19.

After getting away to a good start the Sooners played good basketball and were on the long end of a 12 to 9 count at the end of the first half. Shortly after the start of the second half, Engel, Kansas sub forward, put his team in the lead 15 to 14 with a well placed shot. From then on the Jayhawks were never headed but the game was hotly contested, Kansas finishing the game 3 points ahead. It was her second conference victory.

It is very important that everyone be there on the minute and be all ready for the picture when they arrive, as only fifteen minutes are allowed to the group in which to have the picture taken.

It is requested that members of the four classes take the following positions immediately upon arrival: Freshmen, stand on benches, rear row; sophomores, stand, next row; juniors, seated, next row; seniors, seated, front row.

DELEGATES REPORT AT FORUM LUNCHEON

Representatives Make Good Showing at Indianapolis Convention.

The report of the Student Volunteer Convention, which Nebraska was represented by over forty students and faculty members, was the feature of the World Forum luncheon at the Grand hotel Wednesday noon. Robert Shields and Marion Maddigar spoke for the delegates.

The convention was reported to have been especially successful from several standpoints. The speakers at the convention were representative of the 7,000 students at the convention and of the great religious workers of the country. Nebraska was well represented on the program by Mary Baker and Wendell Berge, whose speech in favor of the league of nations and the world court was quoted by Indianapolis papers and the New York Times.

War prevention, race problems, immigration and other moral and social problems of the day were a part of the work undertaken.

The next World Forum luncheon will be held on Wednesday, January 30, at the Grand hotel. Several speakers of note will talk at the next few meetings and will be announced later.

LITERARY SORORITY MEMBERS WIN HONORS

Place High in Contest Conducted by Omaha Women's Club.

Three members of the Lincoln chapter of Chi Delta Phi, a national literary sorority, won places in the Omaha Women's Club contest which closed last November. Miss Eleanor Hinman, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. E. L. Hinman, won first place in the poetry division. Miss Mildred Burcham, another member, won second place. A short play by Miss Henrietta Reese also won a second place.

Other members of the Lincoln chapter of Chi Delta Phi who have won literary honors are Miss Janet Pressly, who won second place in a national poetry contest two years ago, Miss Foree Bullock, who won the press club essay contest prize at the same time, and Miss Lillian Fitzpatrick, who was recently awarded a fellowship at Byrn Mawr in modern languages.

Last year this chapter was almost entirely composed of university undergraduates.

Movies Are Feature of Poultry Course

As a feature of the poultry short course conducted this week by Ag College, educational films from the United States department of agriculture were shown Tuesday night. Pictures depicting the various types and their desirability were shown, together with methods employed in poultry raising and in combating poultry diseases.

A three-reel comedy "Birds of a Feather" was another of the feature. It showed the prejudice of a certain man against standard bred poultry, who was finally convinced of their value after many amusing incidents.

Mr. Brokaw of the Agricultural Extension department discussed the headway made by the poultry extension which was begun in Nebraska six years ago.

HUSKER CAGERS START ON TRIP

Play Kansas Aggies, Kansas and Oklahoma Teams This Week.

TO DECIDE NEBRASKA'S CHAMPIONSHIP CHANCES

The Cornhusker cage team, composed of eleven men, with Coach Kline, left early this morning for a three-day invasion of foreign floors. The following men are making the trip: Captain Usher, Cozier, Tipton, Volz, Glack, Goodson, Beerle, DeWitz, Tones, Wyant and Close. Three of these men, not yet announced, will return after the game at Lawrence Friday night.

This trip, which is the hardest on this year's schedule, will probably show Nebraska's chances for a Valley championship this year. Three games will be played on the trip. The Huskers will meet Kansas Aggies at Manhattan Thursday night, Kansas on Friday, and Oklahoma on Saturday night.

All of the games promise to be real battles. The Huskers have met and defeated Kansas Aggies and Oklahoma already this season, but by small scores. Since meeting Nebraska, Oklahoma trounced Drake by the score of 44 to 28, and has shown much improvement. The Cornhuskers will have a real fight at Norman.

The game with Kansas Friday will force one of the teams out of the triple tie for first place, between Washington, Kansas and Nebraska. Kansas is playing with the same team which won the Valley championship last year. They have already shown their class by defeating Drake by the lop-sided score of 49 to 14.

TRACK UNDER STADIUM NEARING COMPLETION

Squad to Start Training for K. C. A. C. Meet—Gardner Back in Suit.

Continued cold weather has somewhat held up track team workouts, but with the completion of the athletic field under the east stands of the stadium, it is possible for the team to work out most of the time. The north end of the stand will be boarded up for protection of the track and field from snow and wind. The indoor track lacks but a few days for its completion, and jumping and vaulting apparatus will be in place this week.

Following the week of examinations the track team will go into intensive training for the Kansas City Athletic Club indoor meet, to be held at Kansas City February 9. Other Valley schools, including the University of Kansas, winners of last year's meet, will have strong teams this year and will furnish stiff competition for the Husker athletes. Track Captain Gardner is back and ready to start work. Dave Noble, a main cog in last year's team, will not be in school the second semester, but there are many likely men from last year's freshman team who will win varsity berths this year.

The annual Missouri Valley indoor meet is scheduled for the second week in March.
