 There is something about the very sheerness of chiffon hosiery which even the most practical of us like. But here are chiffon stockings that wear better than ordinary silk hose. There are the Rosaine hosiery at Magee's. They have shimmering gold and silver and shades to match any sort of dress and street shoes. Their newest shades are sunburn, thrush and peach.

Of greatest interest in the exchanges of the departmental library of zoology are two illustrated and well-printed volumes embodying the reports of the research work on marine flora and fauna of Prince Albert I of Monaco, done on his private yacht with the earnings of the gaming tables of Monte Carlo. The publications are in French. On the exchange list of the department are experiment stations and colleges in practically all parts of the world. Reports on zoological research from Czecho-Slovakia; the University Upsala, Sweden; the Volga station at Saratow, Russia; the University of Turin, Italy; and several other universities have been received since the holidays.

Dr. R. J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany, has the leading paper in the current issue of The Botanical Gazette, the foremost

American botanical journal published by the University of Chicago. "Xerophytism and Comparative Leaf Anatomy in Relation to Transporting Power" deals with a new method of determining the amount of moisture which is transported from plants in the field. Improved instruments enable the study of the water loss of plants growing in their native environment.
