PRICE 5 CENTS

TO DISTRIBUTE PEACE BALLOTS

Student Council Conducts Bok
Referendum—Instructors to Give Out Blanks.

WESLEYAN REJECTS PLAN THURSDAY BY 17 VOTES

All students will have an opportunity to vote on the Bok peace plan on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Several thousand ballots have been sent to instructors on the campus for distribution in their classes. Notices have been sent to those who did not receive ballots. The ballot boxes will be placed in the library, the Social Science building and Station A in University hall. Every ballot must be signed, and any attempt to vote twice will be discovered as the ballots will be checked with the registration list. Students who do not get ballots in their class rooms may use the one published in the Daily Nebraskan. This referendum is being conducted under the auspices of the student council.

Wesleyan Votes No.
Students and faculty of Nebraska Wesleyan University voted 40 to 23 against the Bok peace plan Thursday. Preceding the vote, Prof. E. H. Wells of the department of economics and sociology discussed the world court of justice and the league of nations in detail. He said that war could never be ended by war, and took exception to the tenth clause in the treaty of Versailles. He developed at length the principles of the Monroe Doctrine and the attempts that had been made by European power in the western hemisphere to try out that doctrine.

The Plan in Brief.
I. That the United States shall immediately enter the permanent court of international justice, under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.

II. That without becoming a member of the league of nations as at present constituted, the United States shall offer to extend its present co-operation with the league and participate in the work of the league as a body of mutual counsel under conditions which

1. Substitute moral force and public opinion for the military and economic force originally implied in Article X and XVI.
2. Safeguard the Monroe Doctrine.
3. Accept the fact that the United States will assume no obligations under the Treaty of Versailles except by act of congress.
4. Proposes that membership in the league should be opened to all nations.
5. Provide for the continuing development of international law.

REGISTRATION LARGER THAN IN YEARS PAST

Registrar's Report Shows an Increase of 415 Over 1923
Mid-year Entries.

About 415 more students have been registered so far this semester than at this time last year, according to reports from the registrar's office Saturday afternoon. There is a loss of 189 who received degrees and teachers' certificates. Twenty more received degrees at this time than last year.

Incomplete registration in all the colleges shows an increase over last year's registration, 4386 having enrolled so far. Many high schools in the state have not completed the semester's work. Students from these schools will be given a chance to register later in the week.

Over 3,000 completed registration early. Most of these were already in school. An unusual number of old students are returning to receive degrees. One student who received a degree twenty years ago is registered for work this semester, according to Miss Florence I. McGahy, registrar.

Indiana won from Ohio State by one basket last night, 31 to 29. Paul Parker, the lanky Hoosier center, fouled the ball through the hoop for the deciding count in the last minute of play. The contest was featured by fast flood work and close guarding.

Convict Defends Parole System Though 'Old Timers' Condemn It

A letter explaining further his statements concerning the indeterminate sentence law made in a letter published in the Daily Nebraskan some time ago, has been received from B. Clark, 8284 Lancaster. It follows:

Lancaster, Nebr., Jan. 21.—To the Editor of Daily Nebraskan: Permit me to thank you for your friendly consideration of the convict's letter to the University Square and Compass club. Primarily that letter was not an attempt to refute Mr. Matson's views, nor was it inspired by antagonism to him as a representative of the law. Just and right in all things else, it would be passing strange for him to be also right respecting the indeterminate sentence. Naturally we would like to see the sprouting wings of the man who is never wrong.

The men outside of prison who are trying to discredit the indeterminate sentence law and the parole system would be surprised to know the number of prison inmates who are bitterly opposed to this law and system. The outside opponents of the law want it repealed because they think it prevents adequate expiation. The inside opponents of this law want it repealed because to them it involves entirely too much expiation. Their argument may be fairly stated in this way:

Had the trial judges given us flat sentences commensurate with the gravity of our alleged crimes, we would not have received anything near the maximum penalty prescribed by law. But coming down to the prison under the indeterminate sentence, the parole officer has dug up our past records which are held against us, and we are compelled to pay the maximum penalty.

It is no exaggeration to say that there is plenty of expiation required

Former Husker Artist Is Advertising anager

Miss Carita Herzog, '23, has been appointed advertising manager for Burbon and Co., Omaha's newest store for women. Since her graduation Miss Herzog has been an assistant in the advertising department of J. L. Brandeis and Sons. While in the University Miss Herzog was a member of Theta Sigma Phi, and served on the staffs of several University publications. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Herzog of Lincoln.

of those who are weighed in the balance and found wanting under the indeterminate sentence law. It would be difficult to devise a more refined form of punishment.

The parole system operates generally for the benefit of young fellows who thoughtlessly fall into evil ways, before they realize the value of a good name—"The immediate jewel of the soul." Is it right, is it just, is it worth while to encourage them to regain that which honest men hold dearer than life? This is a question for honest men to decide. I leave it with you. Respectfully,

B. CLARK, 8284.

HOLD DEBATE TRYOUTS SOON

Prohibition of Immigration for Five Years Is Question

TEAM TO MEET IOWA
AND SOUTH DAKOTA

Competitive tryouts, open to all students, for the awarding of intercollegiate debate team membership honors for 1924 will probably be held the end of this week. Eight students will be selected to represent the University in the forensic contests with the University of Iowa and the University of South Dakota March 13. FEBRUARY 6 LAST DAY FOR SENIOR PICTURES

Fourth Year Students Must Have Photos Taken Within Next Nine Days.

Senior individual pictures are to be taken all this week for the 1924 Cornhusker at Dole's studio, 1123 O street. All seniors must have their pictures taken by Wednesday, February 6. The same plan will be used for the senior pictures as was used for the juniors', that of having a daily list. This is necessary in order to get all the pictures in the Cornhusker office in time to reserve space and get the cuts made ahead of those that will necessarily be late.

The Cornhusker staff wishes to remind all of the organizations that if they have not already made their reservations for a group picture that it must be done in the near future if they expect to have a page in the annual.

The managing editor states that many organizations are not appearing on time for their pictures and that in the future pictures will be taken at the time set if some organizations members are absent.

When seniors see their names in the Nebraskan they should make definite appointments by calling the Cornhusker office. Lists will appear daily and Dole's are planning to take care of about sixty students each day. The following is a list of the students who will have their pictures taken Tuesday:

No Rag Subscription Drive This Semester

The Daily Nebraskan will conduct no campaign for subscriptions this semester but on Tuesday of this week will publish a complete list of all mail and local subscriptions that have expired. After today no papers will be distributed to those who have not resubscribed.

There are approximately 450 subscriptions that have expired and these can be renewed either at Station A or at the Nebraskan office. The price is $1.25 a semester undelivered and $1.50 by mail.

Balances from fraternities and sororities must be turned in within two weeks. Faculty members should be sure to check up their subscriptions.

DEADLINE SET FOR UNI NIGHT STUNTS

Committee Asks Submission of All Manuscripts by February 1.

FIX TIME LIMIT
AT ELEVEN MINUTES

Stunts which organizations have prepared for presentation on University Night, February 24, in the city auditorium, should be in the hands of the University Night committee by Friday, February 1, according to an announcement made yesterday by Welch Pogue, chairman. Manuscripts should be given to the chairman. No stunts will be accepted after February 1.

The committee will select the stunts to be presented immediately after they have been submitted. Plans at the present call for about nine skits, the committee hopes to be able to accept a majority of the manuscripts presented. The skits will be judged on the basis of cleverness and originality. They should not be over eleven minutes in length.

By staging the annual stunt night in the city auditorium the large crowds that have attended in previous years can be accommodated. Last year both the Temple and Orpheum theaters were used.

There will be a meeting of the University Night committee to make plans for the judging of the skits Monday, January 28, at 5 o'clock at Ellen Smith hall.

CORNHUSKER BEGINS SALE OF ADVERTISING

Staff of Fourteen of Yearbook to Solicit Business Houses Monday.

The advertising campaign for the 1924 Cornhusker will start Monday, when fourteen salesmen will begin soliciting business houses for advertising in this year's book.

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce has recommended the book to merchants as one of the few reliable publications. Merchants are co-operating with the organization, and the campaign is expected to be a great success.

Although the 1924 Cornhusker will be larger and better than previous books, the rate of advertising per page will be the same as before. Dave Richardson, business manager of the annual, announces the following men as salesmen in the campaign:

Glenn Curtis, Charles Griffith, Tom Varney, Robert Hoagland, Reed Costworth, Howard Ahmanson, M. Newman, Dave Doten, Raymond Swallow, Tom Healy, Harold Wibbels, Robert McKie, George Dent, Harold Teachout.

There will be an important meeting of the sales committee in the Cornhusker office Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

JAYHAWKERS WIN BY THREE POINTS

Husker Quintet Noised Out by Kansans in Shooting Streak
Near End of Game.

COZIER HANGS UP TWO
BASKETS FOR HIGH PLACE

(By John Hollingsworth)

The shooting Cornhuskers failed to break the winning streak of the invading Jayhawkers last night on the Colesium floor and were forced to take the short end of a 13 to 10 count. The auditorium was filled to capacity and the crowd was brought to its feet many times on hair-raising shots.

The game was a defensive one from start to finish with Nebraska holding the best during the first half, the Kansas combination taking the honors during the final period.

Ackerman and Captain Black were the main cogs in the invaders offense while Volz and Tipton held the onslaught in good shape. Goodson started the scoring for Nebraska in the first few minutes of play with a field goal from the side. Volz followed with another basket on the next play. Nebraska had several set-up shots under the basket but missed them. The ball during the first 10 minutes of play was in Kansas territory.

Bulgard started the scorekeepers in the Kansas column when he made a free throw. Cozier dropped in a field basket bringing the total of Nebraska's points to six, and six is what it remained at the end of the half. Black scored two of Kansas' three points on free throws. Both teams missed easy chances at field goals. This was the first time for a long while the Kansas team has gone for a whole half of a game without a field basket.

The score at the end of the first half was 6-3, Nebraska. Ackerman, on a field basket and a free throw tied the score 6-6. Cozier hit a long one from the side, making it 8-6.

Wilkin made the first basket in two attempts and missed the second but Ackerman followed in and made a field goal, putting Kansas in the lead for the first time by a score of 9-8. Neither team was having a chance on a close-in shot and both were resorting to long shots with each quintet sharing equally in the hard luck honors.

Black went in the Nebraska lineup for Cozier. Black, the Kansas captain, made a field goal from over half the length of the floor which was followed by short shot by Ackerman, making the score 13-8 Kansas. Tipton made a basket from the side on a difficult shot, bringing the score 13-10 Kansas. Beerkle went in for Captain Usher and Cozier went in for Black.

RUTHERFORD RESIGNS OREGON AGGIE POST

Former Husker Football Star
Blames Alumni for Lack of Co-operation.

"Dick" Rutherford, Nebraska football star in '13, '14, '15, has just resigned as football coach and director of athletics at Oregon Agriculture College, a position which he has held since 1920. According to Rutherford his resignation is due to lack of co-operation by the alumni and active opposition from some of them.

Rutherford was prominent in Cornhusker athletics under Steinh, and in 1915 he captained the Scarlet and Cream eleven. In 1916 he was first assistant coach under Dr. E. J. Stewart and the next three years he served as athletic director at Washington University, St. Louis.
