INTERFRATERNITY TRACK MEET

The second annual inter-fraternity indoor track meet begins tomorrow. Last year 300 athletes competed in the meet, in which eighteen fraternities took part. The interest shown was greater than that of any previous intra-mural contest of any kind and track was given a decided boost by the affair.

This year Coach Schulte is expecting at least twenty-five fraternities to enter the meet. The pentathlon point system is being used so that every fraternity will have a better chance of winning. Every Greek letter organization is urged towards building Nebraska athletics by participating in intra-mural meets.

Notre Dame's phenomenal success on the gridiron has been largely accredited to her system of intra-mural athletics, by which every student takes in athletics. At Illinois and other Big Ten schools, intra-mural athletics play a prominent part in school affairs and are largely responsible for their athletic success.

"All Athletics for All" is the slogan for the 1924 Olympics. It is this ideal that intra-mural athletics foster, besides building up strong inter-collegiate teams. Nebraska's successive valley track championship for the last three years has been largely attributed to intra-mural track events by Coach Schulte.

The inter-frat track meet affords fraternities a chance to show whether they are squarely behind Nebraska athletics. Every fraternity with true Cornhusker spirit will enter a team in the Greek indoor meet.

Entries must be by Monday noon

TWO PROMINENT VISITORS

Two nationally known figures, Senator Hiram Johnson of California, and Hamilton Holt, noted lecturer and editor, will address Nebraska students this week. It is an interesting coincidence that these two men, espousing different sides of a question, should come here the same week.

Both are republicans. Mr. Holt is traveling in the interest of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association, and Senator Hiram Johnson, presidential candidate, is an active opponent of the League of Nations. Students have here an opportunity to hear both sides of this much discussed question from two eminent men and it is indeed not often that one has the opportunity of hearing from two such authorities the same week. Although Senator Johnson's address will not be on the subject of the League of Nations, it will include a discussion of a number of topics of current interest, and will doubtless touch this question.

Coming so shortly after the referendum on the Bok Peace Plan, these two speakers will be received with much interest.

THE RISE OF THE SPIRIT

Nebraskans who attended the game with Grinnell Friday night certainly can not be accused of not supporting the Huskers. Nebraska spirit was present en masse, and the singing, cheering and support showed that Nebraskans believe in their team and take it for its true worth.

The game was exciting, Nebraska getting away to a big lead at the start with Grinnell coming back strong in the second half. The visitors were smothered under a safe score.

We again wish to reiterate our opinion that the basketball team this year is one of the best turned out by the institution for some time. The game Friday was marked by a noticeable rise of spirit, and this should continue.

WEEKLY ETIQUETTE LESSON.

Hap Hazard of Ipswich, Arkansas, contends that pie shouldn't be eaten for it's bad for the complexion, so it doesn't make any difference which hand you hold it in. We awarded him the prize. This week the author of the correct answer will receive tickets for a couple of good seats at the Burlington depot. The question continues on the subject of hands; Which hand should you use in manicuring your finger nails? Please state the reasons for your answer.

Miss Nomer says that she is extremely anxious for the time for primary elections to arrive for she needs some first lessons in voting.

Statistics show that there are more murders in New York City in thirty days than in England in a year. But then England isn't the "home-office" of the jazz orchestra.

Besides we Americans are continually breaking records.

THERE'S MANY A SLIP 'TWTIXT BALLOT BOX AND TIP.

The Campus Politician knitted his brows—a crow-shade cloud had appeared on his little horizon. The problem gave promise of being a knotty one. His Ambitions had received a severe Marcel; in truth, the Crimp in his Carefully Laid Plans threatened to become a Permanent Wave. The Rabid Reformer had rushed in where the Old Guard walks softly and demanded that a Point System be established to limit the number of things a person may do at the same time. Our Hero sees the point, yea, even does he feel the point. But the system—Bah! Systems should be limited to nerves and railroads. But all is not lost for the Dexterious Diplomat knows the Public and cries out to it: "Are we going to let a Malicious Modernist pinion our Futures on the points of a system?" The Public wastes no time in thinking and responds lustily, "Everything must be saved for Democracy. We promise that it shall be." MORAL: If you can't reach what you want, ask the Public for it.

After overhearing bits of co-ed conversation, we sometimes wonder what sort of a reply the "where-are-you-going-my-pretty-maid" inquiry would elicit these days.

We'll wager the man who defined futility as, "A blind man in a dark room looking for a hat that isn't there," never tried to unlock the front door with a pocket-comb.

Nor tried to see the point of some of our "joques."

OH, WHAT ARE THE WILD ETHER WAVES SAYING?

Back in the old days when the bookkeeper showed up at the office thirty minutes late and climbed weakly to his stool, his eyes looking like a pair of underdone hamburgers set in jet, and a general accordion-pleated appearance to his face, we would shake our head and say, "Licker is a curse." But now when the accountant strays in an hour late wearing that same look of physical disintegration we know that it's nothing more serious than a quiet evening at home with the radio.

In speaking of radio, don't you thoroughly enjoy meeting a friend and having him volunteer the information that, "he has added two steps of amplification to his oscillation transformer, put in a twenty-one plate variable, and is now hearing BVD as clearly as if it were in the next room?" And for all you know it is.

All men are born free and equal but some become victims of the radio craze.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT

Students and faculty will assemble Saturday, February 23, for their annual "roasting" at University Night, when cares and worries will be forgotten and all will gather to hear human faults and weaknesses aired. "The Shun", scandal sheet deluxe, will not be among those present. The committee in charge of the program has taken every precaution to prevent the publication of an anonymous, unauthorized paper.

University Night, properly conducted, is a very pleasant affair and enjoyed by everyone. When the skits are good natured and clean, much pleasure is to be derived from the program. It is a time when all gather to hear the other person get "rapped".

University Night occupies a prominent place on the calendar and is one of the feature events of the year.

Notices

Notices will be run for only two days. Organizations should not hand them in until three days before the event, as it is impossible to run them for long periods.

Nebraskan Subscriptions.

Fraternities and sororities who have not paid the balances on their subscriptions to the Daily Nebraskan by Monday evening will be dropped.
