

HUSKER CAGEMEN LOSE LAST GAME

Scoring of Everett and Boelter of Drake Causes Nebraska Defeat.

BULLDOGS TRIUMPH BY 25 TO 12 SCORE

The Drake Bulldogs sunk their fangs deep into Husker flanks last evening at the coliseum and beat the Husker cagemen 25 to 12 in a game that was all Drake's except for two brief moments in the first half. Nebraska enjoyed a two-point advantage for the initial minute or two of play, and later a one point lead for about a half minute. After that Drake forged ahead never again in danger.

Everett on the Drake team was the spectacular star of the evening. He shot baskets from all parts of the floor. He made seven field goals and two free throws for sixteen counters, and was chiefly responsible for the Husker defeat. Boelter, Everett's partner at forward, was second high man in the game with 8 points to his credit. Usher and Eckstrom of Nebraska each made 5 points from 2 field goals and free throw.

Tipton hung up the first field goal of the game, giving Nebraska the lead. A free throw by Ashby put the Bulldogs within one point, and a field goal by Boelter placed them ahead. Good defensive work by both sides featured the play in the next ten minutes during which a free throw by Boelter of Drake was the only score made.

Eckstrom and Black were substituted on the Nebraska team for Usher and Goodson at this stage of the game, and the Huskers spurred forward to a temporary lead of 7 to 6 which was broken when Boelter made a field goal just before the half ended.

In the second half Drake opened an offensive around Everett that raised the score to 21 to 7. Drake guards played such an air-tight defensive game that Husker forwards were unable to break through for short shots at the basket, and had to resort to unsuccessful long attempts.

Use Substitutes. Coach Kline substituted freely in the second period in a vain effort to stave off the Bulldog rush. Billy Usher was the only Husker player able to score in the second half. He made two field goals and one free throw which raised the Husker score from 7 to 12.

The Husker cagemen were decidedly off form in the game last evening, and did not play the brand that won them victories in the majority of Valley games played this season. Ekstrom at forward tied Usher in number of points made. R. DeWitz was the stellar guard performer on the Husker quintet.

The Bulldogs used a five man defense modified, for individual playing, which prevented the Huskers from working the ball near the basket for under-basket and set-up shots. Playing on the Bulldog team was concentrated around their star forwards Boelter and Everett, to whom the ball was passed for shots at the basket.

The defeat did not change Nebraska's position in third place in the Valley season record.

STUDENTS TO COVER BASKETBALL TOURNAY

School of Journalism Members Will Write for Newspapers Out in State.

The School of Journalism correspondence bureau, organized to cover the basketball tournament for Nebraska newspapers, especially weeklies, had a staff of 40 Wednesday evening. The members are assigned to send local stories to 83 papers. More will be added this morning. A number of important towns have not yet been assigned.

In the staff office, University hall 111, where Professor M. M. Fogg is acting as managing editor, is a bank of typewriters, a 6-foot bulletin-board filling up with notices; and specimens of 1923 tournament signed stories which newspapers featured.

Among the editorial requests for stories on the tournament is a telegram from the Valentine Democrat asking for a "detailed report" of the Valentine-Creighton game Thursday at 4 o'clock.

Professor Fogg announced Wednesday afternoon that he had arranged to have passes issued the staff members for the games they are assigned to cover. These passes may be got at the Student Activities office.

Women Sell Candy for Conference Committee

One hundred and fifty-nine dollars were received from a sale of candy bars at the sorority houses and dormitories during the month of February for the Y. W. C. A. conference committee fund, according to Miss Jessie Sutter who is in charge of the sale. About one-third of the receipts is profit.

A woman at each sorority house and dormitory is appointed to have charge of selling the bars there. Those selling the greatest amount for February are: Helen Barnard, $30; Virginia Arganbright, $24; Esther Snetten, $18.

SENATORIAL CANDIDATE SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Charles H. Sloan Blames Democrats for Present Hard Times.

"The United States is one country that can take care of itself," Charles A. Dean, Republican candidate for United States senate, said to a student audience last night at 7 o'clock in Social Science auditorium.

"The United States has three-fourths of all the gold in the world. She has 75 per cent of the credit of the world. She has three times as much wealth as any other three nations. All nations desire this so it is important that we have a competent force in power," he exclaimed.

The Republican party, Mr. Sloan said, stands for the lowering of the national debt, insistence on the payment of outstanding debts, protecting labor and the farmer, and believed in a protective tariff which should especially provide for the American farmer. He blamed the Democrats for the present hard times because farm products were on the free list of the present tariff. This, he thought, should interest Nebraskans.

NEBRASKA GRIDSTERS START SPRING GRIND

Coaches Will Issue Uniforms and Give Direct Supervision After Vacation.

Nebraska grid warriors have begun their annual spring training practice, getting ready for the season next fall.

As soon as spring vacation is over, uniforms will be issued and the men will work outdoors under the direct supervision of Coaches Owen Frank, Leo Scherer, and Ross McGlasson, with Fred Dawson as head coach. The ending of the basketball season will enable cagemen to work out who were playing basketball. Many of these men who are now out played freshman football last year.

The importance of practicing now is very great, according to coaches. The men who are out for other forms of athletics are urged to report for football practice at least half an hour daily.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS INVITED TO UNI DEBATE

Delegates Will Hear Nebraska-South Dakota Contest Over Immigration.

High school debaters are invited to attend the Nebraska-South Dakota debate in Memorial Hall, March 12, in a bulletin sent Wednesday to all members of the Nebraska State High School Debating League in central and eastern Nebraska, by Prof. M. M. Fogg, president of the league.

Delegates from Nebraska high schools have for years been coming to Lincoln to attend the intercollegiate debates. This year the high school teams are debating the question, "Resolved: That the United States Should Further Restrict Immigration," and many of them will no doubt avail themselves of this opportunity to hear the immigration question discussed.

Former League Debaters.

Two members of the Nebraska team against South Dakota are former debaters in the Nebraska high school league. Wendell Berge, third speaker, participated in 19 debates while at Lincoln high and was captain of the Lincoln team in the final 1920 State League Debate which Beatrice won by a split decision. Volta Torrey, alternate, was captain of the West Point and Aurora district-championship teams in 1920 and 1922. The other members of the team which debates at home are Devon C. Eyer and Gayle C. Walker.

At the open-forum discussion following the formal debate, questions from the audience will be put to the debaters. This give-and-take rebuttal work has run for over an hour at previous debates and has had to be choked off.

High school teams may reserve seats by writing to the student activities office.

Two Hundred Hear Lecture by Bailey

Over 200 people attended the lectures of Dr. B. F. Bailey and Dr. S. Mills Hayes Wednesday evening in the art gallery. The School of Fine Arts is sponsoring the talks on pictures and artists in connection with the art exhibit.

Miss Hermine Stellar, former assistant professor in drawing and painting, has another picture on display, a sketch called "Jeanie Deabl." Miss Stellar will have another picture in the collection soon.

President W. A. Jessup of the University of Iowa will be the principal speaker at the delegate convention of the Nebraska State Teachers' association here next week. He will speak Friday at St. Paul church.
