HARKINS DESCRIBES STRUCTURE OF ATOM

Says It Carries Electricity and Is Like Sun or Nucleus.

Professor W. D. Harkins, well known for his work in the field of physical chemistry, spoke Monday at 5 o'clock in Chemistry hall upon "Atomic Collision and Structure of the Atom." Monday evening Professor Harkins spoke on "The Theory of Atomic Structure and Stability."

"There used to be an idea prevalent that there were a certain number of elements and that each element was made up of atoms. Now it is definitely known that there is a complete system of ninety-two elements. It has been found recently that many elements contain two or more different kinds of atoms. Mercury can be separated into two different kinds of atoms, both pure but both different," said Professor Harkins.

TRACK TEAM GOES TO VALLEY INDOOR MEET

Sixteen Men on Squad That Leaves Today for Kansas City.

Sixteen Nebraska track men leave this noon on the Burlington for Kansas City for the annual Missouri Valley indoor meet. Coach Schulte said late yesterday that Cohen, two-miler, would be the sixteenth man if the doctor pronounced him in condition. The other fifteen were named Thursday. The entire squad is:

Dashes—Locke, Bloodgood. Hurdles—Weir, Beerkle. 440-yard—Layton, Crites, Whipperman, Trexler.

880-yard—Higgins, Whipperman. Mile—Lewis. Two-mile—Slemmons, Cohen. High jump—Turner. Pole vault—Gleason, Davis. Shot put—Hartman.

Missouri, because of its victory over Kansas in a dual meet last week, is picked to take first. The Tigers are strong in the hurdles, shot put, and quarter mile.

Ames, strong in the distances and middle distance events, looms up as a possible winner after its defeat of Grinnell and Minnesota in dual meets. The Kansas Aggies are favored in the sprints, and Kansas has both field event men of ability and sprinters.

Hobb Turner will meet Poor of Kansas in the high jump. They tied for first at the Illinois relays. Layton is picked to place high in the quarter mile. Bloodgood may be used on the mile relay team as well as in the dashes. Crites, quarter-miler, is also slated to enter the 50 yard low hurdles.

COMPLETE INITIAL ROUND OF CONTEST

Eliminate 121 Teams First Day of Basketball Tournament.

GENEVA VICTORY IS ONLY UPSET OF DAY

With the exception of the 12 to 9 Geneva victory over York in Class A at the coliseum yesterday there were no big upsets in the first round of the fourteenth annual state high basketball tournament. Most of the preliminary games came out as the comparative season record of the teams might indicate. In class A the big six, Creighton Prep, Lincoln, Omaha Tech, Omaha Central, Fremont, and Norfolk won their games as the dopesters had figured before the tourney started.

One hundred twenty-one games were played in the initial round yesterday. Seven teams drew byes for the first day and there remain 128 unconquered quintets in the tourney, three-fourths of whom will fall down in defeat before the day is over. The second rounds in each class will be played this morning and afternoon and the semi-finals will be played off this evening. The finals will be played tomorrow afternoon in the lower classes, ending up at 9:00 in the evening with the final game of class A at the coliseum.

The York-Geneva game in class A at the coliseum which was won by Geneva in an extra three minute period was one of the closest games played in the higher classes, and the only one in class A that required an extra period to decide the winner. At the end of the half York led 9 to 4. The Geneva cagemen came back in the second half and opened up with a basket shooting rally that netted them two field goals and one free throw tying the score. In the extra three minutes, Geneva made another field goal and on more free throw. Linback was the star forward of the Geneva team, accounting for 5 of the 12 tallies.

In early season games Geneva lost twice to York, once by a score of 17 to 15 and another time 26 to 21. Lincoln high piled up the biggest score of the day in class A against Sidney. The score was 31 to 11. Jug Brown of the Link crew went on a basket shooting spree making a total of 17 points.

Creighton Prep Wins.
Creighton Prep tromped all over Valentine to the tune of 26 to 8 in the fourth game at the coliseum. The Blue and White Irishmen headed by O'Brien and Moylan who made 12 and 11 points respectively, were never in danger of losing their gam. Another one-sided game was that between University Place and Norfolk in which Norfolk was the happy winner of a 28 to 9 score. Fremont beat South Omaha 22 to 7.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS REPORT CAGE TOURNEY

Forty-nine "Cover" Games for 123 Out-state Newspapers.

Forty-nine students in the School of Journalism "covered" the Nebraska high school basketball tournament for 123 papers in eighty-five towns yesterday. The work is being done for newspapers all over the state by the University of Nebraska News Service under the direction of Prof. M. M. Fogg, director of the School of Journalism.

Last year students covered the games for twenty-one papers on a very short notice. The young journalists have the ambition and ability to do even more work, but this is impossible because they cannot get out of classes, according to Professor Fogg.

A regular correspondence bureau has been established in University hall 111. Three typewriters, several extra desks, and three large bulletin boards give the room the aspect of a big city editorial room.

All of the important games were covered yesterday and the office was open until midnight. The tournament is being covered for five daily papers, which makes it necessary to mail a great deal of the copy each night.

General resume stories are to be written for all of the weekly papers, with a local atmosphere throughout the articles. Stories about losing teams must be turned in immediately. All of the copy is to be sent Monday.

When questioned about his big news bureau, Professor Fogg said, "It's boiling! Warm stuff! Great fun!"
