The course is designed for men who have not had university technical training but who are engaged in electrical work in which it is needed. Local firms have assisted in the course by giving demonstrations and explanations of their products.

Offer Fellowships For Social Work

The New York School of Social Work is offering fellowships for the study of social work to twelve men and women in the colleges and universities of the United States, according to an announcement made public by the director of the school, Porter R. Lee. Four awards of $1200 each are open to graduating students and provide for a year of study in New York. Under the plan announced, the fellowships will be granted on the basis of competitive examinations, the last date for filing applications for entrance is April 19.

Surprise was expressed that ten of the fellowships had been reserved exclusively for college men in the junior and senior classes. These are for $155 each and are planned to cover necessary tuition and living expenses while the holder of the scholarship is attending the summer session of 1924. All applications should be addressed to Mr. Lee at 105 East 22d Street, New York.

"In offering these ten fellowships to college men," said Mr. Lee in giving out the statement, "The New York School of Social Work wishes to give students who have completed their junior year an opportunity to attend a summer session in New York, for the purpose of introducing them to the field of social work as a possible profession. These awards will be made according to the qualifications of the applicants, and May 10 has been set as the last application date for them."

New Tax Plan Allows for Three Separate Ticket Sale Campaigns

Since the Student Council first suggested a single tax plan for the University of Nebraska campus opinions have changed from day to day. Following the announcement of the first plan several days ago, when students generally expressed their disapproval of the single tax, various suggestions have been made for improvement until the late plan provides for three drives each year. This involves three separate campaigns, one for athletics, one for activities and a third for charities.

The present system is planned to enable students to save money and to reduce the number of drives on the campus besides making it possible for the individual to purchase any or all of the three tickets offered. It is thought that the various objections which have arisen against the first plan would be outcast since the individual would not be compelled to buy all of the tickets, allowing those participating in the various activities to purchase only the tickets outside their individual line.

Activity tickets would be sold admitting the holder to athletic contests while the athlete would purchase only the ticket including the publications and charity drives. The plan now provides for the sale of athletic tickets such as are now sold which would admit only to athletic events. A ticket would be sold for about $6 that would include all publications, Glee club and Debate and such other miscellaneous activities while a third drive would be conducted for all charities.

The Student Council has decided to let the tax question rest the next few days so students will have time to consider which of the plans introduced is most suitable. It is hoped that students will express their opinions freely so that the entire student body may consider the plans presented.

G. O. P. TO PRESENT ISSUES TO STUDENTS

Will Send Prominent Speakers to Colleges Throughout Country.

Thousands of college and university students throughout the country will hear leading national issues discussed by prominent speakers during the coming months, under the auspices of college Republican clubs organized by the college bureau of the republican national committee.

Speakers are now to be provided for every college republican club, if possible, according to the college bureau. In addition, each club will have the hearty support of its republican alumni, several of whom will address meetings in the course of the year. These speakers will not only promote the intelligent discussion of important political questions, but will also direct the students' attention to the fundamental principles of the republican party.

So far this year the Nebraska Republican club has brought two excellent speakers to this city. Senator Hiram Johnson spoke to the students several weeks ago on his candidacy for the presidency and general political questions. Adam McMullen, a graduate of the University of Nebraska and republican candidate for governor, speaks at a special convocation in the Temple at 11 o'clock this morning.

Professor Scheer of the Iowa State College at Ames will give the official placings and judge the reasons. Professor Scheer has a high reputation as official judge at various contests over the country.

Ribbons will be awarded the high men in the contest, as well as the winners in the different classes of stock to be judged. Ten classes of stock, nearly all of them purebreds owned by the college will be in the contest. All classes will be placed and reasons will be given on eight of them in the afternoon.

All men majoring in animal husbandry, except men on the senior judging team, are eligible to enter. Sophomores now taking animal husbandry work will be allowed to judge while six freshmen and four School of Agriculture men will be picked to enter. Registration for the contest may be made until 5 o'clock this evening with Wilbur Shainholz, or at the animal husbandry office. An entrance fee of 50 cents will be charged.

DR. TSU PREDICTS NEW ERA OF PEACE

Says China Will Be Prominent in Move for Friendliness.

"The Mediterranean era is past, the Atlantic era is here, will not the Pacific era be the next and the greatest?" asked Dr. Y. Y. Tsu at the World Forum luncheon yesterday. Dr. Tsu's topic was "The New Pacific Era" and the address covered not only Asia's present attitude toward the west but her future position in the world.

The new era that he predicted is to be a period of world peace and friendliness. The civilizations centering around other great bodies of water have been torn with wars but the new civilization which will arise around the Pacific will be one with the ideal of peace as the name "Pacific" implies.

The lecturer predicted that China will be a literate nation in ten years. While an educated Chinaman must know 50,000 characters of his language, only 1,000 characters are needed for every day reading and writing. A system of mass education is now being carried out in China which teaches the people these 1,000 characters in a period of a little more than two months.

Asia no longer looks to the west in order to copy the latter's civilization, the doctor declared. She now questions that the west has much of value to offer. Nevertheless she holds her friendship with America in very high esteem.

An unrecurrent of humor ran through the address. In telling of the difference between American and Chinese customs, Dr. Tsu cited the example of handshaking. A Chinaman meets and greets him by shaking hands with himself instead of with his friend as we do in this country. The explanation, according to the doctor, is that an American shakes hands with his friend in order to congratulate the latter on the honor of meeting with himself; the Chinaman shakes hands with himself to show that he congratulates himself on the honor of meeting his friend.

Dr. Tsu will return to his professorship at St. Johns College at Shanghai, China, this summer. He has been lecturing in this country for two years under the sponsorship of the Chinese Christian Federation.

MICHIGAN—Stephen Leacock, noted Canadian satirist and critic, believes co-education is all wrong. He said so while on the campus for a lecture. He thinks that girls do not speak freely in mixed classes and gain most of the knowledge by absorption.

FRAT TRACK MEET TO BEGIN MONDAY

ENTRIES CLOSE NEXT SATURDAY

The second annual interfraternity indoor track meet, which has been postponed since February 18, will begin Monday, March 24, and end Saturday. Fraternities that have not yet entered must do so before Saturday of this week.

In order to complete the meet in one week the list of events has been changed. The 660-yard run and the 12-pound shot put have been eliminated. The order of the events for the meet is:

Contestants may report for the events at 8:15, 4:15 or 5:15 on each day. It is desirable that the entries from each fraternity report together and compete together if possible. Any number of men may enter in the events, the best two counting for points. At least two men must enter in each event for the fraternity to place in the meet.

The meet will be run on the point basis, with 1000 points the limit for one man to make in any event. Each man is limited to six events in order that more will compete. The results for each day will appear on the track bulletin in the Armory the day following.
