HUSKERS BREAK EVEN IN TEXAS

Win Two From Dallas Nine But Lose Two to Methodists.

DID NOT MEET ARKANSAS TEAM

A double victory over Dallas University Wednesday, gave the Cornhusker baseball squad an even break in the four games played in their southern trip. The Nebraska team was defeated on Monday by the Southern Methodist university by a score of 18 to 13, and was again loser to the same team on Tuesday by the close score of 3 to 2.

The first game on the schedule was with the University of Arkansas, but the team was held up in Missouri on the way south and did not arrive in Arkansas in time to play. The game played on Monday against the Methodists turned out to be a slugfest for both teams. The Texans gained a safe lead of five runs in the fifth inning and sewed up the game by running in six more scores in the sixth inning.

Janda made two home runs in this game and Bloodgood and Locke each knocked a four-base clout. Three Cornhusker pitchers were used without success in an effort to stem the hitting of the Texas nine.

The Nebraskans held the lead for the first two innings but were unable to keep up with the batting pace set by the Texans.

The second game with the Methodists developed into a pitching duel between "Choppy" Rhodes and Thompson of the Southerners. Rhodes pitched shutout ball for the first seven innings and allowed only five hits in the entire game. Fielding errors in the eighth and ninth lost the game.

The doubleheader with Dallas University resulted in a 10 to 3 victory for Nebraska in the first encounter and a 4 to 3 victory in the second. Both games were seven innings by mutual agreement.

The team met Oklahoma A and M yesterday and will play them again today. Oklahoma University is next on the list with games on April 7 and 8, the Huskers then play the University of Missouri on the 9th and 10th, and Missouri Valley College on the 11th.

Preliminary tryouts for the Kansas relays at Lawrence on the 18th and 19th, will be held Saturday afternoon, and will be run off on the regular tryouts schedule as posted in the stadium.
