BASEBALL SQUAD TO MEET AGGIES

Team Will Appear in Its First Home Game of the Season.

ROCK ISLAND PARK TO BE SCENE OF FRAY

Nebraska's baseball team, after four weeks of intensive practice since their last game, meets the Kansas Aggie team, in the first home game of the season, at Rock Island park at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The second game of the series will be played on the Agriculture College diamond at 1 o'clock tomorrow as part of the Farmers fair festivities.

Since the trip south during spring vacation Coach Kline has shifted his line-up and thinks that he now has a winning combination. Lewellen will probably draw the pitching assignment in the opening game and Lang will be on the receiving end for the Huskers. Janda, who was spiked in a practice game during the first part of the week, will perhaps be able to take his place at second. It was feared for a time that the wound had become infected and this would have kept him out of the game for some time.

Following is the probable Husker line-up given in the batting order: Janda 2b, Voltz 1b, Locke rf, Bloodgood cf, Collins lf, Gibbs 3b, Bell ss, Land c, and Lewellen p.

It is possible that Eckstrom, who has been playing first, may start in the center garden instead of Locke.

The plan of having a parade from the campus to Rock Island park has been given up. Chancellor Avery will pitch the first ball of the game and Dean Engberg will attempt to catch it.

The Aggie team, fresh from a victory over K. U., will arrive on the Union Pacific this morning. Cunningham, star hurler for the Manhattan nine, held the Kansas team to five hits during the game last week. It is possible that he may go on the mound for the Aggies.

The Rock Island diamond will be in fine shape for a fast game. It has been filled in and regraded. The admission for the game will be fifty cents or by student athletic ticket.

COMMANDANT'S STATEMENT.

The war department rating sheet used for inspections to determine what colleges and universities should be designated as "Distinguished" allows 20 points for "faculty support," 20 points for "student support," 28 points for efficiency in theoretical instruction and 32 points for efficiency in practical instruction.

If, in considering "faculty support" and "student support," only spirit, good will, helpfulness and co-operation were considered, Nebraska would score a maximum on these items. In fact, the faculty and students of Nebraska have done all and more than I could ask to help in building up the military department to its present standard.

The real test of an inspection is borne by the cadets of the regiment and my faith is in the corps. I know they will do their best and considering that two-thirds of them will only have had about fifty hours practical instruction on the field their showing will reflect credit on their interest, zeal and application.

Whether or not we attain the coveted goal this year, Nebraska will "carry on" and be back fighting just a little harder in 1924-25.

FAIR PARADE TO HAVE 30 FLOATS

Annual Farmers Carnival Will Begin When Procession Ends at Ag Campus.

BRONCHO BUSTING TO COME IN AFTERNOON

All students in the College of Agriculture are excused from classes on both the city and the Ag campuses today. DEAN E. A. BURNETT.

A parade of thirty educational and comic floats down O street will start the sixth annual Farmers fair at noon tomorrow. The afternoon program, which includes the Nebraska-Kansas Aggie baseball game, a broncho-riding contest, dancing, and carnival shows on the midway, will start at the Ag campus as soon as the parade is finished.

The farmers rube band will lead the parade and will be followed by a float of the goddess of Agriculture, a senior girl whose name will be announced the morning of the parade. Barney Google, his famous horse Spark Plug, McTavish and his Hoot Mon, several western badmen, and a number of clowns are expected to furnish the comic element in the parade.

The baseball will be the first number on the afternoon program and will be followed by the broncho and steer-riding contests. Carnival shows, including Jal Olson's Foot and Mouth Entertainers and the Snorpheum, will open on the midway when the broncho-riding contest has been finished. When the first performances of the shows have been given, dancing will start on the canopy-covered dance floor and will continue until 6 o'clock when the afternoon program will end.

The dance will start again at 7:30 and continue until 11:30. The midway will also be open all evening.

The broncho and steer-riding contests are expected to draw a large crowd in the afternoon. The committee in charge has imported Pancho and Fire-eater, outlaw horses, and several "rough, tough Texas steers" to test the courage and ability of the student broncho twisters.

COUNCIL DELEGATES ATTEND CONFERENCE

Represent Mississippi Valley at Student Government Discussions.

(Special to the Nebraskan.)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 1—The midwest student conference convened today at the University of Tennessee with fifty-six voting delegates representing the entire Mississippi valley. Clifford M. Hicks, who represents Nebraska with Harold Schaaf, was made a member of the nominating committee.

The morning session was given over to the welcoming address by Dr. Morgan, president of the University of Tennessee, who stressed the particular importance of such student conferences.

Discussion of student publications took up the afternoon session. All the methods of control, policy, and financial matters were taken up in open forum. Much of the discussion was directed toward the limitation of editorial opinion by faculty pressure.

Student government problems will be discussed in the session tomorrow. This group of campus problems is to be given the greatest consideration in the conference.

CHANCELLOR'S STATEMENT.

The federal act establishing the R. O. T. C. in the universities and colleges of the country was a great educational measure. Before its enactment military training had been more in accordance with the idea of conscription prevalent in European countries, the training of young men in the elements of soldiery.

The work carried on under the present law makes military training given, especially in the senior division, highly educational. Further, the measure is admirably adapted to give a type of training that will tend to preserve the peace of the country. The presence of a large body of civilian reserve officers devoted to peace but able to defend our country and our institutions means security without militarism.

The peace of the world depends largely on America's attitude toward war. The reserve officer trained in the R. O. T. C. units is willing to make any sacrifice for defense, but has no sympathy for imperialistic adventures and no desire for military glory. An adequate supply of reserve officers makes the presence of a large standing army unnecessary, thus doing away with suspicion and rivalry, the fruitful causes of past wars. S. AVERY.

Cosmopolitan Club to Hold Annual Election

The Cosmopolitan club will elect officers for the coming year at its annual banquet, to be held at the Elks Club Cafe next Sunday. The nomination committee composed of W. P. McCaffree, Miss Laura Rooney and Kenneth Hattori have submitted the following nominations:

For president, Fred Goldstein; vice president, Hippolito Bonzo; secretary, Mr. Vero de Sa; treasurer, Marie Schuebel; corresponding secretary, Arvilla Johnson; member of board of directors, Keith Tyler; historian, Juan Udán.

Glade Says Army Must Depend on R. O. T. C. for Reserve Officers

"Veterans of the world war will soon cease to exist as a military reserve on which the United States can call in case of emergency, and the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the various universities and colleges of the country will be, more and more, the main source from which the organized reserve officers of the United States army will be drawn," said Colonel Herman Glade, head of the war department "Blue Star" inspection board that arrived in Lincoln last night for the second inspection of the Nebraska unit.

Last year 3,308 commissions in the reserve were given to R. O. T. C. graduates, Colonel Glade said, and in addition about 600 certificates were issued to students that were below twenty-one years of age. In the future the R. O. T. C. will furnish between six and seven thousand reserve officers annually. This is

OFFICERS INSPECT REGIMENT TODAY

Colonel Glade and Major Goodwin to Pass on Blue Star Rating.

ALL CADETS EXCUSED FOR THIS AFTERNOON

All students taking military science are excused from classes this afternoon for the war department "Blue Star" inspection. First call for cadets will be sounded at 12:45. Companies will form at 1 o'clock.

The war department inspection board, consisting of Colonel Herman Glade of the general staff, and Major Walton Goodwin of the cavalry, accompanied by Major Peyton, R. O. T. C. officer in the seventh corps, arrived in Lincoln last night at 8:00 for Nebraska's second "Blue Star" inspection today and tomorrow. While in Lincoln the officers will be guests of Major and Mrs. Sidney Erickson.

The board examining the Nebraska corps for distinguished rating today is one of three that is inspecting sixty-one R.O.T.C. units of high rank in the country. The inspecting officers come to Nebraska from Manhattan, Kan., where they have completed a two day inspection of the Kansas State Agricultural college unit.

The Nebraska R.O.T.C. unit is the largest infantry unit of R.O.T.C. that the inspecting officers have visited so far this year, Colonel Glade said last night on his arrival.

Scabbard and Blade Initiates Peyton. The first thing on the inspecting officers program last evening was the Scabbard and Blade initiation at the Agricultural college, when Major Peyton was initiated as an associate member of the Nebraska chapter of the honorary military society. Colonel Glade and Major Goodwin witnessed the initiation. They are members of the society.

The "Blue Star" inspection will start this morning at 9 o'clock with an examination of the theory section of the advanced course cadets. In the later part of the forenoon the storeroom and class room facilities of the local corps will be inspected by the officers. A luncheon will be held in their honor at noon by the Scabbard and Blade chapter.

The feature of the program this afternoon will be the inspection of the entire regiment on the parade grounds. There will be a parade and review in honor of the officers, and the inspection and examination of the cadets will follow. Each of the officers will inspect one of the battalions, and half of the third.

The inspection will consist of a personal inspection of the cadets in the ranks, equipment, uniform, and military knowledge. Companies will execute such drills and exercises as the reviewing officers may order.

The three inspection boards will meet in Washington about May 24 after the completion of their inspections and the findings of the boards will be announced some time in the early part of June, according to Colonel Glade, head of the board that is inspecting the Nebraska unit.
