PRESENT MASQUE AT CONVOCATION

Vestals of the Lamp Hold Initiation at Arts and Science Gathering.

CENTURIONS ELECT SEVEN NEW MEMBERS

"Academe," a symbolic masque, was presented by the Vestals of the Lamp in the Arts and Science convocation Thursday morning. Dr. Hartley B. Alexander addressed the meeting on the meaning of the Arts and Science college. The new members of the Vestals were initiated in the ceremony. Robert F. Craig, president of the Centurions, presided and announced the selection of seven new Centurions, men's society of the Arts and Science college.

New members of the Vestals are: Mary Doremus, Marjorie Stuff, Ruth Ann Codrington, Helen Simpson, and Corine Anderson. Honorary Vestals are: Samuel Avery, Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, and Miss Marjorie Shanafelt.

The new Centurions are: Vernon R. Schopp, Audrey Diller, Norman Plate, Henry Eller, John Allison, Philip O'Hanlon, and Douglass Orr.

Dr. Alexander in speaking of the place of the Arts college in the University and in the world stated that from this college have come the groups of men and women who have been willing to sacrifice in order to pass on to posterity the traditions of the college of civilization. The Arts college has always stood for the fundamental elements of our civilization. The ideals of human nature were observed in the clear light of reason by the great minds which have contributed most to this civilization, and the results of their thinking have been incorporated into the subjects of the arts college, Dr. Alexander pointed out.

Men and women who enter the College of Arts and Sciences are often charged with having the desire to become ladies and gentlemen, remarked the speaker. If this is true, it is not to be regretted, but the aim of the college goes far beyond this end. The training of men and women to become interested in the aims and ideals of the best in our civilization and the training of their minds to appreciate the intelligence of others is a function of the college. But even this, he stated, is not the ultimate end of the teaching of the college of arts and sciences.

The great end is the training of educated men and women for service to the state. Because the great traditions of civilization rest on the subjects of the arts college, this college is the basis of civilization. It becomes the task of the members of this college to keep these traditions for posterity. History, science, philosophy, government, mathematics and art—these are the foundations of civilization, and, according to the speaker, these subjects form the basis of the arts colleges.

Dr. Alexander explained the symbolic importance of the Vestals and the Centurions. The Vestals typify the Vestals of the Lamp of ancient Rome who kept alive the fires in the temple Vesta. The Vestals of today protect and keep alive the fire of the hearth and the flame of culture. The Centurions protect the outer walls and fortifications of civilization as in Rome they guarded the city. The lamp of the torch has always been the symbol of enlightenment, stated the speaker. It represents the ancient torch races which recalled to the Romans the stealing of the fires from heaven that man might have freedom and knowledge.

Dr. Alexander in concluding said it remains for the members of the College of Arts and Sciences to penetrate the unexplored regions of knowledge so that in the end we may have a democracy of intelligence and a rule of reason.

The masque "Academe," presented by the Vestals portrayed the transfer from the old to the new of the flame of learning. The masque was written by Dr. H. B. Alexander and presented by a cast of the present Vestals.

Compiles Calendar of Next Years Events

A calendar of all traditional events such as the Military ball, Engineers week, and University night is being compiled by Dean Amanda Heppner. A copy of the calendar will be sent to each sorority and fraternity house in order that they may arrange their parties without conflicts. All organizations wishing to schedule events must have their dates filed with Dean Heppner by Saturday.

INTERCOMPANY TRACK MEET COMES SATURDAY

Twelve Entries in Contest; Winners Will Get Colored Ribbons.

The intercompany track meet which was planned for May 7, will be held Saturday morning, May 17, at 9 o'clock. The meet was not held when it was scheduled because of the cold weather.

Each one of the twelve companies has entries in every event of the day. All entries are asked to report on the field at 9 o'clock. There can be not less than one and not more than three entered in each event.

Colored ribbons are to be awarded to the four high men in each event. The points will count as follows: First place 5, second place 3, third place 2, fourth place 1. All men in the company, officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates, are eligible for the meet.

The following events are planned: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, mile run, javelin throw, shot put, discus throw, 60-yard high hurdles, 110-yard low hurdles, broad jump, high jump, pole vault, and 880-yard free-for-all relay.

The meet is being managed by John Madden, Captain and Morale Officer of the R.O.T.C. Coach "Indian" Schulte and varsity track men will take charge on the field.

SETS DEADLINE FOR DRIVE APPLICATIONS

Student Council Says Organizations Must File Request by Saturday.

Applications for drives for next year will close Saturday at 5 o'clock, according to the statement of Clifford M. Hicks, president of the student council. Six applications have been received. It is urged that organizations desiring to put on drives next year should file their applications with the president of the student council at once, indicating first and second choice of days.

Both the old and new student councils will meet next Monday. A report of the Midwest Student conference meeting, held at Knoxville, Tenn., will be given by Mr. Hicks.

It is probable that the calendar of drives for next year will be made up at this time for publication in the "N" book. The new council will take over its duties in about a week and officers will be elected for next year at that time.

The two senior men and senior women elected from the old council to hold over as a nucleus of the new are as follows: Emmett V. Maun, Francis Boucher, Frances Weintz and Neva Jones.

Bryan to Review Cadet Regiment

Regimental parade and review in honor of Governor C. W. Bryan and his staff will take place at 5 o'clock this afternoon on the drill field.

Company C, honor company of the last parade, will be the color company this evening.

This will be the last parade of the regiment before competitive drill, May 24, and the winning company will have the honor of escorting the colors on that day.

That the cold wave that forced the abandonment of the first musical concert in the stadium does not prove that the idea of using the structure for such festivals will have to be cast aside, is the opinion of the men who managed the affair in connection with the officials of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON TO PLAY IN FINALS

Defeats Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity by Count of 14 to 10.

Sigma Phi Epsilon won its way into the finals of the interfraternity baseball tourney by defeating Pi Kappa Phi, 14 to 10, in a ragged game at Rock Island park yesterday afternoon. Errors were numerous on both sides. The Pi Kap's, who had been playing a consistent brand of ball in previous tourney games, seemed unable to get going except at rare intervals.

T. Pickett, on the mound for the Sig Ep's, struck out fourteen men and allowed six hits while Edwards and Domeir, Pi Kap hurlers, were touched for twelve hits and struck out six.

The Sig Ep's took a three-run lead in the first inning but the Pi Kap's came back with a rally in the third that put them in the lead, 4 to 3. In the fifth, Cunningham hit a homer with two on bases and succeeding hits and Pi Kap errors ran the score up to 10 to 4, in favor of the Sig Ep's.

The Pi Kap's found themselves in the seventh and produced a rally that nearly brought the game their way. They got five hits in that inning and the Sig Ep's aided them with a number of pitiful bobbles. Kendall and Maaske brought in two runs each with doubles and Lewis drove in one. The score was 8 to 11 at the end of the inning.

The Sig Ep's put the game on ice in the ninth when they ran in three more scores. A last minute Pi Kap rally netted two runs and the game ended, 14 to 10.

DISPLAY CORNHUSKER FEATURES IN WINDOW

Covers, Sections and Pictures of Representative Men and Women Shown.

An attractive display of completed portions of the Cornhusker and material used in its completion has been arranged by Rudge & Guenzel in one of the windows on N street. The display includes sections from the book, the cover, and pictures of ten men and ten women, representative Nebraska students. The pictures of half of the number will be run in the annual, but their names will not be announced until that time.

Printing of the book is now about completed and the work of binding is all that remains to be done. This means that the Cornhusker will be ready for issue within ten days. Extra copies have been ordered so that those who failed to make the initial payment may still have an opportunity to obtain a book. The original price was $4.50, but a reduction was made to $4.

The Cornhusker this year will be entered in the Artcraft Guild college-annual contest and will compete with such books as the Annapolis Lucky Bag, the Wisconsin Badger, Minnesota Gopher, Missouri Savitar, and other college publications.

A few organizations have failed to pay the bills for their pages and these are being asked to do so at once.

REGISTRATION WILL START ON MONDAY

Registration for next semester will begin next Monday morning when schedules of classes will be ready for distribution at the office of the Registrar. Every student must be registered before Saturday noon, May 24, or a late registration fee will be charged.

Each student must first see his advisor and after registering must leave his application with the dean of the college. The student should not fail to place their home or summer address on their applications so that the fees may be collected before September 8, which is the deadline. Every student should register whether he expects to return or not.

First semester classes begin on September 18 next fall and the opening address by Chancellor S. Avery will be given September 23.

Strayer Will Lecture at Convocation Today

Dr. George D. Strayer, professor of education at Columbia University, will give the address at a convocation for members of the Teachers college and School of Fine Arts at the Temple theater at 11 o'clock this morning. All classes will be excused for students in these schools.

Dr. Strayer is a past-president of the National Education association and one of the prime movers for a department of education in the United States cabinet.

W. A. SELLECK SPEAKS AT BIZAD MEETING

Says Business Should Be Aim of Well Spent Life.

"Business is the aim and purposes of a well-spent life," said W. A. Selleck, director of the Lincoln State National bank, in his address at the special convocation of the Business Administration College yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Selleck started his speech by saying that the common acceptance of the word "business" was not the one which he wanted to bring forward, that he was going to use a broader definition of the term. His subject was "Business Morality."

He read several excellent quotations from a book written on the subject of business morality. He said, "There is nothing in the mind of the country today greater than the burden under which we are laboring because of business failures." He then gave the figures on the percent of the American tax dollar that goes for the preparation for war, war itself, or the after effects. He said that this percent is about 75.

Dean LeRossignol introduced the speaker briefly. The convocation was opened by several selections by the Candy Kids orchestra.

SIGMA TAU ERECTS CONCRETE PYRAMID

Puts Up Structure Which Is Symbolic of Principles of Organization.

A reinforced concrete pyramid, symbolic of one of the principles on which Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, is founded is in process of construction on the campus just south of the Mechanical Engineering building. A committee headed by Frank Ellermeier has constructed the forms and the interior forms are in place. The pyramid will be about eight feet high and eleven feet square at the base.

A metal rail section and the letters Sigma and Tau will be imbedded in the walls. The walls themselves will be eight inches thick. A seat about two feet high will be poured around the base.

The piers and footings on which the pyramid is to rest will probably be poured this afternoon. The structure will be complete Saturday. The whole pyramid has been designed and the plans made as economical as possible.

The pyramid is intended partly as a lasting monument to the founding of the national fraternity on the Nebraska campus in 1904. It is the culmination of three or four years of planning. Edgar Borchelt, president of the Nebraska chapter, said yesterday.

MEN SELECTED FOR HUSKER GOLF TEAM

Whitten, Henkleman, Vette and Ready or Cox to Meet Drake.

Jack Whitten, Carl Henkleman, Fred Vette and either George Ready or Charles Cox will compose the golf team that meets Drake university quartet in a dual match at the Country club this afternoon.

Drake has captured the valley golf championship for the past two years and the Huskers expect a tough fight. The meet will be scored on the Nassau system which provides for individual competition with points being scored at the end of each nine holes.

The final limit for submission of senior class poem manuscripts has been extended to May 25, according to Josephine Altman, chairman of the poem committee. Dr. Alexander and Professor Louise Pound have been selected to judge the manuscripts.

The author of the selected poem, which is to be read as part of the Ivy Day program, will receive a prize, the substance of which is being kept secret. Length of the productions is not stipulated by the committee. Two copies, one signed, the other unsigned are to be submitted.

AGGIE TRACKMEN ARRIVE FOR MEET

Husker Squad Will Perform for First Time Today in Stadium.

STUDENT TICKETS ADMIT TO STADIUM

Kansas Aggie's track men arrived in Lincoln last night, fourteen strong, for the dual track and field meet this afternoon on stadium field. The meet starts at 3:00 beginning with the 100-yard dash. Two places in each event will count, five for first and three for second.

Student athletic tickets will admit to the meet this afternoon. The dual meet is the first time that the Husker track squad will perform on its home course this year. Every meet so far has been on foreign tracks.

The red cinder circular track between the stadium stands will be in first-class shape this afternoon, and will be one of the fastest in the Valley. The stands on either side give a commanding view of the entire track, and allow each race to be seen from start to finish.

Nebraska men who will run in the meet this afternoon were announced yesterday by Coach Schulte.

The Husker track men are conceded to come out first in the dual meet after the crushing defeat administered Kansas last week, and the defeat of the Aggies at the same time at the hands of Missouri. Nebraska will be especially strong in the middle distances this afternoon and in the hurdles. The short sprints are a toss up. Red Erwin of the Aggies has beaten Locke twice this year and it will be a merry race between the two this afternoon.

Gardner to Run Mile.

Captain Mud Gardner will run the mile for the first time in a dual meet this year for Nebraska. He will be paired up with Lewis and Higgins, the other Nebraska milers. Zimmerman, two miler, beat the field in the tryouts for the meet, and will be the other Nebraska man in this event with Slemmons, medic student from Omaha. Zimmerman made the two miles in 10:16 and was handicapped partly by lack of stiff competition that day. He will probably make the two miles in ten minutes or less this afternoon.

Husker field men are doped to win most of the events today, with the exception of the javelin in which Nebraska has not yet found a successor that can match up at all with Hartley, who set up a new Valley record last year in this event.

The Nebraska lineup that will start the races tomorrow follows:

100-yard dash—Locke, Hein, Bloodgood.

220-yard dash—Locke, Hein, Bloodgood.
