MILITARY UNITS NOW COMPLETED

Five Observation Squadron
Planes Added to List of Exhibition Groups.

R. O. T. C. IS READY FOR TODAY'S EVENT

Classes will be dismissed on the afternoon of Friday, May 23, in order that the faculty and students may avail themselves of the opportunity of witnessing the unusual educational exhibitions staged at the State Fair Grounds by the Reserve Officers of this city, assisted by the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion, Regular Army and the University.

The annual competitive drill of the Military Department will be held Saturday morning, May 24. All classes are excused.
CARL C. ENBERG,
Executive Dean.

A fleet of five planes arrived yesterday afternoon from the 16th Observation Squadron to complete the military units ordered here for the military exhibition at the fair grounds this afternoon. Commanders of the field artillery, the troop of cavalry, the naval reserve, the observation squadron, and the R. O. T. C. units report their men in readiness and anxious to take part in the event. All units have gone through periods of special training in an effort to present their work with military precision.

Starting at noon today, the parade will open at the Fair Grounds, march to 16th and O streets, and then west on O street. It will be headed by the police squad followed by the marshals of the day, the Colors, the York National Guard band, Troop "F", Second United States cavalry, Battery "A" Ninth Field artillery, 40-8 drum corps, reserve officers, naval reserve, girl cadets, R. O. T. C. band and finally the cadet regiment. It will end at the Fair Grounds.

Will Give Band Concerts.
Starting at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, the York, Crete, and R. O. T. C. bands will give concerts. This will be followed by the Pershing Rifle drill, demonstrating the Lentz cadence system and close order drill. Battery A of the field artillery will then give an exhibition of special maneuvers, fancy driving, and a demonstration of loading and firing.

Company L of the cadet regiment, commanded by Captain John Westerman, will give an exhibition of a platoon in attack. The platoon will be accompanied by the special

CADETS PROMOTED TO OFFICIAL RANK

Fourteen New Captains and Eighteen First Lieutenants Named By Major.

When the bugle sounds for the thirtieth annual "compet" tomorrow morning there will be fourteen new captains and eighteen new first lieutenants. The fourteen captains are all seniors in the advanced course who will not be assigned to companies, but have received this honor because of their exceptionally good work in the course.

Those who received promotion to first lieutenants will take their new positions next year as seniors in the course. Major Erickson said in his order that no further promotions will be made until the work in camp can be observed.

"It is regretted that ten men recommended could not be promoted on account of lack of hours last semester or this semester," said the commandant. The following is the list:

- To Be Cadet Captains.
- Harold Avery
 - Newell E. Freeman
 - Irvin R. Green
 - A. Leicester Hyde
 - Lemont B. Kier

 - Arthur N. Huddleston
 - Francis V. Moynahan

Pittenger, star miler and half-miler for Missouri is captain of the Tiger team. Pittenger holds the indoor record for the mile with the fast time of 4 minutes, 29 seconds. He is also a cross country man.

REGISTRATION LIMIT IS SATURDAY NOON

Late Fee Added to Regular Dues of Students Who Are Behind Time.

Registration of students for next semester must be completed by Saturday noon, according to Executive Dean Engberg, although Friday noon will be the last opportunity that most students will have to register, as many of the advisors will not be in their offices at that time. At late registration fee of three dollars will be added to the regular fees of all students who fail to register on time.

Every student who intends to return to school next semester should take advantage of spring registration in order to get it out of the way next fall. By taking advantage of early registration students who work during the summer vacation, will not need to return next fall until classes begin.

CADETS COMPETE EARLY SATURDAY

Review, Drill, Presentation of Sponsors and Prizes Make Up Program.

R. O. T. C. APPEARS IN FINAL PARADE

The thirtieth annual competitive drill of the University of Nebraska unit of the R. O. T. C. will start at 8:30 tomorrow morning. The drill will include review, company competitive drill, individual competitive drill, presentation of sponsors and prizes, and a final parade.

Ten per cent of the men in each company will be allowed to enter the individual competitive drill. The companies have all had spell-downs in the last two weeks to pick the men who will represent them in the individual "compet."

The morning will be started by a review of the regiment by Chancellor Avery and Major Erickson on the drill field at 8:30. Inspection and competitive company drill will follow with the companies in the following order: M, Headquarters, I, K, L, E, F, H, G, C, D, A, B.

The individual competitive drill will follow with Captain Harding and Lieutenant Oliver in command. The rest of morning will be taken up by the following events in their proper order; presentation of sponsors; presentation of prizes by sponsors; final parade.

Name Company Judges.
The company drills will be judged by Lieut. Colonel C. J. Frankforter, Captain V. G. Huska, Captain L. W. Eggers, Captain K. M. Still, First Lieut. M. H. Forbes, First Lieut. G. L. Eyster. The following army officers will judge the company inspections: Major H. C. Stein, Major Jesse Faes, Captain Larry K. Grainger,

WILL DISTRIBUTE ANNUALS MONDAY

Cornhusker Staff Announces Books Will Be Available In Administration Hall.

The 1924 Cornhusker will be out Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The books are almost completed and will be ready by that time. They will be distributed in the southwest corner room in the basement of the Administration building.

About 150 extra copies of the publication have been ordered by the business manager and people wishing books, may purchase them Monday. Students should make their purchases as soon as possible because of the limited number. Last year the supply was completely sold, even though a number of extra copies were ordered. No more extra books were printed this year because of the cost of the book and the loss resulting if any were left in the hands of the staff.

The price of the book is $4. This is a reduction in the price of last year. However, the annual contains an increased number of pages, a total of 632, and is larger, the size of the pages being increased to 9 by 12 inches. Students who paid the first price of $4.50 during the drive, will be refunded 50c.

Weather Forecast

Partly cloudy Friday, and probably Saturday. Not much change in temperature.

CORNHUSKER NINE DEFEATS SOONERS

Nebraska Takes Revenge for Oklahoma Victory Yesterday With 10-1 Score.

VISITORS HELD DOWN TO THREE HITS ONLY

It was sweet revenge that the Huskers took on Oklahoma yesterday when they drubbed the Sooners, 10 to 1, in a slugfest at Rock Island park. It was the Huskers' game from the very first. Six Nebraskans crossed the plate in the second and the southerners never had a chance after that. Their only counter came in the seventh when Mayes, Sooner right fielder, placed a pretty home run over the fence.

B. Lang, Husker pitching ace, who holds a record of two one-hit games this season, was working well and allowed but three hits. He struck out nine Sooners. Swisher started on the mound for Oklahoma, but blew up in the second, when he allowed four hits. Reeves finished the game and succeeded in hold the Huskers down a little better. They

UNIVERSITY JOURNAL FEATURES ROUNDUP

Campus Snap-Shots and Nebraska "Who's Who" Ap- pear in May Issue.

The "Round-Up Edition" of the University Journal for May comes out this week. In it appears a complete program of the 1924 annual Cornhusker Round-Up, to be held on June 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Snap-shots taken on the campus during the past year appear in this issue. One of the prominent pictures is an interior view of the new stadium; others are smaller pictures taken on the city campus as well as pictures of former round-ups. On the cover is a picture of Ellen Smith hall which is called "The Co-eds Rendezvous."

"Military Training in the University" is the title of an article by Chancellor Avery in which he outlines the growth of military training in the University. "Changes of a Decade," "The Sparks Revive," and "Sure 'Nuff, You'll Come," are the titles of other articles.

The Journal also, in a section called "Who's Who," gives accounts of a number of prominent Nebraskans. The facts for these sketches are taken from "Who's Who in America" for 1922-23. The list which is arranged in alphabetical order gives sketches about the following: John L. Cooper, Harold J. Cook, Samuel R. Cook, Fredric E. Clements, John R. Cooper, Harvey W. Cox, John W. Craibtree, James C. Crawford, Irving S. Cutter, Arthur D. Cromwell, Jay B. Davison, Clarence A. Davis, Lyman E. Davis, John W. Dinsmore, Byron B. Davis, and Rheta C. Door.

Ticket sales are expected to reach 10,000 for the annual Missouri Valley track meet to be held today and tomorrow, according to John Selleck, business manager. Coach Henry Schulte declares that the meet promises to be one of the fastest in Valley history. The new track is exceedingly fast, as was demonstrated in the meet Friday, and competition will be keen.

A record breaking entry list has been sent in by all Valley schools. There are 100 more entries this year than took part in the big classic at Ames last year. Many of the athletes are now on hand for the first preliminaries and the Cornhusker cinder path has been put in first class shape for the running events.

Preliminary Drawings At Hotel.
Drawings for preliminaries, which will begin at 3 o'clock today, will be made at the Lincoln hotel at 1 o'clock. Admission charge to the preliminaries is 50 cents. Tennis and golf tournament drawings are to be made at 8:30 this morning and play will begin immediately. The finals tomorrow will begin at 2 o'clock.

In the special races Joie Ray and Ray Watson will make an extreme effort to outdo each other in their distance race. Neither of the runners has entered races since the indoor season.

Riley, star hurdler, who is running under the colors of the Illinois Athletic club, is out for a world's record in the 400-meter hurdles. Riley is a former Kansas Aggie star, and came to Lincoln last Friday with the K. S. A. C. team when he got his first glimpse of the Husker track. He immediately decided that he would like to try for a world's record on this track.

Sprinters To Break In.
Linsey, Oklahoma sprinter, and Young of Drake, intend to turn the Erwin-Locke battle into a four-cornered affair. McIntire of Ames has hopes of breaking the Valley record of 4 minutes, 22 seconds in the mile. McIntire broke the former Iowa record last Saturday by running the

The first Missouri Valley track meet was held at Kansas City in 1908 when Ames won decisively by a score of 52. Missouri university placed second with a total of 22 points. The second meet was also held at Kansas City.

In 1914 the meet was held at St. Louis with Washington University as guest to the Valley schools. Chicago won the meet in that year and Colorado placed second. Outside schools have not been admitted to Valley meets since only colleges in the states of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska may enter the meets. Drake University was the guest of the Valley teams for the three years from 1910 to 1912. Iowa State College at Ames, has also been the guest three different years. Last year's meet was held at Ames. Washington University at St. Louis is the other school that can boast of three Missouri Valley championship meets.

The University of Missouri has the honor of winning the greatest number of championships. The Tiger school won first for three years beginning in 1911. They again took three consecutive victories and tied for a fourth from 1915 to 1919. This winning streak marks the time that Coach Henry F. Schulte guided the Black and Gold track squad.

No meet was held in 1918 on account of the world war. In the year 1919 Missouri and Kansas tied for first place. In 1920 Missouri again took first position. Since that year Nebraska has reigned supreme, by winning the championships for the last three years. Nebraska's winning marks the second year of track coaching at Nebraska by Coach "Indian" Schulte.
