The names will be sealed in the presence of the candidate and will not be announced until Sunday when they will appear in The Daily Nebraskan. Only one candidate for freshman president and two for honorary colonel had filed last night.

Elections will be held Tuesday, October 7. The polls in the Student Council office in the basement of the Administration Building will be open from 8 to 5 o'clock.

Nearly twenty thousand tickets have been sold outside of the University for the Illinois game.

Interest in the Nebraska-Illinois game is very high as shown by the advance sales. There are still plenty of good seats but at the rate at which they are now selling they will soon be gone. Coolidge and Dawes Are Not First Candidates Backed by Students

Though Coolidge-Dawes support from college undergraduates and alumni all over the country will form a strong part of the Republican campaign because of the organized basis upon which it has been built, this does not represent the first time that college men have lent themselves as a unit to further a political cause.

This year 250,000 students, representing 500 universities in the United States, are being enrolled in college Republican Clubs and approximately 150,000 of these young men and women will vote for President Coolidge in November. The present organization is known as The Associated University Republican Clubs.

The first attempt to organize the college vote for a president was in 1892 when ex-Congressman James Francis Burke, who is now legal adviser to the National Committee and Assistant Director at the eastern headquarters of the Republican National Committee in New York, organized and became president of the Republican Club of the University of Michigan of which institution Mr. Burke is a graduate. This club issued the call for the first national gathering of Republican college men.

Recalling how he came to start what is believed to have been the first college Republican Club at Michigan Mr. Burke said:

"Prior to the campaign of 1892 the controversy over Republican protection and Democratic free trade raged with great fury. To add to the Republican grievance a majority

STUDENTS MAY SING IN CLASSES FRIDAY

Engberg Says Instructors May Allow Songs for First Five Minutes.

The following statement in regard to singing in the classes was issued yesterday from the office of Carl C. Engberg, executive dean of the University:

To All Officers of Instruction:

"The student body is quite excited over the opening of the football season and has requested permission to sing for the first few minutes of the classes during the present week.

"This has not seemed proper but on the other hand on account of the importance of a good start for the athletic season, it has seemed wise to the Chancellor and others with whom I have discussed the matter to grant the instructors the option of permitting singing for not to exceed five minutes at the opening of classes on Friday.

"It is hoped that the students will cooperate in making work on that day the most successful of the week in spite of the slight interruption at the beginning of the hour."

CARL C. ENGBERG, Executive Dean.

Y. M. GIVES FRESHMAN STAG

A program of games stunts and motion pictures is being arranged by Duane Anderson, in charge of the party. It is possible that pictures of the Notre Dame game last year will be shown among other features.

Special music to live up to the party is also being secured. Robert Slaymaker will play a number of xylophone solos.

Freshman women who are interested in Y. W. C. A. work are asked to apply with Miss Erma Appleby, secretary, for consideration as members of Freshman Commission. This is the first year that such a plan has been put into effect. Under the direction of the Commission, freshman discussion groups will be organized later in the year.

Announcement will be made within a few days of the date of the first World Forum luncheon which will be held at the Grand Hotel. Prominent speakers are secured to speak on current topics at World Forum luncheons by the world fellowship committee working in cooperation with a committee in the Y. M. C. A.

TRACES UNI HISTORY FOR ARTS FRESHMEN

Chancellor Opens Lecture Course with Story of Nebraska's Growth.

The history of the University of Nebraska and its activities from the time of its foundation in 1869 to the present day was traced by Chancellor Samuel Avery in his address on "The University of Nebraska" given before the freshman lecture classes Monday and Tuesday.

This was the opening address of the lecture course which is required of all Arts and Sciences freshmen.

They were told of the struggles of the University in its earlier days, its growth and development, and its likeness to the federal government.

The University was located in Lincoln before the city was actually laid out. It was placed here along with several other state institutions because of the idea of Edward Rosewater to save money by having them group together.

JORGENSEN SPEAKS AT Y. W. VESPERS

"What it Means to Be a Disciple of Christ," Is Subject of Secretary.

Arthur Jorgenson, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., spoke on "What it Means to Be a Disciple of Jesus," at vespers Tuesday before members of the University Y. W. C. A. Barbara Wiggenhorn, president of Y. S.-G. A., lead the services. Mary Ellen Edgerton and Charleen Cooper played a violin and flute duet accompanied by Ruth Ann Coddington.

Religious training, Mr. Jorgenson observed, is not carried on in a formal way on the Nebraska campus. "I like that," he said. "If we have religion on this campus, it is because we create it. It is not brought here."

To be a disciple one must live the life of adventure, not abroad, but here at school, he stated. There is a tremendous amount of conformity in any university on earth. Freshmen must often be overwhelmed by tradition. Though the spirit of adventure must not be over-emphasized, yet it is very important.

A creative life and a good life were the other two essentials pointed to by Mr. Jorgenson. In the former type we live by a creative impulse rather than by the far too common possessive impulse. For the latter kind of life, he enlarged upon the quotation of Goethe, "The highest cannot be spoken."

FRESHMEN HAVE FUN-FEST TODAY

Annual First-year Men's Barbecue Starts at 6 O'Clock at Drill Field.

IRON SPHINX MEET TO FINISH ARRANGEMENTS

The annual barbecue for all freshman men in the University will be held at the drill field this evening at 6 o'clock. A good ticket sale is reported by the Iron Sphinx, sponsors of the event, and a large number of first-year men is expected to attend.

A special meeting of the Iron Sphinx was held last night at the Alpha Tau Omega house to complete arrangements. John Beber and Dick Ross, in charge of the program have arranged entertainment. Coach H. F. Schulte and Wendell Berge president of the Innocents, will make talks on the coming Olympics. A six-piece orchestra will furnish music during the meeting. A hearty meal will be the feature of the event.

The barbecue is held annually to promote spirit among the freshmen for Olympics. Yell leaders will be on hand to teach the new men Nebraska yells. Any freshmen who have not purchased their tickets can do so from any member of the Iron Sphinx or at the drill field east of the Armory this evening. The price is fifty cents.

W. A. A. Holds First Meeting Wednesday

The first general meeting of the Women's Athletic Association will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the Social Science Auditorium. An outline of the work of the organization last year will be presented and changes for this year's work will be discussed. There will be a report of the committee in charge of the freshman picnic, and general information concerning the management of concessions at the Illinois football game.

Rosalie Platner is in charge of the board supper which is to be held at Brunel's Tea Room, 339 North Thirteenth Street at 6 o'clock.

"WELCOME ILLINOIS" IS SPIRIT OF RALLY

"Pep" Meeting Comes Friday; Armbands Appear in Large Numbers.

Nebraska's first football rally for the 1924 football season will be Friday night in the Armory at 7 o'clock. Cornhuskers are expected to turn out for the rally at which the spirit of welcoming Illinois will predominate. Practice of Nebraska yells and songs will be held at the meeting and several short talks will be given by Cornhusker athletic leaders.

The rallies which preceded the Husker games during the 1923 season were said to be largely responsible for the great performance of the "Fighting Cornhuskers" last year. The spirit and enthusiasm shown at these rallies clearly demonstrated to the team that the Nebraska student body is behind the team.

According to the committee, the program will last little more than an hour, and will not interfere with any other functions scheduled later in the evening.

"Welcome Illinois" armbands appeared in great numbers on the campus Monday morning after the Cornhorns and the Tassels opened their campaign. These may also be purchased at the Varsity Cleaners. The Innocents hope that every student will be wearing an armband by the end of the week.

Monday noon, cars parked around the campus were decorated with stickers, emblazoned with the words, "Welcome Illinois."

FRESHMAN WOMEN WILL MEET TODAY

To Learn of Organizations and Traditions at W. S.-G. A. Convocation.

Freshman women will meet in the Temple Theater at 5 o'clock this afternoon for the first Women's Self-Government Association convocation of the semester. The meeting is intended to acquaint the freshmen with the women's organizations on the campus.

The president of each organization will explain the activities and purpose of her group. Eleanor Flate-mersch will speak for the Women's Athletic Association, Agnes Kessler for the University Y. W. C. A., Katherine Warner for Mortar Board, Mary Towle for Valkyrie, and Mable Lundy for the Senior Advisory Board. Katherine Warner will introduce Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, and Miss Erma Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A., who will speak. Copies of "An If for University Women" will be distributed to all freshmen.
