PLAN MONSTER STUDENT RALLY

Captain Weir Will Introduce the Members of the 1924 Football Team.

PEP MEETING TO BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

Nebraska's "Fighting Cornhuskers," who will line up against Illinois Saturday afternoon in the opening game of the 1924 season, will be introduced to the Cornhusker student body at the monster rally scheduled for Friday night at 7 o'clock at the Armory. Captain Ed Weir, star tackle of the 1923 team, will introduce each member of the squad.

The innocents' committee in charge of rallies has completed the program for the Friday night pep meeting, at which the student body will practice Nebraska songs and yells, and demonstrate to the Husker gridiron warriors that Nebraska is behind the team.

Wendell Berge, president of the innocents, will preside at the meeting, and introduce the speakers. The University band will play Cornhusker songs. Duke Gleason and a corps of Varsity cheer leaders will be on hand to lead the yells.

The great Illinois yell: "Oo-kee-wow-wow!" "Skin-nee-wow-wow!" Illinois, Illinois, Y-e-a!

will be practiced at the meeting. It is planned to give this yell as the Illinois team comes on the field, in furtherance of the spirit of "Welcome Illinois." The University band is learning the Illinois "Blue and Gold" field song, which will be practiced at the rally Friday night, and sung by the Cornhusker student body at the game on Saturday.

Coch Dawson to Speak. Coach Fred T. Dawson, pilot of the Cornhusker eleven, will give a pep talk emphasizing the need of a fighting student body behind the Nebraska team Saturday when it faces Illinois, a team super-charged with such stars as Captain Rohesek, "Red" Grange, and Britton and coached by the peerless Zupke, who will be invited to give a short talk at the rally Friday night.

The innocents are urging every student to attend the rally Friday night. They say that the Husker coaches and players are expecting a great send-off for the 1924 season at the rally.

ELECTION FILINGS CLOSE TOMORROW

Six Candidates Are Filed for Honorary Colonel and Four for Class Presidents.

Six candidates for the position of honorary colonel and four for the various class presidencies had filed their names with John K. Selleck, manager of student activities, up to last night. Filings will close at 5 o'clock Friday and the election will be held Tuesday, October 7.

The names are sealed in the presence of the candidate and they will not be opened until Sunday when they will appear in The Daily Nebraskan. This is done to prevent the formation of any political slate.

On election day the polls in the Student Council office in the basement of the Administration building will be open from 8 to 5 o'clock.

Tassels' Constitution Is Passed by Council

The Tassel constitution was passed by the Student Council Monday afternoon. The organization will now take up its activities.

The all-woman convocation exercises, to be held Wednesday at 5 o'clock at the Temple, will open with a skit by the Tassels.

A program for the winter has been planned to include a tea for all freshmen and sophomore women, October 10, at Ellen Smith Hall.

English Professor To Lecture Friday

Dr. E. C. Baley of Liverpool University, Liverpool, England, will speak on "The Photosynthetic Nature of Naturally Occurring Compounds" at an open meeting of the Nebraska section of the American Chemical Society in the Chemistry building at 7:45 Friday evening.

Dr. Baley is touring the United States speaking at the large universities.

One-half of the profits of the sale will be given to the Memorial Association for the Stadium fund. Persons who buy from the women who sell at the games are indirectly helping toward the completion of the Stadium.

Anyone who will sell at the games should notify one of the members of the W. A. A. board before Thursday evening. More girls are needed to sell.

KOSMET KLUB OFFERS PRIZE

Organization Will Produce Best Original Play Submitted.

WILL AWARD $100 TO SUCCESSFUL STUDENT

Competition for a prize of $100 offered last spring by the Kosmet Klub to the person connected with the University who writes and submits the best original play to be produced by the Klub, is now open, according to announcement by the organization.

All manuscripts must be presented to the Klub for consideration by November 15. Several persons are now working on plays. Any manuscript handed in by the final date will be considered and judged on its originality, cleverness and adaptability. The play must be one similar to previous productions. It must contain musical numbers which include choruses. Information on the plays may be obtained from the president, Arthur Latta, or any other member of the Klub.

The contest has in the past met with a good response from students. A large number of manuscripts have been submitted each year. The prize last year was awarded to Cyril Coombs for his play, "The Wishing Ring." Mr. Coombs also wrote the 1923 comedy, "The Yellow Lantern," a Chinese production. Both plays were presented at the Orpheum in Lincoln and at the Brandeis and Gayety respectively in Omaha.

Plan Year's Activities. At the first meeting of the Klub this week, plans were made not only to start work on the annual production, but to sponsor the annual Pan-Hellenic formal party and the interfraternity sings. The Kosmet Klub presents each year a silver loving cup to the fraternity winning the song-fest. The Klub also has under consideration now a play which will be produced early in December by an entire male cast. No definite arrangements have been made as yet. The regular spring show, however, will be the big Klub event of the year.

The Kosmet Klub is an organization of fifteen upperclassmen producing annually a musical play written by a Nebraska student and sponsoring other activities in the betterment and growth of the University. The members of the Klub this year are: Arthur Latta, Dietrich Dierks, Arthur Whitworth, Ralph Ireland, Robert F. Craig, William Bradley, Marion Woodward, Clayton Goar, Donald Reese, Orville Andrews, James Owens, Robert Scouler, James Marshall, Glenn Curtis and Ward Wray.

Improvements in Daily Nebraskan Office Capped by Arrival of Cat

The Daily Nebraskan has an office cat! Many notable improvements have been made at this newspaper office during the summer, but what more praise-worthy change could possibly have taken place than the acquisition of a cat?

For years, this publication has been deprived of the services of such a friendly animal. But shortly after midnight last Thursday, when the news editor was covering up the typewriters and preparing to leave—down the steps came the cat.

He is a thin, gray creature that still has the look of a lost kitten—but he has a home now. He came in and rubbed up against the editor's leg and purred affectionately. Then, he spotted the copy table.

Now the copy table is obviously the proper resting place for the cat in a well-regulated newspaper office. So this volunteer worker sprang lightly to it and took his place in the center of a pile of exchanges. The night man switched out the lights, but as he groped for the door, two friendly eyes beamed out at him.

Professor Jenks is Visitor in Lincoln

Professor Jeremiah Jenks, who delivered the Commencement address to the graduating class of 1910 of this University, spoke Wednesday noon to the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce.

Professor Jenks' lecture dealt with the economic and political conditions in Europe before the Dawes plan went into effect, and the improvements it has brought about. He advocated that the American business men and capitalists invest money in Europe and especially in Germany.

Professor Jenks served as an industrial commission on investigations of trusts and industrial combinations in this country and Europe in 1899-1901, he served on the United States Immigration Commission, 1907-1910; and acted as a member of advisory committee of the Council for National Defense at Washington in 1917. He has written more than fifty books of finance, politics and trusts.

HOLD W.S.G.A. CONVOCATION

Dean Heppner Is Principal Speaker at Meeting of Freshman Women.

ORGANIZATION HEADS ALSO MAKE SPEECHES

"Your University work is your vocation. Your activities, school and social are your avocations. Cultivate the intra-curricular life. Grades are the yardstick by which you can measure your work," said Miss Amanda Heppner, dean of women, to the freshmen, in welcoming them at the convocation held at 5 o'clock yesterday at the Temple theater by the Women Self-Government Association. Besides Miss Heppner, the presidents of various women's organizations on the campus spoke.

The W. S. G. A. orchestra furnished the music before the opening of the meeting. At exactly five, twenty girls, dressed in red sweaters and white skirts, put on a stunt, introducing the Tassels, an organization of Sophomore women, which was followed by the giving of a few Nebraskan yells.

Barbara Wiggenhorn, Ashland, president of the Women's Self-Government Association, introduced the board members and gave the girls a short talk on University life, including the traditions and women's organizations on the campus. She read "A Nebraska Girl's Creed" and "An 'I' for a Nebraska Girl," copies of which were handed each girl as she entered the Temple theater.

Ruth Carpenter, Lincoln, chairman of the Cornhusker luncheon, explained this tradition to the new girls, and informed them that it was to take place, October 18.

Eleanor Flatemersch, Milford, was the third speaker. She described the point system and the various sports of the Women's Athletic Association. Agnes Kessler, Beatrice, spoke on the Y. W. C. A. and its objectives for the coming year.

Mable Lundy, Bethany, told the girls about the Big Sister movement. Mary Towle, Lincoln, talked on Valkyrie, and Kathryn Warner, Dakota City, gave the history of the Black Masque chapter of Mortar Board, and gave mention to other women's organizations, such as Theta Sigma Phi, Kindergarten club, Pi Lambda Theta, Omicron Nu, Girls' Commercial Club, and the class honorary societies.

Dean Heppner was the last speaker on the program. She welcomed the freshmen to the University, and told them of numerous ways to get acquainted and make friends on the campus. She then told the new girls what the University expected of them, closing her talk with the advice that each girl develop mentally, morally, physically and spiritually, thus getting the most benefit from the four years of college life.

LIMIT TIME FOR APPLICATIONS

Will Begin to Select Cornhusker Staff After October 3.

All applications for positions on the 1925 Cornhusker should be in the hands of the editor by Friday night, October 3. Applications will be accepted after this date, but those applying will be at a disadvantage because some of the appointments will already have been made. Applications made before Friday will have as good a chance as any, since none of them have been considered as yet.

Announce Official Results of Tourney

Omaha Central with 32 points in Group 3, Gothenburg with 29 points in Group 2, and Colway with 27 points in Group 1, were declared winners of the 1924 track and field championships held in the Stadium last spring, according to the official summary issued by the athletic office, published in the University Extension News. The announcement also contains a list of the gold-medal-event champions and the point scores of the different groups.

Dean Sealock Back From Speaking Trip

Dean W. E. Sealock of the Teachers College returned Wednesday from a week-end trip in Iowa where he was the principal speaker at several institutes. His return was delayed by the fact that he encountered poor train service.

Dean Sealock spoke at Osceola on Thursday and Friday, at Waverly on Monday, and at Allison on Tuesday.

One hundred and fifty large pictures of Ed Weir, captain of the 1924 football team have been sent to prominent alumni in 150 towns; of the state. They will be displayed with a football schedule printed beneath.

Girl Reserve Training Course to be Offered

The girl reserve training course for University women interested in taking charge of Junior Y. W. C. A. work in grade schools, will begin Wednesday evening, October 15 at the city Y. W. C. A.

This course, which under Miss Grace Stuff, will last four weeks, with meetings once a week. The Y. W. C. A. desires to have twelve girls enter, for they have twelve grade school clubs in the Lincoln schools. Freshmen who have not had teaching experience are ineligible.

Beginning the first week of November, Miss Stuff will give a course for upperclassmen in training girls to take charge of the girl reserve work in high schools. There has been great demand of late for teachers in high schools to have had preparation in this line of work, and this class is being organized to meet it.

START SIGMA TAU CONCLAVE

Delegates and Officers of Engineer's Fraternity Arrive for Event.

WILL HOLD OPENING SESSION IN TEMPLE

The first of the delegates to the Sigma Tau fifth biennial conclave arrived in Lincoln Wednesday noon for the three-day session Thursday, Friday and Saturday. By 10 o'clock Thursday all delegates and national officers of the engineer's fraternity will have arrived and the first session will open in Faculty Hall in the Temple at Twelfth and R Streets.

Alpha chapter, University of Nebraska, is in charge of the entertainment and arrangements. After the registration and opening business session Thursday morning the committees of the national organization will meet in the afternoon to outline the work of the three days.

Plan Smoker. A smoker is planned for Thursday evening. A candidate of Alpha chapter will be initiated at that time by the Nebraska undergraduate members.

A business meeting will open the day Friday. In the afternoon, Don Young, a Nebraska alumnus, will conduct an inspection to points of engineering interest in Lincoln and nearby territory. A business meeting will be held Friday evening.

Will Attend Game. The Illinois-Nebraska football game is the big card for Saturday. The delegates will attend in a body. A meeting in the morning will finish the business of the convention, and the banquet will be held in the evening.

This year is the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the fraternity at the University of Nebraska in February, 1904. On this account, special significance is attached to a meeting by all the chapters and a check up of growth and future policies will be made. Chapters are now scattered from Oregon to Florida.

Membership of the organization is among the upperclassmen in the colleges of engineering. Elections are made upon a basis of practicability, sociability and scholarship.

Successors of Luis, Famous Boa Constrictor, Make Debut

Hero-worshippers of the campus will welcome the arrival of Rattle and Battl, recently of Wyoming, who are here to take the place of the much-mourned Luis. The two newcomers so far have exhibited only two good snorers in general. Battl has about five Wyoming summers to his credit, but Rattle is just launching on his first year.

Contrary to general opinion, a rattler's age cannot be told by counting the rattles on his tail. Some rattlers shed their skin and rattles twice a year, others only once, depending on the climatic conditions. Certain it is that Rattle can compete with the old-times when it comes to displaying his temper and he resembles a cross between a pre-war Ford and a barnyard gasoline engine.

While Rattle is the official spokesman for the pair, Battl carries off the pugilistic honors. Visitors in the laboratory are greeted with a scathing torrent of staccato charges, and a lightning thrust of Battl's fangs which, fortunately, cannot get beyond the wire of the cage. However, members of the department invite visitors to the laboratory and guarantee a rattling good time.

RECEIVE FORTY APPLICATIONS

May Still Apply for Positions on Cornhusker Business Staff.

Forty applications have been turned in to Robert Lang, business manager of the 1925 Cornhusker, for positions on the business staff. The positions to be filled are: circulation manager and assistant, foreign advertising manager and assistant, typists and advertising salesman.

There are also an abundance of other positions to be filled as there is more work than ever before. The staff will be picked within a few weeks and work will begin as soon thereafter as possible. Application for these positions may be made before Monday noon at the office of the Cornhusker in the basement of University Hall.

SALE OF STUDENT TICKETS DWINDLES

Booth Will Be Closed Today and Sales Committees Are Cancelled.

Student ticket sales have dropped off considerably and as practically the whole section, with the exception of about 300 tickets, has been sold, it will not be necessary to keep open the booth previously used. The booth will be closed at noon today. All committees for the rest of the week have also been cancelled.

Any student wishing to get a student ticket after Thursday noon may buy it at the student activities office.

Plenty of good seats are left for the Illinois game. The student tickets left are as a rule better seats than those remaining for the general public, for the student section is located in the best part of the Stadium. Reservations are coming in from high schools over the state at the rate of five or six a day. The high school students, on proper certification as to their standing, are being admitted at half rates.

Other sales are becoming more brisk. Sales in the general sections of the Stadium have been good. However, there will be plenty of seats left for sale on the day of the game, according to John K. Selleck, business agent for athletics.

ELECT PAN-HEL BOARD MEMBERS

Four Students Chosen to Fill Vacancies and Two Are Elected Officers.

New student members of the Pan-Hellenic Board, to take the place of those who did not return to school this fall, were elected at a meeting of the board held yesterday afternoon. Several recommendations regarding changes in rushing methods were also offered but no action was taken.

The new members of the Board are: Pauline Gellately, '26, Indianapolis, Indiana; Mildred Wilkenson, '26, Lincoln; Helen Tomson, '27, Lincoln, student chairman, and Eleanor Pickard, '27, Omaha, student secretary and treasurer.

A report on the methods used by sororities in rushing was made by Helen Tomson, chairman of a committee of investigation. The matter of standards and ideals was also discussed.

The faculty members of the Board are: Amanda Heppner, Florence McGabe, Louise Pound, Marguerite McPhee, Madeline Girard, and Lulu Runge.

Sandwiches, coffee, cheers, music, and peppy speeches combined to make the Freshman barbecue held on the drill field last night one of the most successful since the tradition was started some years ago by the Iron Sphinx, sophomore men's society.

Wendell Berge, '25, president of the innocents, senior honorary society, and "Bill" Day, former captain and center on the Nebraska football team and a member of the coaching staff here, addressed the freshmen to organize and gave them pointers on school life.

BARBECUE IS BIG SUCCESS

Wendell Berge and Coach Day Give Pointers to Freshmen at Annual Event.

AFFAIR IS SPONSORED BY THE IRON SPHINX

Sandwiches, coffee, cheers, music, and peppy speeches combined to make the Freshman barbecue held on the drill field last night one of the most successful since the tradition was started some years ago by the Iron Sphinx, sophomore men's society.

Wendell Berge, '25, president of the innocents, senior honorary society, and "Bill" Day, former captain and center on the Nebraska football team and a member of the coaching staff here, addressed the freshmen to organize and gave them pointers on school life.

In introducing the speakers, Francis Jones, '27, president of the Iron Sphinx, admonished the freshmen that they would have to fight hard this year because the sophomores were out to win.

Berge, however, encouraged the freshmen, stating that they could always win if they organized properly. He explained that it was not easy to develop good spirit when so many men from all parts of the state were brought together suddenly.

"It is just such things as this barbecue, the Olympics, and the wearing of green caps that organize your class," he declared.

Berge also urged the freshmen to back the football team. "Nebraska never conquers a game until the game is over," he said. He also emphasized the matter of treating the Illinois team with the utmost of courtesy.

"We're going to treat Illinois nice, but we're going to treat them rough and it's going to be the same with the sophomores in the Olympics," shouted "Bill" Day in opening his talk to the first year men.

The famous Nebraska center urged the freshmen to wear their green caps, declaring that it was one of the best ways to get acquainted with the other men in his class. "And the man who gets out and gets to know his fellow men is the one who succeeds," he said.

Day also gave the yearlings a little advice about studying. He told them to remember that they were there primarily to study and that as long as they gave their classes the attention they should have there would be no trouble.

"When the time for the Olympics comes, play hard and play clean," Day advised. "The harder you fight a man the better he likes you." I never played against an opponent that I was not glad to meet and glad to play against."

Over three hundred freshmen were on hand when the funfest began. They were served with hot sandwiches, apples, doughnuts, and coffee. All fraternities had closed their tables to freshmen.

Donald Woerner, newly appointed freshman cheerleader led the cheering. An orchestra afforded entertainment during the meal.

MORE GREEN CAPS PLACED ON SALE

Freshman Cap Rule Will Be Rigidly Enforced After October 6.

Farquhar's will have another supply of green caps in today, and all Freshmen who have not acquired them already will be expected to get them immediately. The dead line has been set at October 6, and after that the cap rule will be enforced rigidly.

Seven hundred and twenty caps have been sold already, and a shipment of one gross will be received today. More will be received each day, until the demand is supplied. Every day since the first order ran out, nearly one hundred Freshmen have been in the store inquiring as to when the new order would be received. The sale this year has been heavy, and will probably surpass other years.

The Iron Sphinx, Sophomore men's organization, is in charge of the sale, and will also enforce the rule very strictly. Members of the organization are selling tickets which entitle the bearer to a cap, but they may also be purchased directly from Farquhar's.

Freshmen should remember that the caps are not worn as hazing, but to promote class spirit, and so members of the class may identify themselves.

Dean William Sealock of Teachers College was principal speaker at teachers institutes in several Iowa towns a last week. He spoke at Waverly, Osceola, and Allison.
