PRICE 5 CENTS

FOOTBALL RALLY STAGED TONIGHT

Innocents Make Preparations for First Big "Pep" Meeting of the Year.

NEBRASKA GRID SQUAD WILL BE INTRODUCED

Thousands of Cornhuskers will gather tonight at 7 o'clock for the Illinois game rally. Preparations have been made for the greatest crowd that has ever attended a Scarlet and Cream "pep" meeting. The Innocents, who are in charge of the program, have completed arrangements for the rally.

Every Scarlet and Cream booster is expected to be on hand when Captain Ed Weir of the "Fighting Cornhuskers" introduces to the Nebraska student body the members of the Nebraska moleskin squad.

The University band, sixty pieces strong, will play Nebraska songs. Duke Gleason and his assistants will lead the cheering. The Illinois "Oske-wow-wow" yell will be practiced. The "Cornhusker" and the chant will be sung.

Wendell Berge, presiding, will introduce the speakers. Head football coach Fred Dawson and "Indian" Schulte will give short talks on Nebraska spirit. The Armory will be decorated in the Scarlet and Cream. Coach Zuppke will be invited to speak.

Captain Ed Weir, in speaking of the rally, said, "Every loyal Cornhusker must be present at the rally Friday night if Nebraska's football team is to be successful this season. We are going up against one of America's greatest football teams Saturday. When the opening whistle blows tomorrow, the Huskers will face almost exactly the same eleven great grid warriors before which the "Big Ten" teams all bowed in defeat last year. Fighting against such odds, Nebraska's eleven must have a fighting student body behind them. A great demonstration of Cornhusker spirit is what the team must have Friday night if they are going to win on Saturday."

Head Coach Dawson declares, "Nebraska's football team will fight against Illinois tomorrow. The boys have been grinding and plugging in preparation to stop the great "Red" Grange and the Illinois machine, and they will do their part. The Cornhusker student body must do their part at the rally tonight and in the stands tomorrow. If Nebraska will fight behind their team, let them display their spirit to the players and coaches at the rally tonight."

FRESHMAN WOMEN GET BIG SISTERS

All First-year Girls Should Have Advisors by End of This Week.

Every freshman woman who is not affiliated with a sorority, should have her Big Sister by the end of this week. Most of the out-of-town freshmen have already met their Big Sisters, but the Lincoln freshmen will hear from theirs this week.

Big Sister groups have been meeting this week at Ellen Smith Hall. At these meetings plans are made to give the Little Sisters a good time and to better acquaint them with the customs and activities of the campus.

Calling Sunday is scheduled for this coming Sunday. At this time the Big Sisters will call on their Little Sisters to become better acquainted. Little Sisters whose addresses are hard to find and those who have changed addresses should leave them at Ellen Smith Hall, by Friday evening.

An All-Sister party is to be given at the Armory from 5 to 8 o'clock Thursday, October 9. Games, music and a general good time are planned by the board.

All freshman girls who have not heard from their Big Sisters and received tickets should give their names, and get tickets (fifty cents) from Miss Cook at Ellen Smith Hall before Monday.

University Republican Club Is Now Organized

Preliminary organization of the University Republican Club was completed at a meeting held Wednesday evening in Social Science 107. Robert Craig, president, announced that several nationally prominent speakers are being secured to address the club. Campaign literature and badges were distributed to those present.

Coach Bob Zuppke Leaves Urbana With Thirty-two Grid Warriors

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 2.—Coach Bob Zuppke and thirty-two members of the Illini squad left this afternoon for Lincoln where they will meet Nebraska in the opening game of the season Saturday.

Despite injuries that have kept the squad disorganized, the team is in first class shape and all but two of the first-string men will be able to play. Dan Kinzy, world's champion hurdler, who fractured his ankle in practice, Wallie McIlwain and Burt Dancy are the men who will be on the side lines.

Captain Frank Rokusek will lead the following team into battle: Chuck Kassel, end; Dick Hall and Crawford, tackles; Miller and Shively, guards; Roberts, center. The backfield will start with Ray Gallivan at quarter; Red Grange, left half; Leonard, right half; and Earl Britton, fullback.

Four men who did not face the Cornhuskers last year will start Saturday. They are Kassel, Shively, Leonard and Gallivan. Kassel has replaced Muhl at end; Shively is being used in preference to Brown, a regular last year; Leonard is being used in McIlwain's halfback position; and Gallivan has replaced Har-vey Hall at quarter. Muhl, Brown, and Hall will be in their old places at the least sign of a slip from the new quartet.

Officers Are Elected in Freshman Law Meeting

At a Freshman Law Class meeting held in the Law College Thursday morning, the following officers were elected: President, Charles F. Adams; vice-president, Donald Elliot; treasurer, Ernest Raun; cheerleader, William Bradley.

They have reserved a section for the Nebraska-Illinois game to further school spirit.

FIRST MEETING HELD BY W.A.A.

Dorothy Supple, President of Organization, Sends Telegram of Best Wishes.

The Women's Athletic Association held its first general meeting of the year Wednesday evening in the Social Science Auditorium. Eleanor Flatemersch, vice-president of the organization, presided over the meeting. A telegram of best wishes for the success of the association from Dorothy Supple, W. A. A. president, was read.

Plans were made for the picnic which is to be given for freshmen and all new girls in the University at Auto-Club park on Saturday, October 11. Kathro Kidwell and Hazel Safford were appointed to see about the transportation. Rosalie Platner is in charge.

It was voted that the organization buy a desk in which all of the files and material might be kept. The new schedule for hockey was officially approved. A movement was passed that the sport leader, with the approval of the board, appoint a class leader whose duties it would be to take roll at practice and work with the leader.

MANY APPLYING FOR AWGWAN

Staff Members to be Picked After First Issue.

Applications for staff positions on the Awgwan, humorous publication sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, are being received at the student publications office in the basement of University Hall. There are many positions on both the editorial and business staffs which have not yet been filled. Staff members will not be chosen until after the first issue, October 15.

Applicants will be judged by the quantity and quality of work done before that time, according to Paul C. Richardson, '26, Lincoln. They should be turned in to Clayton B. Snow, '26, Chadron, business manager.

Small Painted Turtle Is Now in Bessey Hall

The latest arrival at the laboratory museum in Bessey Hall is a small turtle, commonly called the painted turtle. The little hard-shell is scarcely over three inches in diameter, and is about one year old. It was found along Pumpkin Creek in the western part of Nebraska and sent to Charles Scott, Scottsbluff, '28, who turned it over to the museum in the Bessey Hall laboratory.

Most striking of its characteristics are the colorings on its shell and body. The shell is a dark green with yellow markings. The body itself, the head, and legs are a dark color with distinct yellow stripes, while the lower shell is a bright orange with black and white marks distributed through the center. According to Scott, the turtle when full grown will be about six inches in diameter, and will retain its present coloring. It feeds on vegetable matter and fish eggs.

CONVENTION IS NOW UNDER WAY

Sigma Tau Convention Delegates Hear Talk by Dean Ferguson.

TO VISIT POINTS OF INTEREST SATURDAY

Dean O. J. Ferguson of the College of Engineering addressed the Thursday evening meeting of the national convention of Sigma Tau, and welcomed the delegates to Nebraska. W. J. Wohlberg, national president responded, and was followed by L. W. Chase of Lincoln, one of the founders of the fraternity.

Friday's program includes business sessions in the morning and evening and an inspection of points of engineering interest in Lincoln.

National councilors will be elected Saturday morning and in the afternoon the delegates will attend the Illinois-Nebraska football game. The convention closes with the banquet Saturday evening.

W. K. Hackman, '26, winner of the Sigma Tau freshman medal last spring, was initiated by the Nebraska members at the Thursday evening gathering.

Committee meetings featured the afternoon session of the first day of the Twentieth Anniversary Conclave of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, held in Faculty Hall, Temple, Thursday.

Registration was the business of the morning followed by a short business session at which officers read their reports and made recommendations for next year. A smoker was held in the evening, at which the undergraduate members of Alpha chapter of the University of Nebraska, initiated a pledge.

The committees met in the afternoon. They will make recommendations to the convention this morning.

W. J. Wohlberg, with the Mason Laboratory of the Sheffield Scientific School, New Haven, Connecticut, national president of Sigma Tau; Stanley A. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the North Dakota Agricultural College; and Prof. J. D. Walter, of the Kansas Agricultural College, visited the convention Thursday.

The following delegates were present: James Marshall, Alpha, University of Nebraska.

T. C. McBride, Jr., Gamma, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

T. V. Mueller, Epsilon, Kansas State University, Manhattan.

George W. Hellerich, Zeta, Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis.

W. F. Hahn, Eta, Washington State College, Pullman.

Wm. F. Roeser, Xi, George Washington University, Washington, D. C.

Ray Espe, Pi, University of North Dakota, Grand Forks.

D. Roy Shoultz, Rho, University of Idaho, Moscow.

Wayne W. Smith, Sigma, Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanic Arts College.

Gordon Murray, Tau, South Dakota School of Mines.

L. W. Davis, Upsilon, University of Florida.

ANOTHER ORCHESTRA PLANNED

Professor Thomas Will Direct New Organization.

Another University orchestra is being organized under the direction of Prof. D. P. Thomas to serve as preparation for the University Symphony Orchestra.

Players of orchestral instruments who have had little or no experience may now get training to qualify them for positions in the Symphony. One hour credit is given for each semester in the orchestra. Any student is eligible for membership. Rehearsals are at 5 o'clock Monday and Friday.

"There has long been need of an orchestra preparatory to the Symphony directed by Prof. W. T. Quick," said Professor Thomas. "Often experienced players cannot be admitted to the regular orchestra, for its membership is limited. Now such players will be put in the preparatory orchestra until they are needed."

"Another purpose is to give music supervisors the opportunity of having actual experience in playing, conducting, and arranging. Before candidates are given supervisors' certificates, which enable them to go out and take charge of the music of a system, they will be required to have an understanding of the orchestra from the inside."

Y.M.C.A. CONVENTION STARTED

Annual State Meeting Opened Last Night.

Problems and possibilities of Y. M. C. A. work were discussed at the opening session of the Thirty-eighth Annual State Y. M. C. A. Convention which was held last evening in the "Red Room" of the City Y. M. C. A. The University "Y" is represented in the convention by five delegates.

Dr. F. F. Travis, pastor of the Grace M. E. church in Lincoln, told how the Y. M. C. A. can help boys and young men face the issues of the present day. An interesting account of Hi-Y work in a small town was given by Eldred Larson of Oakland, Nebraska.

J. Dean Ringer, Omaha attorney and former student in the University of Nebraska, emphasized the need of training young men so that they would go through life with the right ideals. The session this morning will be taken up with addresses by L. C. Oberlies, who will speak on "Training Nebraska Boys for World Leadership," and E. D. Verink, whose subject is "Our Work in China." The afternoon will be devoted to a business session.

Those representing the University Y. M. C. A. are: Arthur Jorgensen, general secretary; Alex McKie, president; Royce West, Judd Crocker, and Julius Frandsen, Jr.

CANDIDATES' NAMES COMING IN SLOWLY

Only Few Hours Left in Which Office-seekers May File; Ten in So Far.

Only a few hours remain in which to file names of candidates for any of the class offices and for honorary colonel. Filings will close at 5 o'clock today and as yet no names have been filed for two offices. The filings are: eight for honorary colonel, one for freshman president, and one for sophomore president.

According to Emmet V. Maun, '26, Laurel, president of the Student Council, two freshmen have filed for the office of vice-president. There are no names accepted for this office, so if those persons wish to remain as candidates they must file again for president.

The election will be held October 7. Balloting will continue all day Tuesday at both the city campus and the College of Agriculture. At the city campus students may vote in the Student Council room in the basement of the Administration building. At the Agricultural campus ballots may be cast in the office of Dean Edgar Burnett, of the College of Agriculture. The polls will be open from 8 until 5 o'clock.

Names of candidates are sealed in the presence of the applicant and will not be opened until Sunday when they will appear in The Daily Nebraskan. The rules governing candidates are as follows:

"Any student with less than twenty-four hours credit shall be considered a freshman. Those with from twenty-four to fifty-three hours shall be considered sophomores. Students with from fifty-three to eighty-eight credit hours shall be termed juniors and those with more than eighty-nine if they are candidates for graduation, will be seniors. No student in a course covering less than four regular University years may hold office beyond the right conferred to any student with an equal number of semester hours."

"It seems that the offices of senior and junior presidents are 'going begging,' as no filings have been received. Students may file their names until 5 o'clock today at the Student Activities office in the Armory," said Mr. Maun.

The results of the election will not be known until Tuesday evening. They will be published in The Daily Nebraskan the following day.

ERICKSON CONSIDERING ACTS

Contracts From New York and Chicago Houses Received.

Several contracts with New York and Chicago theatrical houses are under consideration according to A. L. Erickson, business manager of the University Players. A few of the acts under consideration are the Coffey-Miller Players of Chicago, who have given performances here for the last two years, and the Marionette Players of New York. Also there will probably be a return engagement of Henry Lawrence Southwick of the Emerson School of Oratory, who gave a recital of Shakespeare's "Othello" at the University last year.

Prof. Alice H. Howell, is now at the home of her sister in Laramie, Wyoming. She is rapidly recovering from her injuries and is expected to return to Lincoln about November 1.

NEBRASKA AND ILLINOIS WILL CLASH TOMORROW

Spirit Reaching High Pitch With First Game of Season Only One Day Off; Expect 30,000 to Assemble in Nebraska's Memorial Stadium.

CLEAR DAY PREDICTED; FIELD IN GOOD CONDITION

Before what is expected to be one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the Memorial Stadium, the football eleven of Nebraska and Illinois will clash Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the first game of the season. Reports of advance sales by John K. Selleck, business agent for student activities, indicate that the attendance will reach 30,000. The best of conditions for the contest on the new sod field are anticipated by the Husker coaches.

The Illini are in good condition and confident of victory, though Zuppke is holding up the nemesis of over-confidence to his squad, newspaper reports from Urbana indicate. Injuries have taken their toll of the Husker gridsters. Locke and Mielenz, both halfbacks, will probably be on the sidelines when the whistle blows, but may get into the game.

Football was king at the University Thursday. Little else was thought or spoken. Between classes impromptu rallies were held in front of Social Science building. The band played; the students cheered and clapped—then everyone hurried away to make classes. The rallies were limited to five minutes.

Students will sing for five minutes at the beginning of all classes Friday to help generate spirit for the game.

Red armbands, with the words in white letters, "Welcome Illinois" are seen everywhere on the campus and merchants have painted their show windows with the same slogan. The Illinois song, "The Blue and Gold," will be sung by the students at the game, mingling with the strains of "The Cornhusker." The special rooters' section of three hundred will be called upon to give the "Oske-wow-wow" Illinois yell.

The new Stadium field, sodded last year, is now in perfect condition. The green turf is soft and offers considerable protection from injuries. This will be the first real game on the field.

The Illini team pulled away from Urbana Thursday and will arrive in Lincoln today. Probably the Illini will workout in Lincoln, the practice being limited to a few limbering-up exercises.

The Cornhusker squad looked much better Thursday evening than before. More zip is being shown in executing plays. The team will probably weigh a little less than the team of last year. Joe Weir, guard, will bring down the average considerably, in case he gets into the game in place of Ogden. The backfield will undoubtedly be lighter and the line about the same.

Rhodes, who played end last year, will probably be switched to fullback on offense. He will resume his regular end on defense. Rhodes has shown marked ability at line-plunging. Myers, who was formerly at fullback, will take end on offense and fullback on defense. Bloodgood, Mandery and Dailey will probably make up the rest of the backfield, unless Mielenz or Locke is able to play. Dailey may then be held on the sidelines. Kamm, quarterback, is contesting with Bloodgood for his position and may start the game.

Robtson and Roy Mandery have been alternating at left end, with Robertson, a veteran, having the edge. Captain Weir and Molzen have the call for the tackle positions and Hutchinson seems assured of center. Hubka should play one guard with Ogden or Joe Weir at the other. Wostolp is also a possibility. The somewhat indefinite lineup is the result of the injuries reported and the trying out of new men as the result of the poor showing of the Varsity against the freshmen.

Walter Eckersall, all-time all-American quarterback, and one of the greatest football experts in the country, will referee the game. The roster of officials follows: Referee—Walter Eckersall, Chicago. Umpire—J. J. Schomer, Chicago. Field Judge—H. P. Hackett, West Point. Head Lineman—J. C. Whyte, Cornell.

The forecast of the weather bureau indicates that the weather will be fair for the game. The day may be partly cloudy but there is little possibility of rain.

KNOTHOLE CLUB TO SEE GAME

Five Thousand Boys and Girls to Be Guests of University.

A rooting squad of five thousand boys and girls between the ages of ten and fifteen years, inclusive, is expected to mingle its cheers with the throngs which swarm the Nebraska Memorial Stadium for the home game this season.

The youngsters, members of the Knothole club, will be guests of the University of Nebraska athletic department. An application blank signed by parent and school teacher may be exchanged for a season ticket admitting the boy or girl to every home game played in the Stadium.

The Knothole club will make its first appearance Saturday, October 4, when Nebraska meets Illinois. Boy Scouts will patrol the boys' section while representatives of the Y. W. C. A. will have charge of the girls.

Song and Yell Rallies Held Yesterday

Song and yell rallies were held on the campus east of the Armory between classes Thursday. Students passing to classes joined in singing Nebraska songs. Selections were played by the University band.

Students will be allowed to sing for five minutes in classes Friday morning, according to orders issued by Carl C. Engberg, Executive Dean. Rallies will be held at 3:30, 10:50 and 11:50 o'clock east of the Armory again today. This will not interfere with classes as the rallies will be short.

ENTIRE STADIUM MAY BE SOLD OUT

Ticket Sales for First Game Indicate Crowd That May Fill Stands.

Ticket sales for the Illinois game have become much brisker in the last few days and if there is a heavy sale at the Stadium on the day of the game the entire Stadium may be sold out.

Reports from Latch Brothers, where tickets are being sold down town, indicate that the sales there are heavy, John K. Selleck, business agent for athletics, said Thursday.

About 200 tickets were sold at the Student Activities office Thursday. Sales of student tickets are continuing, although most of the students who intend to buy tickets have already done so. The student section is now almost sold out. One section remains.

In case the Illinois game provides a sell-out, it will prove to be an attraction that ranks with the Notre Dame game. Only Notre Dame, heretofore, has drawn such huge crowds.

NEW PUBLICATION IS ISSUED

Cornhusker News Service Makes First Appearance.

The first issue of the Cornhusker News Service was published by the Athletic Department of the University this latter part of the week. It contained a brief summary of football practice and the attempts of Coach Dawson to get a winning combination from the four regulars of last year and a string of substitutes and sophomores. Locke, is unable to start, and Mielenz will probably take his place at left half. Lively contests are being staged for various line positions.

The bulletin also contained an account of five thousand youngsters between the ages of ten and fifteen, who will be admitted free to all games as guests of the Athletic Department.

Freshmen Must Wear Green Caps by Monday

Freshmen may now purchase green caps at Farquhar's Clothing store. A new supply of 400 was received by the store late yesterday, and are on sale for seventy-five cents each. All first-year men are expected to wear the caps, and the deadline set for purchasing them is October 6. Iron Sphinx, sophomore organization, is enforcing the wearing of the caps.
