SQUAD LEAVES FOR OKLAHOMA

Twenty-five Nebraska Grid Warriors Board Train at 1:45 This Afternoon.

TRIP WILL BE MADE DIRECTLY TO NORMAN

Twenty-five Nebraska football men will leave for Norman, Okla., at 1:45 today to clash Saturday with the Oklahoma Sooners. No stop-overs will be made; the team will go directly to Norman.

The squad, with the exception of Locke and Mielens, halfbacks, is in good shape. Collins, end, and Molzen, tackle, who have been on the injured list, were back in the lineup at the last practice Wednesday evening.

The Sooners, who went down to defeat, 2 to 0, before the Oklahoma State Teachers last Saturday, will be back ready to try and erase this blot on their record by beating the Cornhuskers. The unexpected result of last Saturday's game has been attributed largely to over-confidence.

Reports from the Oklahoma school state that the team is the heaviest in several years and that the backfield and line of last year is practically the same. This being true, there is no doubt that Oklahoma has a strong team, regardless of the result of last Saturday's little affair.

Captain Bristow, Hendricks, and Lamb, letter men, will be back and Ledford, 180-pound halfback who starred two years ago in Oklahoma high school circles, will fill the fourth position behind the line.

Price and Mathias, ends, are both veterans. Smoot, who made all-Valley tackle in 1920, has returned to school and is playing tackle, with Pennick, two-year letter man, at the other tackle. Schaefer, guard, is a letter man, while the other guard, Wallace, who weighs 190 pounds, is showing great ability. White, center, is a two-year letter man.

The following Nebraska men will make the trip:

- Captain Ed Weir, tackle.
- Crites, fullback.
- Bloodgood, quarterback.
- Gray, tackle.
- R. Mandery, end.
- Ristine, fullback.
- Hubka, guard.
- Grow, center.
- Molzen, tackle.
- Myers, fullback.
- Gross, guard.
- Pospisil, guard.
- Wostoupal, center.
- Robertson, end.
- Bronson, quarterback.
- Kamm, quarterback.
- Smith, halfback.
- Dailey, halfback.
- Ford, end.
- Joe Weir, guard.
- Scholz, guard.
- Ogden, guard.
- A. Mandery, halfback.
- Rhodes, halfback.
- Collins, end.
- Coach Dawson and Assistant Coaches Day and Frank will accompany the team. Dr. Harry Everett, physician, and Mrs. Everett will also go. Other members of the party will be H. D. Gish, of the athletic office, Ed Stemen, football manager, and "Doc" McLean, trainer.

CHANGE FOOTBALL RULES IN BIG TEN

Conference Officials Meet in Chicago and Make Important Alterations.

In a meeting held in Chicago with Major John Griffith, athletic commissioner for the Big Ten conference, several changes were made in the interpretations of football rules. Leading officials of the western conference were also present.

No more protection than at any other time shall be given a passer, according to the new rule on roughing a passer.

Another decision states that a heel hole may be made in the ground to rest the ball preliminary to the kick-off. This applies to the much discussed ruling out of the tee which formerly held the pizskin.

Other decisions: All four officials are held responsible for a mistake in the interpretation of the rules. The management of the home team must provide a pistol and holster which the field judge is required to carry to be fired at the end of quarters, as well as at the end of halves.

To the rule—"Any player may recover a kicked ball which has not crossed the line of scrimmage," the following amendment was added: "Or touched by an offensive man."

A forward pass is held completed when it is momentarily held secure in the field of play. When the ball is fumbled on a try for goal, the defense may not score. A player holding the ball for a place-kick will not be considered officia. The referee is to keep the record of the two-minute periods of time called out by captains.

Burglar Makes Haul at Phi Omega Pi House but Foiled by Delta Gamma's

The sorority burglar has made his debut in Lincoln. He made his first appearance during the wee hours of Tuesday morning at the Delta Gamma house, 1510 K Street. According to members of the sorority the thief misjudged the time at which he would find the house dark and quiet and stumbled in at an inopportune time. One of the young women happened to go to the lower floor and he was frightened away. One of the pledges went to the lower floor about 1 o'clock to turn off the heater. As she was on her way she bumped into the supposed burglar. Both seemed equally frightened, and the man succeeded in escaping before the whole house was alarmed.

The description of the man is not unusual. He seemed to be a young man and wore a "big, good-looking overcoat."

He apparently revised his tactics Tuesday night. Members of the Phi Omega Pi sorority, 1325 R Street, awoke Wednesday morning to find the house stripped of all its valuables. Between the hours of 1:30 and 6:30, members say, the following articles disappeared:

Practically all the vanity cases in the house, two diamond rings, value not known, six miscellaneous rings, one wrist watch, two season football tickets, two parasols, and fifty dollars in cash. The silverware was not disturbed.

All the members except four were sleeping on the sleeping porch, which explains why the thief made his entrance and exit without being noticed. The rooms of those sleeping inside were not approached.

Camp Fire Guardian's Course Will Be Given

About twelve applicants have given their names to Miss Appleby for the Camp Fire Guardian's Course. A lecture will be given Monday evening at 4 o'clock in Social Science 107. This course covers all phases of camp fire work and those completing the course in a satisfactory manner will receive a Guardian's Certificate from National Headquarters.

University Players Tickets Selling Well

A large number of tickets have been sold in the University Players ticket campaign. At a meeting of the committee on ticket sales it was reported that seats for the Saturday afternoon matinee were practically sold out and that the sales for the evening performances were equally good. Thursday is the last day of this campaign. Mr. A. L. Erickson, business manager of the Dramatic Players, predicts a very successful year for this organization.

IRON SPHINX PLAN CAP ENFORCEMENT

Nine New Men Initiated to Sophomore Organization; Olympic Plans Made.

At a meeting of Iron Sphinx, sophomore men's organization, at the Farm House Tuesday evening, plans were completed for the enforcement of the green-cap tradition among freshmen. A vigilance committee composed of Schroyer, Reiff, Ross, Walters and Hook was appointed to handle the enforcement. Any freshmen who are not wearing caps will be reported to the committee for investigation. All first-year men must wear the green headgear. A shipment has just been received at Farquhar's and freshmen can get their caps there.

The annual Olympics were discussed and a committee composed of Brainard, Gillen, Weir and Buck was appointed to find material among the sophomores to represent the class.

Nine new men were initiated to take the places of men who did not return to college: Harold Palmer, Alpha Sigma Phi; Clayton Slagel, Phi Delta Chi; Wendell Cameron, Sigma Phi Epsilon; James Cody, Nu Alpha; Bert Falk, Lambda Chi Alpha; Barney Olanosky, Zeta Beta Tau; H. Koster, Silver Lynx; R. A. Piller, Xi Psi Phi; Howard Ahmanson, non-fraternity.

A party for all active and old members of the organization will be held Saturday evening, October 11, at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

KOSMET PLAYS MUST BE IN NOVEMBER 15

Competition Open to All Students in University; Prize Is $100.

Manuscripts submitted to the Kosmet Klub in competition for the prize of $100 offered by the organization must be completed and turned in by November 15. No plays will be considered after that date.

Competition is open to any student in the University. The play must be a musical production, containing a variety of musical numbers. It must be original. The offerings will be judged on their originality, cleverness, and adaptability.

The 1924 play, "The Wishing Ring," written by Cyril Coombs, was a three-act comedy containing twenty song numbers. A cast of twenty principal parts and choruses of forty were required. The play was presented in Lincoln at the Orpheum and at the Gayety in Omaha. It was pronounced the most successful Kosmet production ever staged.

Information concerning the contest may be secured from Arthur Latta, president, or any other member of the organization.

SEND-OFF PLANNED FOR TEAM

Students Will Parade to Station to See Squad Leave.

The University of Nebraska band and all of the students who are able to go are expected to accompany the Cornhusker football team to the train this afternoon. The team leaves for its game with Oklahoma Saturday.

It has been urged that students who have no 1 o'clock classes meet at the Temple at that time, and form in the parade that has been planned. The route of march has been set from The Temple to the Burlington station, from where the squad leaves at 1:45 p. m.

AWGWAN DRIVE STARTS MONDAY

Sororities Enter Subscription Contest for Humorous Publication.

FIRST ISSUE WILL COME OUT ABOUT NOVEMBER 15

The campaign for subscriptions to the Awgwan, humorous publication sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, will start Monday with a contest among the social sororities. Keener competition is expected this year because of the number of sororities who have already evidenced their intentions of entering, according to Clayton B. Snow, '26, Chadron, business manager. "The business staff is looking forward to a big year for the Awgwan. We aim to publish a better magazine and gain a larger circulation this year than ever before," said Mr. Snow.

The sorority campaign will last from Monday until Thursday and subscriptions will be taken at tables in University Hall, the Social Science building, the University Library, and in the booth east of University Hall. Each organization will be given an equal amount of time at the booths.

The sorority gaining the largest number of subscription will receive twenty-five copies of each issue of the Awgwan. Plans for some additional reward are now under consideration of the business staff, Mr. Snow said.

Contestants will check in money and books to Helen Simpson, '27, Casper, Wyoming, who is in charge of the contest, at the Awgwan office, University Hall 10 each day between 4 and 6 o'clock. Books will be checked and returned before the next day and standings will be published in The Daily Nebraskan.

Another new feature is the offer to fraternities and sororities of block subscriptions. These organizations may purchase block subscriptions of thirty copies for twenty-five dollars. The regular subscription prices are one dollar a year and twenty cents a copy. Some fraternities have already taken advantage of the offer, Mr. Snow said. Contesting sororities may count their own block subscriptions, but not those of any other fraternity or sorority.

The Awgwan is published by the Nebraska chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary men's journalistic fraternity, and is the only official humorous publication of the University. It is a magazine nine by twelve inches and contains about twenty-eight pages. Work on the first issue is being completed and it will appear shortly after October 15. After that the publication date will be the fifteenth of each month.

BLUE PRINT DRIVE STARTS TOMORROW

Engineering Magazine Will Be Published Seven Times During Year.

The Nebraska Blue Print will begin its twenty-fourth year with a subscription drive tomorrow. A booth will be placed in the downstairs hall of the Mechanical Arts Building, and will be open from 8 until 4 o'clock. Copies of the magazine will be on hand for those unfamiliar with the publication.

At the same time as the drive, new members for the Nebraska Engineering Society will be solicited. Any member of the Engineering College is eligible for membership. This society has charge of the publication of the Blue Print.

The Blue Print is published seven times a year, and this year it starts out with a thirty-two-page edition. The 1400 alumni of the Engineering College will each receive a copy. A new cover design has been added.

MANAGERS NEEDED FOR TRACK WORK

Coach Schulte Calls for Applications from Sophomores Seeking Jobs.

Sophomores who wish to try out for the position of sophomore track manager candidate should fill out applications at the athletic office at once, according to Track Coach Schulte. Because of the large number of men out for fall track training, it is necessary that candidates for manager report at once.

These candidates will not be asked to put in much time this fall, at least not more than one afternoon a week. Coach Schulte declares that men who wish to try out for track managers who do not report for this fall work will not be considered in the spring, when the real track season begins.

Awgwan Staff Will Meet This Afternoon

A meeting of The Awgwan staff will be held this afternoon at 4 p. m. in the Student Publication Offices, University Hall No. 10. All literary and art contributors are expected to attend the meeting.

The first issue of The Awgwan will be on sale about the middle of the month. Work has started in both the literary and art departments.

A subscription drive for The Awgwan will be held on the campus October 14, 15 and 16, and will be conducted much the same as The Nebraskan drive. It has been planned to sell blocks of subscriptions to fraternities and sororities as is done in the newspaper campaign.

MAJORS ARE RICHARDSON, EASTBROOKS AND FOOTE

The appointment of Charles C. Caldwell, '25, Lincoln, as colonel and Emmett V. Maun, '25, Laurel, as lieutenant-colonel and executive officer of the University of Nebraska R. O. T. C. Roland Eastbrooks, '25, Lincoln, Nathaniel Foote, '26, Turnersville, Texas, and David G. Richardson, '25, Omaha, were made majors.

The names of about fifteen captains will be announced in a few days. All seniors in the military department will be appointed captains before they complete their work.

Charles C. Caldwell was a first lieutenant last year. He was elected president of the senior class in the election Tuesday. He is a member of Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade, honorary military societies. Caldwell also belongs to the University Commercial Club, was a member of the Cornhusker staff for three years, and assisted last year in the publication of the Cornhusker Kadet. He is a member of Sigma Chi.

Emmett V. Maun was also a first lieutenant and is a member of both Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade. He is president of the Student Council. Maun was active in publications, having been editor and managing editor of The Daily Nebraskan and editor of the military section of The Cornhusker last year. JUNIORS ASSIGNED TO STUDIOS AGAIN

Cornhusker Publishes More Names of Those to go to Hauck's and Townsend's.

The Cornhusker staff is assigning juniors to Hauck's and Townsend's studios to have their pictures taken for the annual. One group has been assigned and the second is appearing today. The juniors are asked to make appointments at the studio indicated, and if they find it impossible, are to make other arrangements with the studio.

A correction should be made on the price quoted several days ago for finished pictures at the Hauck and Townsend Studios. The price will depend entirely upon the type of folder and quality of finish the individual student decides to take. These prices, the Cornhusker staff is informed, will range from $2.25 per dozen up. The number of pictures the student orders and the price he pays is a matter entirely up to the student and the photographers.

The prices which should have been announced in the previous write-up covered only the expense of having a picture taken for the Cornhusker. This price is $4.00 payable in advance at the studio. $1.25 of this goes to the photographer and $2.75 to the Cornhusker to cover engraving costs.
