POLITICAL CLUBS. The formation of the LaFollette-Wheeler club completes the political organization of the University.

It is probable that every student of voting age will cast his ballot this fall, for that is the evident purpose of the clubs.

The bringing of prominent speakers of every political faith to the University is one of the most important achievements of these organizations.

And these clubs do not fall in the class of time-wasters—of which the University has many. They do not take up the students' time with "social functions" of the Tammany hall pattern, and they do not hold business meetings at which inconsequential details are discussed.

It is too bad to waste space on such a contribution as that which appears in the student opinion column today over the signature, "A Barb" with a satisfactory seat.

The general trend of thought in that letter is confused and obscured by poor rhetorical construction and bad faults in grammar and paragraphing.

One idea that can be grasped is an evident suggestion that fraternities wait until all non-fraternity persons have secured their seats, before making reservations in the stadium for the football season.

The "fundamental principles of competition" certainly apply to the question, as the letter suggests. The Daily Nebraskan makes no effort to defend the present competitive business world.

Notice. The nature of a letter received Saturday makes it necessary that, in the future, every letter to the student opinion column be handed by the writer to the editor.

Student Opinion

A DEMOCRAT. TO THE EDITOR:

Senator Howell's address Saturday was a good argument why we should all vote the Democratic ticket. He devoted most of his time to discussing the agricultural question and to showing that the farmer is economically at a disadvantage.

The Democrats claim that the pro-fitter tariff is largely responsible for this condition. Senator Howell virtually admitted that the tariff was to blame. Only he did not go into detail.

quotations be justified except that they give special advantage to certain interests?

The plan to have an export corporation created to take care of our marketable surplus of wheat, endorsed by Senator Howell, is virtually the same thing as John W. Davis and the Democratic party are advocating.

Nothing was said in defense of the special privilege proposals of this administration; the Mellon tax bill, the ship subsidy bill, and others. Mr. Howell admitted that President Coolidge is a "hard-shelled conservative."

What has he to say about the prime issue of the campaign "Honesty in Government?" What about Teapot Dome, Denby, Daugherty, Fall, and Forbes? Senator Howell, being an honest man, recognizes the deplorable situation in connection with the oil scandals and tactfully avoids the subject to praise such measures as the budget bill which was taken almost entirely from the budget outline proposed by President Wilson but rejected during his term by a Republican congress.

"The fight is between Coolidge and Davis," he says, and he is right. If we do not believe in the tariff, the foreign policy of this administration, the Mellon tax bill, and other special privilege measures of the last three years; if we do not want to go on record as endorsing wanton corruption and gross carelessness of public trust, our only alternative is to vote for John W. Davis.

HAS A GOOD SEAT. To the Editor:

It doesn't surprise me to find a few so-called "barbs" who object to the advantages that their "frat" brothers and sisters have taken in securing choice seats at the stadium.

If these same "barbs" belonged to a "frat" it is certain that not one would possess enough individuality to stand up in a "frat" meeting where the subject of getting seats in a block was being discussed and say, "Now brothers it wouldn't be democratic to try and secure choice seats, let's be good sports and wait until all the freshmen and especially the non-fraternity people have gotten the best seats, then let's get ours over on the 10-yard line."
