QUESTION VOTERS MUST PASS UPON

Proposed Amendment to Constitution Explained by Secretary of State Pool.

In regard to the proposed amendment to the constitution to be submitted to a vote of the electors of Nebraska at the November election, Secretary of State Pool said: "So much misinformation has been given to the public concerning the Initiative Act to be voted upon at the forthcoming election that I feel it not out of place to give the real facts about the matter. The proposed amendment may be divided into two parts, as follows:

First: It provides that candidates for county, state and national elective offices shall be nominated by the direct primary. This is now the law but the proposed amendment makes it a part of the state constitution and places it where it cannot be repealed by the legislature.

"Second: The proposed amendment, if adopted, removes the party labels on the official primary and general election ballot so far only as state and local officials are concerned. If adopted, all state and local officials will be nominated and elected in the same manner that our judges and school officials are now elected. The party circle and party designation must still remain on the ballot as to president, United States senator and congressman. The proposal in no way affects candidates for national office.

"It is the duty of all election judges to give each voter a ballot containing this amendment. The statutes make it a criminal offense for election judges or other election officials to argue either for or against this proposition while serving upon the board. It is equally criminal for election judges to use their influence to procure votes for against any candidate while so serving. Furthermore, it is against the law for any person whatsoever to electioneer or attempt to influence a voter as to his or her franchise while within one hundred feet of the ballot box."

Y. M. C. A. RANKS FIRST
 Takes Place at Head of List of Associations of Its Class.

The Lincoln Y. M. C. A. ranks first among associations of the country in cities of less than 125,000, according to a telegram received Monday from the national headquarters in New York. This rating is founded on fifteen tests, including the capital employed, money raised, numbers served and numbers reached in activities such as industrial, physical, education, Bible study. The Lincoln association ranks first in the whole country for its physical work. The association was rated as seventh in 1920-21; second in 1921-22; second in 1922-23; and first in 1923-24.

Dr. Condra Returns From Tour of State

Dr. George E. Condra, director of the conservation and survey division, has returned from an extended trip through the state, during which he visited northern Garden County, in which a survey is being made, addressed two community meetings at Stuart, visited sugar factories in the western part of the state, and called on prospective oil drillers in Scottsbluff and Bayard.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA—Much interest is being shown in the straw vote for president with Davis leading the list.

See the Diceratherium, Moropus, And Orthopygia at the Museum

A trip to the University Museum is worth a student's time if he only sees General Pershing's collection of Philippine birds and implements on the fourth floor. In this exhibit are native musical instruments, coats of mail, native-cast brass cannons, a beheading knife and many other instruments of warfare.

Near the Pershing collection lies an Egyptian mummy, believed to have belonged to the family of Pharaoh. It was found in the Royal Burial Ground at Thebes, January, 1885. Nearby are exhibits of birds, mammals, reptiles, fishes and Dean Engberg's large zoological collection.

The third floor of the museum is devoted to rocks, ores, minerals, crystals and the like, composing a nearly complete systematic collection of minerals.

On the second floor the visitor encounters a forest of bones. The cases are filled with them, the tops of the cases are covered with them, and some are hung from the ceiling. The visitor enters this floor under the huge skull and thirteen-foot tusks of the Great Columbian Elephant found twelve feet underground while excavating for the high school at Campbell, Nebraska. This is the best specimen found in the country.

This floor contains many other unique exhibits. The giant hog, the four-horned antelope, the skull of the great Mososaur, the hair, wool and flesh of a mammoth found frozen in the ice are worthy of special notice.

Coming down to the first floor, the visitor is greeted by Diceratherium, the two-horned rhinoceros so common in Sioux County. Nearby are many fossil shells of ancient land tortoise. Orthopygia, who have as their neighbor the strange sickle-hoofed animal, Moropus, found at Agate. This animal's head and neck resemble a giant hog, while his body is that of a rhinoceros and his hoofs are like giant claws. These unique creatures, the finest of their type, are set off by a background landscape done in relief to suggest the place where they are found. The three panel mounts belong to the collections of Mr. Chas. H. Morrill and Mr. Hector Maiben.

Associated with these are shown the earliest types of mastodons, four-tusked elephants, of which the Museum has the largest collection in the country, and a section of a pine,

LOOKS FOR ELECTRICIANS

Col. R. I. Rees Studies Outlook for Electrical Engineering Recruits.

Col. R. I. Rees, vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., who is charged with the administration of the personnel division, visited the College of Engineering last week as a part of his tour of the engineering colleges of the country, in a study of the outlook for electrical engineering recruits and the status of electrical engineering education in the United States. He was accompanied by H. V. Dodson, acting chief engineer; Richard H. Fair, general superintendent of the plant; M. T. Taylor and P. M. McCullough, division plant engineers, all of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company of Omaha. An inspection of the electrical engineering laboratories was made and the party visited Chancellor Avery. Colonel Rees, a former staff officer at Washington during the war and until last spring was actively engaged in that part of the general staff's activities connected with the training of officers at schools. He had a great deal to do with the development of the reserve officers' training corps to its present high plane of efficiency. In this capacity, he was closely connected with presidents of universities, serving on committees with Chancellor Avery.
