Missouri Will Meet Cornhuskers Under Disadvantage of Tradition

When the Missouri Tigers and the Nebraska Cornhuskers play at Stadium field Saturday, the Tigers will be working under at least the disadvantage of tradition. In the seventeen games that the two teams have played, Nebraska has won thirteen, Missouri three, and one resulted in a tie score. Not since 1899 have the Tigers defeated the Huskers.

This year, though, it seems that the Missouri team has the best chance to add a victory to its list than it has had for several years. Undefeated so far, the Tigers will enter the contest with a determination to keep their slate clean and to win the championship of the Missouri Valley conference.

A special train bearing Missouri rooters to cheer their team will arrive in Lincoln Saturday morning. A section for the Tiger fans has been reserved by the Nebraska athletic management.

Another event of the day will be Dads' Day, and Nebraska students and their dads will attend a noon luncheon and the football game in the afternoon.

The Tigers will fight all the harder Saturday to beat the team that has conquered them every year since before 1900. Last year the Tigers held Nebraska to a 7-to-7 tie, the first time in the history of the schools that a tie score has been the result.

In the seventeen games, the Cornhuskers have rolled up a total of 375 points to the Tigers 79. The last time the Tigers were victorious, in 1899, the score was 11 to 0.

The record of games is as follows:

- 1892—Nebraska, 6; Missouri, 0.
- 1893—Nebraska, 12; Missouri, 18.
- 1894—Nebraska, 14; Missouri, 18.
- 1895—Nebraska, 12; Missouri, 10.
- 1896—Nebraska, 8; Missouri, 4.
- 1897—Nebraska, 41; Missouri, 0.
- 1898—Nebraska, 47; Missouri, 6.
- 1899—Nebraska, 0; Missouri, 11.
- 1900—Nebraska, 12; Missouri, 0.
- 1901—Nebraska, 51; Missouri, 0.

1902—Nebraska, 12; Missouri, 0.
1911—Nebraska, 34; Missouri, 0.
1912—Nebraska, 7; Missouri, 0.
1917—Nebraska, 52; Missouri, 0.
1919—Nebraska, 12; Missouri, 5.
1922—Nebraska, 48; Missouri, 0.
1923—Nebraska, 7; Missouri, 7.
