

Get Ready for O. A. C.

THE DAILY NEBRASKAN

Get Ready for O. A. C.

VOL. XXIV—NO. 46.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, NEBRASKA. SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1924

PRICE 5 CENTS

ACCEPT SILVER LYNX PETITION

Phi Sigma Kappa Sends Word of Favorable Action at Recent Convention.

WILL BE INSTALLED IN EARLY SPRING

The Silver Lynx fraternity of the University has received word that their petition to Phi Sigma Kappa has been favorably acted upon at the biennial convention of the fraternity which ended in Detroit Friday evening, and that Silver Lynx has been granted a chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa. Installation of the chapter will probably not take place until spring.

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity was founded at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, birthplace of several of the larger national fraternities, March 15, 1873. The fraternity remained local until 1888, when Beta chapter was installed at Union University. Twelve chapters made up the roll in 1900, located in the principal schools of the east.

There were thirty-six chapters of Phi Sigma Kappa prior to the 1924 convention, located in the east, the middle-west, and on the west coast. The fraternity owns twenty-one chapter houses with a total valuation of $605,000. It also occupies an entire floor of the new $5,000,000 fraternity club building in New York City, which was constructed by a number of the older eastern fraternities as bachelor quarters for those alumni who are engaged in business there, and as headquarters for transient members.

Have Prominent Alumni. Keith Neville, ex-Governor of Nebraska, is listed among the alumni of Phi Sigma Kappa, along with William P. Brooks, president of the Imperial College of Agriculture of Japan; Henry Seidel Canby, former professor of English at Yale University, and editor of the Saturday Review of Literature; Neville Davison Post, author, and numerous other men of prominence. Of associate members, Marshal Foch is one of the most outstanding. Middle West chapters are located at the Iowa State College at Ames; and at the Kansas State Agricultural College at Manhattan.

Silver Lynx is one of the oldest local fraternities at the University of Nebraska. It was founded in October, 1911, by a group of Omaha men who had pledged themselves to stay together during their college careers. These men secured apartments, but later in the year organized the fraternity. The first annual banquet was held in the spring of 1912, and the fraternity name, Silver Lynx, was chosen at this time. A lot at Fourteenth and R streets was purchased in 1916, on which the present fraternity home was subsequently erected.

Silver Lynx responded with sixty men of the seventy-two initiated at that time when the call came for the World War. Of these men were one major, five captains, thirteen first lieutenants, ten second lieutenants, and thirty-one men in the ranks. The organization was inactive on the campus during the war, there being but two members in the University. The fraternity was reorganized soon after the war, and has been active since that time.

FILL VAGANCIES ON BLUE PRINT STAFF

Nebraska Society of Engineering Also Elects Secretary-Treasurer.

Two new members of the business staff of the Blue Print, engineering publication, and the secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Society of Engineering were elected at a meeting of the society Friday morning. Mark Fair, '26, Omaha, was selected as assistant business manager of the publication and Clifford Reese, '26, Carroll, was chosen assistant circulation manager. These men will fill vacancies left by students not returning to school this year. Carl B. Gerber, '26, Omaha, was elected to the office of secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Society of Engineering at the same meeting.

The Nebraska Blue Print is issued every month, the November issue being distributed now. It is a magazine devoted to interests of Nebraska engineers and the official publication of the student chapter of the Nebraska Engineering Society.

Other staff members who were elected last spring are as follows: James D. Marshall, '25, Fremont, general manager; H. E. Kinsinger, '26, Milford, editor; Harold Edgerston, '25, Aurora; Arthur Ekstrom, '25, Omaha, circulation manager.

G. W. Rosenfeld of the Teachers College addressed the Parent-Teachers Association of Bancroft school last week on "Responsibilities of Life."

OFFER COURSE IN SPELLING

Designed for Freshmen Who Have Difficulty with Subject.

Students in freshman English who have difficulty in spelling correctly will be given an opportunity to overcome this fault by taking a course now being offered Monday evening from 7 to 9 in University Hall 207. Spelling lists and spelling rules will not be used. The entire time will be given to mnemonic devices for fixing the orthography of words found particularly difficult. Any student who wishes to attend will be welcome.

CONTINUE SALE OF DIRECTORIES

Remaining 200 Copies of Edition Will Be Sold at Y. M. C. A. Office.

The two hundred remaining copies of the 1924-25 Student Directory will be on sale Monday at the office of the University Y. M. C. A. in the Temple. The price remains at fifty cents.

Sales of the directory this year have been more than pleasing to those in charge. 2700 copies were printed and it is expected that the last of these will be sold Monday.

In addition to those sold at the booth at Twelfth and R streets, nearly 300 were sold at the College of Agriculture and 100 more were shipped to Omaha for sale at the College of Medicine.

About 150 copies of the "N" Book were sold at the time of the Directory sales. A few copies may still be obtained at the "Y" office. They are twenty-five cents. The "N" Book was issued primarily for the freshmen, but about 200 extra copies were printed.

By delaying the publication of the directory a few weeks it was possible for the compilers to issue a much more accurate book than has been put out in former years. The plan of posting the proof on a bulletin board and allowing each student to check his own name was tried for the first time and eliminated a great many errors.

A list of the students in the College of Medicine and a complete faculty roster is included in the directory in addition to the student list, which gives the class, home town, Lincoln address, society affiliations, and telephone number of every student enrolled in the University of Nebraska. There is also a list of the members of each fraternity and sorority and a list of the presidents of every campus organization.

THETA SIGMA PHI HOLDS INITIATION

Six Women Made Members of National Honorary Journalistic Society.

Formal initiation for six new members of Theta Sigma Phi, national professional journalistic society for women, was held at Ellen Smith Hall, Friday at 5 o'clock. The following women were initiated: Ruth Schad, '26, Wynome; Irene Jacobs, '25, Kingfisher, Oklahoma; Irma Ellis, '26, Alliance; Lillian Ragsdale, '27, Omaha; Evelyn Linley, '26, Omaha, and Helen Simpson, '27, Casper, Wyoming.

A dinner was served at the Woodburn immediately after the initiation ceremony. Green and violet, the colors of Theta Sigma Phi, were used in effective decorations.

ADDRESSES COMMERCIAL CLUB

Davis Speaks on "Insurance" at Monthly Dinner.

Oak Davis, of the Security Mutual Life Insurance Company, was the speaker at the first monthly dinner of the University Commercial Club held last Thursday evening. Mr. Davis spoke on "Insurance," placing special emphasis on the selling of insurance.

Since the selling of insurance is important on account of the large number of old-line insurance companies and the many types of insurance that are being sold, Mr. Davis believed that enough work along this line was necessary to warrant the installation of a professor to be in charge of this field at the University. He went on to say that the selling of insurance offers big opportunities to cultivate human nature and the ability to speak forcefully and clearly.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON—A group of Chinese students has brought a priceless exhibit of Chinese art and industrial wares to the United States, which will be exhibited at the new Olympic hotel January 1.

Scott Calls Special Meeting of Council

A special meeting of the Interfraternity Council has been called by R. D. Scott, associate professor of English drama and chairman of the council, to be held at 4 o'clock today in Law 107. This meeting is called to consider the admission of Nu Alpha and of Alpha Delta to the council and to discuss the plan of sending a delegate to the National Interfraternity Council.

Plans for the annual interfraternity banquet will be discussed and the new scholarship rules concerning fraternities will be explained.

EIGHT RULES ARE PASSED

University Senate Makes Regulations to Apply after Next September.

LEGISLATION GOVERNS STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP

Eight new regulations governing student scholarship in the University of Nebraska have been passed by the University Senate to go into effect September, 1925. Beginning next fall, a student will be automatically dropped from the University whenever at the end of the middle of a semester he is delinquent in two-fifths (instead of half, as now) of his registered hours; he will be automatically dropped whenever he accumulates twelve hours of unremoved conditions or failures in any college; he will be placed on probation when the grade of his work is less than 70 per cent in half or more of his registered hours; and he will be automatically dropped from the University if he becomes a second time subject to probation.

Under a new regulation, whenever the scholarship of a group of students maintaining a house of residence falls more than 5 per cent below the average scholarship of men or women respectively in the University, the group will be placed on probation for a year; and if at the end of that year the group's scholarship has not reached that average, the group may not pledge freshmen nor give any social function until its scholarship has attained such average.

LIST OF RULES

- 1. Whenever at the middle or end of any semester a student is delinquent in two-fifths of his hours of registration his name is automatically dropped from the rolls of the University. 2. Whenever a student has accumulated twelve hours of unremoved conditions or failures in any one college, his name is automatically dropped from the rolls of the University. 3. Whenever a student is delinquent in two or more subjects totaling at least one-third but less than two-fifths of his hours of registration, he is placed on probation. 4. A student whose grades are less than 70 per cent in one-half or more of his hours of registration in any one semester, is placed on probation. 5. Whenever a student, who has been placed on probation, again becomes subject to probation, his name is automatically dropped from the rolls of the University. 6. A student dropped from the University for scholastic reasons may petition the Committee on Scholarship for re-instatement. Such reinstatement will, however, be granted only in exceptional cases. 7. A student who has been dropped from a college of this or any other University may not register in any college of this University without permission of both the Committee on Scholarship and the dean of the college which he wishes to enter. 8. Whenever a group of students maintaining a house of residence falls short of the average of men or women respectively by more than 5 per cent, such group shall be placed on probation for one year. If at the expiration of this one year, said group has not obtained an average equal to the average of the men and women of the University respectively, this group may not pledge freshmen, nor give any social function until it shall have met the required scholastic standards.

HOLD THANKSGIVING PARTY IN ARMORY

Third All-University Function of the Year Is a Pronounced Success.

In a transformed Armory last night more than three hundred students attended the third all-university party of the year. The Thanksgiving party was declared by those who attended to be the third success this year in spite of the fact that many students attended the Kansas Aggie game at Manhattan.

The Kandy Kids orchestra furnished music for dancing, the main feature of the evening. During the intermission a short program was given, including several selections on the pipe organ. Punch and wafers were served.

The Armory was decorated in scarlet and cream streamers with the Thanksgiving effect produced by various forms of decoration.

SWZEY SPEAKS TO ENGINEERS

"The Relation of Astronomy to Engineering" Is Subject.

"The Relation of Astronomy to Engineering" was the subject of Professor Goodwin Swzey in his lecture to the freshmen of the College of Engineering yesterday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock in Social Science Auditorium. The address was illustrated by lantern slides.

Professor Swzey pointed out the value to the engineer of a general acquaintance with astronomical principles mentioning latitude and longitude as examples.

Aggie Harriers Defeat Huskers

(Special to The Daily Nebraskan.) MANHATTAN, Kans., Nov. 22.—The badly crippled harrier squad from Nebraska bowed to a decisive defeat at the hands of the 1924 Missouri Valley champions—the Kansas Aggies. Kimpert, captain of the Aggie team placed first with Lester Lawson of the Husker team taking second place. The time of 24 minutes, 30 seconds, was a new record for the Kansas course.

The Aggie harriers completely out-classed the Husker runners by placing their five men ahead of the Huskers' second runner. The Husker runners finished in the following order: Lawson, second; Captain Zimmerman; McCartney, Hays, Cohen, Lewis. The score was 19-36.

THETAS WIN IN SALES CONTEST

Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Delta Theta and Delta Delta Delta Also Place.

LANG THANKS WOMEN FOR THEIR SUPPORT

I wish to thank all of the organizations and individuals who assisted in the 1925 Cornhusker sales campaign last week. Their earnest and conscientious efforts made it possible for the business staff to stage the most successful Cornhusker sales campaign that the University has ever known. The fact that the campaign was so successful, I attribute to the loyalty and earnestness of the women of Nebraska. ROBERT L. LANG, Business Manager.

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority is the winner in the organization contest of the Cornhusker sales contest which ended Friday and will receive furniture valued at fifty dollars as a prize. Alpha Omicron Pi, running close to the first throughout the contest, will receive the second award of a special copy of the Cornhusker bound in leather.

The six highest in the individual contest, receiving free Cornhuskers with names stenciled in gold are: Dorothy O'Shea, Irene Lovely, Freida Lamke, Mary Wigton, Frances Harrison, and Adeline Howland.

Sororities winning third and fourth places in the contest, which was open to all sororities and dormitories, are Alpha Delta Theta and Delta Delta Delta. They closely followed Alpha Omicron Pi, there being only a few sales difference between them.

Contrary to previous announcement the price of the book will not be changed. Students may order Cornhuskers at $4.50 until January 10. The success of the sales campaign makes this possible. Over three hundred and fifty more books were sold this year than ever before.

The campaign began last Monday and continued until Friday. Kappa Alpha Theta was leading at the end of every day except the first, but the difference in number of sales was small throughout the contest. The four sororities finishing in the lead were contenders during all of the campaign.

Place Paintings on Exhibit at Library

The University Art Gallery in the Library building will be open from 3 to 6 o'clock today. An exhibition of the paintings of Mr. Howard Ashman Patterson will be a special feature. Mr. Patterson has been painting in the New Mexico and Colorado territory.

Captain Harding Ill At Hospital

Captain Floyd G. Harding of the University of Nebraska Military Department is ill at the post hospital in Omaha. He will be absent from active duty for at least three weeks.

Freshmen Think It's Too Cold to Wear Green Caps--Iron Sphinx Don't Agree

During the first two days of cold weather, seven cases were reported and were dealt with almost immediately. Since then the offenses have not been so numerous, but at the Sphinx meeting this week, more coming in lately to the green cap committee of the Iron Sphinx, sophomore men's society.

The rule is that the first-year men must wear the Irish headgear until Christmas at least and then the rest of the year if the sophomores win the Olympic contests November 29. There will be no let-up on the enforcement of this rule, according to members of the Iron Sphinx. Methods of punishment so far have been comparatively easy, the offender usually getting several swats with a barrel-stave.

CORNHUSKERS DECISIVELY WIN OVER KANSAS AGGIES

Game Contains Many Spectacular Plays Including 70-yard Run by Locke, 35-yard Pass to Collins, Pass Good for 55 yards to Rhodes, and 40-yard Dropkick.

PLAYING OF NEBRASKA LINE IS REVELATION TO FANS

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Manhattan, Kans., Nov. 22.—The Nebraska backfield decided this afternoon to emulate the "four horsemen of Notre Dame" and aided by fine line play, ran wild over the Kansas Aggies, winning 24 to 0. That the game was spectacular can be judged from this: First touchdown—70-yard run by Roland Locke, second touchdown—pass, Rhodes to Collins, thirty-five yards, third touchdown—pass, Bronson to Rhodes, fifty-five yards, dropkick by Bloodgood, from 40-yard line. Oddly enough, the two passes which Nebraska completed for touchdowns were the only ones which the Huskers made good during the afternoon's entertainment. The Aggies had fair success with their passing game but were unable to make it good in the pinches. Several times the Kansas Aggies were within scoring distance, but the Nebraska defense was almost impregnable.

Line Shows Up Well.

The play of the Husker line was a revelation. During the first half the Aggies made forty yards from scrimmage and were thrown for losses aggregating twenty-nine yards, in other words their net gain was thirteen yards for the half.

The first half was all Nebraska's while in the second half the Aggies played the better football. This was undoubtedly true in spite of the fact that Nebraska scored only three points in the first half and twenty-one in the second.

Coach Dawson gave most of the men who made the trip a chance to show what they could do. Twenty-two Huskers had mingled with the Aggies before the final whistle blew.

The Nebraska backfield, or rather backfield, showed up the stuff of which champions are made. Rhodes plowed through the Aggie line time and again for long gains. A Mandery did some creditable line plunging, Locke contributed a 70-yard run. But it was the work of Al Bloodgood, Nebraska quarterback, that was particularly brilliant. Bloodgood broke away for long gains on off-tackle plays, and his generalship was almost perfect. Time and again the Aggies were caught flat-footed by an unexpected Nebraska play. Both sides played desperately on defense, the tackling being so hard as to cause several slight injuries.

Play All-Around Game.

The Huskers seemed able to play any style of football from passing to line plunging. The starting combination of Locke, Rhodes, Mandery and Bloodgood was very successful in running the ends. This backfield is made up of men who can do a hundred yards in the neighborhood of ten seconds. The Aggies often had the opportunity to see them whiz by. Coach Bachman's Aggies lived up to prediction in playing the Notre Dame style of football. The backs hopped around in various formations as gracefully as dancers. The Huskers may have taken particular delight in winning from these "junior Irish."

The first quarter was a bloody one for the Aggies, as the Huskers were knocking on the door several times. The Aggies once punted from their 1-foot line. Nebraska promptly marched back but lost the ball when Rhodes fumbled. Another march was begun and the Huskers had the ball within striking distance when the quarter ended.

Makes Drop-Kick.

Unable to gain through the line, the Huskers relied on Bloodgood's kicking ability. The Husker quarterback stepped back and booted over a beautiful dropkick from the 40-yard line.

The quarter ended with more strong defensive play in the Aggies' territory. The second quarter opened with some brilliant open field running. Smith, Aggie star halfback, got away for twenty-five yards on an end run. Nebraska took the ball on downs, and Bloodgood went Smith one better by breaking away through tackle and running thirty yards. The Aggies completed a 21-yard pass, but the Huskers took the ball.

Bloodgood broke away from several Aggie tacklers to return a punt twenty-five yards. This put the ball on the 30-yard line. Locke then went off tackle, eluded several tacklers and started down the field. At the 50-yard line he met a tackler whom he eluded by the simple method of running around him. On the 30-yard line Joe Anderson, Aggie quarterback, was waiting with the undisguised intention of stopping the thing right then and there. Locke ran around him. Mandery kicked the goal.

In the last quarter the Huskers got the ball on their 30-yard line. A 17-yard run by Rhodes and a 10-yard gain by Captain Weir with a number of less spectacular plays, put the ball on the Aggies 35-yard line. Rhodes then wadded a beautiful pass to Collins, who ran the remaining ten yards to a touchdown. Collins was all alone when he caught the pass. Ed Weir kicked goal.

In the last few minutes of the game Bill Bronson, substituted for team.

(Continued on Page Four.)

THETAS WIN IN SALES CONTEST

Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Delta Theta and Delta Delta Delta Also Place.

LANG THANKS WOMEN FOR THEIR SUPPORT

I wish to thank all of the organizations and individuals who assisted in the 1925 Cornhusker sales campaign last week. Their earnest and conscientious efforts made it possible for the business staff to stage the most successful Cornhusker sales campaign that the University has ever known. The fact that the campaign was so successful, I attribute to the loyalty and earnestness of the women of Nebraska. ROBERT L. LANG, Business Manager.

Place Paintings on Exhibit at Library

The University Art Gallery in the Library building will be open from 3 to 6 o'clock today. An exhibition of the paintings of Mr. Howard Ashman Patterson will be a special feature. Mr. Patterson has been painting in the New Mexico and Colorado territory.

Captain Harding Ill At Hospital

Captain Floyd G. Harding of the University of Nebraska Military Department is ill at the post hospital in Omaha. He will be absent from active duty for at least three weeks.

Freshmen Think It's Too Cold to Wear Green Caps--Iron Sphinx Don't Agree

During the first two days of cold weather, seven cases were reported and were dealt with almost immediately. Since then the offenses have not been so numerous, but at the Sphinx meeting this week, more coming in lately to the green cap committee of the Iron Sphinx, sophomore men's society.

The rule is that the first-year men must wear the Irish headgear until Christmas at least and then the rest of the year if the sophomores win the Olympic contests November 29. There will be no let-up on the enforcement of this rule, according to members of the Iron Sphinx. Methods of punishment so far have been comparatively easy, the offender usually getting several swats with a barrel-stave.

CORNHUSKERS DECISIVELY WIN OVER KANSAS AGGIES

Game Contains Many Spectacular Plays Including 70-yard Run by Locke, 35-yard Pass to Collins, Pass Good for 55 yards to Rhodes, and 40-yard Dropkick.

PLAYING OF NEBRASKA LINE IS REVELATION TO FANS

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Manhattan, Kans., Nov. 22.—The Nebraska backfield decided this afternoon to emulate the "four horsemen of Notre Dame" and aided by fine line play, ran wild over the Kansas Aggies, winning 24 to 0. That the game was spectacular can be judged from this: First touchdown—70-yard run by Roland Locke, second touchdown—pass, Rhodes to Collins, thirty-five yards, third touchdown—pass, Bronson to Rhodes, fifty-five yards, dropkick by Bloodgood, from 40-yard line. Oddly enough, the two passes which Nebraska completed for touchdowns were the only ones which the Huskers made good during the afternoon's entertainment. The Aggies had fair success with their passing game but were unable to make it good in the pinches. Several times the Kansas Aggies were within scoring distance, but the Nebraska defense was almost impregnable.

Line Shows Up Well.

The play of the Husker line was a revelation. During the first half the Aggies made forty yards from scrimmage and were thrown for losses aggregating twenty-nine yards, in other words their net gain was thirteen yards for the half.

The first half was all Nebraska's while in the second half the Aggies played the better football. This was undoubtedly true in spite of the fact that Nebraska scored only three points in the first half and twenty-one in the second.

Coach Dawson gave most of the men who made the trip a chance to show what they could do. Twenty-two Huskers had mingled with the Aggies before the final whistle blew.

The Nebraska backfield, or rather backfield, showed up the stuff of which champions are made. Rhodes plowed through the Aggie line time and again for long gains. A Mandery did some creditable line plunging, Locke contributed a 70-yard run. But it was the work of Al Bloodgood, Nebraska quarterback, that was particularly brilliant. Bloodgood broke away for long gains on off-tackle plays, and his generalship was almost perfect. Time and again the Aggies were caught flat-footed by an unexpected Nebraska play. Both sides played desperately on defense, the tackling being so hard as to cause several slight injuries.

Play All-Around Game.

The Huskers seemed able to play any style of football from passing to line plunging. The starting combination of Locke, Rhodes, Mandery and Bloodgood was very successful in running the ends. This backfield is made up of men who can do a hundred yards in the neighborhood of ten seconds. The Aggies often had the opportunity to see them whiz by. Coach Bachman's Aggies lived up to prediction in playing the Notre Dame style of football. The backs hopped around in various formations as gracefully as dancers. The Huskers may have taken particular delight in winning from these "junior Irish."

The first quarter was a bloody one for the Aggies, as the Huskers were knocking on the door several times. The Aggies once punted from their 1-foot line. Nebraska promptly marched back but lost the ball when Rhodes fumbled. Another march was begun and the Huskers had the ball within striking distance when the quarter ended.

Makes Drop-Kick.

Unable to gain through the line, the Huskers relied on Bloodgood's kicking ability. The Husker quarterback stepped back and booted over a beautiful dropkick from the 40-yard line.

The quarter ended with more strong defensive play in the Aggies' territory. The second quarter opened with some brilliant open field running. Smith, Aggie star halfback, got away for twenty-five yards on an end run. Nebraska took the ball on downs, and Bloodgood went Smith one better by breaking away through tackle and running thirty yards. The Aggies completed a 21-yard pass, but the Huskers took the ball.

Bloodgood broke away from several Aggie tacklers to return a punt twenty-five yards. This put the ball on the 30-yard line. Locke then went off tackle, eluded several tacklers and started down the field. At the 50-yard line he met a tackler whom he eluded by the simple method of running around him. On the 30-yard line Joe Anderson, Aggie quarterback, was waiting with the undisguised intention of stopping the thing right then and there. Locke ran around him. Mandery kicked the goal.

In the last quarter the Huskers got the ball on their 30-yard line. A 17-yard run by Rhodes and a 10-yard gain by Captain Weir with a number of less spectacular plays, put the ball on the Aggies 35-yard line. Rhodes then wadded a beautiful pass to Collins, who ran the remaining ten yards to a touchdown. Collins was all alone when he caught the pass. Ed Weir kicked goal.

In the last few minutes of the game Bill Bronson, substituted for team.

(Continued on Page Four.)

AL BLOODGOOD

Those educated too accounted for the Husker's first points yesterday. In addition to the forty-yard dropkick, the Nebraska quarter-back broke away for several long gains through the line and took the heart out of the Aggie punts by his nice returns. His field generalship was flawless.

AL BLOODGOOD.

Those educated too accounted for the Husker's first points yesterday. In addition to the forty-yard dropkick, the Nebraska quarter-back broke away for several long gains through the line and took the heart out of the Aggie punts by his nice returns. His field generalship was flawless.

LAST REHEARSAL SET FOR MONDAY

Chorus for "St. John's Eve" to Practice at 5 O'clock Tomorrow Evening.

A final rehearsal of the chorus of "St. John's Eve," to be presented by the University Chorus, Tuesday at 11 o'clock in Memorial Hall will be held with the University Orchestra at 5 o'clock Monday, November 24, in the Armory. It is very important that all members of the chorus be there.

"St. John's Eve" is a light operetta. Elsie Neely, Dwight Merriman, Margaret Gettys, and Hubert Davis will take the solo parts. The production is directed by Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond and will be accompanied by the University Orchestra.

It is the custom for the University Chorus to present four or five of these programs for the student body during the year. The Messiah will be given before the Christmas holidays.

"St. John's Eve" is a ballad romance of a century or so ago. The scene is set in a village street where the people are celebrating the feast of St. John. Margaret, a venerable old woman of the town, predicts the manner in which each maiden will discover the identity of her future husband. Robert, a young man of the village, overhears that he who dares to pluck the rose which Nancy wears will win her on Christmas eve. He resolves to venture it and apparently succeeds. The appearance of Nancy's true lover with the original rose brings the tale to a happy ending.

Plan Rifle Match For Fraternities

The annual inter-fraternity rifle match, under the auspices of the military department will be held shortly before the Christmas holidays. Major Sidney Erickson, commandant of cadets, announces. Each fraternity is expected to enter a team.