AGRICULTURISTS HOLD MEETINGS

Livestock, Poultry, Dairying, and Home Economics Are Subjects Taken Up.

Organized Agriculture meetings are being conducted on the Agricultural College Campus, January 6-7-8-9. All sessions are open to the public, regardless of membership in any association.

Most of the phases of farm life, of interest to women as well as to men, are discussed at the meetings. Livestock, poultry, dairying, home economics, horticulture, crop growing, and rural schools are among the topics taken up.

In addition to the Organized Agriculture meetings, a number of exhibits are on display. There is a corn show, including the Nebraska Exhibit at the International Hay and Grain Show, on the third floor of the Dairy Building; the apple exhibit in the Plant Industry Building; and the poultry show in the City Auditorium thirteenth and M streets.

The general committee in charge of the Organized Agriculture Program is composed of E. R. Danielson, chairman; E. A. Burnett, Margaret Fedde, C. B. Steward, P. H. Steward, W. H. Brokaw, acting secretary.

The schedules for Tuesday and Wednesday follow:

Tuesday.
Crop Growers Association.
Home Economics Association.
Horticultural Society.
Livestock Breeders Association.

Wednesday.
Crop Growers Association.
Dairymen's Association.
Farm Bureau Federation.
Home Economics Association.
Honey Producers Association.
Horticultural Society.
Livestock Breeders Association.
Milk Goat Breeders Association.

Wednesday Evening.

Farmers Family Fun Feed.
A nursery for the care of children is provided in the gymnasium, to enable the mothers to attend the meetings. It is under the care of Miss Ruth Staples, home economics instructor, who is in charge of the baby in the practice house.

MISS LOUISE POUND RETURNS FROM EAST

Receives New Honors at Modern Language Association in New York City.

Miss Louise Pound of the department of English of the University of Nebraska returned on Monday from the Atlantic coast, where she spent the holidays. She remained a day in Chicago and Rochester with friends, and passed several days in Boston and Wellesley. At Wellesley she met many members of the faculty at various social entertainments and many well-known writers.

At the meeting of the Modern Language Association at New York City, Miss Pound presided at the meeting of the popular language section and was re-elected vice-president of the Dialect Society and a member of the executive committee. She received an invitation to appear on the program of the American Literature section next year.

On her way home she stopped for a day in Baltimore. Miss Pound was asked to give addresses at both Wellesley and Vassar but did not remain in the East long enough for the opening of school. An eastern publishing house issuing forty or more scholarly and educational periodicals has asked her to serve as editor of a periodical "American Speech" to be established next September.

Among the Nebraskans whom Miss Pound encountered at New York City were Constance Rummons Ballantine, now instructing in mathematics at the College of New York, Lillian Fitzpatrick, fellow in Romance Language at Bryn Mawr, and Mr. and Mrs. Clear Golden. Mr. Golden was the instructor at the University of Nebraska at one time. Mrs. Golden was formerly Jeanette Doyle.

Applications Must Be in by Friday

Applications for positions on the Cornhusker Countryman, publication of the College of Agriculture, will be received until 5 o'clock, Thursday, January 8 at the Cornhusker Countryman office in Agricultural Hall. The positions to be filled are associate editors, business managers, and circulation managers. The editors and staff of the departments will also be selected at this time.

Hundred or More High Schools Will Debate League of Nations Question

Prof. Fogg Issues Bulletin on Plans of Debating League This Year.

The hundred or more schools in the Nebraska High-School Debating League in the eighteenth annual contests will discuss the proposition "That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations." This question was selected by the executive committee.

In a bulletin sent to all high schools of the state as the December 17 number of the University Extension News, the president of the League, Prof. M. M. Fogg, professor of English and director of the School of Journalism, University of Nebraska, announces League plans for the year. The following directors for 1924-1925, who will have immediate charge of the League work in their respective districts, have been appointed:

Central District—Supt. R. W. Kretzinger, Geneva.

Eastern—Principal J. G. Masters, Omaha Central High School.

East-Central—Principal C. W. Taylor, Teachers College High School, Lincoln.

North-Central—Supt. Myrtle V. Price, Albion.

Northeastern—Supt. F. A. Bishop, Oakland.

Northwestern—Supt. G. F. Liebenorfer, Sidney.

Southeastern—Supt. F. G. Thomann, Pawnee City.

Southwestern—Supt. C. K. Morse, Nebraska School of Agriculture, Curtis.

Western I—Supt. C. S. Hetrick, Elm Creek.

Western II—Supt. G. W. McGaw, Oshkosh.

The directors of the Southern and West-Central Districts have not yet been announced.

Twenty-five new schools have applied for membership this year in this state-wide organization, organized by Professor Fogg at the request of schoolmen in 1908 to encourage straight thinking and straight talking:

Adams, Blair, Cedar Rapids, Clarke, David City, Doniphan, Endicott, Grand Island, Hartington, Herman, Holbrook, Homer, Juniata, Kimball, Leigh, Loup City, Maywood, Raymond, Riverton, Rulo, Syracuse, Tilden, Wilsonville, Wood Lake, Yutan.

Because of the increased membership and in the interest of saving travel expense, another district or two may be organized.

Members in each district will be paired for the first-series contests, which will begin in February. The district-championship honors entitle the winner to participate in the three-day state-debate tournament at the University of Nebraska in May. The district championships were decided last year in nearly all the districts by the percentage method. The annual membership fee, $3, is to be paid before a school participates in a first-series debate. The secretary-treasurer is T. S. Dunn, Lincoln High School.

Large certificates are presented to the district-championship and the state-championship schools, and certificates of honor are given the individual members of these teams.

Each League school is urged to have two teams in order to insure training in give-and-take debating by sending the teams against one another.

Abstracts of a large number of authoritative articles and parts of books on the League of Nations question are being prepared; under the direction of the president of the League, by University debaters. These abstracts, which are designed to give schools with limited library facilities access to facts and intelligent opinion concerning the question, will be furnished at approximate cost by the Debating and Public Discussion Bureau of the University Extension Division. They will be ready for distribution in printed form early in January.

HONORS SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

M. M. Fogg Represents School; But One of Several Applications Accepted.

ASSOCIATION ADMITS NEBRASKA AS MEMBER

The University of Nebraska School of Journalism, organized in 1923, on the basis of its work its first year was elected, at the recent meeting at Chicago, to membership in the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism.

The association has taken a conservative stand on the admission of members. Of several applicants this year, Nebraska was the only one admitted. It was represented at the meeting by the director, Prof. M. M. Fogg. Most of the three-day session was given to the formulation of principles and standards of training for journalism.

The fifteen members of the association now are: Columbia University, Indiana, Kansas, Kansas Agricultural College, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Northwestern, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Washington, and Wisconsin. The December 1925 meeting will be at the Columbia University School.

HOLD PRELIMINARY TRYOUT THURSDAY

Wants Candidates for Indoor Meets; Kansas City Is First Opponent.

With the first indoor track meet a scant four weeks away, Coach Henry F. Schulte yesterday issued the first call for candidates for the 1925 Varsity track squad. Work will begin immediately on the renewed indoor track underneath the east stand of the stadium for the first meet, the Kansas City Athletic Club fray.

Preliminary tryouts for the team which will represent Nebraska at the K. C. A. C. meet will be held in the stadium Thursday, January 15. Track men are expected to sign up if they intend to try out for the meet and to work out regularly or turn in their suits.

The events will be the regular indoor meet contests—100-yard dash; 220-yard dash; 440-yard dash; half-mile; quarter-mile; mile; two-mile; high jump; broad jump; pole vault; shot put; and possibly a relay.

Schulte expects to cop the Missouri Valley flag for the fifth consecutive time this year and prospects on the cinder path are very bright. Maurice "Mud" Gardner, captain of the 1924 team, is assisting Schulte in training the athletes.

Everett Crites of Central City will captain his mates and will probably enter in the quarter-mile, the low hurdles, and the half-mile. Crites holds the Nebraska record in the hurdles.

Roland Locke of North Platte will be back in the dashes. The holder of

Dr. Holmes to Talk At Forum Luncheon

Dr. John Andrew Holmes, pastor of the First-Plymouth Congregational church of Lincoln, will discuss "The Christian View of Life" at the World Forum luncheon at the Grand Hotel at noon today.

Members of the committee in charge are trying to secure Bishop Becker of Lincoln to present the Catholic view at the luncheon two weeks from today. If he is unable to do this, Dr. Holmes' discussion will close the series in which the views of life held by peoples of various religions have been discussed. The Greek, Oriental, and Jewish views of life have been taken up.

Next week Dr. Wm. Axling, '98, who has been a missionary in Japan for nearly twenty-five years will speak. His topic will probably be "The International Outlook of the Student."

STUDENTS WILL HEAR DR. JUDD

Student Volunteer Secretary to Speak at Convocation Thursday Morning.

"WHERE SHALL I INVEST MY LIFE" IS SUBJECT

Dr. Walter H. Judd, '20, M. D., '24, traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, who is delivering several addresses in Lincoln this week, will speak on "Where Shall I Invest My Life?" at an all-University convocation in the Temple Theater at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Those who have heard Dr. Judd say that he is a speaker of unusual force and ability. He was president of the University Y. M. C. A., and served successively as local, state, and national chairman of the Student Volunteer Movement while a student in the University of Nebraska. He also was vice-chairman of the Indianapolis convention of the Movement last year.

He was offered a position with Mayo Brother's Clinic at Rochester, Minn., immediately after his graduation from the College of Medicine, but he declined this to take up his work with the Student Volunteer Movement. Next year he expects to go to China as a medical missionary.

A dinner for him will be given at the Grand hotel Thursday evening. It is open to the public and the tickets, which are fifty cents, can be purchased at the University Y. M. C. A. office in the Temple.

Dr. Judd is to speak to Dr. Barker's zoology class in Bessey hall at 11 o'clock this morning. Earlier in the morning he is scheduled to speak at Cotner College, Bethany.

Thursday morning he speaks at Wesleyan University, University Place, in addition to the convocation here. Dr. Judd spoke at the Vesper Services in Ellen Smith Hall and to the local Student Volunteer Union last evening.

He was a member of Bushnell Guild, now Pi Kappa Alpha, and of Phi Rho Sigma, medical fraternity. He also won Phi Beta Kappa honors while a student here.

Former Student Visits Ferguson

Henry Sargent, A. E., '24, was a visitor at the office of Dean O. J. Ferguson of the College of Engineering, while spending his Christmas holidays in Lincoln. Mr. Sargent is working for his masters' degree at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston.

More Than 200 Men Are Wanted for Gymnasium under Clapp and Dawson

More than two-hundred men are wanted to register for gymnasium classes this week, under the supervision of Prof. A. G. Clapp and Director Fred T. Dawson. There are three beginners classes and one class for those who have had one year or its equivalent of gymnasium work. The first-year classes will meet at 11 and 3 o'clock Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and at 7:45 Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings. Advanced classes are at 3 o'clock Tuesday and Thursday. In addition, there is a class in heavy gymnastics open to those who have had a considerable amount of apparatus work. Credit in all courses will be one hour, counting toward graduation.

"The gymnasium classes are planned to give a large amount of general exercise to counteract the effect of the sedentary work in which the students engage," said Dr. Clapp. "Their purpose is to keep up a high

Former Nebraska Man Receives Appointment

Prof. A. R. Moore, '04, head of the department of physiology at Rutgers University, has been given by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American table at the Naples, Italy, station for April-June, 1925; and the Rutgers trustees have given him leave of absence. He expects to conclude his five-months' trip with a vacation in the Tyrol and in the cathedral cities of northern France.

SELL TICKETS FOR PAN-HELLENIC PARTY

Kosmet Klub to Announce Winner in Contest at Annual Formal.

Tickets are now on sale for the Pan-Hellenic Formal to be given Saturday, January 17 at the Scottish Rite Temple. Ten tickets have been allotted to each fraternity house and a representative from each organization is selling at his house. Several fraternities have purchased their quota and are calling for more.

A smoker for all representatives selling the pastebards will be held tonight at the Phi Kappa Psi house at 7 o'clock. Kosmet Klub members, sponsors of the formal, will be hosts. Tickets and money should be turned in then and a re-distribution of tickets will be made so that fraternities wanting more can get them.

The formal will be much more elaborate than in former years. Music will be furnished by The Nebraskans and will include songs from the musical comedy to be produced by the Klub this spring. Announcement of the winner of the contest for the writing of the play will be made at the party. Five plays have been considered.

Any men in school who have not been able to get a ticket and want one may get in touch with Bill Bradley at the Phi Psi house or any other member of the Klub.

BLUE PRINT FOR DECEMBER IS OUT

Distribute Engineering Publication to Students This Week.

The December issue of The Nebraska Blue Print, official publication of the College of Engineering, is being distributed on the campus this week.

"Nebraska's First Step Toward Super Power" is the title of the first article, written by B. E. Ellsworth. Oliver S. Lyford contributes a paper on the subject, "The Engineer as a Leader in Industry." Herbert Hoover is the personage whose biography is given under the caption "Hall of Fame."

Other features are "The Dean's Corner," departmental notes, and monthly news.

Library Catalogues Additional Volumes

Several sets of books were accessioned and catalogued during the vacation by the library staff. They have been placed in the reading room, where they can be more conveniently handled than in the crowded offices.

Following are the sets of volumes: Journal Asiatique, 1839-1913, 150 volumes.

Commission Municipale du Vieux Procees Verbaux, 13 volumes.

This Quarterly Journal of Ornithology, 50 volumes.

Dresser, History of the Birds of Europe, 9 volumes, folio.

REGISTRATION IS VERY LIGHT

Application For Courses Must Be Left With Deans by Saturday Noon.

NO GENERAL NOTICE OF PERIOD COULD BE MADE

Students of the Arts and Science college are urged by Acting Dean A. L. Candy to register for afternoon classes. Up to date, the registration has been very light in these sections.

Registration for the second semester has been comparatively light during the first two days of the period, according to reports from various colleges of the University, largely due to the fact that no general notice of the period has been made. In previous years announcement has been made to the student body, but it was impossible this year due to the winter vacation.

The College of Business Administration reports a larger registration Monday and Tuesday than in the first two days of any preceding year. Amanda Heppner, Dean of Women, who passes on the registration of all undergraduate women, reports that very few women, as compared with former years, have visited her Monday and Tuesday.

Applications for courses, and statements of outside work must be left with the deans of the college in which registration is desired by Saturday noon, January 10. All students who have not registered by that time will be charged a late registration fee of three dollars.

Students in the College of Agriculture will not be required to register until next week, January 12 and 13, Monday and Tuesday, due to the Organized Agriculture, a fair at the Agricultural College Campus devoted to various farm problems.

Arts and Science college students including, Pre-Dents, Pre-Laws; Business Administration, Fine Arts and Journalism students will be required to pay their fees January 28 and 29, at the Armory, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Students in the College of Agriculture, Dentistry, Pharmacy, Engineering, Law, Graduate, and Teachers, pay their fees January 26 and 27, at the Armory, entering the east door, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Registration will not be complete until all fees are paid. No changes in registration will be considered until February 2.

START BASKETBALL PRACTICE MONDAY

Women Must Have Permit and Live Up to Training Rules.

Basketball practice for women started Monday noon with freshmen on the floor. For the next six weeks two practices will be held every noon and on Tuesdays and Thursdays at two o'clock.

Class team practices are held at noon; the freshmen on Monday, the sophomores on Friday, the juniors on Tuesday, and the seniors on Wednesday. All other practices are general and are open to all players. The noon practices begin at 11:45 and 12:20 o'clock.

No woman will be allowed to enter this sport until she brings a physician's signature saying that she is physically able to participate. These cards may be had at the W. A. A. desk.

To be eligible for the color tournament or class tournament play, all players must have lived up to the training rules recently passed by the Association.

SCHULTE AND CLAPP HONORED

Are Placed on National Athletic Association Committees.

Henry F. Schulte, Nebraska track coach, and Dr. R. G. Clapp, wrestling coach, were placed on committees of the National Collegiate Athletic Association announced during the holidays. Schulte was named a member of the national committee on track, and Dr. Clapp was placed on the wrestling committee.

Mike Ahearn of the Kansas Aggies was the only other Valley man placed on a committee. He was selected for the football group.
