CLUB REGRANTS LOCAL CHARTER

National Organization Recognizes Nebraska Chapter of Cosmopolitan Club.

GOLDSTEIN DELEGATE TO AMES CONVENTION

The local chapter of the Cosmopolitan Club was rechartered its chapter at the eighteenth annual convention of the national organization. The convention was held in Ames, Iowa, December 28, 29, 30 and 31.

There had been a Cosmopolitan Club at the University of Nebraska until 1910 when, because of the small number of foreign students the club was allowed to die out and the charter was withdrawn. In 1923 the present local chapter was organized. Fred E. Goldstein, '25, Lincoln, president of the club was sent to the convention to regain the charter for the Nebraska organization.

Within the convention several eastern schools were in favor of making the local chapter pay the back dues for thirteen years at the rate of thirty members every year. Mr. Goldstein, aided by A. Ronald Butten, ex-'26, intercollegiate debater in 1923 against Iowa; who represented Stanford University at the conference, worked for and succeeded in regaining the charter after paying the back dues at the rate of an average of ten members per year.

The Nebraska chapter of the Cosmopolitan Club was founded in 1923 and has a present membership of sixty, consisting of representatives from twenty different nationalities. The membership of the club is fifty per cent foreign and fifty per cent American. The club has adopted the motto of the national organization, "Above all nations is humanity."

Last year the club presented the International University Night, and intends to present this again in April. Other plans of the organization include the establishment of a house on a strict fraternity basis and the first action of the new year is toward procuring a suitable house. Kansas chapter is the only chapter in the Missouri Valley at the present time that has a house for members.

SECRETARY ATTENDS CHURCH CONFERENCE

University Pastors Are Also Delegates to Chicago Convention.

Miss Irma Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A., returned Friday from Chicago where she attended the National Conference of Church Workers in Universities as one of the delegates from Nebraska. The other delegates from Nebraska were the University pastors, J. W. Hilton, Christian; H. F. Huntington, Methodist; D. R. Leland, Presbyterian; and C. H. Bream, pastor of the Grace Lutheran church.

This conference has recently made a survey of the amount of religious education given in colleges, and is now undertaking an investigation to determine what provision is made for religious instruction in tax supported institutions. Students as well as church workers attended this convention, and one student from the University of Michigan read a paper on "What Students Think of Religious Workers and their Methods on the Campus."

Miss Appleby also attended the convention of the Council of Church Boards of Education where she read a paper by Miss Leslie Blanchard of the National Board of Y. W. C. A. on "Unifying the Student Movements."

Nebraska Alumnus To Appear Thursday

The next issue of The Nebraska Alumnus will appear Thursday, January 15. This edition will include editorials on the salaries of the professors of the university and on the politics in the University of Kansas. There will be an article on "A Plan of Class Reunion" with a Dix chart to explain the plan. There will also be included, a statement of policy of the Athletic Board.

Botany Professors National Officers

Dr. R. J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany, was elected president of the section of Systematic Botany of the Botanical Society of America, at the Washington biological meetings. P. B. Sears, assistant professor of Botany, was elected secretary of the General Section. Professor Sears did not attend the conference.

Anatomy Professor Has Paper Published

Reprints have been received in the Zoology department from a paper by Dr. Homer B. Latimer of the Anatomy department concerning, "The Weight of the Brain, of its Parts, and of the Spinal Cord, of the Frog, Turtle, and Dog." The paper was printed in the Journal of Comparative Anatomy for December. A paper on the "Growth of the Brain, of its Parts, and of the Spinal Cord of the Chicken" will appear in a future issue.

TWO MAINTAIN CLEAN SLATES

Nebraska and Kansas Remain Undefeated in Valley Basketball Conflicts.

DRAKE GAME IS NEXT ON CORNHUSKER CARD

When the wild din from Valley conflicts had died away Saturday night for a short week at least Nebraska and Kansas were the only quintets to emerge with clean slates. The Cornhuskers left a bewildered Oklahoma team in Norman after stowing away the Kansas Aggies on Friday night. Kansas won its three games with the Iowa teams of the conference.

Missouri ranks third with a standing of sixty-six per cent. The Tigers lost to Grinnell in the last forty-five seconds of play Saturday and thus put themselves out of the Nebraska and Kansas class for the present. Grinnell, with a half-and-half record comes fourth, having lost to the Jayhawkers and won from Missouri. The Valley teams will start on the second lap of the journey early this week. The Kansas Aggie five will meet Kansas at Lawrence tomorrow and all of the teams in the conference will have a game this week end. It will be the first chance to observe the behavior of the Washington University team which meets Oklahoma at St. Louis Friday.

Just how the cagers will stack up after this week is not hard to tell, if hope means anything. Nebraska should defeat Drake easily. The Bulldogs have been defeated four times this season, at the hands of the Hilliards, Creighton, Kansas and Missouri. The Cornhuskers should retain their 100 per cent standing. Kansas will also probably have little trouble in defeating their ancient rivals, Kansas Aggies. Grinnell should win from Drake also, but difficulties pop up in doping the two Oklahoma games. The Sooners play Washington Friday and Missouri Saturday. The Pikers have as yet not been in action, so it is unwise to dope against them. The Tiger-Sooners fray should be a nip-and-tuck affair, however.

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 12 (Special)—The Huskers stand out as strong contenders for the conference title as a result of their victory over the Sooners here last week. The visitors clearly outplayed the Sooners in the first half, which ended 11 to 5. The second period was marked by occasional spurts of either side. The Sooners opened up with a rush that added eight points while their opponents were held scoreless for several minutes. The Huskers played a strong defense during the last few minutes when an Oklahoma rally threatened.

Goodson, Nebraska center, was the individual star of the game and high point man with eleven points. His towering height was used to a good advantage in snagging Sooner passes and taking the ball on the rebound.

Nebraska Songs and Yells Rehearsed by Schenectady Alumni at a Dinner

Sixteen members of the Nebraska University Alumni Club at Schenectady, N. Y., met at dinner in the Rose Room of the Twentieth Century Restaurant.

After a short business meeting, the club, rehearsed Nebraska songs and yells in preparation for intercollegiate night at the Edison Club, January 31. On this evening approximately fifty groups of college graduates now in the employ of the General Electric Company, will co-operate in rendering the program to be broadcast by station WGY of the General Electric Company and re-broadcast by other stations throughout the country, between 7:30 and 12:00 P. M., eastern standard time.

This program will consist of vocal and instrumental selections, readings, and orchestral selections. Foreign native college songs and yells. Foreign students, also, will sing their native songs to the accompaniment of the Dinner Scheduled For Y. W. C. A.

The staff of the Y. W. C. A. will hold the third dinner and meeting of the year Thursday at 6 o'clock at Ellen Smith Hall. Tickets are fifty cents and may be secured at Miss Appleby's office.

The committee on church relations of which Mary Creckpaum is chairman will serve the dinner. The membership committee will be in charge of the meeting. A discussion of questions taken up at previous meetings will be included. Members of all committees in the association are eligible to attend.

PLAN FOR SKITS FOR UNI NIGHT

Committee Will Consult With Presidents of Campus Organizations.

TIME LIMIT WILL BE ANNOUNCED SHORTLY

Plans for the submitting of skits for University Night, to be presented Saturday night, February 28, at the Orpheum theater and the Temple, were discussed at the first meeting of the University Night Committee.

Presidents of campus organizations will be interviewed in regard to the organization's entrance into the competition for the acts to be put on at the fun-fest. Members of the committee assigned to the various organizations will report at 5 o'clock Monday evening at Ellen Smith Hall. A time will soon be announced before which all skits must be submitted for judging.

A small number of acts of longer duration than in previous years is planned by the committee. It has been felt that more excellent skits may be selected, and will have a higher entertaining value than if several acts with decreasingly interesting features be presented.

ADDITION MADE TO ENGINEER'S LIBRARY

Classes Will Use Forty New Copies of "Factory Floor Surfaces."

The library of the College of Engineering has been increased by the addition of forty copies of a book entitled "Factory Floor Surfaces" for use in engineering classes.

A book showing plans, detailed drawings and pictures of the Poe Lock at St. Mary's Falls Canal, in Michigan, has also been acquired. St. Mary's Falls Canal is a government canal finished about 1900, and costing nearly four million dollars. The canal was named for Colonel O. M. Poe, Corps of Engineers, who had charge of the early work on the lock and whose death occurred before the completion of the work. The book was sent by Col. E. M. Markham, Corps of Engineers, Detroit.

Botany Department Has New Collection

A new feature has been added to the Botany Department equipment in a collection illustrating products of economic botany, under the direction of P. B. Sears, assistant professor. Various local firms have contributed to the exhibition and the results are gathered together in a case in Bessey Hall.

LAW STUDENTS PAY EXPENSES

Eighty-three Per Cent of Enrollment Wholly or Partially Self-supporting.

WORK FROM TWO TO FOUR HOURS DAILY

Statistics compiled in the College of Law show eighty-three per cent of the 166 students in the college either wholly or partially self-supporting. Thirty-three per cent are entirely self-supporting, while fifty per cent receive about one-half their support from their parents.

Nearly forty per cent of those who are wholly self-supporting are paying their expenses to a certain extent with funds accumulated before entrance in school. A small number are relying entirely upon such funds. Approximately half of them rely largely upon money earned during vacation periods and from part-time work during the school year. Thirty per cent depend almost exclusively upon work during this time, a total of one-ninth of the total enrollment in the College of Law. Some twenty per cent are in school on borrowed money.

The remunerative work engaged in by the wholly self-supporting students, entirely distinct from their daily school work, averages about four hours a day, nearly half of them reporting regular work of more than twenty hours per week.

Those who are partially self-supporting, one-half of the members of the college, in general receive about fifty per cent of their support from their parents. In many cases this amounts merely to room and board. Approximately one-fourth of them had in some way saved enough in advance to take care of their expenses. About half of them earn a considerable proportion of their spending money by work engaged in during the school year, so that approximately one-third of their expenses may be accounted for in this way. The remaining fourth are in school upon borrowed money, derived either from individual sources or from funds established for the purpose.

The borrowed money rarely exceeds one-fourth of their total expenses. The members of this division who are engaged in regular part-time remunerative work usually are so occupied two or three hours per day, but a small number working more than four hours per day. "No questions were asked concerning the kinds of work done," stated Dean Warren A. Seavey of the College of Law, in submitting his report to Chancellor Avery. "However, my own information indicates that the work is of all kinds—clerical, law office work, waiting on table, attending to furnaces, and garage work. A few are well paid. The majority work for around thirty or forty cents per hour."

WOLCOTT ATTENDS SCIENCE MEETINGS

Largest Biological Meetings Ever Held Convene in Washington, D. C.

Dr. R. H. Wolcott, head of the department of zoology, represented the University of Nebraska at the meetings of the American Association for Advancement of Science and about 100 affiliated societies held at Washington, D. C., December 29 to January 3. The meetings were the largest biological meetings ever held, with a total attendance of 4200, and were held in all the big halls of the city. The most prominent biologists in the country were present.

Dr. Wolcott met several former Nebraska men who were delegates from other institutions, among them George A. Loveland, former head of the weather bureau. He is now living at Wellesley, Mass., and is head of the Boston Weather Bureau, the most prominent station in New England. B. H. Branson, B. S. C., '99, A. M. 1900, and P. H. D., '08, served on the local committee in charge. He is now in charge of the Bureau of Animal Husbandry at Washington.

Will Speak Thursday On "Law Enforcement"

Wendell Berge, '24, Lincoln, will speak on "Law Enforcement" at a convocation of the College of Agriculture, Thursday morning at the auditorium in Agricultural Hall. The meeting will be in charge of the Ag College branches of the university Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

Special musical entertainment is being arranged by the entertainment committees.

Although the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are both comparatively new on the College of Agriculture campus, great interest is being shown in them. Meeting will be held Wednesday evening at the cafeteria to stimulate interest in the men's organization.

CHOOSE THIRTY FOR GLEE CLUB

Will Compete in Missouri Valley Glee Club Contest at Kansas City.

SINGERS STAGE NEWEST FORM OF COMPETITION

Thirty singers have been chosen as members of the University of Nebraska Men's Glee Club, which will compete in the first annual Missouri Valley Glee Club contest at Convention Hall, Kansas City, Monday evening, February 9.

Eight Missouri Valley colleges are sending glee clubs to sing at the contest: Ames, Drake, Kansas Aggies, University of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Washington and Nebraska.

The glee club contest is the newest form of competition among the valley schools. Each of the clubs will sing a group of three songs. One of these will be the prize song, "Come Again, Sweet Love," by John Davland, which was selected by the International Glee Club Association of New York City. The second song of the group may be chosen by the club itself, and the third is to be a song of the institution which the singers represent. All songs will be sung without instrumental accompaniment and under student direction.

From these eight clubs one club will be chosen to represent the Missouri Valley for the first time at the International Glee Club Contest in New York City, February 21. Clubs from foreign universities will compete with the American institutions at this contest.

The Nebraska Glee Club has chosen "Fenebrae Faece Surt" by Paestrina and "There's No Place Like Nebraska" as the songs which they will sing in addition to the required number.

On the trip and in the contest the club will be under the direction of Dietrich Dirks and the business management of Sutton Morris.

Director Parvin E. Witte has selected the following thirty men to represent Nebraska at the valley contest:

First tenors: H. S. Davis, Wm. Hay, Ole Jacobson, Ivan McCormack, Wallace Nelson, Myers Totman, Jno. Schroyer, Merrill Karrar.

Second tenors: James Marshall, Marshall Neely, D. S. Anderson, Sutton Morris, Paul Woolwine, R. R. MacGregor, Dwight McCormack.

First bass: Raymond Lewis, Ward Wray, Leon Peterson, Arthur Link, Geo. Johnson, Horace Porter, Wesley Sunderland.

Second bass: Grant Changstrom, Aldrich Hanicke, Erwin Jones, Lloyd Robinson, Laurence Marteson, Bernard Combs, Jean Bader.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

The "final touch of personality," has been added to the records of students by the installation of a new system which includes placing the photograph of each student with his personal record in the college files.

Station at Schenectady to Broadcast First Intercollegiate Night on the Air

With more than 300 former students of universities and colleges from all over the United States expected to participate, what is believed to be the first intercollegiate night on the air is to be broadcast from WGY, the General Electric company's broadcasting studio in Schenectady, N. Y. Friday night, January 30, has been tentatively set as the date for this unique program.

Well known college airs will be sung by groups from the various institutions represented, following which each group will give the best of its college cheers. An intercollegiate quartet comprised of the best

Nebraskans in Charge of Forestry Stations

The majority of the forestry stations and forestry experiment stations of the West are in charge of former Nebraska graduates, according to Dr. C. C. Adams, director of the Roosevelt Wild Life Forest Experiment Station at Syracuse, N. Y. Nebraska alumni head the Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, and Utah stations, that involve investigations of a wide range of scientific problems in forestry.

ALUMNI CALL ON DEAN FERGUSON

Graduates of College of Engineering Are Visitors at Office.

Several Nebraska alumni have been recent callers at the office of Dean O. J. Ferguson of the College of Engineering. These include Henry B. Pearce, Civil Engineering, '12, manager of the Hostetter-Pearce Real Estate Company, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Forest H. McKemey have also visited the office. Mr. McKemey graduated in Electrical Engineering in 1920. Henry Sargent, Civil Engineering, '24, has also been a caller. He is now attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston.

TWO WEEKS REMAIN FOR SENIOR PHOTOS

Appointments for Wednesday Are to Be Made at the Hauck Studio Only.

Only two weeks remain for the seniors to have their pictures taken for the 1925 Cornhusker. All the pictures must be ready for the engravers by January 30 and it is imperative that every senior have his picture taken before January 28. Fayne Smithberger, '25, Stanton, editor of the Senior section reports that the seniors are very slow in making their appointments for sittings.

The list for Wednesday is for the Hauck studio only. Those who are to make appointments are:

Wednesday.

THURSDAY DEADLINE FOR RESERVATIONS

Organizations Should Have Pictures Taken for Cornhusker This Month.

Organizations have until Thursday evening at 5 o'clock to reserve space for their pictures in the 1925 Cornhusker according to an announcement made yesterday by the staff. Reservations must be in by that time so that the planning of the various sections of the book may begin.

Organizations that have already made reservations should have pictures taken in the next month at the Campus Studio. The charge for these pictures is four dollars and must be paid to the photographer at the time of the sitting. Appointments should be made directly with the studio, not through the Cornhusker office. Groups not keeping appointments will be fined one dollar.

AXLING WILL SPEAK TWICE

Well-known Missionary Will Address World Forum and Convocation.

JAPANESE PROBLEMS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Dr. William Axling, '98, who has been in Japan for more than twenty years and is considered one of the greatest missionaries in that country by those who are acquainted with his work, will speak at the luncheon of the World Forum at the Grand hotel Wednesday noon and at a convocation in the Temple theater Thursday morning at eleven o'clock.

"Is Japan a Menace?" will be the subject of his discussion before the World Forum and his address at the convocation will be on "Japanese-American Relations."

Dr. Axling has built up in Tokio an institutional church that performs much of the work carried on in the large cities of America by the social settlements. Mothers' education, nutrition and health clinics, night classes for fathers, and physical training activities are carried on by the institution, which is supported by the Baptist church, in addition to the religious functions.

When the Disarmament Conference was held in Washington three years ago Dr. Axling was in this country and greatly assisted the Japanese representatives in successfully settling their differences with some of the other powers. He is well acquainted with some of the leading Japanese statesmen and is said to be well qualified to discuss the matter of American-Japanese relations.

Dr. Axling received his degree from the University of Nebraska in 1898. He was a charter member of the Delta Upsilon chapter here. Later he studied at Rochester Theological Seminary at Rochester, N. Y. In 1902 he began his work in Japan and, with the exception of two or three visits to this country, he has been steadily engaged in it.

Arthur Jorgensen, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., who was formerly connected with the Japanese Y. M. C. A. and lived near Dr. Axling in Tokio, speaks very highly of his work among the Japanese.

UNION SOCIETY HOLDS BANQUET

H. H. Wilson, '78, Toastmaster at Forty-ninth Annual Celebration.

INITIATE THIRTEEN AT FRIDAY MEETING

The forty-ninth annual banquet of the Union Literary Society was held at the Lincoln Hotel Saturday evening. Covers were laid at tables arranged in a U-shape and decorated in a purple and gold color scheme. Following the dinner H. H. Wilson, '78, toastmaster, called for the following toasts: "Seeing Ahead," by George Bowers, '25, Filley; "Links That Bind," by H. S. Kinney, '13; "Appreciation," by Miss Anne Gerdes, '25, Lincoln; "Types," by Thomas Weir, '24, Omaha; and "Essence of Fellowship," by Miss Esther Barney, '25, Friend.

Several musical selections concluded the program. Miss Lucy Weir, '25, Omaha, played a piano solo, and also accompanied Paul Colitzer, '25, Mitchell, for a cornet solo. A selection by a quartet composed of the Misses Fern Hayden, '26, Meadow Grove, Mildred Skoda, '27, David City, Marion Lehmer, '26, Omaha, and Opal Bowers, '28, Filley, and a pianologue by Miss Grace Staton, '22, University Place, concluded the program. Out-of-town alumni who came back for the banquet were, Miss Emma Kosch of David City, Mr. Henry Wing of University Place, Mr. Browne of Valentine and Mr. Frank Starr of Genoa.

The following members were initiated Friday in Union Hall: Opal Bowers, '28, Filley. Orin Bratt, '28, Arapahoe. Colean Buck, '28, Coming, Missouri. Anne Gerdes, '27, Lincoln. Lucille John, '26, Elmwood. Vivian John, '26, Elmwood. Theodore Jorgenson, '27, Syracuse. Clyde McGraw, '27, Elwood. Marvin Mills, '27, Lincoln. Fay Starr, '26, Overton. Selma Vahl, '26, Seward. John Yordy, '28, Lincoln. Mollie Ziman, '28, Lincoln.

The findings of 22 senior theses are combined in a recent book on "History of Industrial Education" written at the University of Wisconsin.
