Chancellor Urges Vaccination to Prevent Epidemic; No New Cases Reported.

FOLLOWS APPEARANCE OF ONE STUDENT CASE

Four hundred students and faculty were vaccinated yesterday following an announcement that a student in the pharmacy department has contracted smallpox. The only case of the disease reported is of the ordinary type and not of the virulent type that recently caused the death of a number of students in the University of Minnesota.

All the students in the pharmacy department who might have been exposed to the disease have been vaccinated according to Dr. Lyman. Precautions have been taken to disinfect the seats in the one room in the chemistry department that the stricken student may have occupied.

"Unless the disease spreads," said Chancellor Avery yesterday, "no drastic measures will be taken; but all students, faculty and employees of the university are urged to make arrangements for vaccination. If an epidemic threatens we will be compelled to require vaccination certificates before all classes. Arrangements for daily health examinations will be made for those who refuse to be vaccinated, should the occasions demand it. We have gone through three sessions of smallpox in past years and are taking every precaution to prevent another."

Vaccination by private physicians is recommended as they can care and guard against the only real danger, namely, that of secondary infection. However, the University clinic in the Pharmacy building or the City Health office located above the Fire Department building will vaccinate those who apply, free of charge, with all antiseptic precautions.

Certificates of vaccination should be carefully preserved as they may become a requisite for entrance to classes should the disease spread and such a course become a necessity. Students who have been exposed and already contracted the disease, if vaccinated at once, will suffer only a mild attack. Also all risk of contracting the disease or annoyance incident to securing of a daily certificate may be avoided by securing a vaccination immediately.

NIGHT CLASSES DRAW HEAVY REGISTRATION

Extension Division Courses Attract Many; Figures Still Incomplete.

Night classes offered by the Extension division of the University, which started last week, have attracted an unusually heavy registration, although no definite report of the number can yet be given. Usually all the students are not regularly enrolled for some time.

A new course in public speaking attracted a registration of sixty-five. About forty enrolled for a course in the short story given by Rowse B. Wilcox of the English department. Prof. E. B. Cochran's class in recent American history was well attended. Registration for the second semester courses in French and Spanish was light owing to a misunderstanding. These courses are continuations of similar courses offered last semester. A course in Nebraska government and politics, offered by Prof. L. B. Aylsworth, which was not listed with the regular night classes, was well attended. This course is not regularly under the Extension division, but is offered from 7 to 9 Tuesday evening and may be taken by extension students. The courses offered by the College of Business Administration have also been well attended.

TO HOLD AG COLLEGE MIXER

Students Plan Benefit for Block and Bridge Club on Friday.

An Ag College mixer will be held Friday night at the gymnasium on the College of Agriculture campus. This mixer will be held for the benefit of the Block and Bridge Club, an organization of men majoring in the animal husbandry department. The floor of the gymnasium has been improved and is said to be in the best of condition. James M. Barnes, chairman of the mixer committee, promises good music and special entertainment.

BROWN UNIVERSITY—By a vote of 460 to 290, students decided against compulsory chapel. By this action a custom established in 1754 has been abolished.

PLANS ALTERED BY CENTURIONS

Affair Planned by Arts and Science College Society Is Postponed.

DEFINITE DATE WILL BE ANNOUNCED LATER

The Centurion smoker scheduled for Thursday evening, February 19, at the University Club, has been indefinitely postponed, according to announcement made by members of the committee in charge of the affair. The action was taken in compliance with advice from Executive Dean Carl C. Engberg.

"I feel that in view of the fact that the Centurion smoker was scheduled for a week night and would interfere with the studies of those attending, it is best to postpone the event until a later date," said Dean Engberg. The Centurions in complying with Dean Engberg's request have decided to hold the smoker at a later date on a week-end night in order to present the full program, with possibly some added features. It was originally decided to make the smoker last only until 8 o'clock. This would hurry the program to be completed by that hour.

All those having already purchased tickets may turn them in Thursday afternoon at the Nebraska office to Charles Warren between 1 and 2 o'clock.

MAY TRY OUT FOR COMEDY

Kosmet Klub Will Judge Skits February 23, 24, and 25 in Dramatic Hall.

STUDENTS MUST SIGN UP BEFORE SATURDAY

Tryouts for the 1925 Kosmet Klub production, "Tut-Tut," will be held in Dramatic Hall of the Temple next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. Students wishing to try for the show should sign at the Student Activities office before Saturday.

The cast for the play demands nearly fifty. Of this number sixteen are principal parts. Two choruses, one of sixteen men and women and a pony chorus of ten girls will be included. All players must be able to sing and dance.

Members of Kosmet Klub will be judges of the tryouts. The rules for the trials will be the same as used last year.

1. Students of the three upper classes are eligible to tryout for the principal parts and the chorus.
2. Applicants will be given five minutes for a tryout and can take any time in one of the three evenings by signing up on the list in the Student Activities office before Saturday.

3. More than one person can try out at one time. They may appear in groups if desired and if so more time will be given by judges for the skits.

4. Applicants may try out by presenting a song, dance or acting skit.

Some of the principal parts in the play are: Lucifer, black-faced comedian; Professor Wherishe, eccentric comedy part; Mrs. Wherishe and Prunella Wherishe the daughter; two juvenile leads, Mary Ann and Lieutenant Ogden of the U. S. Navy; Judge De Cision, eccentric comedian; Ahav and Mahav, Arabian business men; Enarb, an Arabian sheik, and his lady friend, Esneba; Tut-ank-hamen himself.

Rehearsals for the show will begin on after the selection of the cast. The comedy will be presented at the Orpheum in Lincoln April 24, and in Omaha at the Brandeis, April 25.

OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY—Representatives from 18 sororities met and chose men as captains to represent them in the sorority relay race, an annual feature of the Intramural Festival. The captains will choose three more to complete their teams.

Luedke Takes Position With Manufacturers

George L. Luedke '25, Spencer, has been appointed assistant commissioner of the Nebraska Manufacturers' Association. He assumed his duties February 1 and will work part time until his graduation next June from the College of Business Administration.

K. U. QUINTET IS VICTORIOUS

Wins From Cornhuskers in Hard-fought Battle at Lawrence, 28 to 20.

JAYHAWKERS MAINTAIN LEAD DURING CONTEST

The Husker quintet went down to defeat before the Jayhawkers at the game at Lawrence last evening by a score of 28 to 20. The Kansans played the Nebraskans off their feet during the first part of the game and the Huskers could only make momentary rallies. The victory will probably give Kansas the championship.

The Jayhawkers got an early five-point lead and increased it to six before the first Husker scored. Klesser tossed in a neat field goal soon after the Kansas score, making the tally 6 to 2 in favor of Kansas after six minutes of play.

The Kansas quintet scored four more points almost immediately but a field goal by Tipton and a free throw netted the Cornhuskers three points, leaving the total little changed. On a double foul, Eckstrom of Nebraska and Ackerman of Kansas each gained a point and Captain Volz added two more points to the Husker score soon afterward. The score was then 11 to 8—as near as the Huskers were able to come to the Jayhawker total.

Three goals in quick succession for Kansas raised the total to 17. Nebraska then took time out and Smaha was substituted for Usher. The Jayhawks tallied two more points before the half, making the score 19 to 8 at the end of the period.

The game was not as fast in the second half. The Kansans maintained their lead, adding nine more points to their total. The Huskers outscored their opponents in this frame, tallying twelve points altogether. The ability of Goodson, Husker center, to hit the basket was responsible for the Nebraskans rally to a great extent.

WILL DISTRIBUTE BUSINESS STUDIES

Committee of Business Research on Nebraska Conditions.

Copies of the "Nebraska Business Studies," prepared under the direction of the Committee on Business Research, of the College of Business Administration, will be mailed free to residents of the state, according to a recent announcement of the committee. Investigations of various phases of business conditions have been published by the University for the past three years. Until recently a charge was made for these publications. Non-residents may now receive them for a nominal sum.

Ten bulletins have appeared to date:

FEW BALLOTS CAST TUESDAY

Less Than 10 Per Cent of Student Body Indicates Preference at Polls.

ELECT JOHN E. KLEVEN PRESIDENT OF SENIORS

Less than 5000 students or less than 10 per cent of the entire student body, voted yesterday in the general election yesterday in which John E. Kleven was elected senior president, Orr Goodson, junior president, John Boyer, sophomore president, Newell F. Joyner, freshman president, William Norton, Ivy Day orator, and Dorothy Peterson and Marjorie Bell members of the student council.

There was no marked contest for any of the offices, and the nearest approach to a race was in the senior and sophomore class president balloting where Kleven and Hyde had 55 and 30 votes respectively, and John Boyer and Paul Larsen 44 and 24 respectively.

The student council acted in the capacity of an election commission, having supervision over the polls and the counting of the ballots.

The results were:

Senior class president:

ERICKSEN TO BE FORUM SPEAKER

Erickson To Talk on Necessity of Preparedness in War and Peace Series.

Major Sidney Erickson, head of the University Reserve Officers Training Corps, will give the second address of a series on the general subject of "Varying Views of Militarism" at the World Forum luncheon this noon at the Grand Hotel.

"I will endeavor to speak not as an army officer but as a citizen," Major Erickson said yesterday.

Major Erickson will speak on the particular subject, "Necessity of Preparedness" and will review our early troubles especially in the Revolutionary war and the War of 1812. He will stress the lack of leadership and the utter worthlessness of untrained troops combatting trained troops.

He will also show the authority for maintaining a defensive force, and will try to point out the futility of endeavoring to promote world peace by complete disarmament.

The address should prove of especial interest to those who heard the first lecture of the series, as it will present the other side of the question while viewing it from a practical, rather than an idealistic point of view.

The third lecture on the subject will be given next Wednesday by the Rev. E. T. Inglis, pastor of the Vine Congregational church. The first talk was given by Dr. A. Bruce Curry who spoke on "The New Loyalist," and in the main presented an anti-militarism opinion.

Definitely Cancel University Party

The all-University Party which was announced for Saturday night, February 21, has been cancelled. The next all-University Party will be held on March 28.

OKLAHOMA A. AND M. COLLEGE—Five per cent will be added to the physical education grade of any girl who will wear corrective school shoes the spring quarter.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON—The substitutes of the football squad have organized a club. Membership is limited only to those members who warmed the bench the entire season.

UNIVERSITY OF OHIO—The University has a Chinese Glee Club under the direction of Cheng Me Sun, a graduate student of Shantung.

Latimer Contributes To Research Journal

The latest number of the Journal of Agricultural Research, No. 8, Vol. 29, contains another of the series of articles on the anatomy and growth of the chicken, which are being prepared by Dr. H. B. Latimer, professor of anatomy of the University.

Many Available For Graduation Addresses

A list of thirty-five members of the faculty who will be available for commencement addresses was sent out last week by the Nebraska Extension division. Calls have already been coming in for commencement speakers and this bulletin saves much time in their selection.

LEWIS BREAKS TRACK RECORD

Miler Wins Close Race From Zimmerman and Lawson in Fast Time.

WILL HOLD FURTHER TRY OUTS TOMORROW

Another track record fell Tuesday afternoon when James Lewis won the mile run in 4 minutes 36.2 seconds. The 50-yard dash and the mile run were the only two events on the Tuesday schedule for the Varsity. Thursday several other events will be run, including the 880-yard run.

The mile run gave the observers a good thrill when Lewis sprinted from third place to pass Zimmerman and Lawson and win. The time was exceptionally fast for so early in the season. Zimmerman was only three-fifths of a second behind Lewis, with a time of 4 minutes 36.8 seconds. Lawson took third place with a time of 4:38. Four men came in under the old record. Lewis is now holder of two Varsity indoor track records.

Captain Crites came up from the longer sprints to show his heels to several of the 50-yard dash men. Locke was the only man able to pass Crites yesterday. In the first heat, Crites beat Dailey in 5.7 seconds. Locke won the second heat in 5.6 seconds, with Crites second and Dailey third. Wyatt defeated Hultzer in a special 50-yard dash with 5.8 seconds for the time.

Coach Schulte will run some other events for the tryouts Thursday, the most important being the half-mile event. From the showing made by the milers he may enter a 4-mile relay team at the Illinois relays. At present he is expecting to take only eight men.

NEBRASKA RIFLERS BEAT OKLAHOMA

Reports From Oregon and Syracuse Matches Are Expected Today or Tomorrow.

The first report of intercollegiate match firing last week was received yesterday from Oklahoma A. and M. and resulted in a decisive victory for the Nebraska shooters, who had a total score 154 points higher than the Oklahomans. The Oklahoma score was 3,414, Nebraska score, 3,568.

The reports from the other two schools, Oregon and Syracuse, will probably arrive today or tomorrow. Some good scores are being turned in again this week by Captain Egger's riflemen. E. L. Kossek is the latest to enter the 99 class in the prone position. He made this mark yesterday.

The scores made so far in the prone position are not as good as last week and the week before for some reason or other. However the marks in the more difficult positions are somewhat higher and this may bring the total score to a figure higher than last week, when some of the men fell low in the standing and kneeling positions.

"The Whole Examination System is Wrong," Says Zona Gale, Author

"The whole examination system is wrong. It depends too much on luck and a certain kind of cleverness. It is just another addition to the useless drudgery which holds education back," was the opinion of Zona Gale, author of "Faint Perfume." "Miss Lulu Betts" and other novels, as expressed to a reporter of the "Harvard Crimson," during the recent examination week at Harvard.

"Complete freedom," said Miss Gale, "is the goal of education as it is of everything else. Every branch of human activity is undergoing an extension of freedom today. Reli-

President of Guild Here for Meeting

NEBRASKA WRITERS' GUILD

The acting president of the Nebraska Writers' Guild, which is to have its organization meeting and three literary programs Wednesday and Thursday, February 19 and 20, as part of the new Journalism Week, is Keene Abbott, Omaha newspaperman for twenty-two years, dramatic critic of the Omaha World-Herald for nearly that long, and novelist and short-story writer.

Nebraska Newspapermen Speak at Opening Sessions of Journalism Week.

Addresses by six Nebraska editors to students in the School of Journalism and early arriving members of the Nebraska Press Association opened the University of Nebraska's first Journalism Week, which ends Saturday. The last of the series of seven addresses will be given by M. A. Brown, editor of the Kearney Daily Hub, at 9 o'clock this morning in Social Science 107. The speakers were introduced by Prof. M. M. Fogg, director of the School of Journalism.

"That few vocations promise better financial reward or more pleasure than the ownership and editorship of a well-located county newspaper, weekly or daily" was the "deliberate judgment" after more than thirty years of experience in that field, of Frank O. Edgcombe, editor and publisher of the Nebraska Signal, Geneva, in speaking on "The County Newspaper Editorial Page."

"Your presence here," he stated, "indicates your appreciation of the fact that those who engage in journalism need professional training such as that demanded of the physician and the lawyer." He believes that college training has bred in the student "an impatience of dullness and diffuse thinking, a precise sense of word values, a scorn of priggishness and superficiality, power to proceed straight to the core of a subject and utter measured thoughts with vigor and beauty."

No Hope in Small Office.

In the course of an hour's roundtable discussion on his paper Mr. Edgcombe said: "I want to call the attention of you students to the wonderful opportunity for training that you have here. I hope your instruction will make clear that there is no hope in the one-man or two-man country printing office. That is drudgery. We still have too many of them. It is wrong for a little community of two or three hundred people to insist on having a newspaper. I beg of you not to go into that field."

Gish Calls for Students to Help With Games in High School Meet.

BASKETBALL FINALS TO BE PLAYED HERE

Students who desire work during the high school basketball tournament, March 12, 13 and 14, as scorers, timers, clerks or referees, should report to H. D. Gish, general manager of the tournament, in the Armory not later than Friday.

The finals of the Nebraska high school basketball tournament will be held in Lincoln, March 12, 13 and 14, according to an announcement made by manager Gish of the athletic department. The winners and the runners-up in each of the classes in the sixteen districts will enter the tournament here. This will cut the entry list down to approximately ninety-six teams. When the complete tournament was held in Lincoln last year there were 250 teams and over two thousand athletes participating.

There will be an average of three classes in each district. Some will have as high as four, while others may have only one or two classes. The teams must go to the final tournament in their districts in order to be eligible to enter the state meet at Lincoln. This plan has been adopted in order to cut down the expenses to the high schools.

The district tournaments will be held March 5, 6, and 7, or if only two days are needed, they will be held only on Friday and Saturday of that week. The week following, these winners will meet at Lincoln. The upper class games will be held at the Coliseum, and the others at the Armory, Whittier high school, and Y. M. C. A. courts.

"The Whole Examination System is Wrong," Says Zona Gale, Author

A panorama of quick changes which have increased the financial independence of the country publisher was delineated by Mr. O'Furey, who proceeded to analyze the sources of a successful newspaper's strength. Among these elements he enumerated freedom of thought, ideals, personality, substantial circulation, and efficient management.
