

HUSKERS PLAY AMES TONIGHT

Nebraska's Chance for Championship Ruined by Washington Defeat.

WILL MEET IOWA ON ARMORY FLOOR

Nebraska's cagers, back from a trip of two defeats and one victory, will match baskets with Ames tonight on the Armory floor, beginning at 7:30.

The Cornhuskers should have little trouble in defeating Iowa State. The Cyclones have won only one game this season, having lost to almost every team in the conference.

Nebraska's chances for a championship went into the discard last week when they dropped a hard game to Washington. The only hope remaining is in the event of a slump on both Kansas and Washington, which is unlikely. If Washington defeats Kansas, and Nebraska wins from Washington the Cornhuskers will still be in second place.

The basketball card for Nebraska this week includes a game with Missouri, on the home court, and one with Creighton, non-conference, at Omaha on Saturday. The Missouri game is Friday.

COACH BEARG ISSUES CALL

Equipment for Varsity Squad to Be Given Out Wednesday Afternoon.

EXPECTS VETERANS AND FRESHMEN WEDNESDAY

First call for spring football practice was issued yesterday by Nebraska's new coach, Ernest F. Bearg, who arrived in Lincoln Sunday evening from Illinois.

Veterans, freshmen, and plain football aspirants are included in the call, Mr. Bearg stated, and all the men who expect to go out for football are wanted. It is estimated that seventy-five men will turn out for the first workout on Wednesday.

Equipment for the Varsity squad will be issued tomorrow afternoon at the Stadium and locker rooms will be provided on the north side of the Stadium, leaving the south side for the track squad.

The practices will be held on the regular scrimmage field on the ground to make it ready for scrimmage and practice, Mr. Bearg said.

The new coach got on the job early. As soon as he could finish up matters at the University of Illinois, where he was assistant coach, he hurried to Lincoln. He had hardly been in Lincoln a day when he made arrangements to start practice.

Valley Sports

The entrance of Oklahoma A. & M. into the Missouri Valley conference carries with it a threat in the wrestling game. The Oklahoma Aggies have held the championship of the Southwestern conference for nine straight years. Lookabaugh, a middleweight, landed a berth on the American Olympic team last summer but lost in the finals to the Switzerland man.

Carl J. Petersen, '23, has been appointed football and basketball coach at Augustana College, Augustana, Illinois, to succeed Wallace Swanson beginning next year. Petersen was a center on the Husker eleven and coached at Nebraska Wesleyan for a time.

Petersen was placed on Walter Camp's 1923 second All-American team and on Brown's first "All" team. Last year he played with the Kansas City professional team, holding down the pivot position.

The new Augustana coach will assist Coach Henry F. Schulte in training the tracksters this spring.

Rapid scheduling of athletic contests followed quickly on the heels of the patch-up of athletic relations between the University of Southern California and Stanford and California. The southern school reached an agreement with the two others and mended the relations which were broken last fall.

A plan to send the 1925 Varsity baseball team on an eastern trip immediately after school is out were formulated recently at the University of California. The Bears would meet the pick of middle-western and eastern teams on a schedule including thirty games.

Catalogue Fungi Books at Library

At least 300 books on fungi are being catalogued at the Library. They will be moved to the botanical library at Bessey Hall as soon as cataloguing is finished. The volumes are illustrated with detailed plates.

"Mr. Big Munn" is Topic of Sport Editor in Honolulu Star-Bulletin

While the critics of the wrestling game are arguing pro and con in regard to the ability of the new wrestling champion, T. L. Morgan ex-'18 sends to The Daily Nebraskan an interesting side light on the subject as seen by Joe Williams in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin. It follows:

MR. BIG MUNN

For the first time in the flop-eared, non-skid history of wrestling the game has a Big Munn instead of a Big Bum as its champion.

BIG MUNN is a large, muscular product of the wide-open collegiate spaces of Nebraska where men are men, and oddly enough so are the wrestlers.

The new ace in the Flop-'em-and-Hop-'em deck is a highbrow who has the low down on the gentle science of Bone-crushing.

The Man Mountain is the only guy known to the Academy of Higher Arts who ever threw a champion out of the ring, his senses, his title, and a European tour all with one delicate gesture of the micrometer.

When Mr. Lewis regained consciousness he wanted to know if the women and children had been saved and if the interne would kindly lift the locomotive off his left ear, please.

The catch-as-catch-can Colossus used to play football. He picked the Strangler up and ran the length of the field twice for touchdowns. On another occasion he threw him for a 40-yard pass which was grounded. If there had been a fourth quarter he'd probably drop-kicked him from the 65-yard line.

The Grappling Gibraltar was a six-pointed star with the Nebraska eleven, but Walter Camp ignored him. Walter had more brains than the Strangler.

The collegiate influence of the intellectual jumbo is expected to bring about vital and gaudy changes in the mat game. We will stand state universities work?

RIFLERS START ON FOURTH WEEK FIRE

Varsity Team Has Five More Matches Booked This Week.

The Nebraska rifle team started yesterday on its fourth week of intercollegiate match firing. The matches this week are with the University of Nevada, Kansas Agricultural College, University of West Virginia, Knox College, and Culver Military Academy.

Dale Skinner and R. M. Currier made the highest scores yesterday in the prone position. Both of them shot targets totalling 99 points, Skinner dropping one point from his 100 mark of last week.

D. P. Roberts, high man on the team last week has completed firing in three positions. If his standing score is as good as last week he will exceed his previous high mark three points, for a new season record. E. L. Plotts who made the third perfect score in the prone position last week fell down to 97.

Capt. Albert B. Foster, professor of military science in the University R. O. T. C., will assist Captain Eggers in coaching the team in the future. He will give individual instruction to members of the team and to others that desire the additional training. The hours when he will be in the gallery are posted on the military bulletin board.

WRESTLERS MEET MINNESOTA SOON

Tryouts for Saturday Meet to Be Held Either Today or Tomorrow.

The Nebraska wrestling team will meet the University of Minnesota at Lincoln Saturday evening in the second home meet of the season. Tryouts for berths on the team will be held either today or tomorrow at regular workouts.

The meet will be only two weeks before the Missouri Valley championships at Lincoln, March 13 and 14, and Dr. R. G. Clapp will get a chance to look over his team in good shape for the first time this season.

The Cornhuskers lost to Iowa Friday night at Iowa City, winning one match out of seven. Captain Skinner was the only man to win. The last dual meet of the season will be held at Lincoln a week from Saturday, with the Northwestern University wrestlers.

OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY—An intramural athletic carnival is to be held at Ohio State University early next month. Last year 2451 individuals participated in the meet which is recognized as the largest event of its kind in the country.

VETERANS BACK FOR BALL TEAM

Coach Kline Optimistic About the Prospects for 1925 Squad.

SEVERAL CANDIDATES PRACTICING ALREADY

"A good team this year" is Coach W. G. Kline's laconic forecast for the baseball season which will start in earnest about March 10, after the basketball season is over, and when the weather permits. Nine letter men, among them two pitchers, and two catchers will greet Coach Kline at the first official call for practice. In addition there is a wealth of good material from the freshman squad.

Several members of the squad have all ready been limbering up in preparation for the season's competition for places on the team. Among those who are getting a head start are Beryl Lang, pitcher, and Ewell Lang, catcher, Edwards pitcher and Eddie Gibbs, infielder.

Four baseball men are now on the varsity basketball squad. They are Andresen and Smaha, last year freshmen, and Eckstrom, outfielder, and Volz, first baseman, veterans of last year.

Choppy Rhodes, one of Nebraska's best men on the mound, will divide his time between baseball and track as he did last year.

Patton, outfielder, Collins, outfielder, Hubka, catcher, and Captain Janda, second base, are the other letter men who will be on the team.

Tommy Thomsen and Gene Holmes are two promising additions to the squad from the freshman team. Joe Reeves, a track letterman, will try out for a berth on the team. Ward Kelley is senior student manager. Junior managers have not yet been appointed.

The team will practice at Rock Island park as last year.

The schedule, which has not yet been entirely completed, now includes eighteen games. Eight of them are at home and ten on the road. Nothing has been arranged, so far, for a practice series during spring vacation.

Episcopal Students Have Costume Party

Sixty Episcopal students were entertained at a costume party in the main dining room of the Grand hotel Friday evening. Hard time costumes and styles of an older generation were prevalent.

Music for dancing was furnished by a three-piece orchestra. Refreshments were served. Patrons for the party included Rev. and Mrs. L. W. McMillin, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Laberty, Mrs. H. J. Wimble, and Mrs. Agnes Versaw.
