Delta Tau Delta Maintains Lead in Interfraternity Relay Competitions.

FINAL TABULATION TO BE MADE TODAY

Delta Tau Delta maintained its lead in interfraternity relay competition yesterday by winning the medley relay event, consisting of one, two, three, and four laps by the respective runners.

Alpha Tau Omega, by taking third place in yesterday's event, remained in second place in the race for the skin trophy, but the Deltas appear to have a lead which cannot be overcome.

The fraternities which have not run off all the events will do so this afternoon on the Stadium track. Final tabulations of scores will be made this afternoon.

Yesterday's results were: Delta Tau Delta, first, one point—Ballah, Davenport, Johnson, Shafer. Pi Kappa Alpha, second, two points—Moore, Kelly, Lee, Lefler. Alpha Tau Omega, third, three points—Mandery, Hulsker, Stephens, Conklin. Sigma Phi Epsilon, fourth, four points—Sherrick, Oehlrich, Rogers, Rumsey.

SCORE FOR CORPS AREA MATCH GOOD

Nebraska Rifle Team Makes 119 Points More Than Team Made Last Year.

The University of Nebraska rifle team completed firing last week in the corps area match, making a total score of 7,402 in the four stages—119 points more than was made last year. R. O. T. C. team members, only, were eligible. Dale Skinner, letter man, made the highest score in the prone-sitting stage, in which he shot targets totalling 198. His score of 187 was also the best in the prone-kneeling stage.

D. L. Lefler, freshman recruit on the team from Holdrege, was the next high-point man. He led in the prone-prone shooting with a mark of 197. G. Dunkle was high man in the prone-standing stage, where he shot two targets for a total of 184. R. M. Currier was second high man in the combined totals.

There were three perfect scores in the prone positions by Mark Fair, Dale Skinner, and E. L. Plotts. Fifteen men were entered for the match. The ten high scores in each stage will be counted.

The firing was all done on registered targets furnished by the seventh corps headquarters at Omaha. The targets from all the schools in the area will be assembled at Omaha, and the winner determined by the corps director of marksmanship.

RADIO TO TAKE PLACE OF FORUM

Students May Listen in on Inaugural Address Wednesday at Ellen Smith Hall.

Radio reception of the Inauguration ceremonies March 4 will be held at Ellen Smith Hall from 11 o'clock until their close taking the place of the World Forum luncheon Wednesday.

There will be no charge for admission. All persons desiring to listen in on the service will be welcome. Those whose classes interfere with the early part of the program will be allowed to come after their classes are over.

Chancellor Avery has arranged to have his radio set and loud speaker installed in Ellen Smith Hall. Seats will be placed which may accommodate more than two hundred persons. No luncheon will be served, but members of the World Forum committee believe it will be possible for many regular luncheon attendants to eat and then hear the program.

WILL PLAY "THE MASQUERADERS"

University Players' Next Production to Be Given March 12, 13, and 14.

"The Masqueraders," stage and screen success by Guy Bates Post, will be the next production of the University Players in the Temple theater, March 12, 13, and 14.

Leading parts will be played by Hart Jenks, Edna Leming, Darrell Starnes, Harold Sumption, Dwight Merriam, and Mary Yarbrough. The play, which ran for a long time in New York and on the road, centers about a dual role played by Hart Jenks. One character is that of a speaker in parliament, a dope fiend. The other person is a poor scholar with ideals and ambitions. The physical appearance of the two men is almost identical. The attempt of the obscure citizen to take advantage of the resemblance and to speak in the drug addict's place gives rise to dramatic complications.

Tickets will soon be placed on sale at the Ross P. Curtice music store. The price for the evening performances is seventy-five cents; Saturday matinee tickets cost fifty cents.

University Orchestra Will Give Concert

The University orchestra, under the direction of Prof. W. T. Quick, will give a concert in the auditorium of Lincoln High School Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The concert will be similar to the one produced a few weeks ago.

Statistics Compiled at Stanford About Self-Supporting Students

That there are many features of university life which only the self-supporting student finds, is the conclusion of "Concerning Stanford," a monthly informational magazine published at Stanford University.

The applicant for admission to Stanford University is asked no questions concerning his finances, because it is believed by the authorities that no properly prepared student who is in good health and who has no dependants need hesitate to undertake a university course because of a lack of means. It is not until he has met the requirements and has arrived on the campus for registration that these questions are asked him.

"Do you expect to earn any of your college expenses? Do you expect to earn all of your college expenses? If not all, what percentage do you expect to earn? Do you want assistance in finding part-time work?" According to this bulletin, during the past quarter, 49.2 per cent, or 1453 students were either partially or entirely self-supporting. The majority of these students earned about half of their expenses. It was added

ONE MORE CASE MAY DEVELOP

Student Confined with Symptoms Which May Turn Into Fifth Smallpox Case.

VACCINATING STILL GOING ON RAPIDLY

No additional cases of smallpox in the University community had been discovered up to a late hour Monday, according to announcement made by Dr. R. A. Lyman, Dean of the College of Pharmacy.

One student, known to have been exposed, was confined Monday with symptoms thought very likely to develop into smallpox itself. In case this additional case should develop, University authorities will be under suspense as to the spread of the disease for at least ten and probably fourteen days more.

The first students to contract the disease have been discharged from the isolation hospital. James Hakerton, '27, Pharmacy, Coleridge, was released Sunday evening, and Walter Hoppe, '28, Dental, Holdrege, Monday morning.

Lloyd Fochtman, '27, Pharmacy, Callaway, and Reginald Eichelberger, '26, Pharmacy, Idaho Falls, Idaho, are still confined in segregation.

"No action forcing students to submit to vaccination will be taken as long as they continue to be vaccinated as freely as they have been," declared Dean Lyman Monday. "It is imperative that as many vaccinations as possible be made, to prevent the rapid spread of the disease if other students should succumb."

Free vaccination with full precautions may be obtained by University students at the University Clinic in Pharmacy Hall, or by anyone at the City Health office, on the second floor of the police headquarters building. Attention by private physicians is urged, as they can more adequately guard against secondary infection.

THREE RELIGIOUS WORKERS TO VISIT

Dr. Paul of China, Miss Thorp of India and Professor McRae Coming Soon.

Dr. Alexander Paul of China, Miss Minta Thorp of India, and Prof. Glen McRae, superintendent of religious education for the north central district of the United States for the Disciples of Christ, will make up the visiting team in a life service campaign to be conducted from March 12 to 15 among University students of the Christian church.

The campaign will open with a banquet at the First Christian church, Thursday, March 12, at 6 o'clock. Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the office of the University pastor, J. W. Hilton, in the Temple.

Dr. Paul, a prominent linguist and a leading educational missionary in China, is said to be very interesting and has a wide knowledge of students.

The article says, "Because of their high ideals, earnestness of purpose and the splendid example they set for their fellows, self-supporting students get more out of University life. The fact that they are self-supporting is, at Stanford, no handicap, unless one feels that it is a handicap to be forced to weigh the value of recreation and to decide whether outside work, study, or play is the most important thing to be done at the moment."

Students in new part-time positions earned last year $31,979.33. This does not take into account those who held positions from the previous year. Most of the self-supporting students obtained their employment through the appointment office, according to the article. The list of positions that have been provided for students this year includes places as milk men, advertising men, waiters, stenographers, seamstresses, teachers, translators and playground instructors.

Stop Publication of Freshman Lectures

In response to a request from the Freshman Lecture Committee of the Arts and Science College, the tradition of publishing a summary of the lectures will be discontinued in the future. It is thought that students in the course have been writing their papers from the articles in the Daily Nebraskan rather than from notes taken in the lecture room.

BEARG PUTS MEN TO WORK

Sends Squad Through Scrimmage Despite Cold Weather Monday Afternoon.

TWENTY-EIGHT REPORT FOR SPRING PRACTICE

Coach Bearg sent his squad through about an hour of scrimmage practice Monday evening in spite of the cold. Twenty-eight men were present at the practice. According to the check, equipment has been issued to sixty-one men so far. Assistant coaches Owen Frank, Bill Day, and Leo Scherer were on the job assisting the new coach in lining up the men.

On the offensive Sprague and Franklin were working at the half-back positions, while Armour took the position of full-back and Shostak called signals. Peaker was also given a chance in the backfield.

In the line, Gillan was playing the pivot position with Fisher and Steiner at the guard positions. Raisch and Dunbar were playing at the tackle positions. The wing positions were filled by Dover and Lawson.

The rest of the men were given a chance at defensive work throughout the practice. Coach Bearg hopes to have all of the equipment issued to men this spring and give every man who comes out a chance to show his ability, and give each individual a chance to learn football.

His other big job will be the instruction of the system of football he teaches, to every man out, in order that they will be in a position to start fall practice with a working knowledge. This makes it necessary that every man who intends to go out for football next fall be given some spring training, according to the Husker coach.

AWGWAN TO BE READY FRIDAY

Staff Gives up Idea of Title for Each Number—This Issue to Be General.

COVER DESIGN DEPICTS WINTER FORMAL SEASON

The next issue of The Awgwan, University of Nebraska comic publication, will be on sale Friday, if present plans are completed. The staff has departed from the idea of giving a title to each number, and the jokes and comments that are to appear in this issue will be of a general nature.

The cover design, by Leonard Thiessen, is a black and white drawing depicting the winter formal season. Besides the art work by the staff, the number will contain its regular features and departments along with several new ones.

Contributors to this issue, besides the regular staff, are: Irene Schrimpt, '27, Francis Moynahan, '25, Barbara Bell, '26, Weldon Melick, '26, and Claire Montesrey. Art work was done by Peter Coniglio, '27, M. L. Henderson, '26, George Herron, '25, Harold Wertz, '26, Marcelyn Lichty, '25 and Leonard Thiessen.

Work on the April issue which will be published under the direction of Charles V. Warren, '26, Cheyenne, will start at once, and contributors are asked to get their jokes and articles in at the office in the basement of University Hall by the first of next week. The editorial department will start the selection of copy at that time. Contributors are asked to watch the announcement column in the Nebraskan for a notice concerning the next meeting of the staff.

BARKER SPEAKS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

"Biology in its Relation to Religious Belief" Is Subject of Address.

"I find nothing in biology which is contradictory to the fundamental Christian beliefs," said Dr. F. D. Barker, Professor of zoology and parasitology at the University of Nebraska in his lecture on "Biology in its Relation to Religious Belief," delivered at the First Baptist Church last Sunday evening. This was the first of a series of four lectures on "The Contribution of the Natural Sciences to the Christian Faith."

Dr. Barker proceeded by raising three questions. First, "Can a biologist accept the bible?" to which he replied that he could not accept it as a textbook in science but that he could accept it as a guide to right living.

The second question was: "Does the biologist find evidence of God?" In answer to this question Dr. Barker said, "Everywhere the biologist finds evidence of law and order in nature. It is unreasonable to think that this law and order could have come about through anything but a directing and a planning mind."

"Can the biologist believe that man was created in God's image?" was the third. To this question he answered, "He can. My conception of man's likeness to God is in his spiritual nature, not in his physical or mental nature, and in this respect he may certainly be created in God's image."

Dr. Barker also brought out the conception of the biologist regarding the reasonableness of the idea of immortality. "We find," he said, "that there is an explanation of the spiritual life which might persist after the death of the physical."

Next Sunday, March 7, Professor D. G. Swezey will lecture on "Astronomy in its relation to Christianity."

TO ORGANIZE FOR CAMPAIGN

Committee Appointed to Plan for Grace Coptock Memorial Drive.

MONEY WILL BE SENT FOR WORK IN CHINA

A committee composed of the following members, has been appointed to organize the campaign for the Grace Coptock Memorial campaign, March 5 to 8: Arvilla Johnson, '25, Omaha, chairman; Gertrude Mayland, '27, Seward; Geraldine Fleming, '28, Lincoln; Eloise McMonies, '26, Lyons; Wilma Searson, '27, Lincoln; Gertrude Ebers, '27, Seward; Dorothy Thomas, '26, Lincoln.

A twenty-five cent lunch will be served in Ellen Smith Hall the four days of the drive for the team workers. This lunch will be served by the members of the social committee, made up of Marguerite Forsell, '26, Omaha, chairman; Alice Kauffman, '27, Lincoln; Erma Gahl, '27, Lyons; Josephine Maillard, '28, Omaha; Marie Schrufer, '25, Scotia.

For fourteen years, the University Y. W. C. A. supported Grace Coptock, secretary in China. She graduated from Nebraska University in 1905, was very active in Y. W. C. A. work on the campus, and was a member of Black Masque.

Grace Coptock was recognized as an international authority on the conditions of China. She traveled extensively in the interests of the Y. W. C. A. At the time of her death, she had a staff of ninety-six foreign secretaries and thirty-two Chinese secretaries.

The Y. W. C. A. is the one Christian agency in China that is working in the non-Christian schools. The United States has 50,000,000 women and girls; nine out of ten read and write; China has 200,000,000 women and girls; one out of one thousand read and write.

The vast majority of the women and girls in China are under the influence of a social system that encourages to a certain extent, illiteracy and footbinding, as well as slavery. The government however, has decided to permit young women to attend the government universities, and educational facilities are becoming extensive.

Grace Coptock was called the "best loved woman in China." During the famine, in 1920 and 1921 she traveled over the stricken districts giving help wherever she could.

Her work has been taken over by Vera Barger, also a Nebraska graduate, who will visit the campus in April, while she is on furlough. She is now doing recreational work in China, and the funds collected during this campaign will be turned over to her.

"Every woman on the campus should consider it a privilege to be able to help in carrying on this great altruistic work in China, that has been the inspiration of so many Nebraska graduates who are now working in China," said the chairman of the organizing committee.

All captains are requested to meet at Ellen Smith Hall at 12 o'clock, Tuesday. The teams will have their meeting 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The following are the team captains in the numerical order of their teams: Eloise McAhan, Louise Austin, Blanche Stevens, Freda Barker, Ershal Freeman, Dorothy Carr, Cyrena Smith, Harriet Cruise, Laura Whelpley, Dorothy Payne, Norma Carpenter, Freda Lemke, Dorothea Dawson, Margaret Dunlap, Theima Shelak, Lela Gravatt, Abbie Brick, Florence Brenton.

Marian Eimers and Agnes Hents are to be the captains of the two freshman commission teams.

HEAR FROM EARLY GRADUATES

Old Alumni Write About Charter Day Radio Program.

Mrs. G. W. Stevens, the only woman member of the first graduating class of the University of Nebraska, and James H. Culbertson, who attended this school in 1874 and 1875, were among those who heard the charter day program, recently broadcast from here.

Mrs. Stevens lives in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, and Mr. Culbertson lives in El Cajon, California. Both said they heard the program very distinctly, in letters written to Harold Holtz at the Alumni office.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN—Two instructors have been referred to the faculty by the senior council because they did not leave the room during examinations. The honor system states that all faculty members shall leave the room during examinations.

Minnesota University Owns Historic Boulder Presented by Class of '78

The University of Minnesota is one of the few schools that can boast of being the owner of a boulder with a past. This big granite boulder, with the figures "78" chiseled on it, was the original gift of the class of 1878 of that school.

The classes of '76 and '77 had planted trees on the campus as marks of their class. After this the eighteen members of the class of '78 decided to be original and carted in a huge granite boulder from the country. Then they had "78" carved on it and put it on a knoll in front of the School of Business.

The stone stayed there without being disturbed for some time and then one day when the students came onto the campus, they found the boulder missing. In its place was a large sign telling in grade school "pig Latin" that the boulder had departed for parts unknown.

After much excitement, the investigators found a nearby place where the grass had been disturbed. After considerable work the boulder was found under this spot. After it had been restored to its original post of dignity a reward was offered for the men who had done the dirty deed, but they were never discovered.

Recently one prominent member of the University of Minnesota faculty, a graduate from the school in the class of '82, has been induced to tell something of the affair. The man says that during the digging of the pit for the boulder, it nearly fell in on the laboring students. The professor refuses to reveal the identity of those involved and it is even rumored about the Minnesota campus that some of the present faculty were involved.
