WILL ANNOUNCE CAST ON SUNDAY

Kosmet Klub Will Publish List of Players in "Tut Tut" in Sunday Papers.

BUSINESS ASSISTANTS MAY FILE IN ARMORY

Definite announcement of the cast of the 1925 Kosmet Klub play, "Tut Tut" will be made in The Daily Nebraskan and the Lincoln and Omaha city papers on Sunday morning, according to an announcement made by Arthur Latta, president of the Kosmet Klub, Monday afternoon. "There were so many exceptional tryouts and so many talented people to take every part on the list that the Klub had a hard time to make the final decisions," said president Latta. "However, the list has been completed and is in the hands of the executive dean for a complete check of the scholarship of the people chosen."

The Klub will meet again Thursday night. At this time those of the cast who have been ruled off by scholarship delinquencies will be replaced. The business and activity assistants will also be chosen Thursday and the entire staff and cast of the play ready for publication Sunday.

Rehearsals Begin Soon. Rehearsals of "Tut Tut" will begin Tuesday night, March 17, at which time those casted in the first act will be called for practice.

The applications of business and activity assistants will be received at the student activities office, in the Armory, until Wednesday evening, according to the business manager of the Klub. "Dependable applicants are needed to carry on the business and activity end of the show," said the business manager. "This department is one of the most important divisions."

Kosmet Klub alumni will handle the business arrangements for staging the production at the Brandeis theater in Omaha, Saturday, April 25.

Show Will Be Better.

A canvas of the members of the Kosmet Klub brought forth a general sentiment that the show of 1925 will be far more successful than those of the past. The Klub members expressed themselves as enthusiastic over the prospects and were more than satisfied at the results of the tryouts.

"There are some very talented people who did not make the play this year but we hope it will not prevent them from trying again next time. Strong competition means that our plays will be more and more successful each year," said one of the members of the Klub.

Declares Students Planning To Teach Are Taking Wrong Subjects

California Secretary Says Applicants Lack Knowledge of Proper Fields.

That many students who are planning to teach are taking the wrong subjects, is the belief of Mrs. May L. Cheney, appointment secretary of the University of California. Mrs. Cheney says that "although we have more applicants than positions, we cannot fill the demand for teachers because many of them cannot teach the subjects for which there is a demand."

Mrs. Cheney went on to say that there are no more candidates for teaching than for any other profession.

During the past year at the University of California there have been 2557 applicants for positions and only 2120 calls for teachers. For junior and senior high schools there were 574 calls for instructors, 187 of these being positions where the teacher was to give full or part time in the teaching of English. Other

DYE TO SPEAK TO DISCIPLES

Pioneer Missionary From Congo Region Will Speak at Banquet Thursday.

TICKETS MAY BE GOT FROM STUDENT PASTOR

Dr. Royal J. Dye, pioneer missionary from the Belgian Congo region in Africa, will speak at the semester banquet of the Disciples Club, campus organization of the Christian church, from six and eight o'clock Thursday evening at the Grand hotel. Tickets can be obtained from members of the club or at the office of the University pastor, J. W. Hilton, in the Temple.

In 1899 Dr. and Mrs. Dye were in the group which began the work at Bolongo in the Belgian Congo, a thousand miles inland from the west coast of Africa. The early days were filled with hardships and dangers. The great majority of the people in the back country were cannibals and, as Bolongo is on the equator, the climate was unhealthful.

For many years Dr. Dye was the only doctor within 1100 miles of the Congo river. The influence of the witch-doctor over the natives was very strong, but Dr. Dye was able to overcome this with the aid of medical science, and after four years the first converts were baptized.

Mrs. Dye's health broke down in 1907 and Dr. Dye returned for one term of service on the foreign field alone. Attacked by sleeping sickness he too was compelled to return from the field.

Dr. Dye was one of the pioneers in attacking the problem of sleeping sickness among the natives in Central Africa. He and Mrs. Dye also had much to do with the first work of reducing the language to written form from the native spoken dialect. In the Dyes' second term on the field the Christian Endeavor Society was established and Mrs. Dye made the first grammar and first translation of some of the Gospels.

Following the second term on the field, Dr. Dye was instrumental in raising $25,000 for building the mission steamer "Oregon" in order that the negroes in the back country up the tributaries of the Congo might be reached by missionaries. He established a church at Bolongo which now has a membership of 2,000. He also introduced the tithing system among the new converts.

The station at Bolongo was taken over from the Northern Baptists for a small sum in the beginning and, as the back country had not been explored, no one knew the extent of the territory occupied by the speaking tribe. Dr. Dye made some of the first itineraries and opened up the back country in many villages. A recent survey has proved that this territory is at least 40 miles in extent from the river and forms a triangle with about a million inhabitants.

Dr. Dye's description of the development of the work in Bolongo and the stations in the back country which sprang from it is one of the most interesting in missionary history.

Freshman President Is Innovator In Dealing With Class Committees

"I have no sympathy with moth-eaten traditions," declared Newell Joyner, Broken Bow, newly elected president of the freshman class, in an interview Sunday evening.

In speaking about the matter of the eight class committees that were selected last Wednesday Mr. Joyner continued: "The only reason I appointed the class committees was that the managing editor of The Daily Nebraskan kept two reporters on my heels for two weeks. He wanted an exclusive story of the appointments. I finally created the committees to appease them."

PLAYERS TO GIVE ENGLISH DRAMA

Tickets for "The Masqueraders," to Be Presented This Week, on Sale Now.

A member of parliament addicted to drugs and a struggling young man with ambitions are the dual roles played by Hart Jenks in "The Masqueraders," to be staged by the University Players March 12, 13, and 14 in the Temple theater. Tickets are on sale at Ross P. Curtice's music store. Seats for the evening performances are seventy-five cents. Saturday matinee tickets cost fifty cents.

The play, taken from Katherine Cecil Thurston's novel, was dramatized by John Hunter Booth. Its success on two continents has been exceptional. It ran for a year in New York and has been on tour with Guy Bates Post in the title role.

The physical likeness of the statesman and the young man furnishes the keynote of the plot. High dramatic moments occur when the young man delivers an important speech in place of the famous dope fiend and when the addict's wife falls in love with her husband's proxy.

Indoor baseball is a major sport and one hundred points are awarded for first team membership. If a sufficient number of persons try out there will be second teams as well as first.

A test was recently conducted at the farm and the herd, one of the best in the United States, was found to be entirely free from the disease.

A test is made twice each year and because of the excellent care given the animals tuberculosis is never allowed to gain a foothold.

Dr. Herman G. James Will Talk at Temple

Dr. Herman G. James, of the University of Texas, will talk at the convocation program at the Temple Friday at 11 o'clock on "The Federal System of Brazil."

Disappointed in love, T. Marion Dixon, a second-year student at the University of North Carolina, attempted to commit suicide recently by taking a large dose of bichloride of mercury. When found on the campus at a late hour, the boy was in a stupor and unable to walk. In order to make it go down a little easier he mixed the poison with half a bottle of cough medicine. His recovery from near death is now almost certain.
