

96 SCHOOLS IN COURT TOURNEY

Many Teams Eliminated from Annual Meet Through District Competition.

THREE FLOORS WILL BE USED THIS YEAR

Ninety-six teams, divided into six classes, will take part in the annual Nebraska State Basketball tournament which opens here Thursday morning. Two hundred and seven teams were in Lincoln for the meet last year, but district tournaments were held this season to decide who would take part in the state clash. Pairings for the opening round were made yesterday by A. M. Nelson, Fairbury, chairman Nebraska State Athletic Association; W. G. Brooks, York, secretary-treasurer; W. J. Braham, North Platte; and Harold Gish, acting Director of Athletics of the University. Two teams from each class in each district tournament were chosen to come to Lincoln.

Three floors will be used in the meet this year. They are the Coliseum, the Armory and the Y. M. C. A. Last year eight floors were kept in constant use during the tournament. Referees for the games have not yet been announced, but they will be picked from University athletes today.

The pairings for the first round, which will be played on Thursday, are:
