DELINQUENTS FAIL TO PAY

Students Tardy in Making Payments Do Not Meet Obligations.

1500 UNDERGRADUATES OWE TO STADIUM FUND

Receipts from payments on Stadium pledges up to yesterday noon indicated that most of those making the payments had not been delinquent previously. It is hoped that a greater percentage of the payments would be made by students who were already in arrears as about $15,000 is delinquent. Only twenty-two per cent of the amount paid so far has been paid by the students who owe the most money, seventy-eight per cent of the payments being made for the installment now due.

Fifteen hundred students now in school have Stadium pledges according to statistics furnished by the Alumni office. Six hundred of this number have been making regular payments and nine hundred have allowed their accounts to become delinquent. $18,500 is now due from students but only $3,500 is due on the present installment.

Eighty-one percent of the amount now payable belongs to sixty per cent of the students who took out pledges. The other forty per cent owe only the remaining nineteen per cent. It is planned to begin an exhaustive system of personal solicitations of those students who have not paid up their accounts by the end of the week. Students who cannot pay their pledges at this time are urged to make arrangements to pay later with those in charge of the collection. Payments may be made during the day for the rest of the week at the booth which has been erected at the corner of Twelfth and R streets. $1500 a day must be taken in if the delinquent accounts are to be paid in at this time.

PUBLISH WINNING ESSAYS

Prize Composition of Nebraska Alumnus Contained in Pamphlet

A pamphlet containing the winning essays in the recent competition of the Council of Foreign Relations at Chicago, in which Raymond D. Wood, A. B., '24, University of Nebraska, won the second prize, has been published by the Council. The subject of the essays was "The Significance of America of the Geneva Protocol."

First prize was awarded to Prof. Quincy Wright of the University of Chicago, and honorable mention to Prof. James W. Garner, University of Illinois, who will give the Phi Beta Kappa address at the University of Nebraska. All of the Illinois citizens were eligible to compete. The winning of second prize by a young man just out of the University of another state is particularly noteworthy.

Mr. Wood was assistant in the department of geography at the University of Nebraska.

Northwestern university has invited Paavo Nurmi, the phantom Finn, to participate in the thirteenth annual scholastic track and swimming meet.

University Glee Club Given Warm Reception in Nine Nebraska Towns

The University Glee Club was enthusiastically received on its third annual trip which comprised visits at nine towns. Twenty men made the trip which included York, Friend, Harvard, Sutton, Minden, Hastings, Red Cloud, Superior, and Fairbury. The audiences were especially pleased with the type of program which the club presented. Music critics over the state pronounced the club one of the best singing organizations in the middle west. The program was of a higher type than that presented by most college glee clubs, being similar to those given by the Harvard and Yale clubs, according to reports. The program consisted of group numbers, songs by the quartette, and solos, both vocal and instrumental. A sketch from the opera "Robbin Hood" was given by the members of the club.

The club was entertained at the homes of alumni and friends of the University while on the trip. One of the reasons for this was to enable the people of the various towns to become more intimately acquainted with the type of students who attend the University and to promote a closer feeling of friendship through personal contact with them. A University Club was recently formed at Superior to aid in bringing to their town programs of this nature. An active interest was shown by the alumni at the other towns also.

The expenses of the club are borne entirely by the organization itself. The receipts of the trip are to be used to defray expenses of the club and keep it going the rest of the year. The club hires its own director.

Dietrick Dirks is at present the director of the Club. Charles Pierpont is the pianist and Sutton Morris is business manager. The other members of the club who made the trip are:

Elaborate preparations are being made for the dinner and program.

Dr. Raymond J. Pool, head of the botany department, will give the principal address. Two members of the class, Agnes Kessler and Arthur Jersild will give the responses for the group. Musical entertainment will be furnished by Mary Creeppaun, cello, accompanied by Rosanna Williams, both members of the class. The program, which has not been completed, will be composed of talent in the organization.

This annual affair which is held shortly after the election of members, is in charge of Prof. Maurice H. Weseen of the English department.

PURCHASE PROPERTY FOR STUDENT CENTER

Presbyterians Plan to Build New Home for Student Pastor.

A University Presbyterian Manse will replace the historic Judge Cobb home at 335 North Fourteenth street. The Westminster announced the Foundation purchased the property during spring vacation. A new building will be erected on the lot which will be used as a home for the University pastor and as a center for student activities. The lot is approximately one hundred feet square.

A group of trustees at a recent meeting conferred with the University pastor, Rev. D. R. Leland, and at that time progress in the building fund was reported. Plans and estimates for the new home will be made soon. The Westminster Foundation, which has charge of the work, is a newly incorporated body.

Similar homes near the campus have been provided by the Wesley Foundation and the Baptist organization, and plans are under way in several other churches to carry out a similar plan. The work of the Methodist body is conducted by Rev. H. F. Huntington and that of the Baptists by Rev. C. J. Pope.

H. MILLS HAYS IS VESPER SPEAKER

"The Meaning of Easter" Is Subject of Address of Weekly Service.

Rev. H. Mills Hayes, formerly rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal church, gave an address on "The Meaning of Easter" at vesper services in Ellen Smith hall on Tuesday evening. Helen Guthrie, who led the devotional services, read passages from the Passion and the Resurrection. Blanche Martz sang, "Christ is Risen," and the choir led in singing several other hymns of the resurrection.

"The Easter season is the most glorious season of the whole year," began Dr. Hayes. "Without Easter, Christmas would mean but little to us. Easter means Christmas. There is something in the spirit of Easter that ennobles and inspires, and fills everyone with a sense of glorious exaltation."

The three great lessons which Easter teaches, as Dr. Hayes pointed out, are the lesson of immortality, the lesson of death unto sin and the birth unto righteousness, and the lesson of the rising of the divine consciousness in the human soul.

Easter brings forth the idea of immortality, because the rising of Christ from His tomb on Easter is taken as a sign that we shall live after physical death. The idea of life beyond the grave is found even among savages, asserted Dr. Hayes, although, of course, they have no definite conception of such a life.

The resurrection unto heaven, the speaker explained, is the death unto sin and the birth unto righteousness. The physical resurrection of Christ was but a resurrection from earth to earth. And in the rising of Christ from the tomb there rose within the people the consciousness of the divine element within them—that Christ consciousness in the human race which shall last forever.

The conference discussed four main topics, war, race, denominationalism and creed, and campus problems. Several men prominent in the church spoke to the gathering but the majority of the time was taken up in informal discussion of the various topics. It is planned to hold another such meeting in three years and at regular intervals thereafter.

Women Will Apply Today for Places in Annual W. A. A. Event.

Dance festival tryouts will be held at 12, 3, and at 4 o'clock today in the Army. All women who have three dance practices or who have taken or are taking second year dancing are eligible to tryout. Nearly a hundred women will be needed for the festival and all those who are eligible are urged to come.

Those trying-out will be examined on lyric walking, running, skipping, waltzing, and various combinations of these steps. Carriage will count more than technical ability in the judging. Only those who try out at these hours can participate in the dance drama.

Anyone interested who for any reason cannot be present at the tryouts, should notify Dorothy Dougan, W. A. A. dancing manager.

Stray Dog Starts Excavation in Basement of Long's Book Store

A stray dog wandered into Red Long's book store yesterday afternoon.

He wasn't like any usual dog, and he seemed to know just where he was going. One of the clerks noticed him come in and head for the back stairs, but it wasn't until sometime later that he really attracted the attention of the employees.

On going into the basement in search of one of the late copies of Webster's abridged, one of the clerks found the dog in the southwest corner of the basement very earnestly engaged in the laborious task of digging into the floor of the basement.

It was found that the corner was unused and that the dog was doing no apparent harm. However dogs aren't allowed to dig at random in the best regulated book stores, and so Fido was put outside. This energetic canine objected seriously to being ousted and the clerk came out of the fracas with a badly scratched hand.

It must have been during a busy period in the afternoon that the dog re-entered the store, for no one saw him come in. However, the fact remains that he was found again later in the day at the same place in the southwest corner of the basement. This time Red Long, the proprietor, was called into consultation and it was finally decided to allow the dog to continue his activities.

By the time the store was closed for the day the dog had dug a hole nearly two feet deep and had not let up when the employees left for the night.

When asked why he allowed the dog to remain in his basement, Red Long replied, "I couldn't see that he was doing much harm, and he sure seemed to know what he was about. Something may come of it yet, who knows?"

PROFESSOR BENGSTON PUBLISHES ARTICLE

Discusses "The Resources of the Honduras" in Geographic Journal.

"The Resources of Honduras" is the title of an article by Prof. N. A. Bengtson of the department of geography featured in a current geographical journal, published at Chicago by the National Council of Geography teachers.

Data for the article was collected by Professor Bengtson in the course of nearly a year's stay in Honduras in 1920. He is particularly interested in that section of South America. Much of the material was gained through personal exploration and reconnaissance.

Among the topics discussed are the undeveloped resources of Honduras, its location, area, and population, its topographic regions, climate, vegetation, grazing conditions, agricultural lands, mineral resources, water power, water supplies, industrial development, housing conditions, sanitation and diseases. It is illustrated by a number of photographs.

The Maryland Institute of Baltimore is an art school, which has a particularly strong department of designing. Miss Elizabeth Shannon, formerly a design instructor in the home economics department of Nebraska, is one of the design instructors of the school. It was under her direction that the present exhibition was arranged.

The work on display represents several phases of design, but the textile designs and poster work are outstanding features. Both students and public are cordially invited.

ENGINEERS HEAR LECTURE

J. F. Tobin Deals With Ventilation in Tuesday Address

"Fan Characteristics and the Proper Selection of Ventilating Equipment" was the subject of a lecture by J. F. Tobin before seniors in the mechanical engineering department at 10 o'clock yesterday. Mr. Tobin is branch manager of the American Blower Company at Omaha.

With the aid of diagrams and figures which he drew on the blackboard, Mr. Tobin explained how to select ventilating equipment for different types of buildings and architectural conditions. He cited practical examples from his own experience.

Columbia will hereafter take over patents arising from discoveries made in its own laboratories. Adoption of this policy, announced as "a new and important departure" in the Columbia administrative system, will, it is declared, protect the inventor and the public, and enable the university, by sharing its profits, to promote research.
