

CORNHUSKER BEGINS WORK ON SECTIONS

Editor Announces Part of Appointments to Staff of Year Book.

SET TIME FOR PICTURES

Junior and Senior, Fraternity and Sorority Blocks Must Be Complete November 11.

Actual work has begun on the 1926 Cornhusker. Part of the staff appointments are announced in this issue of the Nebraskan, and the deadline date for junior and senior pictures and fraternity and sorority sections has been set for November 11. All pictures must be taken at the studios by that date, and students are urged by Donald Sampson, editor of the Cornhusker, to make their appointments at the earliest possible date in order to avoid the last minute rush.

A change has been made in the fraternity section which this year will be made up of individual pictures of the members instead of group pictures as in former years. This means that all fraternity members and pledges whose pictures are to appear in the Cornhusker must have their pictures taken by November 11. Juniors and seniors who have pictures in their class sections, will be charged only fifty cents extra for the additional printing in the fraternity section. Underclassmen will be charged $1.25 for their pictures up to November 11, and $1.50 thereafter.

The change in makeup of the fraternity section will enable second semester pledges, and members returning late to that school, to be included in their fraternity sections.

The early date for pictures this year has been made to include not only the seniors as last year, but the juniors and fraternity and sorority sections as well, in order to make possible great savings in engraving charges. This in turn will make possible a greater Cornhusker in other departments. The deadline date will be rigidly applied, and negligent students will have difficulty getting in their pictures.

Studios which are making the pictures for the yearbook are Hauck's, and Townsend's. Appointments can be made at either place beginning this week. Private orders of pictures can be ordered from the same sitting. The charge for the pictures is $4.00, one dollar for which is the studio rate, and three dollars remaining covers the cost of engraving and printing in the Cornhusker. Students having pictures from last year can use the same, but the charge for putting these in the year book will be $3.50.

Give Series of Tests In Freshman English

A series of seventh and eighth grade English tests were given to all freshmen registered for English 1 and 2 by Prof. R. D. Scott, head of the freshman English department, on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of last week. All freshmen were grouped according to the grades made in these tests.

A simple set of questions were offered in an effort to distribute freshmen with regard to their ability. Two or more courses of English 1 are now offered at every hour of the morning because of the removal of the two hour courses offered last year in the College of Business Administration. Final results of the freshmen college ratings have not been compiled.

University Players Start Work On First Play--"The Goose Hangs High"

University Players have started on their opening production for the season, "The Goose Hangs High," by Lewis Beach. The play will be presented at the Temple theater, October 8, 9, and 10.

"The Goose Hangs High" is an American comedy and one of the New York successes of the past and current seasons. Burns Mantle, dramatic critic on a New York newspaper wrote of the play, "A cheering success. A fine play. Three hearty cheers are coming to them for this comedy."

The play is a story of the average American family, of flappers in clash with the older generation; but it is worked out along entirely new lines. The youth of today will find that he has a violent defender in the work of Mr. Beach. The younger generation, that has been spanked so regularly in the photoplays and novels and in such plays as "Scandal" and "Nice People," will find this play refreshing.

The scene is set in a small city in the middle west, and the story has

Presbyterian Minister Will Talk at Services

NEED MORE MEN FOR MANAGERS

Thirty Sophomores Required To Carry On New System; Eighteen Working.

WILL PICK EIGHT JUNIORS

More men are needed as sophomore sport managers, Gerald Davis, football manager, announced yesterday afternoon. At least thirty men are needed to carry on the work outlined under the new system installed this fall; only eighteen have applied for positions up to date.

Sophomores interested in this work are urged to report to Herbert Gish in the athletic office at once. The football season is already well under way and all candidates must serve in this sport.

The managing of each sport was handled separately in former years, candidates for positions were confined to a single sport, but the competition was oftentimes uneven due to the varied response to the calls made for managers in the different sports.

Under the new plan candidates must serve in all of the sports. From this number of sophomore managers eight will be chosen as junior managers. These eight men will then be assigned to work under a certain sport manager.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT WELCOME PARTY

More Than 1200 Students Attend First All-University Mixer Given Saturday Night.

The attendance at the "Welcome Party", first all-University party of the season, which was held last Saturday evening was one of the largest in the history of all-University parties. More than 1200 students were present, nearly doubling the attendance at the opening mixer of last year.

Beck's orchestra furnished the music for the evening. Dorothy Abel featured the evening with an interpretative dance during the intermission period. Punch and wafers were served throughout the evening. Due to the increasing popularity of these University mixers a few changes have been considered by the committee to aid in improving and adding new features for future parties.

OPEN AWGWAN SALE CAMPAIGN

Two Hundred Subscribe for Humorous Publication On First Day.

TO HAVE SPECIAL ISSUE

At the close of the first day of the Awgwan subscription drive, over two hundred students had purchased the campus humorous publication. The campaign during the first day was chiefly personal solicitation and will continue today at tables in Social Science building and University Hall. Fifteen hundred subscriptions were sold last year and the goal this year has been set at two thousand.

The dollar subscription entitles students to eight monthly issues during the school year and it is the intention of the editorial staff to publish a special "Spring Frolic" issue, appearing before spring vacation making nine copies for one dollar. The regular issues will be on sale the tenth day of each month.

The first issue of the Awgwan will appear within the next two weeks, featuring the tri-color cover by Philip Fent, entitled, "Something Serious." The October number will be in the form of a thirty-page issue of art features, short stories, college fiction, and some surprises.

Staff applications this year have been unusually large, about thirty having signified their intentions of working on the editorial staff, fourteen in the art department and seventeen on the business staff. Copy for the first issue must all be in by Thursday, October 1, according to Editor Thomas.

HUSKER GRIDSTERS STAND TIME TEST

Nebraska Football Teams Show 777 Per Cent Wins In 35 Years Of Competition.

Football teams of the University of Nebraska have stood the test of time. In 35 years of competition, the Cornhuskers have won 192 games out of a total of 266, a percentage won of .777. During that period they have scored 5,293 points to their opponents' 1616, an average score per game of 19.9 points against 6.2 for the opponents.

From Iowa, Nebraska teams have won 12 out of 18 games; from Iowa State (Ames), 15 out of 21; from Kansas, 20 out of 30; from Missouri, 15 out of 16; Illinois, four out of six.

From Notre Dame, the Huskers have won four out of ten games, one other game being a tie.

Famous years in Nebraska history were 1890, 1903, 1913, 1914 and 1915, in which years the Huskers were undefeated. In 1900 the Huskers won every game until the last, and in 1902 the Nebraska goal line was never crossed.

Seventy-eight of these games have been played in the last ten years, and in fifty-two of them the Huskers have carried off the victory. In twenty-one of the rest, the Huskers lost, while in five the games ended in tie scores.

Against the Kansas Aggies, Drake, Washburn, Iowa State (Ames), Nebraska Wesleyan, Oregon Aggies, Omaha Balloon School, Colorado Aggies, South Dakota, Rutgers, Michigan Aggies, Haskell Indians, Pittsburgh and Colgate, the Nebraskans have won all games played in the last decade, while against Illinois, Washington State, Penn State, Washington University (St. Louis), Camp Dodge, and Michigan, the Cornhuskers have emerged the vanquished each time the teams have met.

Earl Smith Elected Cosmopolitan Head

Earl Smith was elected president of the University Cosmopolitan club at the opening meeting Sunday afternoon. The office was left vacant by Fred Goldstein, who was graduated last year, from the College of Pharmacy. The vacancy left by Mr. Potel, of the board of directors, was filled by the election of J. A. Adeva. The first regular meeting will be held two weeks from Sunday.

Kiwanians Will Attend Football Game In Body

Five hundred Kiwanians who will attend the district convention of the Kiwanis club to be held in Beatrice October 22 to 24, will adjourn their convalescence early in order to attend the Kansas-Nebraska football game here on the latter date in a body, C. W. Watson said today. A special section has been reserved for the Kiwanians at the game.

October 24 is Homecoming at the University of Nebraska.

GREEN PLAYERS IN ILLINOIS LINE

Zupke's Men Make Up In Aggressiveness What They Lack In Experience.

BACKFIELD ALSO PUZZLE

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 28.—A green line which may make up for its inexperience by its aggressiveness and a speedy backfield of veterans for the most part—that is the football situation at the University of Illinois at the end of the second week of practice, and Bob Zupke is busy getting his men ready for the big game with Nebraska on October 3, in the Illinois stadium.

So many of the leading candidates for the line have never played in an actual game that the real appraisal of their ability cannot be made until they have been seen under fire. The coaches like the spirit of the recruits who are battling like tigers. But from tackle to tackle Zupke has only two so-called veterans, Chuck Brown and Bernie Shively, who played very little last year, and it is pretty hard to tell what new material, however zealous, will do when the real test comes.

Plenty Of Beef.

"Zup" can construct a nice bulky team if he wants to, because he has plenty of beef for the line. The backfield, however, may be lighter than last year. The minute that Bernie Shively, last year's sub guard, reported this week, the coach moved him to tackle where his 210 pounds will be effective if he can make good in the position. Shively was regarded as most promising as a freshman guard but some unusually bad Charley horses last fall kept him sidelined a great deal of the time. Chuck Brown who fell heir to Mush Crawford's tackle job last year when he was lost to the team mid-season, has a hard battle against some of the aggressive young tackles such as Hazelip, a 190-pounder who charges fast and hard; Bodman, a sub guard last season; Dave Kidd, freshman varsity captain and Conley, a lanky senior who never has been eligible previously. Conley is also a prospective end.

Chick Kassel, an all-conference selection by many critics last year, leads the ends. "Stub" Muhl, who hits like 190 pounds despite his 161 according to the players, is certain to figure a lot but Zupke is looking for another end to bear part of the burden. "Hyde Park" Smith, a strong freshman two years ago but ineligible last season, D'Ambrosio, a sophomore and Johnny Mauer, sub back in 1923 and basketball captain last year, are all receiving consideration.

Earl Britton has been spending most of his time on his books but if he is able to clear the scholastic hurdles, "Zup" undoubtedly will give him a chance at guard against Nebraska. Earl's 185 pounds and his all-around football ability ought to make a good guard out of him and

Grantland Rice Says Captain Weir May Be The Star of Tacklers

Grantland Rice, writing in the New York Herald-Tribune, says:

"Those playing in the line rarely have the same chance to catch the public eye as those who carry the ball on sensational marches down the field.

"So a Weir hasn't quite the same opportunity for fame that a Grange may know. Yet Weir, Nebraska's tackle and captain, may be one of the best that ever played the position.

"He has weight, speed and experience. Although a big man, he was fast enough and active enough to beat Kinsey and Taylor, the two Olympic hurdlers.

"There have been many fine tackles, but few that stood out as Hef-felfinger and Hare stood out as guards. Or as Hinkey, Shevlin, Hardwick, etc., loomed against the skyline in their end-playing days.

"Weir this season may take his place as the star of them all, recalling again the days of Hogan, Henry, Hillebrand, Ham Fish, and others still remembered."

JAMES TO GIVE FORUM ADDRESS

"The Function of The Arts College" Is Subject For Discussion.

TICKETS ON SALE TODAY

About two hundred and fifty students are expected to attend the first World Forum luncheon of the year which will be held at the Grand Hotel Wednesday noon when Herman G. James, new dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, will discuss "The Function of The Arts College."

Tickets are being sold by committees from the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and in the offices of these organizations. They are twenty-five cents. Increased facilities at the Grand hotel will make it possible to accommodate larger numbers than could be taken care of last spring when the average attendance was over one hundred and fifty.

Mr. George Woods, prominent Lincoln banker, has been secured to speak on "The French Debt" at the discussion, October 7, it was announced by the committee in charge of the luncheons after a meeting last night.

A series of two or three discussions on evolution, several on the World Court, and a series on the present educational system are planned for later on in the year.

At the World Forum luncheons, which were conducted last year by a committee from the University Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and will continue on a similar basis this year, a prominent speaker is secured to present a pertinent subject in a brief address while the students eat a light meal and the meeting is then thrown open to discussion for as long as anyone cares to stay.

The committee announces that tickets will be sold on Mondays and Tuesdays only, and will not be sold on Wednesdays as was the case last year.

EXPECT FULL ILLINI SPECIAL

Lincoln Business Men And Students Make Reservations for Game.

PLAN CHICAGO STOPOVER

Much interest is being displayed over the prospect of seeing the Cornhuskers play their first game of the 1925 season, according to the number of persons that have asked for reservations on the "Illini Special" which leaves Lincoln next Friday afternoon for Urbana, where Nebraska tangles with Illinois.

Many of Lincoln's business men have decided to make the trip and they have made reservations accordingly. The University Club has taken one car and many students have purchased tickets for the trip. It is thought that the special will be carrying its full capacity when it leaves the Burlington station.

The Burlington route over which the special is being run, is doing everything it can to make the trip a success. Prices have been reduced and the schedule for the special has been made to the students liking. The train will arrive in Urbana early Saturday morning so that students will have an opportunity of seeing the Illinois campus. The game is called for 2 o'clock.

On the return trip the special will leave Urbana at 6 o'clock, for Chicago, where there will be a four hour stopover. This will enable everyone to do a little sight seeing in the city. The train will leave Chicago at 12:30 Saturday night and will arrive in Lincoln Sunday afternoon. The round trip fare is $19.46 from Lincoln and $17.48 from Omaha.

A block of seats for the game has been sent to Lincoln and they are on sale at Latsch Brothers. These tickets are in the center section of the stadium and sell for two dollars.

EXPECT SHIPMENTS OF CAPS BY FRIDAY

Supply of Freshmen Headgear Nearly Exhausted; Over 800 Men Supplied.

Although lots in nearly every size of green caps have been exhausted at Farquhar's now, a new shipment of the freshmen headgear is expected to arrive Friday. It is thought that all first-year men will be supplied by the end of the week, and enforcement of the tradition will start Monday.

As in former years, the Iron Sphinx will have charge of the enforcement of the rule, and this year it will be followed out to the letter. Freshmen will be required to wear the caps at all times until it has been announced that they may be discarded.

Large sizes are on sale at Farquhar's now, and sizes that could not be obtained last week may probably be found at the store today. Already more than 800 caps have been sold, it was said yesterday.

Students And Studies Fifty Years Ago Are Much Like Those Of Today

Fifty years ago when the University of Nebraska was yet in its cradle there were women and cadet drill, fashions and philosophy, Greek and math, literary societies and frat, football and dancing. There were freshmen and sophomores and juniors and seniors too. College was probably much like it is today save that the college has expanded and some of the once shiny new brick buildings are now turning a wee bit dusky with age and memories.

Time was when there existed no difficulty for the freshman in finding his various classes. University Hall stood guard over an open field formerly covered with cow paths and treeless save for the newly planted elms and maples. The campus was quite out of town then. But there were the favorite walks and benches as much in use as today. Youth always did stroll.

At that time Eliza Anne did not dash on a street car for a ten o'clock but she did ride up in fine style in an off-of the ground carriage drawn by horses. And carriages were quite as popular as necessary at that time.

TEAM LEAVES THURSDAY FOR ILLINOIS GAME

Special Train On Burlington Starts for Urbana at 4:40 O'clock.

HOLD RALLY AT STATION

Student Body To Meet In Front Of Armory and Parade Down O Street In Send-Off.

The University of Nebraska Varsity football team will leave Lincoln from the Burlington station, Thursday afternoon, October 1, at 4:40 o'clock for Urbana, Ill., where they will meet the University of Illinois football team in their first game of the 1925 season. A station rally will be held in order to give the team a real Cornhusker send-off.

Plans have been made whereby the entire student body is to meet in front of the Armory at 3:45 o'clock, Thursday for a parade which will march down O street and then will go to the Burlington station. The University band will lead the parade and cheer leaders will lead school songs and yells at the station. Members of the team and of the coaching staff will speak a few words before the train leaves.

It is of the utmost importance that every student in the University get into the parade and show their school spirit by giving the team such a rousing send-off that the echo will be heard on the field Saturday afternoon.

Coch Bearg is putting a great Husker eleven into the field this year and all that is necessary to start them off with a win is to have the Nebraska students show the proper spirit, and the best way to make a good beginning is to have everyone in the parade and at the station next Thursday.

If the campus sheik could not develop a beard or goatee he at least graced a mustache unless he preferred to be passed among women. The hair was cut long and usually parted in the middle. Collars were extremely high and tight and the cut of the men's suits were snug. In that day high button shoes held first place. Oxford and pumps would have shocked even the sturdiest of souls into pneumonia. High boots came in with November and faded away with March 22. Many a misadventure cost lives.
