STUDENT OPINION
first she will probably think it is dreadful, but once the old custom of walking gets started again, it will be as popular as Rent-a-Fords, for a girl will do a lot because she thinks every one is doing it.
But taking another view of the situation, when a boy comes to the University, he certainly counts on spending a certain amount of money dating. He can hardly do as in the old home town—call on his girl for the evening, and about ten-thirty go out to the kitchen and make fudge or walk to the drug store and get a soda. It is to be expected that there is an expense connected with a date, and if he takes the trouble to get one, he must make up his mind to spend a certain amount of money in the process.
And along the same lines, these boys who continually talk about expenses are anything but pleasant companions. It might be funny to some, but such remarks as "What kind of a Coke do you want" or "Don't chew those mints—make them last longer" are certainly not very entertaining after the third or fourth time. An evening is supposed to be passed pleasantly, and not bemoaning the money spent.
Every day the average college man buys his cigarettes, goes to the moon, and generally takes in all the shows during the week, but when he has a date it hurts to hand out the money.
It seems to me that very few boys themselves take to walking as a pastime. Rather than walk to their houses, as many as twenty will hang onto a dilapidated Ford that can hardly hang together from one street crossing to the next. If these boys would set an example of walking, perhaps the girls would be more willing to listen.

FANS WILL WATCH FIRST AGGIE GAME
Oklahoma-Kansas Game Interests Huskers Since Both Will Be Their Opponents.
Nebraska football fans will watch closely the outcome of one of the important Missouri Valley battles between the Oklahoma Sooners and the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan next Saturday. The Cornhuskers meet the Sooners at Lincoln, October 31, while the Aggies will be met on the Manhattan gridiron November 14.
Both teams are among the leaders in the Valley in the art of forward passing. For three years the Aggies have endangered the Husker's position at the head of Missouri Valley teams, while last year the Sooners gave the Nebraskans a setback in the second game of the season by trimming the team from Lincoln, 14 to 7, on the Norman gridiron.
It is the ability of the Aggies and the Sooners to execute successfully the forward pass that has made them a consistent stumbling block in the Huskers' path to football glory. Never do these two teams fail to give the Huskers a run for their money.
From Norman comes the report that Coach Bennie Owen is shifting his lineup about in puzzling fashion to arrive at the strongest possible combination.
Veterans in Tackle Position.
Veterans are occupying both tackle positions. Captain Edwin Brockman and Guffey, both guards of last year, have been transferred to the tackle position where they are slated to give opposing teams a lot to worry about. Wolfe, a veteran, and Martin, a first-year man, are holding down the guards.
P. A. Wallace, elder brother of Line Coach Leigh A. "Polly" Wallace, who, as a center for Iowa State College (Ames) won all-American mention, is the principal candidate for the pivot position, although Sumter, 200-pound Indian, and Muldrow, are giving him stiff competition.
Ray LeCrone, a 6-footer with 184 pounds to back him, and Voth, who boosts the scale beam to 170, are Prunes Arouse Ire Of Students.

Students of the Kansas State Agricultural College have been called many names during the past few years, but when an enthusiastic Aggieville merchant found it necessary to decorate his window with prunes to boost the college, they took offense. The merchant was trying to use both the school colors and his wares, so he printed K. S. A. C. in large letters with dried blue plums.

the first string ends. Both are first year men.
In the backfield are found two veterans and two recruits. From tactics employed in practice, it seems probable that Coach Owen plans to concentrate on line plunges and end runs rather than his time-honored aerial attack.
Last Year's Quarterback plays.
Slough, last year's quarterback, is slated for the signal calling position again this year. Haller, 158 pound halfback, has been used at left half. Haller is also a letter man in basketball and track.
Hill, right-half, and Potts, fullback, are the recruits in the backfield. Potts tied for first place in the pole vault at the Missouri Valley and National Intercollegiate meet last spring. Both men weigh 190 pounds.
Ray LeCrone made an exceptional showing as fullback last year, and is pushing Potts for the line-plunging station. Reserve halfbacks include, Arbuckle, 1923 letterman; Cunning, Bond and Parker. Three first-year quarterbacks are on the squad: Shunatona, Sanger and Snodgrass, while Strouville, 1922 quarterback, is out for end.
Wilcox, 1923 tackle, has returned to join the Sooner squad.

Other reserve linemen are Heber Martin, Stavely and Cooke, guards; Smith, Berry and Thomas, tackles; Kidd Marks Brown and Skillern, ends.
Name Choir Members Next Week.
The results of the tryouts for the Vesper Choir, which were held at eleven and three o'clock Thursday, will be announced some time next week, probably Tuesday. The number of candidates is comparatively large.

Johnston & Murphy Oxfords
Their superior quality leathers, their fine workmanship, smart appearance and durability have won for these shoes this distinction.
Made of the finest leathers it is possible to secure, built by workmen who have the skill that is acquired only through years of experience and practice, and in styles that are exclusive, these oxfords are as fine as it is possible to make footwear. You will like them because——they hold their shape; they do not push out, but remain straight and well shaped to their last days of service.
—the tops will outwear many soles—we've known many of them to be rebuilt with three and four full soles, before they showed signs of wearing out.
We're showing a number of good looking models in this shoe—among them the
