GREEN BUTTONS MUST BE WORN

Xi Delta, Sophomore Women's Society, To See That Freshmen Women Obey Rule.

That all freshmen women must wear green buttons was the decision reached at the first meeting of Xi Delta, sophomore women's society, last Thursday. These buttons may still be obtained at the hosiery department of Rudge & Guenzel's, 13th and N street. Every freshman woman should be wearing one by Monday evening.

Every freshman man expects to wear his class insignia and every freshman woman should be proud to do likewise, is the attitude of Xi Delta.

Three years ago green buttons appeared on the campus, but the wearing of them has not been compulsory until this year. This ruling should not be accepted as a punishment inflicted by upperclassmen, but rather as the first opportunity afforded first year women to acquaint themselves with their classmates.

Helen Van Gilder, president, presided over the meeting. Caroline Buck was placed in charge of the enforcement of the wearing of green buttons, Blanche Allen was appointed chairman of the tea which Xi Delta will give for all university women, and Kate Goldstein is to investigate means of raising money.

Engineers Meet in Manhattan.

The Kansas-Nebraska section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, of which Dean O. J. Ferguson of the College of Engineering is chairman, will hold its annual meeting in Manhattan, Kans., this fall. The meeting will probably be held November 13 and 14, thus permitting the delegates to attend the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska football game on the afternoon of the closing day.

Continue Medical Examinations.

More than half of the freshmen registered for military training have been given physical examinations by the physicians in charge of the student health department, according to Lt. Col. Frank F. Jewett, commandant of cadets. About one thousand students are enrolled in the first-year course this term and an effort will be made to have examinations of the entire group completed within the next week.

ORGANIZE CRACK DRILL PLATOON

New Exhibition Drill Platoon To Wear White Trousers and Blue Coats.

White duck trousers and the blue coat of the regular advanced course, and white gloves will form the uniform of the special exhibition drill platoon being organized by Captain Huskea. There will also be other details to distinguish the uniform.

Captain Huskea plans by next year to have the unit in shape to put on exhibitions at all special occasions to which it may be invited. An invitation from American Legion headquarters at Omaha was received this week, but the unit is not organized enough to accept it.

The platoon will be drilled intensively this fall in order to be able to put on an exhibition between halves of a football game.

It is planned to have a special ball room drill arranged for the military ball this December. A sponsor for the platoon will also be chosen by the members.

Juniors will form the greater part of the platoon, but in case there are not enough qualifying juniors, seniors will be allowed to enter also. Captain Huskea will try to have as many juniors as possible in order to have a large number of veterans for next year.

SHORTHORN BULL PURCHASED

Department of Animal Husbandry Adds Prize Animal To Breeding Stock.

The animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture reports the purchase of a shorthorn bull, Master Dale, from Hugh Whitford and Son, Volga, Iowa. He is eight years old and weighs 2300 pounds.

He is sired by Dale Clarion, the sire of the present herd bull, Royal Dale. Royal Dale's steers have made a good show record at the leading fat stock shows of the United States. Royal Marvel, a son of Royal Dale was Reserve Champion Steer at the 1923 International Livestock Exposition and Reserve Champion Steer at the 1924 Western Livestock Show, Denver.

Very little breeding stock is sold by the College. The best of the produce is retained in the breeding herd and fitted as steers and spayed heifers for the fat stock shows.

College Gossip by VERA MILLS

$2.95
A myriad of Scarfs to be worn in a myriad of ways, $2.95. The foremost one so laughingly colored wears a loop or bow at the shoulder.

The Suit Scarf

The long silk Scarf to peep between lapels is very important in the tailored suit scene and should be glorious; perkily striped, dotted, checked or shaded.

Stock Fashion

Wound about the throat once, then folded over loosely, the Scarf that ties stock fashion will give a tailored accent to any slim frock. Gay in pattern, it is very flattering.

Quite Childlike

Annabelle, when she wants to look particularly youthful and demure, wears a neckerchief bib-fashion. She knows how it helps to magnify her cheerfulness.

You really need several Scarfs and I know you'll be able to find the one you want at Rudge & Guenzel's. I'll shop with you if you so desire.

Reed Speaks To Teachers.

Prof. A. A. Reed, director of the University Extension division, spoke at a county teacher's institute at Hebron last week.

Bryan Portrait In Gallery.

A large portrait of William Jennings Bryan, painted in 1902 by J. Laurie Wallace of Omaha, has been given to the University by a citizen of Lincoln and placed in the art gallery on the second floor of the library building. The picture represents the Commoner in his prime and is an unusually satisfying portrait.

Interesting Biographical Works.

A collection of recent biographical works has been placed on the home-reading shelves of the University library to attract the attention of students to such books for outside reading.

Returns From Vacation.

Miss Margaret Hughes, assistant director of the Teachers Placement bureau, will resume her work the last of this week after a three-week vacation.

Peru Instructor Comes Here.

L. J. Gilkeson, former director of teacher training work at Peru State Normal school, has been appointed instructor in normal training at the Teachers College high school of the University.
