HENDRICKS WRITES ARTICLE

Discusses Results of Separation of Superior Chemistry Students

Results of attempts to divide chemistry students into groups according to their ability and provide instruction and training more particularly adapted to their needs are given in an article entitled "Finding and Salvaging the Superior Student" by Prof. B. Clifford Hendricks, department of chemistry, in a recent issue of The Journal of Chemical Education.

The alpha army intelligence test was given beginning chemistry students in 1924-25 by the University department of psychology and the University Extension division. The results were the basis of a satisfactory division of the classes into three groups.

The results, according to Professor Hendricks, were more successful than had been expected. Instructors in the department have expressed themselves as favoring the continuance of the plan despite the added work which its administration entails.

A survey carried out in the spring of 1924 (in cooperation with Dr. C. S. Hamilton, department of chemistry) showed that about 26 per cent of the colleges and universities participating used some form of sectioning based upon either ability or achievement. Chemistry departments in 35 per cent of these schools expressed themselves in sympathy with the movement.

The Cornhuskers went to Ames with determination to win. They attained their goal with a score of 21 to 0. The game was hard fought and it was doubtful at first whether or not the Huskers would win.

The "woman's sphere" has now broadened in universities, to include athletics along with intellectual activities. Nebraska had the honor of two world's records in girls track athletics. One was in the pole vault, by Eva Fisk, when she cleared the bar at six feet and three inches.

Twenty Years Ago

Manager Morrison received a telegram requesting two hundred cents to be reserved for that game in Lincoln. The Nebraska game was the main point of excellence for which the Aggies strived, and it was said that they expected a score of 33 to 0, in their favor.

Dear Diary:

My name may be Dot, but they can call me anything but Early tomorrow! Think I'll sleep in most all day after my big Saturday. Peg and I galoshed around all afternoon, making the stores. I just HAD to have a new pair of shoes for my date tonight with the wonderful new Herbert. And you know my allowance at the end of the month—it almost isn't! But I'm glad the old pocketbook WAS pretty flat; otherwise Peg and I might never have discovered the place to buy shoes: it's Ben Simon & Sons. They have the best looking new novelty styles, and you can save from $1 to $3 a pair buying there. Wore mine dancing tonight, and I certainly tripped a smart looking step!

Marvelous $2.00 Hat Sale at Gold's Monday!

—no matter what sort of a hat you may want—you'll find it in this great special purchase lot! Gold and silver lace hats for dinner and dance wear, dressy and tailored velvet chapeaux, trig little street numbers of fine felts and velours—at just $2. Said Gold's millinery buyer, "It's a crime to sell them for so little!"—so you can imagine the values. Hats worth many times $2, you'll agree, after seeing them. Choose yours from several hundred, and choose early, while choosing's best.

Frey & Frey have the newest in Party Decorations!

—they realize that Nebraska students like novel effects—something just a little bit different from the usual run of rosebuds and smilax—so they've prepared accordingly! Not only have Frey and Frey the ideas, but the material to work with as well. A large and splendidly varied stock of blooms, ferns, palms, artificial decorations for ceiling effects, graceful baskets—in fact everything that will most successfully carry out any color scheme. They'll even reproduce your fraternity and sorority pins in flowers!

Let the Modern Cleaners keep your Clothes well-groomed!

—a wardrobe, like a woman, can't stand neglect! Pay either of them the attention they deserve and you'll reap big dividends for your pains! No cleaning problem is too difficult for Modern Cleaner methods. The most stubborn spots give up the ghost to them; pleated dancing frocks look like new when fresh from their hands; heavy coats are really clean, lined, fur, and all. It's nice to feel that your clothes are in an immaculate establishment while being cleaned, too. Ever see Soukup & Westover's new plant at 26th and G? It's worth a visit!

Treat yourself to Sunday Dinner at the Idyl Hour!

—if you feel like an extra good meal today, it's here! A dandy for 50c, and one that you'll write home about, for 75c. Fried chicken and everything that goes with it—from bouillon to finger bowl! Their home-made Chile makes a hit with hungry students, too. It is served from 12 to 3 p. m.; almost as popular these chilly days as the Idyl Hour "Tost-wiches." These are but a few of their good things—and you can even have them to music from 8 to 8 each evening, when Red Krause entertains!

Telegram for Co-eds from Kennedy's Studio!

—just received this important wire from Mr. Kennedy himself: "Our $4 student exchange Photos, special this week at $2. dozen. Best photographs for less money. Open Sundays, 1105 G street. (Signed) KENNEDY —welcome news indeed, for those of you who like to circulate a portrait both flattering and reasonable!
