

Y.W.C.A. DRIVE FALLS SHORT OF GOAL $400

Women Give $1400 to Campus Association in Three-Day Campaign

NAME FOLLOW-UP TEAM

Committee Will Be Appointed to Interview Students Who Have Not Yet Been Seen

Within $400 of its goal, the Y. W. C. A. drive closed Saturday afternoon. About $1400 was obtained. A follow-up team will be appointed at once to interview those women who have not yet been seen. It is expected that the follow-up team will bring the sum up to the set goal.

Elsa Kerkow, chairman of the drive stated: "We are not satisfied with the drive, but we feel that it fell short because of the fact that all the girls have not been seen. We were, however, pleased with the way the teams worked and the spirit of the girls."

The team captained by Virginia Taylor led the second team with a margin of a dollar. Her team turned in $157. The team captained by Eloise MacAhan brought in $156. The winning team will be entertained at a dinner by the Y. W. C. A. cabinet later.

Every woman on the campus will be visited as soon as the cards are re-entailed. Those who have not been seen and wish to make contribution to the Y. W. C. A. may do so by stopping in Miss Appleby's office in Ellen Smith hall.

Due to the request of the community chest, faculty members were not solicited this year, as in former years. The sum, which was always considerable, caused the burden of the drive to fall heavier upon the students this year.

The budget for the coming year of the Y. W. C. A. is as follows: $75 for social purposes; $300 to meet the national apportionment; and $100 for work on the College of Agriculture campus. $25 is allowed for the vesper choir to meet the expenses involved in the buying of music and in caring for the choir robes. A fund for office and rooms of $300 takes care of the upkeep of three rooms in Ellen Smith hall which are furnished by the Y. W. C. A., as well as all printing bills and the purchase of new office supplies. $115 is required for a pensioning fund and $80 for speakers. The secretary's salary is $1,900. $75 is used for Social Service work, and $250 for the Estes Park conference fund. $100 is provided for a contingent fund. The total of the budget is $3600, half of which is furnished by the community chest.

PLAYERS GIVE "THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH"

Original Cast Presents Play Before State Teachers in City Auditorium Friday Night

The University Players presented "The Goose Hangs High" before the state teachers in the city auditorium Friday night. The same cast played that played when the Players presented the production in the Temple Theater some time ago.

The production was received with great enthusiasm, even greater than that which greeted the players when they first appeared in the play earlier in the season. The characterizations by Miss McChesney, Ray Ramsey, Harold Fenton, Mary Yabroff, H. Alice Howell and Herbert Yenne were especially pleasing.

The city auditorium is not, unfortunately, well suited for such offerings but none of the genuine spirit was lost thereby, although it called for strenuous work on the part of the characters.

The cast:
Bernard Ingals.....Theodore Diers
Eunice Ingals.....H. Alice Howell
Noel Derby.....Ray Ramsey
Leo Day.....Harold Sumption
Rhoda.....Ruth Jamison
Julia Murdoch.....Fern Hubbard
Mrs. Bradley.....Frances McChesney
Hugh Ingals.....Mary Yabroff
Bradley Ingals.....Harold Fenton
Dagmar Carroll.....Blanche Green
Elliott Kemberly.....Thaddeus Green
Clem.....Jach Rank

Call for Applications For Countryman Staff

The new staff for the Cornhusker Countryman will be selected soon. Applications for the positions of editor-in-chief, business manager, and circulation manager should be sent to Prof. H. E. Bradford, Agricultural Hall, before November 16.

Extend Time For Filing Names Of Carnival Queen Candidates

The deadline for turning in names of candidates for queen of the military carnival has been set ahead to Tuesday noon. Some sororities had already picked their candidates by Saturday noon, but others asked that the date be set ahead so that they could take up the matter in meetings Monday night.

Each sorority and women's honorary organization may choose one of their members as a candidate for the Carnival Queen. The queen will be selected by votes cast during the military carnival, November 14, and she will be crowned that evening.

Extensive plans are being made for the coronation ceremonies, Scabbard and Blade members are conducting a search for a suitable crown. They also expect to procure regal robes.

Organizations may file the names of their candidates in the military office, second floor, Nebraska Hall, or they may call the office by telephone.

Another recent announcement by Scabbard and Blade was that nothing but "Klondike currency" will be accepted inside the door. Booths will be erected at various places in the Armory where "currency" may be bought. The price is ten cents for each dollar of "Klondike currency." Sufficient currency has been printed to last through the evening, so the law has been made, "Nothing but the Klondike Currency."

HARRIERS WIN AT DES MOINES

Husker Cross Country Team Defeats Drake in Race During Snow Storm

CAPTAIN LEWIS IS THIRD

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 7.—(Special to The Daily Nebraskan)—Nebraska harriers won the cross country meet here this morning, defeating Drake by an eight-point margin. Two Drake men finished ahead of the Cornhuskers, but all of the Nebraska men followed and won enough points to take the meet.

Captain Wahl of Drake took first place with Wright, Drake, second. Captain Lewis of Nebraska finished third and Seales, Nebraska, fourth. Ross, Nebraska, took fifth place and Hays, Zimmerman and Reller, all of Nebraska, tied for sixth place.

The five mile grind was run in the morning amid snow and sleet driven by a sharp wind. The final score was Nebraska 24, Drake 32.

CHANCELLOR WILL ATTEND MEETINGS

Goes to Chicago for Annual Conferences of College Associations Next Week

Chancellor Samuel Avery will attend the annual conference of the National Association of State Universities in Chicago, November 16 and 17, and the annual meeting of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges in Chicago, November 18 and 19. He is a member of the executive committee of the National Association of State Universities, and is chairman of the military committee of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges. At the latter meeting he will present the annual report of the military committee.

The University of Nebraska will also be represented at the meeting of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges by Dean O. J. Ferguson, College of Engineering; Dean E. A. Burnett, College of Agriculture; Prof. William H. Brokaw, director of agricultural extension service; Miss Margaret S. Fedde, chairman of the department of home economics; and Prof. William Wesley Burr, chairman and assistant director of the experiment station.

FACULTY APPEAR ON PROGRAM

Speak Before Meeting of Nebraska State Teachers' Association

Members of the University faculty who appeared on the program of Nebraska State Teachers' association, District No. 1, program last week were: Miss Edna G. Benson, department of Home Economics; Dean Herman G. James, College of Arts and Sciences; Gustave Otto Fuchs, department of ancient languages; Prof. J. A. Rice, Jr., department of ancient languages; Prof. Herbert Brownell, department of instruction in science; Dr. F. D. Barker, department of medical zoology and parasitology; R. D. Mortiz, director of teachers' placement bureau; Prof. H. B. Gramlich, department of animal husbandry; Prof. F. D. Keim, department of agronomy; Miss Luvicy M. ## Dr. Pfeiffer Gives Program

Dr. Laura B. Pfeiffer of the Department of History gave a "Peace Program" under the auspices of the Woman's College Club at Fairbury last week.

SENIORS FILL MINOR OFFICES

Ralph R. Rickley, President Will Announce Committees Soon

Minor officers of the senior class were elected at the meeting of the class Friday noon in Social Science 205. The following were the ones elected: vice-president, Charles E. Griffith; secretary, Millicent Ginn; treasurer, Robert M. Scouler; sergeant-at-arms, Joseph Wostupal.

Ralph R. Rickley, president of the senior class, announced that the class committees will be made public some time next week.

NIGHT SCHOOLS CALL FOR 35 WORKERS

Need More Women to Fill Vacancies in Americanization Program; Fifty Have Signed

Thirty-five more women are needed for the Americanization program in the Lincoln schools, while fifty women have already signed up for the work. The greatest need is at Longfellow school and women with cars are especially wanted because of the long distance of the school from the street car line. Two are needed on each Monday and Wednesday evening while four are needed on a Tuesday evening.

The quota for McKinley school is filled as is that of Bancroft but no one has signed up for Park school and there are eight needed on Monday night. Three more can be used in the Tuesday night section and two more on Wednesday night at Park. No women have signed up for Hayward on Wednesday night and about six are needed while Saratoga needs two on Wednesday and one on Monday.

The committee reports that one boy has signed up for the work and they believe that more men should become interested in the work as they can use them as well as the women.

Anyone who is interested in entering the work should inquire for details at the Y. W. C. A. office. Rose Faytinger is in charge of the arrangements.

WILL PLAY AT CONVOCATION

Mrs. Louise Watson and Fred Cardin To Give Musical Program

Mrs. Louise Zumwinkle Watson, pianist, and Fred Cardin, violinist, will give the musical convocation program next Thursday, November 12, at 11 o'clock, in the Temple Theater. Mrs. Watson will give the following numbers: "Allemande," d'Albert; "Gavotte and Musette," d'Albert; "Contre Danse" (country dance), Beethoven; "Waltz from Ballet 'Naila'," Delibes-Dohnanyi. Mr. Cardin's program will include: "Indian Ghost Pipes," Liorance-Cardin; "Indian Flute Song" (with Indian flute demonstration) Liorance-Cardin; and "Scherzo Tarantelle," Wienawski. These weekly convocation programs of the University are open to the general public.

Nebraska Hall Occupants Return to Quarters after Temporary Absence

Amid buckets of paint and oil, with painters and decorators wielding the brushes, and the air filled with the odor of turpentine and stain, the van-guard of former occupants of Nebraska Hall returned last week to their old quarters after an absence of several weeks during which time they had to depend upon the hospitality of neighboring buildings.

The return home was partial only, as several of the rooms have not been finished, and one third of the building was taken off by the wreckers, forcing some of the classes to find a permanent location in other buildings.

The military department is cramped the most in the renovated building as the majority of its classrooms were

100 JUNIORS ARE PRESENT AT BREAKFAST

Silver Serpent Entertains Women at Get-Together Party Saturday

PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Dancing and Musical Numbers Amuse Guests; Will Give Other Such Affairs

Nearly one hundred attended the country breakfast given on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall by the Silver Serpents, honorary society for junior women. According to Serpents, the breakfast was such a success that they plan more such fetes.

For the first time this year, a get-together party for those who felt a lack of friendliness upon the campus and desire to get better acquainted was held.

From 9 to 10, the girls were entertained by dancing. Breakfast was served at 10 after which a short program followed. Mary Louise Walch played the piano during the serving of the breakfast.

The program follows:
Vocal Solo.....Thelma Robbins
Saxophone Solo.....Evelyn Frosh
The Charleston.....Lucile Livingston
Committees in charge of the affair were: Food—Hazel Hagerman, chairman; Mildred Sweet, and Madeline Downing.

Invitations and publicity: Eloise MacAhan chairman; Blanche Stevens and Helen Keys.

HONOR SOCIETIES CHOOSE MEMBERS

Alpha Zeta and Omicron Nu, College of Agriculture Organizations Announce Pledges

The College of Agriculture held a convocation Thursday to honor those students who were elected to Alpha Zeta and Omicron Nu, honorary agricultural and home economics societies. Election to these societies is limited to those who have proved themselves worthy students in scholarship and give promise of leadership.

Miss Margaret Fedde, chairman of the home economics department, gave a short talk on the purpose of the Omicron Nu, emphasizing the fact that it corresponds with Phi Beta Kappa in the College of Arts and Science. She announced the names of Miss Anne Bute, Aurora, and Miss Betty Bosserman, Lincoln, as the pledges of this society.

Prof. M. H. Swenk next spoke on the history of Alpha Zeta. He mentioned that Alpha Zeta is not social nor is it strictly a technical fraternity, although its sponsors technical agriculture. He announced the names of Addison Maunder, Hastings, Wendell Woodward, Overton; seniors and Morton Fredericksen, of North Platte; Irvin S. McKinley, Ponca, Rufus Moore, Schuyler, Frank Reese Seneca, Juniors, as pledges to Alpha Zeta.

As is the custom each member prepared an oration which was given before the faculty committee, the best one being given at convocation. Frank Reese was given this honor and spoke on "The Place of Livestock in a Permanent Agriculture."

Dean Margaret Justin of Kansas State Agricultural College, gave the address of the morning. She emphasized the value of enjoyment of the present, the value of friendliness, honest thinking and invincibility of spirit. She explored the tendency of "getting by" and appealed for a spirit of "carrying on."

WILL NOT MEET THIS WEEK

Forum Will Not Hold Luncheon Because of Vacation Wednesday

The World Forum will not meet this week because of the Armistice Day education. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. finance drives caused the omission of the meeting last week. On November 18 the Forum will resume its meetings when Stitt Wilson, nationally known lecturer on educational and economical subjects, will speak.

The committee in charge of the Forum announced the possibility of having Raymond Fosdick, former under-secretary to the League of Nations, come to Lincoln for a morning convocation which all students may attend. Mr. Fosdick spent several years at Geneva working with the League of Nations and because of his experience would talk on the World Court.

WILL PRESENT HUGHES DRAMA

Players Will Give "Hell Bent For Heaven," Winner of Pulitzer Prize

YENNE IN LEADING ROLE

"Hell Bent For Heaven," Pulitzer prize drama, by Hatcher Hughes, will be presented by the University Players on the evenings of November 12, 13, and 14 with a Saturday matinee.

The leading part, that of Rufe Pryor, hypocritical religious fanatic, will be taken by Herbert Yenne. In his "hysterical camp-meeting religion" he imagines himself to be the divine instrument of God. Upon the mad-dened endeavors of Pryor are built the plot of the play. A mental degenerate, drunk with religion, feels himself called upon to thwart the love affairs of the returning war veteran, Sid Hunt, and Jude Lowry, and finally to do away with Sid.

In the end righteousness prevails, and Rufe fails to win Jude for himself as he believed the Lord had intended. His destructive plans, all of which he accredits to the personal direction of God, fail in their purpose but enough harm is done to make a nerve-straining period of tragic possibilities in the little mountain household.

The action of the play takes place in the Hunt home in the Blue Ridge Mountains, between four o'clock in the afternoon and nine o'clock at night on a midsummer day.

The play is a good old-fashioned melodrama of the Blue Ridge mountains. Slumbering mountains, feuds, shooting, and bursting dams all contribute to make the performance tense with dramatic interest, while at the same time the play is full of wholesome humor.

"Hell Bent For Heaven" was selected by twelve nationally known newspaper men as the best written and acted play of the several hundred plays produced and acted in a course of a year in New York.

Mr. Mentel, famous dramatic critic spoke of the play in a New York paper as a "first-class entertainment" and the "season's most exciting drama."

SIGMA TAU ELECTS SIXTEEN MEMBERS

Honorary Fraternity in College of Engineering Chooses New Members

Sigma Tau, honorary fraternity in College of Engineering, announces the pledging of sixteen men in the annual election. Members are selected from among those in the junior and senior classes whose scholarship averages are in the upper one-third.

The men chosen this year are: Lester Shields, Leonard Smith, Ernest Pollard, Richard Stech, Stanley Reiff, C. Harris, Hilmar F. Greiss, Carl Richards, Van O. Hannan, James Wickman, Neal B. LauBauch, William E. Schneider, Theodore A. Armstrong, Carl R. Dalton, Rudolph Smith, and Ralph N. Worrest.

This group represents about one-eighth of the juniors and seniors registered in the college. The general average of the pledges this year is considerably better than eighty per cent.

A meeting of the pledges will be held next Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock.

Weather Forecast

Sunday: Generally fair; rising temperature.

NEBRASKA BOWS BEFORE DRAKE BULLDOGS, 14-0

Frequent Fumbles, Recovered by Iowans, Go Far in Losing Game For Cornhuskers Who Were Outplayed and Who Have No Alibi; Ball Kept in Their Territory

BATTLE WAGED IN NEAR BLIZZARD ON SNOWY FIELD

Still Snowing at End of Fourth Quarter, and Bitter North Wind Makes Playing Difficult; Ball Is Icy Pellet; Dedication Game in Des Moines Stadium

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 7.—The Lion and the Lamb met here this afternoon. But they did not lie down together, and it wasn't in a green pasture, either.

The Nebraska football team, favored before the game as the lion was brutally trampled upon by Drake in a game played in the midst of a near blizzard. When the final pistol shot sounded the score board read, Nebraska, 0; Drake 14. It was the dedication game of the new Drake stadium. It was quite a dedication, according to the Drake fans. The field was snow covered when the two teams trotted onto the field, and it was still snowing in the fourth quarter. There was a bitter wind from the north which made playing conditions unfavorable, and the ball was an icy pellet. The number of fumbles marks today's game as peculiar, not to say funny.

Drake's ability to pick up the fumbles which occurred frequently was the factor which enabled the Bulldogs to down the vaunted Huskers. Two touchdowns, one the direct result of a fumble, accounted for twelve of the points, and a safety made the other two.

Nebraska Is Outplayed

Nebraska was outplayed and there is hardly an alibi that Husker followers can advance. Drake scored in the first quarter and after that the ball was kept mostly in Nebraska territory.

Choppy Rhodes could not get started for those line plunges of his; Jug Brown was hampered by the snow and wet ball; Avar Mandery and Frank Drake were unable to sweep the ends and Ed Weir was a marked man, being taken out of almost every play.

The game was a farce in some respects for the icy ball caused many freak plays. Once the oval was fumbled four times before it finally came to rest.

The game play-by-play:

First Quarter

The first Drake score came after ten minutes of play in the first quarter. Drake won the toss and chose the north goal, having the advantage of a stiff wind from that direction. Captain Ed Weir kicked off to Drake's 10 yard line and Everett returned twenty yards. After an exchange of punts the ball was in Drake's possession on its own 40 yard line. Then Spear of Drake fumbled and Nebraska recovered. A few moments later Brown fumbled and Drake recovered. Then came punts and fumbles in rapid succession. Neither team was able to gain much through the line, and the open game was out of the question. Nebraska showed some of its erstwhile power when Brown and Rhodes carried the ball five and six yards through the line. The next play was called back and Drake was penalized for off side.

Second Quarter

It was Nebraska's ball on its own 3-yard line, when the second quarter started, a punt by Cook having put it there just as the period ended. An exchange of punts gave Nebraska an advantage, placing the ball on the 15-yard line.

The punting duel continued, with Ed Weir doing the booting for Nebraska, until Ambelang, Drake line-man, broke through and blocked Weir's punt and Nebraska recovered on its own 3-yard line. Another break. Weir had the ball in his hands but it slipped through like hot butter.

Nebraska moved up a notch when a Drake fumble gave it the ball on its own 35-yard line, and Weir punted to Drake's 10-yard line. It was after Drake's punt to its own 45-yard line that Brown smashed through the line for seventeen yards. It was a pretty play.

The Huskers tried a double pass behind the line, but Mandery fumbled and Drake recovered. Stephens was put into Nebraska lineup near the end of the half, replacing Dailey. Brown hit the line for three yards, Rhodes went through for eight yards in two downs, giving Nebraska the second first down of the game. Stephens tried a pass, but it was too wide, and A. Mandery lost eight yards in attempting a wide end run. Weir punted to Drake's 15-yard line, and after an unsuccessful plunge by Sutherland of Drake, the half ended.

Score: Drake, 6; Nebraska, 0.

Third Quarter

Soon after the kick-off in the second half Rhodes fumbled and Drake recovered on the 40-yard line. Fumbles, fumbles, fumbles. Everett, the touted Drake quarterback, went into the lineup on the next play, replacing Cronkhitte. He responded by rolling off five yards through tackle.

Fourth Quarter

Locke went into the game at the start of the fourth quarter and after Cook's punt fumbled on the 37-yard line, and Cook recovered. Punts and fumbles were the main features of the game until Drake punted over Nebraska's goal line, giving the Huskers the ball on the 20-yard line. Rhodes twisted through the line for 11 yards and in the next play made four yards. Then he fumbled and Drake recovered on Nebraska's 31-yard line.

An attempted drop-kick by Drake later gave Nebraska the ball again on its 20-yard line. Brown's fumble gave Drake the ball on the 20-yard line, and on the next play, Sutherland went around right end for nine yards. After making two yards and a first down, this same Sutherland went off right tackle for a touchdown. He dropped the ball on the way, but picked it up and went over the line. The try for point was blocked.

With the score 12 to 0, Drake had things pretty much its own way. Nebraska received the kick-off on its 20-yard line. A fumble and a punt gave Nebraska the ball on its own six yard line, and in attempting to punt from behind his goal line, Ed Weir fumbled and was downed for a safety, giving Drake a total of fourteen points.

It was Nebraska's ball on the 30-yard line, and after a gain of six yards through the line Avar Mandery passed to Shaner for a gain of 23-yards. The Huskers were passing desperately as the game ended.
