Faculty Members Examine Puff Ball
A large puff ball (lycopodium), which was recently given to the University Museum by Mr. Mathewson of Lincoln, has been the subject of a scientific analysis by faculty members. It was nearly ten inches in diameter and gave off a very peculiar odor.

There is nothing the home-folks would appreciate more than a really good photograph of yourself. A glimpse into Townsend's display windows on South Eleventh street will demonstrate the superiority of their portraiture. Here "you will always find familiar faces."

Nebraska Alumnus Lays Blame for Chief Football Trouble on Gambling

The Nebraska Alumnus, out Sunday, in discussing the football situation at the University of Nebraska says:
"It is our guess that the chief trouble lies, not with real loyal Nebraska alumni, but with those who gamble on the games. Every person to whom we have talked, and who has expressed in any way a dissatisfied attitude toward the 1925 football team, has been one who lost on the results of the games. The gamblers bet on Illinois against Nebraska and lost; they bet on Nebraska against Missouri and lost; and they lost when they gave big odds on Nebraska against Kansas and Oklahoma. And now, they are "crabbing."

"The opinions of these gamblers, whether they be alumni or persons who have never had any direct connection with the University are not worth the breath used in expressing them, nor the paper used in writing them. Their interest in the Nebraska football team is not prompted by a desire to see a wholesome athletic situation at the University. Their interest centers only in a desire to see the University win every game on its schedule and most of them by lopsided scores. These folks would rather tuck a "five spot" in their jeans than to see football at Nebraska placed upon a high scale. To listen to them, to take stock in the wallings of "habitual crabbers" or the prejudices of a few self-appointed guardians of Nebraska's fate would be to lend color to the oft-repeated statement that Nebraska is a graveyard for coaches—that the sportsmanship of Nebraska fans is "rotten" because of so much betting.

Students Are Behind Coach
"The Nebraska student body, which does not engage in the betting to any appreciable extent, the faculty and the administrative departments of the institution, all are wholeheartedly pleased with the new coach. They have no fault to find, because they know the real situation. The really loyal alumni also are thoroughly satisfied. It is for the most part the gamblers, too many of whom are alumni, who are finding fault. And, all that can be done is for the athletic board, the newspapers, the students, and the alumni as a whole, to turn an absolutely deaf ear to the moans of these men and allow them to win or lose as their poor judgment may dictate.
"Nebraska wants loyalty, needs loyalty but "crabbing" is not loyalty. Loyalty dictates good sportsmanship in defeat as well as in victory."

PORTRAIT GIVEN KANSAS EDITORS

Painting of First Newspaper Writing Teacher in Kansas Presented At Annual Dinner

LAWRENCE, Kan., Nov. 16.—A portrait of the first teacher of newspaper writing in the University of Kansas—Prof. E. M. Hopkins—was presented to the department at the annual dinner of Kansas high school editors tonight. Students in Professor Hopkins' classes back in 1903 and 1904, now successful newspaper men, made the gift possible. The painting is by Alfred Houghton Clark of Kansas City, formerly head of the Department of Painting at the University.

Among those contributing to the portrait fund were Ralph Ellis, managing editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post; Roy Roberts, head of the Kansas City Star, Washington bureau; Marvin Creaker, managing editor of the Milwaukee, Wis. Journal; J. W. Kayser, The Star, Chickasha, Okla.; Esther Clark Hill, Kansas poet; C. L. Edson, author, Mt. Pleasant, N. C.; and Jerome Beatty, one of the directors of the Motion Pictures Producers of America.

RUSSIAN CONTEST IS OPEN

Engineers May Submit Designs for Hydro-Electric Stations

Announcement has been received by the College of Engineering of a contest sponsored by the Department of Agriculture of the U. S. S. R. (Russia) for presentation of designs for hydro-electric stations, wind-electric stations, and heat-engine stations. The contest is being managed by the Russian Agricultural Agency in America, and it is expected that it will prove of interest to Americans and Canadians generally. It is also thought that it will be of interest to manufacturers who may have the opportunity of supplying the machinery suggested by the designers.

For the best design and work, a first prize of 600 rubles (about $300) will be offered, and a second prize of 350 rubles (about $180), and a third prize of 20 rubles (about $100) will be offered. The entries will be judged by a committee of experts and well-known authorities headed by Mr. K. D. Safchenko. The complete information concerning the requirements for the hydro-electric station design, the wind-electric station design, and the heat-engine station plans may be secured upon application to Dean O. J. Ferguson of the College of Engineering. The plans must be submitted to the New York office of the Russian Agricultural Agency by December 15, and the judges will begin their work in Moscow, January 1, 1926.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY TO HOLD MEETING

University of Kansas Professor Will Talk to Members of Nebraska Chapter

The regular meeting of the Nebraska section of the American Chemical Society will be held Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 8 o'clock in the Chemistry Hall.

The speaker for the evening will be Dr. F. B. Dains, professor of organic chemistry at the University of Kansas. He has chosen, "The Chemical Revolution" as his subject, which deals with the development of chemistry from about 1750 to 1800. His lecture will be illustrated. Luncheon in honor of the guest is to be held at the University Club at 12:15 o'clock on Wednesday.

Overcoats as Low as $15 at Speier's!

—surprised? That's because all the clothes you see from Speier's LOOK high priced! This $15 coat is attractive and warm, and you needn't be a bit afraid of looking as though you had just come from a fire-sale in it. There are others of course, many and varied. Good ones at $25, $30, $35 up to distinctive Fashion Park models at $50 and $55. The overcoats young fellows like are at Speier's—patterned after Eastern college styles; wide-shouldered, straight-backed, broad of lapel, and longer!

If it's a Question of Girls, let George Bros. Answer it!

—perhaps you can't help being so popular, but it might be embarrassing at Christmas time, were not George Brothers to the rescue! Here you may choose for a trifling sum, a gift that will delight each and every one of your conquests, with no danger of a cheap-skate rating. It is the "Kampus Kompact," whose cover flaunts a gay Nebraska pennant. Bespeaking quality and attractiveness throughout, it contains the kind of powder and rouge that will satisfy the demands of the most particular feminine nose! $1 single; $1.50 double.

Buy Her Weekly Box of Candy at the Sugar Bowl!

—perhaps you think it rather a dodo-birdish habit to do your courting with weekly sweets, but talk to Walter Johnson! He has a list of college men as long as your arm who have a box of Richmond's McDonald's or Strauch chocolates sent out regularly. Of course the addresses are subject to fickle and sometimes violent change; but the quantity and quality never vary! Buy candy for personal consumption at the Sugar Bowl too. The most satisfying variety of bar, bulk and box candies you could want—always fresh, and always reasonably priced.

"Chicken-fried Steak" originates at Mother's Inn!

—here is a new dish that has been devised to appeal particularly to masculine appetites. The chicken-frying process is applied to steak, thus at one fell swoop, enhancing the toothsome-ness of the steak, and eliminating some of the gamble on chicken. Not a chance in the world to find a neck under the golden brown crust of this delicacy! Only 20c, too, complete with potatoes, bread and butter. Mother's Inn chicken a la King has certainly been tried and proven by the college epicure, too. It is also but 20c.

Smart Neck and Digit Attire at Mayer Bros. Co.

Just a scent was wafted to us as we passed the open door....."mmmm! C'est le Chavalier de la Nuit," breathed Denise..... "Mademoiselle est d'une beauté brunette." Thus to the connoisseur do perfumes express personality.

If you are a fairy blondness you will like GUERLAIN'S "L'HEURE BLEUE" or LUBIN'S "AMARYLLIS." And if you have chestnut hair and hazel eyes you will be delighted with HOUBIGANT'S "QUELQUES FLEURS" or WOOD-WORTH'S "KARESS." But if you are a carefree sprite you will prefer VIGNY'S "GOLLIWOG" or HUDNUT'S "POUR DE LUXE. And if you are dark with skin of warm olive and black, dreamy eyes, you will desire CIRO'S "JASMIN" or CARON'S "NARCISSE NOIR." No matter what your mood or type, you will find a perfume that expresses "you," at Rudge & Guezzel's on Centre Aisle.
