MAKE PLANS FOR MONSTER BONFIRE

Freshmen Are Asked to Provide Boxes for Demonstration Wednesday Night

Freshmen are asked to carry out plans for a monster bonfire on the drill field the night of the Notre Dame rally. The task that has been given them is that of collecting of enough wooden boxes to make a fire big enough to show the real extent of the Cornhusker spirit.

Three years ago there was a bonfire on the drill field; and Nebraska got results. This year the school is striving for the same outcome.

Lincoln merchants will be glad to give away old wooden boxes—all that remains to be done is to collect them on the field. The Innocents have assigned this job to the Freshmen and they are confident that their wishes will be carried out.

The Innocents have announced that they are planning to give a short program from a speaker's stand to be erected in the light of the fire.

Miss Clara O. Wilson, chairman of the Kindergarten-Primary department, and Miss Margaret Stidworthy put on a much applauded character ghost dance. A clown dance closed the program, which was followed by the grand march and the judging of costumes.

The prize for the cleverest character costume was won by Louise Gardner, who represented "Epaminondas," a colored character in a popular child's story. Nellie McReynolds was awarded the prize for the best child's costume.

There is nothing the home folks would appreciate more than a really good photograph of yourself. A glimpse into Townsend's display windows on South Eleventh street will demonstrate the superiority of their portraiture. Here "you will always find familiar faces."
