New Pistol Equipment Received for Cadets

Pistol equipment at the Military Carnival a few weeks ago broke down before the junior cadet officers were able to display their superiority in marksmanship over the senior officers. The matter must soon be settled now, as a challenge was hurled Friday at the seniors by the Juniors under Captain Victor G. Huska. Pistol Practice for the advanced course cadets starts this week, and the scores will decide which class is more expert with the frontier shooting iron.

Ohio State University has three letter men back for the rifle team this winter. The team will compete in the Western Conference. A tentative schedule has been arranged with twelve western and eastern universities.

Polo and fencing are two other military sports at Ohio State University besides rifle shooting. The fencing team will have as coach a man who studied the sport in France last summer. The polo team is in need of additional good horses.

WOMEN'S SOCCER PRACTICE BEGINS

Women's Athletic Association Urges More Women to Tryout for Teams

The Women's Athletic Association opened the soccer season last week with the good number out for the first practice. Soccer is new to some of the students, but the association is desirous of more women becoming interested in the sport.

Freshmen women are especially invited, and more senior women will have to come out or there will not be enough to make a senior team.

The nights for practices are:
Monday—sophomore.
Tuesday—general.
Wednesday—junior and senior.
Thursday—freshmen.
Friday—general.

The list is posted on the W. A. A. bulletin board in the west Armory. Completion of the ten necessary practices gives twenty-five points. In making a class team or being a substitute, fifty, seventy-five, or one hundred points are possible. All points are awarded according to the players ability.

Sealock Talks at McCook

Dean W. E. Sealock of Teachers' College gave an educational-week address at McCook last Sunday evening on "Schools of Yesterday and Today."

Covering Planned

The football playing field of the University of Illinois at Champaign, will be covered with a rubberized material, protecting it from rain. George Huff, athletic director, is planning to install this covering at a cost of $10,000 or $12,000. A similar covering is used by the major league baseball clubs.

Sorority Ratings

A rating of sororities according to activities is published at Syracuse. The data is compiled on a basis of an activity unit system, the number of activity points aggregated being divided by the total membership of each house.

The University of Montana is one of the few colleges in the country that has three official colors for its athletic teams. The colors are copper, silver, and gold, representing the colors of the three principle minerals of the state.

From the columns of the official organ of the University of Arizona we glean a most curious bit of news. The message states that the University for the first time in its existence recently cleared money on a football game played on their home field. In a recent game the expenses were three hundred dollars and the gate amounted to three hundred and nineteen dollars, leaving a net profit of nineteen dollars.
