

COURT FAVORED BY STUDENTS OF U. S.

Results of Nation-Wide Poll on World Court Conducted by New York Paper

Results of the intercollegiate poll on the World Court propositions released yesterday by The New Student, intercollegiate independent news weekly, which with the cooperation of the national Christian associations, conducted the vote, indicate that college students in the United States are overwhelmingly in favor of the United States entering the World Court.

A total of 120,677 ballots were cast in the poll and the results were: Harding-Hughes-Coolidge Plan 39,327; Borah Terms 7,884; Against the Court 12,412. In addition the following were simply cast "for" or "against": For 33,687.

Against 6,582 In other words, The New Student explains, 93,799 voted for the Court in terms probably acceptable to the present administration; 7,884 voted for the strong reservations of Senator Borah; and 18,940 were against the Court. A survey of the detailed tabulated results shows that the trend was just about the same all over the country, although there were a few colleges in which the proportion against the Court was distinctly higher. In most of the colleges of the country a vote was taken, either by the president, the student paper, the student government, the Christian associations, or a combination of these agencies. No votes of minor partisan groups were accepted.

higher the billion unit, 1,DDD,DDD, DDD, would be called "Brith-in." In fractions, instead of having tenths, we would have dozenals. The sign corresponding to our decimal point would be called a dozenal point. A fraction written .1, for instance, would be called a dozenal, and would indicate one-twelfth instead of one tenth.

Impactical, Says Candy A system of arithmetic based on this system is worked out in the pamphlet which also includes problems and exercises. The multiplication table, it says, is "absolutely necessary" to memorize. Some samples from the table are: 6x2 equals 1D, one dozen; 6x6 equals 3D, or three dozen, which in our system would be 36. 8x8 is written 64, which is read five dozen four and means 64 in our system.

A change to such a system, although there would be many advantages, would be impossible according to Dr. Candy, who thinks the present Arabic decimal system is too well established throughout the civilized world to be supplanted by any other system.

CHURCH LEADERS AT CONFERENCE

Noted Protestant Representatives to Attend Student Conference During Holidays

Leading representatives of a number of Protestant denominations in America will be the speakers at the interdenominational student conference to be held at Evanston, Illinois, during the holidays. The list includes men who are particularly well known for their critical and courageous thinking on problems with which the conference will deal.

Dr. Halford Luce, contributing editor of all the Christian Advocates of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be the opening speaker. Other speakers are Ashby Jones of Atlanta, Georgia, director of the Inter-racial Commission; Dr. Hubert Herring, journalist; Dr. Ralph Diefendorfer, missionary statesman; Reinhold Niebuhr, contributing editor of The Christian Century, and a representative of The Federal Council of Churches; Albert Parker Fitch of Carleton College, Minnesota; Bishop F. J. McConnell of Pittsburgh.

Frank Discussion The whole ecclesiastical mechanism as a producer or retarder of religious values will be frankly discussed by those who have little at stake in the institutions as over against their interest in Kingdom building. Accepting the church dictum that "war is our greatest collective sin" the students will ask whether the church is fearlessly proposing to cut itself off from the entire war system.

Remembering their childhood teaching as to the brotherhood of man, some of the keenest students of the colleges have been investigating the degree in which professed "brothers" separated by denominational lines actually cooperate in teaching Christian principles and promoting Christian living. Committees will mote brotherhood during race or labor disturbances. The failure of the Church through its press to warn its membership against those divisive organizations which parade under a Christian guise is expected to prove one of the liveliest topics of the Conference. Indications are that student registration will reach the 1200 mark. Non-student registration has already far exceeded the fixed quota of 200.

them from the ravines or ambush," the old soldier states. "The conflict lasted for hours before they gave up." After the dust of the battle had cleared, one hundred and three Indian warriors, including Black Kettle, the chief, were lying on the ground. Horses, mules, saddles, buffalo robes, buffalo skins, axes, revolvers, rifles, powder, and lead, besides 4000 arrows, were captured, but all were destroyed. Fifty-three prisoners were taken.

Savages Seek Peace

Six miles down the river, two other groups were anxious for their kind. The warriors from the two villages, the Kiowa under Satanta, and the Arapahoes under Little Raven, marched to the place of battle in hopes of rescuing the squaws and the Cheyenne tribe. They attacked on all sides. But in vain. The cavalry counter-charged and drove the Indians miles away. The snow was too deep to drive the ponies away, so by platoon shooting, three companies killed them all after one and one-half hours of sharp-shooting.

From all the villages around the Indians were gathering. The cavalry counter-marched and rode back to the supply train. Nineteen men were killed and Major Elliott, Captain Hamilton and six others were missing. Through snow, mud, and rain, the rest of the group marched for twelve days until they reached Fort Cobb. The head chiefs of the Apache, Kiowa, Comanche, Cheyreport on concrete cases in which the churches as a whole or local churches as such promoted or failed to promote, and Arapahoe tribes, came to them there and begged for mercy. In a council, they fixed the terms of peace with the Indian chiefs.

that building for a women's gymnasium. One large locker room in the basement of the new field house will accommodate 2,000 men. Two small lockers and showers are to be special features for the visiting team and the Varsity cage men.

Training rooms provided with every modern convenience will be another feature of this basement floor. Rubbing tables and electric "cookers," things the coaches have wanted and never had, will be fixtures of this room. The other two-thirds of the basement will not be finished at present. In time it will be made into wrestling rooms and handball courts. All the concrete supports have been arranged to give ample room for this plan.

Plan Swimming Pool

Directly under the stage a place is being left for the future swimming pool, measuring 50 by 120 feet. Because the ceiling under the stage is not high enough, an excavation has been dug to give ample room for diving. The whole basement has been planned so that it may be shut off when the building is being used for social affairs. The new offices of the athletic department will be in the field house. The athletic office and student activities office will be on the first floor of the structure. Under the balcony in the front of the building will be located the new coaches' offices and trophy room. The N Club has never had a place to display its pictures and trophies in the past, and this room is to be used especially for this purpose.

Heat for the building will be from the main heating plant. Pipes are now being laid. The court will be lighted by three rows of arc lights running the length of the floor.

Will Cover Field

The athletic board of Ohio State University plans to buy a waterproof cover for their stadium field in order to prevent the weather from interfering with games. They are investigating both canvas and rubber covers.

Bertie Bright suggests to them!

Christmas Greetings from the Grand Cafe!

—Mr. and Mrs. Locke wish to take this means of expressing to every Nebraska student, their sincere wish for a bright and happy Christmas and vacation-time. No doubt many of you who patronize the Grand Cafe, would like to express YOUR appreciation to the Lockes, for the many excellent meals you have enjoyed in their cafe at such reasonable prices. It isn't often that a student finds such tempting food, such a clean attractive environment, such prompt service and such low prices—all at one place! You'll find these same inducements at the Grand when you return, so be sure to drop in for your first after-vacation meal!

Say it with Sweet fragrance from Mayer Bros. Co.

—it will be just as much a case of adoring as adored if you give her perfume! Every girl likes it, and if she has a favorite scent, you'll be sure to find it in Mayer Bros.' widely varied stock. There are boxed sets that make wonderful gifts—comprising perfume, toilet water, compact powder and rouge in its various combinations. Atomizers are always appreciated too, and the new electric vaporizers. This last, according to some inspired ad-writer "emanates both a gentle light and a sweet fragrance." It surely is an ornament to any girl's dressing table, and one whose novelty is appealing. These scented gifts at Mayer Bros. are priced from 50c to $10.

Mark "Piller's" across your Gift List!

—thus, at one full swoop of the pen, are your gift problems solved! Piller's has long been known as a place where students like to congregate. Naturally, then, they know your desires and tastes, and have chosen Christmas merchandise to satisfy them. There are suitable presents for everyone on your list at Piller's. To mention a few: Thermos bottles, candy, Ingersoll pencils, Parker Pens, Parker pencils, creams, powders, stationery, rouge, compacts toilet waters and perfumes. All are from the best makers of course, and offered in sufficient variety to make Christmas shopping a simple affair!

She'll treasure a gift from George Brothers!

—every girl does! Perhaps it's because anything from George Brothers bespeaks the artistic in combination with the useful; perhaps because quality is so evident and the novel is chosen always with the restriction of good taste. Suggestions for her gift; lacquered candy boxes, antique incense burners, lamps complete, lamp bases, lamp shades, a piece of Satsuma or Cloisonne ware, a pair of genuine Dresden china candlesticks, colonial tea pot, quill pens, address books, Kampus Kompacts, bead necklaces, and a thousand and one other to-be-treasured gift items.

Last Call for Christmas Photos at Barnett's Studio!

—until Saturday night of this week, you may have your pulchritude photographed in time for holiday broadcasting—but after that time you run a chance on Christmas delivery. In fact, it would be advisable not to delay even till the last of the week, because you'll probably want a few days in which to gloat over the finished pictures yourselves—before applying the white tissue and red ribbon. Mr. Barnett has certainly mastered the art of getting a good likeness without much ado. Indeed, so simple does the process appear, that you'd be tempted to think "even a child could do it." The Studio is located at 1241 N; the phone number is L4622.
