THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, 'SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1926.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

ALL UNI NIGHT TICKETS GO ON SALE MONDAY

Seat Sale Starts at Orpheum Theater Box Office at Ten O'clock
ONE PERFORMANCE ONLY
Former Practice of Giving Show in Two Houses Over; Early Sell Out Expected

Tickets for the sixteenth annual University Night will go on sale Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Orpheum theater box office. The number of inquiries about the ticket sale and the interest being shown in University Night this year indicates that the house may be sold out completely Monday morning.

There will be but one performance this year, Saturday night, February 27, at the Orpheum. Last year the show was given both at the Orpheum Theater and the Temple Theater the same evening. All tickets will be reserved and cost one dollar.

There has been no sales campaign and the only way that students may get tickets is by buying them at the Orpheum. One person may buy any number of tickets, however.

Block Held for Faculty
A block of tickets has been reserved for members of the faculty and may be procured at the University Y. M. C. A. office in The Temple.

Rehearsals are being held daily for most of the acts, so that they may be in shape for the dress rehearsal Saturday afternoon and the final presentation Saturday night.

The show this year will consist of five full-length (twelve to fifteen minute) acts and two curtain skits, (five minutes). Slides will be flashed on the screen at various times during the evening.

ALUMNUS WRITES OF BIRDS

Studies by G. B. Pickwell, '22, Used By Zoology Classes

"The Nesting of the Killdeer," a zoological study by Gayle B. Pickwell, '22, appeared in a fall number of "The Auk," and is being used as a class study in the department of zoology. It was written when Mr. Pickwell was a student under Professor R. H. Wolcott.

Another study, "Some Nesting Habits of the Belted Pipit Plover," also written while Mr. Pickwell was a student at the University, was published in a summer number of the same magazine. Mr. Pickwell is now an instructor at Northwestern University, working on his doctor's degree.

Mrs. McKelvie Gives Painting to Museum

A finished study in oils of "Bubledon Morrill," pre-historic fossil animal, named after Hon. Charles H. Morrill, has been presented to the museum by Mrs. S. R. McKelvie. The painting, which will be used in the decorations of Morrill Hall, will be on exhibition at the museum beginning Sunday, February 21.

"Somers Island Corals" Museum Lecture Today

"Corals of Somers Islands," an illustrated lantern slide lecture will be given by Miss Marjorie Schanfeldt of the University museum at 3 o'clock and again at 4 this afternoon in the laboratory on the third floor.

Party-Goers, Refusing To Rent Cars, Press Queer Vehicles into Service

Chicago Scholar Will Lecture on Religion

"Religion in Modern Life," will be the general subject of a group of lectures on March 23, 24, and 25, by Dr. Gerald Birney Smith, professor of history of religion at the University of Chicago. His first address will be at the all-university convocation on March 23.

RELIGION IS TOPIC AT WORLD FORUM

Rev. Ingalls To Discuss "Religion and Progress" at Wednesday Noon Luncheon

"Religion and Progress" is the subject which Rev. Ervine Ingalls, of the Vine Congregational church, will discuss at the World Forum luncheon at the Grand Hotel Wednesday noon. This will be the fifth address on the Forum's series on "Progress."

Rev. Mr. Ingalls is one of the more prominent younger pastors in Lincoln and is quite familiar to students who have regularly attended the Forum meetings, as he has spoken on one or two previous occasions.

The tickets, as usual, are on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office in The Temple or at the Y. W. C. A. office in Ellen Smith Hall.

TO INVESTIGATE MARINE LIFE

Prof. R. H. Wolcott Will Study and Lecture at Puget Sound

Prof. R. H. Wolcott of the department of zoology will investigate marine mites at the Puget Sound Marine Laboratories, Friday Harbor, Wash., next summer. He will also deliver a course of lectures at the summer session of the Washington State Normal, located at the same place.

Organization of an excursion to the laboratories is being contemplated by Professor Wolcott. In tentative plans the excursion will start from Minneapolis and go through the Canadian Rockies. It is planned to have a sleeping car with dinner attached, so that the car may be set of at points of interest and picked up by following trains. Interested persons should communicate with Professor Wolcott.

Daughter of Governor Who Signed Charter Listens to Alumni Program

Mrs. Violet Bradley, Rossville, Kans., Writes to Alumni Association, Telling of Memories Revived by Charter Day Radio Program

February 15, 1869, the bill granting a charter to the University of Nebraska was passed by the state legislature and signed by Governor David Butler.

Four years later—in June, 1873, Governor Butler attended the first graduating exercises and, with his daughter, Violet, 4 years old, on his knee, listened to the orations delivered by the two first graduates—James Stuart Dales and William H. Snell.

And therein lies the tale.

Last Monday night the alumni association of the University broadcast its fourth annual Charter Day radio program. The program started at 8:05 in the evening and continued until 2:25 the following morning. Professors who have long been connected with the institution gave short talks for the benefit of the hundreds of former students who were members of their classes ten, twenty, thirty years ago.

Movement of Protest Against Increase in Rent-a-Ford Rates Gains in Momentum Over Week-End; Sororities Will Back Men in Fight

The movement against the use of rent-a-Fords, instead of diminishing over the week-end, has gained considerably in spirit and in number of followers. The bad weather was not even considered, and all sorts of methods of conveyance were pressed into service.

The most unique vehicle noticed was a large twenty passenger bus. The freshmen of one fraternity rented it for the evening, and called for their dates at the various sorority houses. Taxis were used extensively also, because of the slush. Some, who walked to the parties, decided to ride home, while others who rode the earlier part of the evening, traded about and gave others their rides back.

Party-Goers Enjoy "Lark"
The idea of a "lark" pervaded everywhere, and those who started to hike to their destination enjoyed the situation more than those who owned cars, and rode.

A chaperone at one of the parties was so imbued with the spirit of the occasion that he offered the use of the vacant room in his car to transport two couples. Older persons in Lincoln also showed their spirit by donating the use of their autos.

The "spirit" of a movement of this sort is not one which is so concentrated that everyone feels inspired with the same expressive enthusiasm as is found during football rallies. Since the University has become such a large institution, the students have grown away from any such unified spirit as is evident in smaller colleges. But in such a cause as is being furthered now there is opportunity for everyone to evince school spirit, loyalty, and good sportsmanship in individual determination to adhere to the cause.

Women Join Movement
The girls, too, are realizing the significance of the advance in rates, and what it means financially to most men. The following sororities are giving unqualified support to aid in gaining the desired end:

- Alpha Chi Omega
- Alpha Phi
- Alpha Xi Delta
- Delta Delta Delta
- Delta Gamma
- Delta Zeta
- Gamma Phi Beta
- Kappa Kappa Gamma
- Pi Beta Phi

The main difficulty in this fight against the increase in rates, campus leaders point out, will be the fact that this is necessarily a long, drawn out process, and the novelty may soon wear off. But those who are earnest and sincere in their convictions will adhere to the finish, they believe, realizing the final good that is bound to result.

LeRossignol Invited To Stanford Meeting

President Wilbur of Stanford University has invited Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the College of Business Administration to attend a conference there March 11 to 13 in connection with the inauguration of the Stanford graduate school of business. Matters to be discussed will concern the present status of business education and the policies which should govern a graduate school of business.

Literature Course by Radio Most Popular

Inquiries concerning Professor F. A. Staff's new radio-correspondence literature course on the Book of Job are still being received by the Extension division. The closing time for registration will be held off for two or three weeks to allow those who have been listening to the lectures to take the correspondence work and receive credit. It is urged that interested people register at the earliest date, so that they will derive just that much more benefit from the course. There will be fourteen more lectures.

Others Than Alumni Interested
But down in Rossville, Kans., a woman of fifty-seven years listened attentively. She listened, not because she was an alumna of the institution, not because any of the persons on the program were dear to her. She listened because it was her

Y. M. C. A. SEEKS MORE MONEY

One Night Drive To Be Held March 4 To Make Up Deficit

THOUSAND DOLLARS GOAL

In an attempt to make up for the failure of the regular Y. M. C. A. finance drive last fall, the University "Y" will stage a one night campaign Thursday, March 4, which it expects will bring in at least one thousand dollars.

Letters to some two hundred well-known students, soliciting their aid and explaining the situation, were sent out yesterday by the finance committee, composed of Gerald Davis, Hugh Cox and Ed Weir.

A total of about two thousand dollars was counted on from the student body to complete the organization's budget and that was the amount set as the goal in the drive last fall. Only about one half of that sum was secured.

Start With Banquet

The committee believes that the thousand dollars can be raised in one evening of intensive work. A banquet will be held to start things off, and there will be speeches by prominent men on the campus.

A list of ten or fifteen names will be given to each man who volunteers to take part in the campaign and he will be asked to see the men that evening. Thus it is hoped to make a thorough canvass of the greater part of the University community in one evening.

Graduation Speakers Listed in Bulletin

In anticipation of calls for commencement speakers at high-school graduation exercises, the Extension division is preparing a list of faculty members who may be engaged for addresses. The bulletin will contain between fifty and fifty-five names, and will be ready for distribution shortly.

WEATHER FORECAST

Sunday: Generally fair; continued mild temperature.

Weather Conditions

Clear and warm weather prevails throughout the Missouri valley, the Plains region and the Rocky Mountain states, with temperatures 10 to 20 degrees above normal this morning. Cold weather continues in the southern and eastern states and the Lake region. Light snow has fallen in the north Atlantic states, and in North Dakota and parts of western Canada, and rain has fallen on the middle and north Pacific coast and in Idaho.

WRITE-UPS ARE CALLED FOR

Organizations Asked to Submit All Material for Cornhusker

In order that material for the 1926 Cornhusker may be put in shape for final editing, the presidents of all organizations are urged by the editors to turn in the writeups for their groups within the next two weeks.

Each president is being called by a member of the editorial staff and asked to leave this material with the managing editor.

These stories should be several hundred words long, according to W. F. Jones, managing editor. They should make clear the purpose of the organization and its plans for the future.

"Bromide" Awgwan To Be Distributed Wednesday

The "Bromide," February, issue of the Awgwan will be distributed from the Station A postoffice in the College Book Store Wednesday, February 24. Changes in the personnel of the staff have been responsible for the late appearance of the February issue.

UNITED PRESS HEAD WILL SPEAK HERE

Prof. M. M. Fogg Is Arranging for Address Thursday Evening By Carl F. Bickel

For an address at the University, especially for students in the School of Journalism, next Thursday evening, by President Carl Bickel, of the United Press, a world-wide newspaper, arrangements are being made. Prof. M. M. Fogg announces Mr. Bickel, who is an Iowan, became president of the United Press four years ago. He has toured the world studying newspaper conditions, and recently returned from a tour of South America.

In connection with his address, the title of which will be announced later, he will show a moving-picture reel entitled, "Today's News Today."

Mr. Bickel, who addresses the Omaha Chamber of Commerce Thursday noon, will spend Thursday night in Lincoln and then go to Hastings to speak Friday evening before the convention of the Nebraska Press Association.

TO TELL OF MORRILL HALL

Prof. E. H. Barbour Will Give Lecture on New Building Monday

Prof. E. H. Barbour, chairman of the department of geology, will speak Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Mechanics Arts building, on the new Morrill Hall. The building, named for the generous contributor to the University museum, will be built this year just east of Bessey Hall.

The set of drawings of the new building has been recently completed by Davis and Wilson, architects. L. A. Davis, of the architectural firm working on the building, will exhibit number of slides showing the various plans of the building. The new features will be explained in full. The hall will be a museum for the collections of the University that are scattered over the buildings of the campus.

It is the present plan to have the School of Fine Arts in the second and third floors of the building. The departments occupying this space are those of applied music, theory and history of music, drawing and painting, modeling, design, art history and dramatic literature.

Alumnus With Chicago Company Visits Here

Edwin J. Fowler, ex '98, electrical engineering, now statistician for the Commonwealth Electric company of Chicago, was a visitor in the College of Engineering a few days ago. He reports good work by two younger University of Nebraska students, Merle Rainey, '23, and Nelson A. Easter, '24, who are working in his department.

University Night, First Held in 1910, Now One of Most Popular Events

Character of Programs Presented Has Changed Little Since Time Of First of the Annual Fun Night Performances Sixteen Years Ago.

University Night has been a tradition here for sixteen years. The annual program night, an attempt at pleasantly satirizing University life, has had a great deal to do with moulding Nebraska spirit.

For many years University Nights had been current in different universities. At Illinois, West Point, and Nevada, especially, these programs had proven so successful that they were made school traditions. Much enthusiasm, then, was aroused over the first University night in 1910.

W. L. Bates, once a member of the Board of Regents, was the first chairman of the event. A sketch of University life as seen by a freshman was the main feature of the entertainment. The Glee Club made its first appearance before the University public under the organization which it has retained. "A Medic's Revenge" was given to show the people the dexterity of the coming doctors, and to show the public that their appropriations were not being wasted. There were several other acts put on by the band, the dramatic club, and the fraternity minstrels.

The next University Night show was given at The Temple Theater, February 17, 1911. It was very difficult to provide enough seats for

HUSKERS STAGB COMEBACK AND DEFEAT PIKERS

After Looosing to Missouri, Cage Team Wins from Washington

SMAHA HITS HIS STRIDE

Nebraska Scoring Ace Runs Wild, Collecting Thirty-Two Points in the Two Games

The University of Nebraska basketball team broke even in two games played Friday and Saturday nights in the new Field House. The Missouri cagers won over the Huskers Friday evening and the following night Nebraska handed Washington, conquerers of Kansas and Oklahoma, a neat trimming.

Displaying the best offense of the season Nebraska overcame Washington's first half lead and defeated the Pioneers, 26 to 20. The Huskers trailed most of the game, but in the dying minutes of the tilt, two baskets by Smaha and one by Elliott clinched victory for Nebraska.

For the second consecutive night high honors go to Clark Smaha. This sandy-haired athlete contributed fourteen points to the Nebraska total and played a whale of a floor game. It was his ability to locate the basket that kept the Huskers in the running.

Washington Started Strong

Washington, the team that has victories over Kansas and Oklahoma, started out as if they intended to make Nebraska another of their victims. The Pikers presented a smooth working offense and were able to keep a jump ahead of the Huskers during the first half. The period ended 12 to 10 for Washington.

The entire Nebraska team played clever basketball. Lawson and Brown worked nicely on the defense and Brown tossed three neat field goals. Beerkle, who was sent in to take Elliott's place at forward, was the pleasant surprise of the evening. The former Omaha Central athlete caged two baskets and was all over the floor on both offense and defense.

Cox opened the game by sneaking down the side of the court and getting a spot shot from under the basket. Brown tied the count for Nebraska with a long side shot. Seago got his first basket of the game from the side of the court and Brown again tied the score with a side shot.

Washington Holds Lead

Winkler put Washington in the lead with an under-the-basket toss and Eckert made good a gift toss. Smaha started his scoring rampage with a long one from the center of the court. Stanford made the score read 9 to 6 with one from beneath the hoop. Then Smaha added a point to the Nebraska total with a free throw.

Nebraska tied the count at 12 all at the opening of the second period when Smaha sank one from far out. Seago dribbled past the Husker defense for a basket and Stanford added another basket from the center of the floor. Smaha dribbled in for a basket and Berkie tied the count at sixteen by making a pretty follow in shot.

The Huskers took the lead for the first time during the game when Berkie caged a long one from mid-court. Cox tied the score again by going beneath the hoop for a basket. Brown dribbled down the side and caged a neat basket. Eckert repeated Brown's stunt to tie the score.

A long shot by Smaha put Nebraska two points in the clear and

CONGDON GETS HIGH OFFICE

Professor Here Elected National Treasurer of Phi Delta Kappa

Announcement has been made of the election of Allan R. Congdon, professor in Teachers College, to the position of national treasurer of the Phi Delta Kappa, national educational fraternity.

The Phi Delta Kappian, monthly publication of the fraternity, carries the notice of the election of Prof. Congdon, as well as the report of the national convention of the fraternity held in Chicago the last three days in December. Professor Congdon made a report of the convention at the monthly meeting of the Omicron chapter.
