

UNITED PRESS LEADER TALKS TO STUDENTS

Karl A. Bickel Touring West, Lectures Journalists And Public

GIVES SPECIAL WARNING

"Don't Go Into Journalism Unless You Can't Possibly Stay Out," He Says

"Don't go into journalism unless you can't possibly stay out," was the warning President Karl A. Bickel, of the United Press, fired at students of the School of Journalism in an address last evening in Social Science Auditorium.

Mr. Bickel, who was appointed president of the great news gathering organization four years ago, after a distinguished record as war correspondent, is making a lecture tour of the West. He was introduced by Prof. M. M. Fogg, director of the School of Journalism. Following the address motion pictures were shown of the world-wide gathering and distribution of news by the United Press.

"Be sure that you can't stay out, that you don't want to be a doctor or lawyer. If you feel down in your heart that you simply have got to be in journalism, then you will be a success at it," he declared. "I know of no other time when the rewards in journalism are so great for able men and women who have ideas and a willingness to work."

World Wants Youth

"The world is simply crying for intelligent, able young men and women to go into the business. We want your youth. We will suck it up and pay you well for it, and you will get a lot of fun out of it. But you must make up your mind that there is nothing else you care for. You must give up the thought of regular hours, home, an established residence, until a time when you are possibly too old to enjoy these comforts," he continued.

"If you are going in, and you decide that it is the only thing in the world for you, then do not be too much attracted by the high salaries," he further warned. "The curse of newspapers in a sense is high salaries. Point your life, if possible, at getting an interest in the enterprise. Never allow yourself to be deterred from your purpose."

Select Your Job

"You pick out your newspaper nine times out of ten. Look over the field to the best of your ability, and then select your job, and never give up until you get it. You'll get it."

That newspapers are no longer going to attempt to mold public opinion for or against a cause, was Mr. Bickel's prediction about the future of journalism.

"People make up their own minds now as to what should be their course of action, and if an editor gets too obtrusive and too insistent I think you are somewhat inclined to drop that newspaper and do your thinking for yourself," he reasoned in support of his prediction, which he bases in part on the effects of the tremendous amount of intelligence which the universities have been "pumping" into the public for the last thirty years.

Is Journalism A Profession?

"I question whether journalism is a profession at all. I am coming to believe we are more an industry that will rank with the steel and automobile. But I frankly admit it is open to debate," he ventured in discussing another phase. "Just as an electric light plant is a generator of electric energy, so the editor of the future is going to look a great deal at his newspaper in the same way. Papers are becoming generating plants for advertising energy."

Mr. Bickel is leaving this morning for Hastings to attend the convention of the Nebraska Press Association.

GRAPPLERS LEAVE FOR MINNEAPOLIS

Meet University of Minnesota Team In A Dual Contest Next Saturday

The wrestling team will leave at 4:40 o'clock this afternoon for Minneapolis, where they will meet the University of Minnesota in a dual meet Saturday night.

The men who will make the trip are Blare, Weber, Kellogg, Skinner, Capt. Highley, Brannigan and Tunjig. They will be accompanied by their coach, Dr. R. G. Clapp.

This meet promises to be very close as Minnesota defeated Wisconsin in a dual meet 14 to 3 last Saturday night. The match was held under the Western Inter-Collegiate rules, and according to the point system used Wisconsin could have won only one match out of the seven.

Summer Session Bulletins Are Now Available; First Term Opens June 8

Courses Offered For Twelve Weeks Cut Into Two Periods To Take Care of Large Enrollment This Year; Expect Good Attendance

Plans for the Summer Session, to be given June 8 to August 20, have been completed, and bulletins are now available.

The session is given to enable undergraduates, graduates, and teachers to continue their studies along educational or professional lines during the summer months. Students who find it necessary to shorten the time to be spent at school are aided in obtaining degrees in a much shorter time. Many students and teachers work for professional degrees. The Teachers are especially aided by the Summer Session, as it enables them to meet the new requirements and to qualify for higher degrees.

The Summer Session for many years offered but six weeks of work, but because of the large enrollment, it was increased to twelve weeks, with two terms. The schedule and classes are so arranged that the courses can be entered into either term. Nearly all departments in the second term offer beginning work.

Work Continued

The instruction in all the colleges is so planned that work begun in the first term can be continued in the second session. A large number of students have been attending both terms. All courses are given at the main campus, with the exception of Home Economic Courses, which are given at the Agricultural campus. General entrance requirements are observed for all the colleges.

Those who will attend the Summer Session will be brought into contact with many of the foremost educators in America. Among those who have been secured to offer special courses are Dr. George D. Strayer, Dr. N. L. Engelhardt, and Dr. William H. Kirkpatrick, all of Columbia University; E. Merton Coulter, of the University of Georgia; Ernest W. Nelson, Cornell University; and many other well known educators.

In the College of Law the Summer Session will begin June 8 and close July 28. The regular faculty will give the courses. Six hours credit, or one-half of a semester of Law, can be obtained. To meet the demand on the part of schoolmen of Nebraska for training of teachers in the coaching of athletics, special attention will be given to courses in coaching football, basketball, and the track.

Large Teaching Staff

The work of the Summer Session will be especially attractive on the field of supervision and administration. In order to meet more adequately the professional needs of the Nebraska teachers, practically the entire staff of the Teachers College will be on duty doing full work for at least one term. In addition a number of other instructors have been secured. Courses are planned to meet the needs of the teachers of wide experience as well as those who are just entering the profession.

The School of Fine Arts is offering an attractive schedule. There is also a wide range of courses in the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Business Administration, and instruction is offered in the College of Engineering, and the School of Journalism. Special courses are planned for the Pre-Medical group. A complete Summer School bulletin, or any other information desired, may be obtained by writing to the Director of the Summer School, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Nebraska.

AG COLLEGE CAGE TEAMS WILL MEET

First and Second Rounds of Inter-Departmental Basketball Are Played

The animal husbandry and rural economics basketball teams will meet Friday afternoon, February 26, at 4 o'clock at the college gymnasium to play the final round of the inter-departmental basketball tournament at the Agricultural College.

In the first round the animal husbandry team beat the vocational education team 31-8, and the rural economics team won easily from the Ag engineers 49-6. In the second round the animal husbandry team beat the dairy 14-9, and in a hard fought contest the rural economics team won from the plant industry five 16-9.

The two teams are evenly matched, much rivalry exists between them, and a large crowd is expected to see the game.

Michigan Builds Field House
For basketball games alone, the University of Michigan built the Yost Field House, which will hold 9,000 spectators. Now they are going to enlarge it.

WEATHER FORECAST

Friday: Generally fair.

Weather Conditions

A severe storm has moved from Missouri to the Ohio valley and Lake Michigan, with high winds in places and with heavy rain in Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois, turning to snow in eastern Iowa. The storm is extending eastward toward the middle Atlantic coast. Light snow is falling in the Dakotas, Montana, and Wyoming. Fair weather and temperatures above freezing will prevail in the middle and lower Missouri valley and the Southwest.

SANDZEN WILL VISIT LINCOLN

Noted Artist To Be Guest of University on February 27 and 28

DISPLAY IN ART GALLERY

Mr. Birger Sandzen, one of the foremost artists of the country, will be the guest of the University on February 27 and 28. A collection of his paintings, lithographs, and wood cuts are on exhibition in the Art Gallery now.

Mr. Sandzen was born in Blidsberg, Sweden, in 1871, and received much of his art education there, studying under Anders Zorn and Richard Bergh in Stockholm, and Aman-Jean in Paris. In 1894 he accepted a position to teach at Bethany College, where he is Professor of Art History and Director of the Art School. Mr. Sandzen has also studied and painted in Mexico.

Most of his paintings are done in oils, but he also works in water color, lithography, etching and wood-engraving. He interprets the West in glowing colors and in a new, forceful style that is all his own. The rugged beauty of the Rocky Mountain region, which he has found very attractive, is depicted in his works. His paintings, done in a direct manner, also bring out the picturesque aspect of the Kansas country.

A reception, under the auspices of Sigma Lambda and Pi Sigma Alpha, will be held in honor of Mr. Sandzen in the University Art Gallery from 3 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Mr. Sandzen will talk in the Art Gallery at 5 o'clock Sunday.

HOLD INTELLIGENCE TESTS

Over 50,000 Students in Mississippi Schools Furnish Survey Material

More than 50,000 students in Mississippi elementary schools, high schools, and colleges are submitting to intelligence tests, measures of achievement, and tests for aptitudes in a survey directed by Prof. M. V. O'Shea and other professors in the University of Wisconsin school of education.

The survey, when completed, will be more extensive than has ever been carried out in the state school system heretofore. The educational and scientific data will be of extraordinary value to educators, sociologists, psychologists, and social workers. The cost of the survey is being met by Bernard B. Jones, Washington, D. C., a former resident of Mississippi, who has previously given large sums for higher education in Mississippi.

A board of twelve consultants, including Professors V. A. C. Henning, and John G. Fowlkes, of the University of Wisconsin, are aiding Prof. O'Shea in carrying out the survey and in scoring, tabulating and interpreting the results.

Prof. O'Shea went to Mississippi last fall, on the invitation of Governor H. L. Whitfield and completed a survey of the state school system. He recommended a thorough application of intelligence tests and also measurements of the educational achievements.

Successful Drive

The University of Oklahoma, at the conclusion of a drive, discovered that they had $350,000, just exactly $100,000 more than they asked for. They built a Student Union.

Praise Minnesota's System

Minnesota's system of choosing publication heads was highly praised as the most efficient represented by any delegates attending the Midwest Student conference at Tulane University, New Orleans, Louisiana, February 17 to 20, according to Minnesota delegates.

TRACK TEAM LEAVES FOR RELAY MEET

Thirteen Men Will Represent Nebraska at Famous Illinois Contests

LOCKE FAVORED TO WIN

Reports from East Concede Husker Sprinter First in Two Events

The track team, composed of thirteen men, will leave this noon from the Rhoek Island depot for Urbana, Illinois, to compete in the Illinois relays. The preliminary races will be run on Saturday afternoon and the finals in the evening.

Reports from the East concede Nebraska first in the 75-yard and 300-yard dashes, which will be run by Locke, Missouri Valley champion and winner of these event at the relays last year. "Choppy" Rhodes is also rated very high at the relays, and is expected to place near the top. The mile and four mile relay team is expected to offer strong competition, as they are composed of men exceptionally fast in the quarter and mile run.

Stiff Competition

Nebraska will be without the services of Weir in the hurdles, as he is forced to stay at home because of having his tonsils removed early this week. Lewis has also been sick the last few days, but it is hoped that he will be in shape to run in the relays.

Krimmelmeier in the shot and Wirsig in the pole vault will be in competition of a very high caliber, for Kuck, Emporia, Kansas, has been putting the shot close to 50 feet, and Harrington, Notre Dame, holds the intercollegiate record in the pole vault.

Coach Schulte expressed doubt as to whether he would enter teams in the two mile and medley relays, and it is likely that he will keep the men to events which they have been used to.

Thursday evening the squad went through a light work-out in preparation for the meet, and with the exception of Weir and Lewis, should be in the best of condition Saturday.

The men making the trip are: Captain Locke, Rhodes, Wirsig, Krimmelmeier, Zimmerman, Hein, Davenport, Daily, Wyatt, Lewis, Ross, Roberts, and Johnson. "Doc" McClean will accompany the team.

GASS AUTHOR OF NEW BOOK

"The Criers of the Shops" Is Title; Printed By Boston Company

Prof. Sherlock B. Gass, of the English Department, is the author of a new book entitled "The Criers of the Shop." It was printed by Marshall Jones Company, of Boston, Mass. The book has been placed on the market.

Fogg and Walker Attend Meeting

Prof. M. M. Fogg and Gavie C. Walker, of the School of Journalism, are going to Hastings this morning to attend the annual convention of the Nebraska Press Association.

Finance Campaign for Vera Barger's Work in China Will Begin Next Week

Reform of the Chinese written language, simplification of its characters, is one of the most important steps toward modernizing Chinese civilization. Miss Vera Barger, national physical education director in China for whom University of Nebraska women will conduct a finance campaign next week, told the Grace Coppock staff captains, during her recent visit to the campus. A recent article in the Christian Science Monitor also emphasizes the importance of a new, simple language as a means of taking China out of her "mental stagnation."

"To Chinese ears the cry, 'Down with Confucius' is as strange as the anti-Christian utterances of the communists in the west," the article reads. "Yet it re-echoed on the streets of Changsha recently, when a street procession was held in protest against the thrallidom which the Chinese language lays upon the people of the country. The more radical reformers charge against this great teacher, who has inspired China for twenty-five centuries, that his teachings have been the cause of mental stagnation; that the civilization he supported with all his power, was based on monarchy and imperialism now out of style."

Miss Barger spoke of the difficulty Chinese from different sections of the nation experience in trying to speak to each other. Many of the professors in universities near

Rumors of Publishing an Evening Shun Bring Out Denial Statement

Few University Night Tickets Still on Sale

A few University Night tickets are still left, according to V. Royce West, and may be procured at the Orpheum Theater box office. All seats are selling at $1.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 o'clock Saturday evening. The dress rehearsal will be held Saturday afternoon, at which time those taking part in the skits will receive their tickets.

FIELD NARROWS IN FRAT GAMES

Delta Tau Delta Beats Delta Chi; Delta Upsilon Is Winner

CONTINUE ON SATURDAY

Yesterday's Results
Delta Tau Delta, 23; Delta Chi, 9.
Delta Upsilon, 29; Phi Delta Theta 6.

Saturday's Games

Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, 3 o'clock.

Delta Tau Delta vs. Delta Upsilon, 4 o'clock.

The third round of the inter-fraternity basketball tournament was completed Thursday afternoon. The games were both uneven, the Delta Tau Delta outfit walking on Delta Chi, and the Delta Upsilon five swamping the Phi Delta Theta team.

In the first half of the game between Delta Tau Delta and Delta Chi, the latter made the fight interesting for the Deltas. The score was 10 to 7, the Delta Chi five holding their opponents down, the Deltas having a hard time to find the basket. Olson seemed to be working the best for the Deltas, while Yoder and Horny were dividing honors for Delta Chi. In the second half the Deltas improved, scoring thirteen points to two for their opponents. Barnett, Delta Chi guard, was put on personal fouls. Aside from the fact that the score was uneven, the game was interesting to watch. Olson was the high point man of the game, and the outstanding performer. He made ten points. Bronson, Delta Tau Delta guard, came up the floor and flipped in two field goals. Yoder was the chief point gainer for Delta Chi. The Delta Tau Delta five advanced to the semi-finals, and will meet the Delta Upsilon team on Saturday.

Second Game Uneven

The second game was one-sided. The first half ended 3 to 1 in favor of Delta Upsilon. The sole point scored for the Phi Deltas was a free throw by Lindell. Dana and Westoupp were the scoring aces for D. U. in the first half. The latter team seemed able to put the ball through the hoop at will. In the second part, the Phi Delta Theta five attempted a rally, but it was short-lived. Zimmer made a shot from the floor, and Campbell added two more points.

Sigma Delta Chi Will Attempt Prevention of "Yellow Sheet" During University Night at the Orpheum Theater Tomorrow

Additional rumors of the publication of an Evening Shun to be issued University Night, February 27, brought a statement from Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity Thursday, that that organization is absolutely opposed to the issuance of the banned publication and will in no way be responsible if the "yellow sheet" is distributed.

The following is the formal statement issued by Sigma Delta Chi on Thursday:

To Whom it May Concern:
This organization hereby disclaims any connection with, or responsibility for, the publication of an Evening Shun, or any similar publication on or about the time of University Night, on February 27, 1926.

Due to the fact that the scandal-mongering journal was, until three years ago, published by the journalistic fraternity, mere rumors of the appearance of such a publication at once threw suspicion on the Sigma Delta Chi, for thirteen years publisher of The Evening Shun.

No definite information as to the publication of a scandal sheet this year has been obtained, and the University Night committee plans to do everything in its power to prevent distribution at the Orpheum Theater, where the sixteenth annual performance will be given Saturday night.

A special guard will be detailed to each entrance. The electric-light box will also be closely guarded to prevent throwing the house into darkness and distributing the papers.

MYSTIC FISH IS HOSTESS AT TEA

Weekly Reception in Ellen Smith Hall Has Circus Decoration

The members of the Mystic Fish, freshman women's honorary organization, were the hostesses at the weekly tea given at Ellen Smith Hall on Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The circus motif of the tea was carried out in the decorations, refreshments and program of the afternoon.

Serpentine booths formed the decorations. At one booth refreshments consisting of pink lemonade and animal crackers were served, at another a puppet show, an adaptation of "The Three Bears" was directed by Adelene Howland, Florida Nye, Eloise McMonies and Priscilla Towle. The show was made by the members of Miss Florence Ostoff's Education 105 class. Katherine Gallagher gave a clown dance and Dorothy Abel a ballet dance. Music for dancing was furnished by Madeline Jackson and Olive Fletcher.

Attendance Is Good At Voluntary Chapel

At Hiram College, Ohio, chapel is compulsory. But last week a series of church meetings were turned over entirely to student management. Attendance was voluntary—and ample.

"It is not altogether insignificant," says the "Hiram Advance" "that nobody was observed playfully ripping the veneer off the seats, throwing chalk, or reading any of our moron literature."

The experiment may be taken for what it is worth. It shows at least two things: first, that voluntary chapel will be attended by a fair sized and desirable group of students; second that the greater the degree of student participation, the more attentive and interested the audience."

Chorus Planning Dance on March 6

Plans are being made for a dance to be given by the University Chorus on March 6 in the Art Gallery. The Chorus has grown this semester, and a large turnout is expected.

The singers, under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Raymond, have been working on two pieces to be given during the semester. One is the "New Life," by Wolf-Ferraria, an Italian composer known throughout Europe for the beauty of his choral work. The other is "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," by Coleridge-Taylor, who gives expression in music to a happy moment in the life of the Indians.

Reports for Baseball

Nick "Cowboy" Kutsch, the 1925 Iowa football sensation, has reported for baseball and hopes to hold down a place in the infield.

HUSKER FIVE PREPARE FOR KANSAS GAME

Cagesters Go to Lawrence Tomorrow for Saturday Night Contest

JAYHAWKS HEAD VALLEY

Conference Leaders Will Give Scarelet and Cream Stiff Competition

Coach Bearg's Husker cagesters are scheduled for only one game this week-end. Saturday the Nebraska squad will journey to Lawrence to clash with the Kansas Jayhawks, the team that is now leading the conference.

After losing five straight games, the Huskers reversed their style last Saturday night and came through with a victory over the Washington Bears. It is to be remembered that the Bears are the boys that handed both Kansas and Oklahoma defeats earlier in the season.

Dope in the Kansas game heavily favors the Jayhawks, but strange things have happened in basket ball. Tuesday night the Kansas team had to extend itself to the limit to win over the Missouri Tigers, a team that has won only three Valley games this season.

Nebraska Unsteady

Nebraska has played unsteady basketball all year, but when the team is right, they form a hard combination to beat. It may be that the Huskers will upset the dope and win over Kansas.

The five that Coach Bearg used most of the Washington game was the best to exhibit their wares on the Nebraska court this season. Smaha and Beerkle worked well at forward, and Brown and Lawson were good running side by side at the guard positions.

Captain Ekstrom was at center, and although he had difficulty in locating the basket, he played a good defensive game.

It is probable that this is the combination that will start against the Jayhawkers Saturday night.

NEBRASKA MAN IN LEAGUE BASEBALL

Byrel Lang, Former Husker Pitching Ace, Signs With the San Francisco Seals

Another Nebraska man has hit the stride and has made his debut in major athletics. Byrel Lang, former pitching ace of the University of Nebraska's baseball team, and captain-elect of the 1926 team until the sport of baseball was abolished last year, has landed in San Francisco, and is making himself heard on the training grounds of the California Seals.

Lang signed with the Seals about a month ago and has also received offers to try-out with larger major teams, such as the Boston Red Sox.

Lang has played in a number of games, including two or three one and two-hit contests played when Nebraska had baseball. Lang was regarded as the best in the Missouri Valley league from the pitchers point of view; other critics also considered him the best in the Middle West.

Reports Favorable

Newspapers and men that have had experience in the game of baseball, all seem to report favorably on the former Nebraska athlete. The San Francisco Chronicle states that Lang, the big strapping youth from the University of Nebraska, has decided to report for professional baseball.

John Frank, former player in the old Three-Eye League, and now an umpire of baseball games in the smaller towns of Nebraska, who has seen Lang play a number of times, wrote to sign the Nebraska athlete, if possible. Lang refused the offer last year, in order to finish his college work. However, when his favorite sport was dropped from the school's list of athletics, Lang quit.

It is possible that he will return to Nebraska some time later to finish his degree, this is the opinion of Ed Hughes, writing in the San Francisco Chronicle.

Lang's record for the last year is enviable even for the bigger pitchers. Lang pitched thirty-five games and won twenty-eight of them.

Errant Freshmen Punished

Three errant freshmen will receive haircuts to be given out by the tribunal for customs violation at Penn State. Association with the fair sex was the charge brought against the freshmen. The tribunal also decided upon strict enforcement of the rule prohibiting sophomore infringement upon upperclass dress privileges.
