HUSKERS ARE TROUNCED BY JAYHAWKERS

Nebraska Defense Weakens After Nip and Tuck First Half

LAWSON STARS AT GUARD

Play Characterized as Best on Kansas Court, Despite 30 to 17 Score

(Special to The Daily Nebraskan) LAWRENCE, Kans., Feb. 27.—Despite the fact that the Kansas basketball team defeated the Nebraska Cornhuskers by a score of 30 to 17, the Nebraskans exhibited the best brand of basketball during the first half that a visiting team has shown on the Kansas court this year.

The score at the half was 10 to 11, in favor of the Jayhawkers. Ekstrom, Nebraska center, made the first score with a pretty field goal from the center of the court. Burton, Kansas guard, soon evened up the score with another long shot. Neither team was ahead of the other by more than three points during the first half.

Soon after the start of the second half the Jayhawkers swung into action. A whirlwind attack and an air tight defense soon put them well out in front. The Cornhuskers, in the meantime, could not locate the basket, and it was not until about two minutes before the gun that they scored their only second-half field goal.

Smaha played a good floor game for Nebraska, and Ekstrom did well on the offensive. Lawson's work at guard was the best part of Nebraska play.

The Kansas stars were Petersen at center, Gordon at forward, and Burton at guard.

SORORITY HOUSES DAMAGED BY FIRE

Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Delta Theta Residences Burn; Much Clothing Ruined

Fire partially destroyed the Alpha Delta Theta sorority house, 312 No. Fourteenth Street, and some damage was done to the adjoining Alpha Chi Omega house, 1410 Q street, early Saturday morning, February 27. The fire broke out between the partitions of the two houses at about four o'clock, and it is thought to have been caused by defective wiring.

One room of the Alpha Delta Theta house was entirely destroyed, and the contents of several other rooms were lost. The damage to the Alpha Chi Omega house was not so great, but there was considerable loss from damage to clothing.

The Alpha Chi Omega sorority is planning to move the latter part of next week, but has not definitely yet decided upon their new location.

D. U., PHI SIG ARE FINALISTS

Beat Delta Tau Delta and Kappa Sigma in Inter-fraternity Semi-Finals

TO DECIDE CUP TUESDAY

Yesterday's Results
Phi Sigma Kappa, 21; Kappa Sigma, 14.
Delta Upsilon, 26; Delta Tau Delta, 21.

Tuesday's Game—Final
Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Delta Upsilon, 4 o'clock.

The semi-finals of the inter-fraternity basketball tournament were played Saturday. The Phi Sigma Kappa and the Delta Upsilon teams came off victors and will play in the finals on Tuesday.

In the first game the Phi Sigma Kappa five played the Kappa Sigma team off its feet, the score being 21 to 14. This was probably the surprise game of the tournament, as the duo pointed to Kappa Sigma, if to either team. The Phi Sig defense was the main factor in the victory. Their guards, Nicholson, Higgins, and Johnson did some stellar defense work and were aided by the other men. The combination of Paulsen to Othmer of the Kappa Sig offense could not function, as they were held down tightly on the close shots.

Both teams started off well, carrying the ball in a nice manner. The Phi Sigs missed a number of shots, but Grace finally caged one. Holmes, Kappa Sig, came down for a short shot, but missed. Andrews put in another for the Phi Sigs. He followed that shortly with a free throw. King slipped in a free throw. Andrews added to his total with another field goal, which was a neat shot.

Kappa Sigs Fail To Score

The Kappa Sigma five was working together better, but could not connect with the basket. They missed two free throws, then King counted up two more for Phi Sigma Kappa with a pretty field goal. Andrews got another field goal. The Kappa Sig guards took a vacation, and Andrews took advantage of it and rang in a short shot. Ulstrom missed two more free throws for Kappa Sigma, but Othmer broke the ice for them by slipping in a field goal.

Paulsen brought the Kappa Sig's total to four with a beauty from the floor. King slipped in a shot, and Higgins ended the scoring of the half with a free throw. The game was very fast. Andrews was high point man, and King was starring with the Phi Sigs. King was playing a very pretty floor game.

The second half of the game showed an improvement in the Kappa Sigs, but they could not solve the Phi Sigma Kappa defense. Paulsen opened the counting with a nice long shot. King missed about three tries in a row. Nicholson was put out of the game on personal fouls, Johnson taking his place. Not much.

Annual "Frolic of the Greeks" On March 12 Will Close Formal Season

The Pan-Hellenic Ball has been an annual traditional event on this campus for many years. Because it has always been one of the biggest parties of the year, ranking with the Military Ball and the Senior Prom it usually ushered in or closed the formal season.

During the war this traditional event was not held, but it was revived in 1923. Until the war necessitated a stop to this formal, it was sponsored by the Kismet Club, but since 1923, it has been under the direction of the Pan-Hellenic Ball Committee, assisted by a representative from each fraternity.

The City Auditorium was usually used because it was the largest place in the city. Since 1923 the Scottish Rite Temple has been used.

In 1917 the ball was given as a farewell party to those who were leaving for training camps. The proceeds of this dance were given to French orphans. Because of the

Y. M. C. A. PLANS 'SHORT, SNAPPY' FINANCE DRIVE

Many Students Volunteer Aid In Raising Money to Make Up Deficit

TO CAMPAIGN THURSDAY

Canvas Entire Student Body in One Evening; Will Be on Strictly Cash Basis

One thousand dollars is the amount which the University Y. M. C. A. expects to raise in a "short and snappy" finance drive Thursday evening, March 4, to make up the deficit in its budget caused by the failure of its student drive last fall.

About two hundred and twenty-five men have volunteered to help in the campaign, which is being so arranged by Gerald Davis, "Y" finance chairman, that the entire student body can be canvassed in one evening. About one-third of these men will work in the fraternity houses and the others will solicit in rooming houses.

The Y. M. C. A. budget drafted by the cabinet at the beginning of the school year called for at least two thousand dollars from the student body. Only one-half of this amount was raised in the four-day campaign. Subsequently the 'Y' officers discussed various means of making up the deficit, but came to the conclusion that only by staging another student drive could it be taken care of.

Opens With Banquet

The drive will open with a banquet at the Grand hotel. Leaders in the 'Y' movement here and prominent students and faculty members will speak.

Each man will be given a list of men to see. These lists will be arranged so that each man will see a bunch of students in the same house or locality. By this method it is expected that the drive can be finished in the one evening.

Headquarters for the campaign will be maintained in either the 'Y' rooms in The Temple or at the Grand hotel and each worker will report that evening on the men he has seen.

DUTEAU TO BE FORUM SPEAKER

Arts and Science Junior to Discuss Evils of Our University Social

EXPECT BIG DISCUSSION

Ellsworth Duteau, junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, will discuss "Some Evils of Our Present University Social System" at the regular weekly World Forum luncheon at the Grand hotel Wednesday noon.

The topic is felt to be especially timely because of the general discussion of social life in the University which has been aroused by the recent agitation against the use of rent-a-Fords. Mr. Duteau was one of the leaders in the original campaign against the increase in rent-a-Ford rates and the one who insisted, in his letters in The Daily Nebraskan, on the students realizing that the rent-a-Ford question was only one reflection of the evils of the social system at Nebraska.

Tickets for the luncheon are twenty-five cents and are on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office in The Temple and at Ellen Smith Hall. It is also possible that tickets may be distributed to the various fraternity houses for sale, as the subject is one, it is thought, in which fraternity men, most particularly, will be interested.

It is expected that a most lively discussion of student life and student problems will follow Mr. Duteau's talk.

Duteau, who is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, comes from Merrill, Wisconsin. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The series on "Progress" has been temporarily dropped by the Forum, but will be resumed in about a month.

Wednesday, March 10, Mr. J. R. Isaac, a secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of India, will discuss some phase of the life and problems of India. The next week Thomas Q. Harrison, of the Fellowship of Youth for Peace will speak. The following Wednesday Dr. Gerald Bierney Smith of the University of Chicago, who is coming to the University to deliver a series of six addresses on "Religion and Modern Life," will speak.

The series on "Progress" will be resumed early in April, with addresses by Mrs. Hattie Plum Williams of the department of sociology on "Social Reform and Progress" and an address on "Progress and the Individual" by Prof. J. A. Rice, Jr., chairman of the department of ancient languages.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Sixteenth Annual Program Presented; Vein of Humor Prevails

'TEA FOR TWO' MAKES HIT

Clever Entertainers Make Acts Enjoyable; Seven Skits Put on By Students

The sixteenth annual University Night program was presented to the students of Nebraska and the citizens of Lincoln Saturday evening at the Orpheum theater. A capacity house witnessed the seven skits put on by students.

A light vein of humor was carried out though the entire program and "wise cracks" were scattered hither and thither with reckless abandon. Between acts jokes were thrown upon the screen much to the delight of the audience or part of it.

The opening number by the Tassels, depicted a court scene with the king (Dean Engberg) and the queen (Dean Heppner) played by Margaret Long and Ruth Clendenin respectively. Harriet Cruise took the part of the court jester and was ably supported by a chorus of girls. Songs and witty jokes made up the majority of the act.

Robert Barr presented "Campus Chalk Talk" and his sketches of events that have happened on the campus brought many laughs. All of the drawings were very clever and were well received.

"Going Up" was the name of a skit presented by the Corn Cobs. The scene was laid in a hotel lobby with a large majority of the Corn Cobs playing the part of co-eds. Prominent students who came to register at the hotel offered the merriment for the act. A bell-boy quartet that sang several clever songs was perhaps the best scene of this number.

The scene of the Dramatic club skit was laid in the Silver Moon. A group of students had congregated there and were followed by the Dean of Men and Dean of Women. Dance and song numbers played a prominent part in making this act a success, which was brought to a close by a speech by Dean Engberg himself.

The prize-winning skit, entitled "Bigger and Better," and written by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, was produced by Pi Epsilon Delta, organization of intercollegiate players, and was adjudged by most of the audience as being worthy of first prize, as it was cleverly written. This was the only act on the program in which any attempt was made really to satirize campus personages and traditions. It should provide a warning to all students inclined to spend much time "thinking." The scene of the skit was "At the Switch"—in Prof. M. M. Pogg's office—and the time "The Deadline Hour."

"Hold Everything" was a comedy skit put on by Judd Crocker and Wallace Weeks and consisted of songs, dances, and clever jokes. They were assisted at the piano and banjo by Allan Gardner.

"Ten for Two" featuring Harriett Cruise and Ed Ellingson as vocalists with Russel Townsend and Ed Walt, Jr., at the pianos was good for three curtain calls. All of this group are talented musicians and their songs and music finished the evening of entertainment.

Bulletin Gives Interesting Reports On Teaching Conditions In Nebraska

(University News Service) To serve as a "clearing house in Nebraska for educational research and the best of theory and practices in the field," the first Educational Research Bulletin of Teachers College of the University of Nebraska was published last week. The bulletin contains three essays submitted in the Graduate College.

The first thesis is on the "Relation Between the Subjects Taught and the Teachers' Preparation," by Agnes Undeland, Omaha. It is based on a study of the reports of 402 high schools in Nebraska. Miss Undeland finds that about seven-tenths of the teachers are in small schools having less than ten teachers. As a result the majority of people planning to teach will have to content themselves with small schools for the first years at least.

The teachers in these smaller schools have to teach on an average of at least three different and un-

GRACE COPPOCK DRIVE TO START

Begins Tuesday and Ends Saturday; Slogan is "Nebraska in China"

GOAL IS SET AT $1700

The Grace Coppock Memorial drive to be used for the further development of physical education work in China by Vera Barker will be launched on Tuesday evening at a mass meeting of team captains and members at Ellen Smith Hall at 7 o'clock. The goal has been set for $1700 and the drive will continue from Tuesday evening to Saturday noon.

Luncheons will be held at Ellen Smith Hall on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday noons to give the members a chance to check in their money and to gather together to hear more of "Nebraska in China," the slogan of the drive. Speakers for the luncheons will be announced on Tuesday. The luncheons will be 25 cents and will be served by the social staff under the direction of Muriel Flynn.

This is the twentieth year that the Grace Coppock drive has been held. Before the death of Miss Coppock, '05, in 1921, the fund raised by the Nebraska Y. W. C. A. paid Miss Coppock's salary. She was the first national Y. W. C. A. executive in China. Grace Coppock Memorial Fund was established the following year after her death and the money then went to support the work of Vera Barger, '11. It has been used by her to establish playgrounds, summer camps and to support popular health education campaigns for women and girls in China.

Miss Barger Carries On Work

The idea of physical education for girls and women in China is comparatively new. In many places in China Miss Barger has been the first one to introduce the idea of active games.
