HUSKER QUINT MEETS TIGERS ON LAST TRIP

Will Play at Missouri Tonight and at Washington University Saturday

SQUAD IS IN GOOD SHAPE

Bear Men Round Out Week of Stiff Drill Here; Expect Hard Games This Week-End

The Husker basketball squad, headed by Coach Ernest Bear, is off on its last trip of the 1926 season. Tonight the team will meet the Missouri Tigers in their lair at Columbus, and Saturday the Squad will continue on their journey to St. Louis where the Washington Bears will be met.

The Nebraska five has played both of these teams this season, having lost to Missouri and turned in a victory over Washington. Coach Bear's men should find tough sledding in both cities and the Huskers must play a fast brand of ball if they are to return victorious.

Missouri perhaps offers the stiffest competition. After getting off to a poor start in the Valley race, the Tigers have found themselves and are now playing a neat brand of ball. This was quite evident to Nebraska fans in the Missouri game here. After trailing the Huskers the major portion of the second period, the Tigers got enough baskets in the final minutes to give them a win.

Washington on its own floor is always a threat. Although the Bears succumbed on the Lincoln floor it was only after a hard struggle and it must be remembered that Washington is the team that has victories over both Oklahoma and Kansas. The Huskers left Lincoln in good physical shape, the entire squad rounding out a week of stiff practice in nice style. These two games close the Nebraska season.

A. W. S. LEADERS AT THURSDAY TEA

Alice in Wonderland Motif Carried Out in Weekly Entertainment at Ellen Smith Hall

One hundred and fifty university women attended the Mad March Hare tea given Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in Ellen Smith Hall under the auspices of the Associated Women Students board. Refreshments and the program for the afternoon carried out the theme of the Mad March Hare and Alice in Wonderland.

A dance was given by Jean Tucker, as Alice in Wonderland, accompanied by Olive Fletcher and Madeline Jackson. Marjorie Drake gave two readings, Eola Gass and Ethel Cunningham, dressed as Alice in Wonderland, served the guests.

The members of the A. W. S. board were the hostesses of the tea. In the receiving line were Marguerite Forsell, Marial Flynn, Vera Upton, Margaret Dunlap, Orrel Rose Jack, Ruth Barker, and Helen Anderson. Orrel Rose Jack had charge of the servers.

MORE TEAMS ENTER HIGH SCHOOL MEET

Entry List of Basketball Tournaments Growing Larger; Number of Teams Now is 328

Six more entries for the Nebraska high school basketball tournament, to be held here next week-end, boosted the total teams yesterday morning up to 328. The huge task of classifying these teams into twenty-one divisions will be started today by the high school board.

The record total exceeds any of the early estimates made by optimistic forecasters. If this growth continues the old system of classifying the teams by an alphabetical system will become useless. Only five letters now remain for future expansion. A change may be made soon, it has been suggested, to arrange the classes by numerals. Class A would thus be changed to Class 1. This would allow unlimited expansion.

The entry blanks received Thursday were: Bayard, Comstock, Dakota City, Hooper, Norfolk, North Loup.

HUSKER MATMEN TO MEET AMES

Seven Men Will Make Trip to Compete in Last Dual Match of Season

The Cornhusker wrestling team leaves this afternoon for Ames, Iowa to compete in the last dual meet of the season. The following men will make the trip: Captain Highley, Blore, Weber, Kellogg, Skinner, Brannigan and Tuning.

The team is in the best condition it has been this season and is expected to make a good showing at Ames. When Ames lost a recent dual meet to Oklahoma A. & M. it was the first time they had been defeated in a dual meet for the last several years.

Earlier in this season Ames defeated the Navy and the University of West Virginia, two of the best wrestling teams in the east.

Captains Prunty and Boyvey of Ames both won their class in the Western Intercollegiate meet and each finished second in the Missouri Valley meet last year. Woodhall, Ames, bent Skinner, Nebraska, in the Valley meet last year, but the Nebraska wrestler was handicapped by injuries.

The Missouri Valley meet which will be held at Stillwater, Oklahoma, home of Oklahoma A. & M., March 11, 12, and 13, should be decided between Nebraska, Ames, and the hosts of the meet. The 108-pound class will be included in the meet, making eight classes.

Nebraska's meet with Ames should give an idea of the second best team in the valley, as Oklahoma Aggies are generally conceded to have the best balanced squad.

Nebraska and Ames have both met Kansas University this year. Kansas lost to Nebraska this year, of twenty-one to eleven and was shut out by Ames twenty-one to nothing.

COPPOCK DRIVE MOVING SLOWLY ON SECOND DAY

$1700 Goal Not Reached But Team Captains Expect Pick-Up Today

MONEY IS SENT TO CHINA

Used By Vera Barger to Further Physical Education Among Native Children There

The Grace Coppock campaign was set at $1700, as reported at the luncheon for the team members and team captains Thursday noon at Ellen Smith Hall. The total amount taken so far is $425.50. Several team captains and members of the Grace Coppock staff admitted that they were disappointed as the drive progressed slowly, but expressed a belief that on the third day the drive would gather momentum and make up for lost time.

Wilhelmina Schellak is captaining the leading team with $51.00 to her credit. Ruth Barker heads the second team which has turned in $38.00 to date, while Elva Erickson's team has shown a total of $31.75. Each team captain is responsible for a hundred dollars of the sum set as a goal, and although work for the Grace Coppock fund will be carried over to next week, all money to count on the drive must be turned in by 6 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Hinman Speaks

Mrs. E. L. Hinman, who knew Grace Coppock well during the years she spent at the University of Nebraska, spoke to the campaign workers at the luncheon at Ellen Smith Hall. These luncheons are given daily to encourage the team members and also to give the workers an opportunity to turn in money. Wilhelmina Schellak led devotionals.

"The University of Nebraska has held a splendid record in the work of the Grace Coppock memorial, so far," declared Mrs. Hinman who spoke on her remembrances of Miss Coppock on the campus of the University of Nebraska. Mrs. Hinman characterized Miss Coppock as one who "always had her feet on the ground" in spite of the fact that she was quite idealistic.

"Grace knew how to rouse girls to their full capacity for real things," said Mrs. Hinman. "I wish that you all feel this message for worthwhile things, and I wish that you could get it through this campaign."

Grace Coppock was graduated from Nebraska in 1905, and went to China soon after her graduation. She became national secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in China, and died there in 1921. The memorial fund which the women of Nebraska sent each year to China goes to a work in which Miss Coppock was greatly interested, the physical education of Chinese women.

Miss Vera Barger who visited Nebraska last month on her way back to China, is the national physical education director of the Y. W. C. A. and uses the money sent her by the University of Nebraska to promote physical education programs all over China.

Kingsley Chen, a Chinese student, will be the speaker at the last luncheon, Friday noon in Ellen Smith Hall. Elsie Gramlich will lead devotionals. All team members should attend this luncheon so that an accurate check may be made of the campaign money.

PLANS ALL MADE FOR ANNUAL BALL

Few Tickets to Pan-Hel Event Still on Sale, Committee Says

COLONIANS WILL PLAY

Tickets for the Pan-Hellenic Ball to be held at the Scottish Rite Temple, Friday, March 12, have nearly all been sold. All the fraternities have taken their quota and there have been requests for more. There are still a few tickets available. The date set for the Ball when the tickets were printed was March 20, but this has been changed to March 12.

"Something new and different every minute" is the slogan adopted by the Pan-Hellenic Ball committee for the "Grecian Extravaganza." The committee announced that it is not worrying about the expense and intends to make it one of the best parties of the year.

Music for the evening will be furnished by the Colonians with a twelve piece orchestra. There will be nine special entertainers. During the course of the evening special prize and novelty dances will be held for which twenty prizes have been provided. Confetti and serpentine will be in abundance.

The plan of decoration is being worked out by Mr. Montgomery of Miller and Paine. A great deal of the material used is being sent from Marshall Field and Company of Chicago, Illinois.

There will be a meeting of the committee and the representatives from each fraternity at the Sigma Chi house, Sunday, March 7.

AVERY LECTURES ON LEGISLATION

Chancellor Says He is Not in Favor of Legislation-Fixed Curricula

TALKS TO ORGANIZATION

"Legislation compelling a certain fixed curriculum and legislation forbidding certain things is along the line of limiting our freedom of thought as individuals, institutions and communities. It should be exercised sparingly," declared Chancellor Samuel Avery in a talk on "Legislation on Curricula" before the meeting of the Horace Mann club last evening at the City Y. M. C. A.

The Chancellor explained that he was not arguing against the imposition of a certain fixed curriculum from within the faculty of any institution but rather from outside legislation. He pointed out the result of giving the central government a chance to say what should be taught.

"It is a question which should be left to each school and each locality to work out," he continued, "some will work it out wrong but it is better it seems to me to have the curricula expanded within."

"Everybody must, if he is going to reach his full mental development, be intellectually free."

Americans Have Taken Lead

"Generally speaking," Chancellor Avery cited, "America has taken the lead in the free public school system of the world. I think it is also true that the general genius, so to speak, of the schools in America has been local initiative, under guidance, of course stimulated by bulletins from Washington, etc." He compared our system with the system of Latin America where a highly centralized ministry of education is trying to impose education on the outlying provinces. The people of these provinces resist this educational progress. It is being imposed from a central authority and not from the initiative of the people.

The Chancellor discussed several specific attempts of legislation in curriculum and commented upon the subject in general. "I would oppose restrictive legislation either way. I want the individuals to be just as free as they can. That is, as free as we can without interfering in thought and that does not mean unlimited freedom of propaganda or a license to teach something against the existing order. Everybody must if he is going to reach his full mental development be intellectually free."

In closing Chancellor Avery appealed for the cultivation of high ideals in schools of our country. "The public must be taught to support the schools and it must not be permitted to use the schools for any other purpose than the spread of knowledge and the cultivation of truth, morality, decency, that all men everywhere who are right-minded approve of."

William Speich, president of the Horace Mann Club presided at the meeting. At the close of the Chancellor's talk the meeting was thrown over to a general discussion of the subject.

"LOST ROCKS" TALK SUBJECT

Lecture at Museum Sunday Will Be Given By Marjorie Shanafelt

"Lost Rocks" will be the subject of the address which will be given by Marjorie Shanafelt, secretary to Professor Barbour, at the museum, Sunday, March 7. This lecture will be illustrated by slides and will be given at three and four o'clock, in the laboratory on the third floor of the museum.

The other numbers of the series which will be given this month are: "Salton Sea of the Colorado Desert," by Frank H. Shoemaker, on March 14; "Half an Hour in Other People's Shoes," by Frederick G. Collins, March 21; and "Living Gold," by Marjorie Shanafelt, on March 28.

100 MEN TAKE PART IN Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN

Organization Unable to Give Report of Success of One-Night Drive

MANY MEN FAIL TO WORK

Others Turn in Amounts Varying From Fifteen to Twenty Dollars

Failure of a large number of the men working in the University Y. M. C. A.'s one evening finance campaign to report Thursday evening on their success made it impossible to make any accurate estimate at midnight as to how near the 'Y' had come to attaining the thousand dollar goal which had been set.

Many of the men who did report turned in amounts ranging from fifteen to twenty dollars. Others did not do quite so well.

Between ninety and one hundred men attended the banquet at the Grand hotel with which the drive opened. Gerald Davis, finance chairman, and Prof. O. R. Martin, chairman of the 'Y' advisory board, made short addresses explaining the necessity of the drive and plan on which it was conducted. Ed Weir, who was also to have spoken, was unable to attend, due, it was said, to illness.

'Y' officers declined last night to make any estimates as to what the total amount raised will be, preferring to await check before making any statements.

The campaign, the second one of the year, was deemed necessary because of the failure of the first one, held early in the school year. It had been expected to secure at least two thousand dollars from students at that time, but only one-half that amount was secured. It was hoped to secure the other thousand dollars in the drive last night.

Professor Martin in his short speech indicated that outside support for the 'Y' had been secured with the understanding that the students "would do their share." A deficit of about a thousand dollars, it was pointed out, has been hanging over the 'Y' since last spring. Provision for taking care of this was made in the budget planned last fall, in which at least two thousand dollars was counted on from the students.

Just what the effect on the 'Y's activities will be if the thousand dollars was not raised in the campaign last night is not known. Cabinet members indicated, however, that it may mean a general curtailment of activities and that failure of the students to "carry their share of the burden" may mean the withdrawal of outside support.

MUSIC CONVOCATION IS GIVEN THURSDAY

Program Presented Yesterday Will Be Repeated Sunday Afternoon at Art Hall

One of the finest musical convocations of the year was given, Thursday morning, March 4, at 11 o'clock, in the Temple Theater. There was an unusually large audience at the convocation.

The music by the Don G. Berry Brass Quartette was very beautiful. The quartette is composed of Don G. Berry, first trumpet, Vernon A. Forbes, second trumpet, Luther G. Andrews, French horn, and Gilbert DeLong, trombone. They presented "Matrosentied" by Grieg, "Lullaby of Life" by Leslie, "Chit Chat" (Old English), "In Modo Religioso" by Glasinou, and "From an Old Trysting Place," and "War Song," both by MacDowell.

"The Oriole," a cycle of three songs written by Flora Bullock, was also very fine. The group consisted of "Herald of Spring," "Midsummer Morn," and "Southward Bound." Leota Combes was soprano for this group, Rex Elton Fair, flutist, and Flora Bullock, pianist.

This program will be repeated on Sunday afternoon, March 7, at 4 o'clock, in the Art Hall of the Library, for the benefit of those who could not attend the convocation.

O. R. Martin To Attend Fraternity Convention

Professor O. R. Martin, College of Business Administration, leaves this evening for Lawrence, Kansas, to attend the Missouri Valley district convention of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity, to be held Friday and Saturday of this week. Professor Martin is the Grand Councilor of the fraternity for the Missouri Valley district.
