Hollow-Log Gas Pipe Is Given to Museum

(University News Service)
A hollow-log gas pipe installed in 1872 was unearthed a few days ago in the excavation for the new Spier building and has been given to the University Museum. It was on display a short time at the Lincoln Gas and Electric company. The pipe is made of an eight-inch log. The wall is over two inches thick and is soaked in pitch. The original mains in the older part of town were all made of wood, according to the gas company officials. The pipe from the Spier store was in service up to the time it was removed.

Students in Home Economics Department Will Enact Pageant; Harold Sumption Has Been Selected To Coach Annual Event

Seventy-five women will take part in "The Piper," the pageant which will be one of the attractions at the Farmers' Fair this year. All of them are students in the Home Economics department at the Agricultural College.

Mildred Nelson was appointed as chairman of the pageant committee, and Marion Lehmer was chairman of the costumes when the committees were first announced by the Fair Board, but both leave for Merrill Palmer School this week so Gladys Trullinger and Erma Collins will replace them.

Miss Steele is the faculty sponsor, and in speaking of the pageant said: "The prospects for the pageant are very good. It is going to be bigger better, and more elaborate than ever; the girls are doing very good work, and they are very enthusiastic about it. It is much larger than anything that has been given in the past."

Mr. Harold Sumption, instructor in the Dramatic Arts college of the University has been secured to coach the pageant.

The costumes are being made by the girls themselves in their sewing classes, and they receive much practical benefit and a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction of making the costume which they will wear in the pageant. The costumes are nearly completed.

Rehearsals have been held for nearly a month, and outdoor rehearsals will begin this week, providing the weather is satisfactory.

Three other pageants have been given at previous Farmers' Fairs, and large crowds attended each program. "The Piper" will be given twice this year; once in the afternoon and once in the evening.

Home Course Relays Will Be Run Off in April and Results Will Be Sent To University; Best Teams Will Enter Iowa Carnival

The annual Nebraska high school home course relays will be run between April 3 and 17 this year. The relay team making the best time in each event will be entered in the Drake University Relays held April 23 and 24. E. H. Long of the College Book Store will pay the expenses for the round trip to Des Moines for the best relay team in Nebraska.

Coach Henry F. Schulte is the man responsible for the interest in track in Nebraska. The home course relays, the state numeral roll, the better state meets, were all started by the Nebraska track coach.

The home course relays are run at the home grounds of each team. High schools that have no cinder or dirt track may measure the proper distances on a level dirt road and run there. If the relays are not run on a standard track the coaches are urged by Coach Schulte to be absolutely accurate in measuring the distances.

Advice Accurate Timing.

High school coaches should pick the best possible days to hold the races. It is suggested that the relays be run on several different days. The best time made is the one sent in. In order to insure accurate timing three competent timers should be secured for each race.

The results of the relays will be sent to Coach Schulte on April 15. The first, second, and third place teams will be announced in each relay. The first three teams in each relay will be entered in the Drake Relays. The winner of each event will be given a trophy banner.

Competition for state numerals started March 15. Interest in the

OMAHA HIGHS DROP STATE BASKET MEET

Five Schools Will Not Enter 1927 Tournament; Blame "Immoral Conduct"

SURPRISE TO UNIVERSITY

John K. Selleck Astonished; Says Next Year's Tournament Will Not Be Affected

The five Omaha public high schools will not enter teams in the 1927 state basketball tournament according to a resolution passed by the principals of the schools and the Omaha public schools recreation director, Ira Jones, Saturday morning.

The reason for this action was the "social situation connected with the tournament," according to the resolution. "Immoral conduct" on the part of some high school students is being charged by high school authorities, according to word which reached Lincoln.

The news of the withdrawal of the Omaha teams came as a complete surprise to University athletic officials, according to John K. Selleck, business agent for athletics. Herbert Gish, acting athletic director, was in Manhattan, Kans., Saturday night. Mr. Selleck said that he was sure that Mr. Gish had not heard of the matter.

The following is the resolution:

WHEREAS, the social situation connected with the State Basketball Tournament has become unwieldy, involving problems beyond the control of our high schools,

THEREFOR, be it resolved that the Omaha public schools hereby declare their intentions of entering no teams in the 1927 State Basketball Tournament.

In taking this action, the Omaha public high schools expressly wish to state their intentions to maintain their membership in the Nebraska State High School Athletic Association. The public school authorities wish to express their friendly attitude toward an appreciation of the splendid efforts for athletics on the part of the University of Nebraska and the State Athletic Association.

Dwight E. Porter, Principal Omaha Technical High School. Joseph G. Masters, Principal Omaha Central High School. B. M. Marrs, Principal, South Omaha High School. E. E. McMillan, Principal North Omaha High School. Mary McNamare, Principal Benson High School. Ira Jones, Public School Recreation Director.

"This action will not affect next year's tournament in any way, as far as I know," said Mr. Selleck Saturday night. "It is too bad and we regret it."

The action of the principals will not affect the coming state high school track meet, it was learned on Saturday night. This would indicate that high school students have conducted themselves properly while attending the latter contests.

No specific instances of improper conduct on the part of the students were given by the high school officials.

"This last tournament was the cleanest and most orderly one we have had in our sixteen years of conducting tournaments," said Mr. Selleck. Local hotel managers said they had no unusual complaints during the three days of the tournament.

Schramm of the department of geology, sent last week a number of Black Hills, Bad Lands, Wyoming, and Colorado geological specimens to the National Museum of Mexico at Mexico City. ## Zoology Department Receives Silk Worms

(University News Service)
A shipment of over 150 silk-worm cocoons from New York was received last week by Prof. R. H. Wolcott of the department of zoology. They started hatching out shortly after arrival and have been objects of much observation by the nature-study class. There are several species of native silk worms in the United States. Professor Wolcott explains, but none of them are good for commercial purposes because their thread is not even and it breaks easily.
