

HUSKER RELAY TEAM SETS WORLD RECORD

FIRST TEAM IS 19 TO 7 WINNER IN GRID MATCH

Reds Have Struggle to Beat Blues in Second Spring Practice Game

HOWELL HIGH-POINT MAN

Makes Two Touchdowns; Brown Brings Third Marker; Marrow Scores For Seconds

Spring football practice ended yesterday with a game between the first and second teams. The seconds really won as they were given a handicap of twenty points. The actual score was 19 to 7 in favor of the first eleven, however.

It was a good exhibition of football, showing much improvement over the last. A number of fumbles marred the contest, but the men worked together well. The first team were the Reds, while the second squad wore blue jerseys.

The high-point man of the game was Blue Howell. He scored two touchdowns, and "Jug" Brown carried the oval over for the other Red touchdown. Marrow made the Blue's touchdown.

Many Good Runs
Many good runs were made during the game. Brown ran 65 yards for a touchdown by shooting off tackle and eluding several Blues. Marrow, at halfback for the Blues frequently broke away for fifteen and twenty yard gains.

The Red team did not seem much stronger than the Blue, especially in the line. In the backfield, Bronson did well directing the team and also made some good runs. Blue Howell ripped through the line for gain after gain and backed up the line in fine fashion. Holm, while not carrying the ball, was good on interference. Gates, Durish, and McMullen seemed the best men in the forward wall. Marrow and Oehrich were the outstanding backfield men for the Blues. Oehrich was a very steady performer and always good for several yards. Burnham, a letter man of two seasons, played end for the Blues. Morrison, Hunt, and Krall seemed the best bet in the line.

Oehrich Kicks Off
The game started with Oehrich kicking off for the Blues. Howell returned the oval 20 yards. Brown slipped through for four yards, and Bronson made it first and ten. Brown fumbled and Burnham recovered. The Blues had to punt and Lindell kicked 35 yards against the wind. "Jug" made 25 yards around left end, but the Blues recovered another fumble soon afterward. Howell then picked up Marrow's fumble. The game at this stage was in the middle of the gridiron, both teams unable to hold the ball.

The Blues started a short march down the field, on off-tackle smashes by Marrow; and Oehrich going through the line, but losing the ball. Soon after this Bronson slipped through the left wing of the line and succeeded in clearing all the tacklers to place the oval across the goal. Howell failed to make the extra point with a place kick. The Blues kicked off again and Howell returned to the 40-yard line. Hunt picked up a fumble. Gains by Marrow advanced the ball to the 25-yard line. Westoupal failed on a criss-cross as the quarter ended.

Near Goal
Plunges by Oehrich through the center of the Red line put the ball within the 5 yards of the chalk line. Marrow failed to go off-tackle. Then Howell, backing up the line, stopped Oehrich.

The Reds punted out of danger and Lee and Lawson were both on Lindell as he received the ball. Brown intercepted a pass by Lindell but was downed by Oehrich. There was an exchange of punts and the Blue eleven advanced the ball within striking distance. A pass from Marrow to Westoupal. Oehrich made a good gain, but the half ended.

DuTeau Substitutes
DuTeau was substituted for Lindell as the second period opened. Howell and Brown carried the ball for gains. A pass was intercepted by Morrison, but the Blues lost it. Brown made 12 yards around Burnham's end, and on the next play carried the ball across the goal line. It was not allowed, however, as his teammates were off-side. Howell, Bronson, and Brown carried the ball for good yardage and Howell plunged across. The try for point succeeded and the actual score stood 13-0 in favor of the Reds. The quarter ended soon afterward with the Blues in possession of the ball on the Red 40-yard line.

Blues Go Down the Field
Krall was sent in for Burnham.

PUBLIC HEALTH RADIO LECTURES

University Studio Gets Good Response to First of New Series

LYMAN IS FIRST TALKER

The University of Nebraska Radio Studio has instituted a series of talks on "Public Health" which promises to be of great interest to the people of the state, according to the responses received from the introductory lecture of the set given by Dr. Rufus A. Lyman, of the College of Pharmacy, last week. One twenty-five minute period beginning at 8:05 o'clock and ending at 8:30 o'clock on Friday evening, has been turned over to the faculty of the College of Pharmacy for the eight weeks series. Nebraska Studio broadcasts through KFAB (340.7) at Lincoln.

Physical Defects
On April 16, Dr. Charles Harms, a physician in the Department of Student Health, will give a survey of the physical defects of the young men of Nebraska as discovered by a study of the men entering the University of Nebraska. This talk will be followed one week later, April 23, by a survey of the physical defects of the young women of the state, as discovered by the study of young women.

Work on Farmers' Fair, Annual Ag College Event, Ahead of Last Year

"Work on all departments of the Farmers' Fair is far ahead of last year," declared Dan Seibold, president of the Farmers' Fair board on Saturday morning. Chairmen are leaving nothing undone. More enthusiasm for the event has never been evident.

A few minutes were spent Saturday morning viewing the cast of seventy-five Home Economics Department girls at practice with their pageant. "The Piper," the title of the play to be presented this year, will be an elaborate production, according to Harold Sumption, in charge of the play.

"Barbecue" exclaimed John Poppell, chairman of the barbecue committee, "I'll tell the world." One of the finest beefs on the University Farm is being especially fattened for my barbecue. I have made arrangements with the chairmen of the doughnut and coffee committees to serve jointly with the barbecue.

A horseshoe contest is being planned for fair day as a special attraction. There will be a dozen plats set out, and prizes will be offered to the winners.

Word comes from Milton Schrader, manager of the Farmers' contest, that seventy-five tickets will be given away the night before the fair. He is conducting a contest during the week of April 26 to 30. It will be conducted in the form of a guessing

TEN SKITS FOR CO-ED FOLLIES ARE SELECTED

One Women's Organization To Present Each Act At Temple April 23

TWO PRIZES ARE OFFERED

Associated Women's Students in Charge; Tickets at Long's Book Store

Ten women's organizations will present the Co-Ed Follies, next Friday, April 23, in the Temple Theatre. Following are those participating in the skits: Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Omicron Pi, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Omega Pi, Sigma Lambda, Silver Serpents, Tassels, W. A. A.

Cleverest and Most Original
These ten acts were selected from all which were handed in as being the cleverest and most original. From them two will be picked as best, the first receiving a prize of $15 and the second a prize of $10.

The performance will start at 7:30 o'clock, will close at 9 o'clock, and is given for girls only. Miss Alice Howell, head of the dramatic department, Miss Florence Hyde, and Miss Clara Wilson will act as judges.

Tickets On Sale
Tickets for the Follies are twenty-five cents, and are on sale at Long's Book Store, or by any member of the A. W. S. board, which is sponsoring the entertainment. Helen Anderson, in charge of the ticket sale, plans to appoint representatives at the various houses and dormitories.

Only Amateurs
The show will be staged entirely by amateurs, no professionals allowed. All the skits are entirely different, so the entertainment should please all. The result of this first attempt at producing a show entirely by girls will determine the future of the idea.

Rehearsals have been scheduled to begin immediately. The girls putting on each act have been notified by the A. W. S. members, who will work with them in preparing the skit. Dress rehearsal will be on Thursday night, at 7 o'clock.

Does Not Condemn Students

It is encouraging and interesting to note that the speaker did not condemn the students as being irreligious and with no ideals. She wishes however, that they would not even give people a chance to say they are not religious. She closed her talk by referring again to the fact that students must find their purpose, then all that is noble will follow.

May Day Tournay

Harvard is planning a May day poetry tournament modeled after the fourteenth century spring festival.

WEATHER FORECAST

Sunday: Mostly fair and somewhat cooler.

Weather Conditions
Light rain has fallen in eastern Iowa and northern Illinois, and scattered rain in the north Atlantic states, western Canada and the north Pacific states. Elsewhere the weather is mostly fair. Cool weather continues east of the Mississippi River and in the southwest. Temperatures are above normal for the season from the Missouri valley westward to the Pacific coast.

Historical Society Starts "W. J. Bryan" Source Collection

(University News Service)
To assemble in its library and museum a "W. J. Bryan Collection," the Nebraska State Historical Society in March sent letters to a large number of former associates and friends of Bryan, asking for personal recollections and comments on his life. Numerous replies are being received. The collection, it is planned, will serve as a great storehouse of source material for future historians, and it is expected will be the most complete in America on the life of Bryan. Large donations have already been received from Charles W. Bryan, and other close friends of the family.

T. S. Allen, brother-in-law, has provided the society with a list of persons who can make valuable contributions. Many prominent men in national affairs at Washington have promised to write to the society as soon as press of congressional business permits them.

STUDENTS HEAR BANQUET ENDS DR. REINHARDT PHARMACY WEEK

"Candidates for Oblivion" Is Topic at Temple Friday

DEFINES AN EDUCATION

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, head of the American Association of University Women, of Mills College, Oakland, Cal., lectured on "Candidates for Oblivion" at the convocation at 11 o'clock Friday morning at the Temple Theatre. Dr. Reinhardt said that she chose this subject after reading of some California students in an automobile accident.

Dr. Reinhardt challenged American universities and students by asking:

Advises Students
"What are you a candidate for anyhow?" She advised that American students should face the truth, have a definite purpose, and know the way to accomplish it. In emphasizing her subject she said: "Be sure you know what education is, what schooling is. People can come out of school without an education."

Education a Word
The speaker warned of the dangers in America of making education a mere word. She wondered if students really understand the purpose of education. She then defined a university as a place where learned men and women encourage each other in working together, not emphasizing past knowledge but in seeking for a new interpretation of it. Dr. Reinhardt thought it odd that the students are not good citizens and are immature in their attention to civic duty, but she thinks that interest is rapidly maturing because students feel themselves not just a group but a nation as well.

Social Sciences
Dr. Reinhardt then pointed out how the social sciences are being crowded and that American scientific students are not paying much attention to research work. In discussing the classics she said: "We have done away with the discipline of grammar, so that few of us are even literate. Anything goes, a gesture, a shrug, and a stab at a word somewhere between a and z. We are developing a most peculiar English. There is an efficient medium for careful thought."

Jewett On Program
Colonel Jewett head of the Military Department, talked on his connections with the students of the Pharmacy College. Regent Seymour, who represented the board of control of the University, congratulated the students on the success of their work.

Robert Hardt, graduate of the Pharmacy College, who was recently appointed by the governor to serve as state examiner, greeted them on behalf of the State Board.

Madame Schumann-Heink, Contralto Of World Note, Appears Here May 5

Sixty-four years ago, there was born in Australia a child who was to become the greatest of contraltos—Madame Schumann-Heink. Her father was a Bohemian, a poorly paid officer in the Austrian army. Her mother was an Austrian.

She was placed in the Ursuline convent in Prague, and there, when she was twelve, a nun discovered that she had a remarkable voice. She was permitted to sing in the cathedral. Her family moved to Gratz, where Excellence Benedek, a well-to-do army officer became interested and provided funds for her lessons until she was seventeen. Then he sent her to the director of the Hof Opera in Vienna, who told her that "with such a face and no personality she could never hope to be a singer."

Then began the struggle through which every great artist has gone, until she received an invitation to sing in the Royal Opera at Dresden. She remained there for four years, being married in the third, and then progressed to Hamburg. Her husband died there, leaving her with

Avery Endorses Coming American Legion Events

To the University Community:
Under the auspices of the American Legion the following events are scheduled: Madam Schumann-Heink, City Auditorium, May 5; Miss Howell's University Players, Orpheum, May 7-8. Your attention is called to the fact that any profits that may arise from these entertainments will be used by the American Legion for the relief of disabled veterans, their wives and children.

As a member of Post 3, I am familiar with the admirable work that the Post is doing, and I wish in my capacity as a Legionnaire rather than as a University executive to lend to the program my endorsement and encouragement.

Yours very sincerely,
S. AVERY.

BANQUET ENDS PHARMACY WEEK

Rasdale Is Main Speaker at Lindell Hotel Friday Evening

EXECUTIVES GIVE TALKS

One hundred and fifty students and graduates of the College of Pharmacy attended the banquet held at the Lindell Hotel Friday night. This ended the annual Pharmacy week at the University.

Earl Rasdale, a graduate of the college in 1924, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Rasdale recalled old reminiscences of his school days with Dr. Lyman and told of his business in western Nebraska.

Advises Students
In advising the students he said: "Let the people know that you know your business and know the markets, so you can know your business." He also pointed out the importance of gaining the confidence of the public, and advertising.

Doctor Lyman, Dean of the College of Pharmacy, also told of the past. He told of organizing the college, how he graduated but two students eighteen years ago. Doctor Lyman then spoke on the students and their accomplishments.

Avery Speaks
Chancellor Avery congratulated the students on their attendance at the banquet and Pharmacy Week program. This all goes to show the progress of the young pharmacists, according to the Chancellor. He said the College of Pharmacy is distinguished because of the fact that it still has the same men at its head it had when organized. Dean Engberg greeted the students and commended Dean Lyman for his work in the past.

Reward for Scholarship
Seventy-six seniors at the Kansas State Agricultural College have been exempted from the rules governing class attendance during the second semester as a recognition of excellence in scholarship. If the venture proves successful, the authorities intend to extend such exemption to all upperclassmen.

Prof. Hopkins Tells Chemists of New Element "61"

(University News Service)
A description of the new element Ilinium "61" discovered recently under the direction of Prof. B. S. Hopkins of the University of Illinois, was given at the recent meeting of the American Chemical Society at Tulsa, Okla., April 5 to 8. Five members of the University of Nebraska chemistry faculty attended the convention: Professors F. W. Upson, T. J. Thompson, B. C. Hendricks and C. H. Knudsen.

The discovery of the new elements was made in the course of experiments on rare earth elements, samples of which were obtained by extensive fractional crystallization.

HALF-MILERS GET LAURELS; LOCKE EQUALS SPRINT TIME

Quartet of Hein, Dailey, Davenport, and Locke Run Distance in 1 Minute 26.6 Seconds; Fraction Less Than Previous Mark; Officially Allowed

WIRSIG TIES WITH TWO FOR FIRST IN POLE-VAULT

Weir Takes Close Second in 120-Yard Hurdles; Stephens Places Same in Broad-Jump with 23 Feet 4 Inches; Milers Also Runners-Up

(Special to The Daily Nebraskan)

LAWRENCE, Kans., April 17.—Setting one world record, equaling another, gathering three seconds, and a pair of thirds, was how the Cornhusker track team represented their school at the fourth annual relays held here today under ideal weather conditions.

The half-mile relay quartet composed of Hein, Dailey, Davenport, and Locke passed the former world mark by four-tenths of a second, running the distance in 1 minute 26.6 seconds. Locke equaled the world's 100-yard dash record of 9.6 seconds, which breaks the Nebraska Varsity mark as well. The record was allowed. Wirsig tied for first place in the pole vault at 12 feet 11 7/8 inches, with Potts, Oklahoma and Carter, K. S. A. C.

The second places came when Weir took a close second in the 120-yard hurdles; when Stephens broad-jumped 23 feet 4 inches, and the Husker mile quartet placed the other position. Dailey, Davenport, Wyatt, and Beerke were the runners. Kriemelmeyer took third in the shot-put; the two-mile team placed third in that event for the other place. In the 440-yard relay, the Nebraska team lost out when Dailey dropped the baton on the first touch-off.

PLAYERS PRESENT "LITTLE PRINCESS"

Children's Theater Offering Saturday in the Temple Is Well Acted

"The Little Princess," a three act play by Frances Hodgson Burnett, was presented by the University Players in their Children's Theater at the Temple Theatre Saturday afternoon and evening. The play is one of the most difficult that has been given in the Children's Theatre this year, due to the large cast.

It was given with skill and understanding. The performance was under the direction of Fern Hubbard, instructor in the Dramatic Department.

Little Rich Girl
Pauline Gellatly as Sara, "the little princess," deserves much credit for the success of the play. As the little rich girl, mistreated when misfortunes befell her, and without a "grown-up friend," brought the audience into sympathy with her through all her emotions.

Helene Phillips as Miss Minchin, and Jack Rank as Mr. Carrisford, proved themselves competent in their roles. Ruth Lang and Don Helmsdoerfer as Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael did exceedingly well. Paul Pence and Henry Ley played their roles in a good manner.
