

SEVEN CHOSEN FOR NET TEAM

Hattori, Hunt, and Straka Win In Second Round of Tournament

HOLD A PRACTICE MATCH

Kenneth Hattori, Joseph Hunt, and John Straka were the winners in the second round of the tennis tournament, Friday. These men and the winner of the Hays-Smith contest, Monday, will be added to the team. The four men which have been definitely picked are Paul Shildneck, John Newton, Tom Newton, Tom Elliott, and Wesley Sunderland.

In the second round games, Hattori won from MacLeod, 6-0; 6-0. Hunt defeated Smith, 6-3; 6-4. Straka carried off honors, 6-1; 6-2. Neither of the games were closely contested.

Practice Matches

Three of Nebraska's team played practice matches with Wesleyan Saturday afternoon on the State courts. A strong wind carried dust from the fresh made excavations from Morrill Hall and made playing practically impossible at times. Wesleyan brought only three men and each played a singles match. Two men from each team played a doubles game.

In the singles, Mahood won from Newton, 8-6; 6-3. Elliott defeated Radinsky, 6-1; 6-2. Paul Shildneck and Dean B. E. McProud divided the first two sets, and Shildneck won the third with scores of 6-2 and 6-3.

Win First Doubles

Nebraska won the first doubles match, 6-4; 8-6, and Wesleyan won the second, 8-6. The tie was not played off because of the difficulty of playing in the wind.

The first Missouri Valley match will be played May 1 with Drake at Lincoln. Coach McBride is endeavoring to schedule a practice tilt with Wesleyan this week, if the athletic office consents. The freshman tournament will start Wednesday, and a team will be picked from the winners to play freshman of other schools. Registration for the freshman tournament closes Tuesday evening.

RUSSELL SPEAKER AT CHURCH DINNER

Lincoln Pastor Will Address Pan Presbyterian Students' Club At Grand Hotel

Dr. Francis W. Russell, '90, Palo Alto, Cal., temporary pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Lincoln, will be the speaker at the Spring dinner of the Pan-Presbyterian Student's Club, to be held Thursday evening at the Grand Hotel at 6:15 o'clock. There will also be a musical program before the talk and some news of importance to Presbyterian students will be announced, according to members of the committee.

New Business Ideals

Dr. Russell will speak on "New Business Ideals of Life." Dr. Russell has held pastorates at St. Louis and Berkeley and has often been commencement speaker at various colleges. Reservations for the dinner may be made at the Student Pastor's office in the Temple or from the committee consisting of Wayne Gratigny, Elizabeth Tracy, Richard Blore, Paul Herron, Anne Morrison, and John Allison.

The committee promises that the dinner will be over by 8 o'clock so that students may have engagements later in the evening.

Werner, Doran, and Frost Judge Debate

(University News Service)

Prof. Oscar H. Werner and Prof. Oscar Doran, of Teachers College, and Lincoln J. Frost, Jr., '27, intercollegiate debater against the University of South Dakota in 1926, judged a debate at Syracuse, Wednesday, April 14, between Havelock and Syracuse.

The decision was 2 to 1 in favor of Havelock upholding the affirmative of the state question "Resolved that Cabinet Members Should Have a Right to the Floor of Congress."

Final Meeting for Engineers April 23

(University News Service)

Senior engineering students will hold their last general meeting as a class, Friday morning, April 23, when they gather in special convocation for Dean Ferguson's annual pre-graduation talk to senior engineers. Advice concerning their future work and a final summary of the opportunities and duties facing them will be considered in the Dean's talk.

Engineers' Parade

St. Patrick himself led the engineers' parade on March 17 at the University of Arizona, we are told by the Arizona Wildcat. A picnic, two hours of hard labor on the campus, a baseball game and a dance were other features of the day's program.

WOLCOTT WRITES IN BOOK

"Naturalists' Guide to the Americas" Has Chapters By Nebraskan

Two chapters in a recent new book "Naturalists' Guide to the Americas" were written by Prof. R. H. Wolcott, of the Department of Zoology. The book deals scientifically with the uses, values, and management of the natural areas of the Americas, and the duties of scientific men in preserving natural resources.

The first part of the book is on general subjects and contains a chapter by Prof. Wolcott on "Fires in Relation to the Biota (plants and animals)." Detailed reports on states and provinces are taken up in the other part of the book, in which Dr. Wolcott has a chapter on Nebraska.

The book was prepared by the committee on the preservation of natural conditions of the Ecological Society of America. Prof. Victor W. Shelford, of the University of Illinois, is editor. Williams and Wilkins company of Baltimore are publishers.

Pool Offers Botany Course in Mountains

(University News Service)

Registrations for Prof. Pool's Rocky Mountains botany course at Estes Park during the summer session are coming in, with an increased registration expected shortly as the end of the school year draws near, and teachers make plans for the summer.

The course will afford special opportunities to teachers for field study, according to Dr. Pool. A special limited selection of advanced students will also be formed. Full maximum summer session credit will be granted those who complete the work satisfactorily.

Discover New Fossil Bone Bed in Wyoming

(University News Service)

A new bone bed, three feet thick in places, and filled with remains of rhinoceroses, was discovered near Torrington, Wyo., by Dr. E. H. Barbour, curator of the museum, and Phil Orr, special student in paleontology, while they were excavating for mammoth remains in that vicinity.

The bed shows an interesting exposure of fresh water snails over the remains. Dinosaurs were found near the same place. The museum expects to explore the bed this summer.

Elect Ferguson Head Of Engineers' Society

(University News Service)

Dean O. J. Ferguson, of the College of Engineering, was elected as chairman of the Nebraska section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, at the annual meeting of the section, April 9, in Omaha. He will serve out the term of Phil McCullough, of the Northwestern Bell company, who has gone to Mexico.

Dean Ferguson expects to attend the annual convention of the national association at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, the latter part of June, after attending a meeting at Iowa City, of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

First Team Wins In Grid Contest

The Blues marched down the field. Oehrich hit the wall for good yards, two passes were completed, and a five yard penalty helped. Marrow twisted and squirmed across the line for the first Blue score. He added one point with a drop kick, making the score 13 to 7.

Howell received and was downed by Krall. Bronson made some good runs, nearly getting away once. Holm let a pass slip through his arms when he had practically a clear field. Reeves took Holmes' place at center for the Reds and Presnell went in for Brown. The line seemed strengthened around the pivot position. Brand was sent in for Whitmore, and Howell netted 15 yards through the center, but Brand was off-side. Mandery took Hunt's place at tackle for the Blues. Holm caught a pass to make a first and ten. Howell shoved his way through several tackles. Stands substituted for Drath at guard. Presnell went for ten yards. Howell was stopped at the line of scrimmage by entering the University over a five year period. The second discussion will be given by Dr. Inez Philbrick, Physician in charge of the young women in the University Student Health Service.

Disease Prevention
Prevention of disease and limitation of its spread, will be treated by Dr. Earl Deppen, of the student health service, on April 30. The following week, Dr. Ruth Warner, instructor in home nursing, will discuss the problems of taking care of the sick in the home, and May 14 Dr. H. H. Waite, of the Department of Bacteriology, will report his discoveries concerning the health of the children examined during the school inspections.

Parasitic Animals

"Parasitic Animals as Carriers of Disease" will be the topic discussed by Dr. F. D. Barker, professor of medical zoology, on Friday, May 21, and the concluding lecture of the series will be given by Prof. J. B. Burt, chairman of the Department of Pharmacy, on May 28. Professor Burt will deal with the importance of the druggist in the conservation of the health of the community.

The studio is on the air promptly at 8 o'clock Friday evening with these lectures. Tentative plans are being laid to follow this series with lectures on "Dental Health" by members of the faculty of the College of Dentistry at Lincoln. This will probably be assigned to the 8:05 to 8:30 o'clock period each Saturday evening.

A Showing of Select Spring Suits

HERE'S something to these new suits of ours that make them stand out. They're select. Partly due to the cut—broad shoulders, peak lapels,—that gives the right fashion quirk. The rich fabrics—worsted, herring-bone weaves—create a prosperous air. The patterns—stripes, mixtures—contribute class. And the colors—greys, tans—add tone.

They're clothes for the college man and business executive. Yet our policy of moderate pricing suits puts them within the favor of every man.
