FORUM WILL HEAR STUDENT SPEAKERS

Webster To Defend and Morrow To Criticize Present System Of Athletics

Edward T. J. Morrow and David H. Webster will speak on "Intercollegiate Athletics" at the regular World Forum luncheon today noon at the Grand Hotel. Morrow will speak against the present athletic system and Webster will defend it. An open discussion will follow their addresses.

Morrow is editor of The Awgwan and was formerly editor of the Daily Nebraskan. Webster has taken part in two major sports in the University. Each will be given twelve minutes to present his views.

Similar discussions have been held in other schools over the country during the past two or three years. Particular reference will be made to the place which football holds in the college world.

WEATHER FORECAST

Wednesday: Somewhat unsettled; cooler.

Weather Conditions

The area of high pressure and cold weather is now over the southeastern states, and temperatures are mostly above normal in the western half of the country under the influence of a low pressure area over the upper Missouri valley and adjacent portions of Canada with a trough extending southward to New Mexico. Rain has fallen in Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado. Elsewhere the weather is mostly fair.

TIMES CONDUCTS CONTEST

Test Students In Eastern Colleges On Current Events

(By the New Student News Service)—What, in the past year's news was the Karolyi affair? The Gobi Desert Expedition? The Riff War? These questions and others will be asked in the New York Times Current Events Contest to be conducted in eastern colleges. Prizes of $250 and a Gold Medal will be given in each college.

News events of the past year will be covered in the contest. However, because of the short notice given for the first contest, it was decided to examine students only on events occurring between Oct. 1, 1925, and May 1, 1926.

The contests will be held at Cornell, Columbia University, the University of Chicago, the United States Naval Academy, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Princeton, and Yale.

HIGH SCHOOL TESTS START

Winners In Preliminaries Will Be Representatives In State Contests

MAIL QUESTIONS TODAY

Preliminary contests of the fourth annual Interscholastic Academic Contest will be held by representatives from State educational institutions or colleges, using questions provided by the Extension Department of the University of Nebraska, Saturday, April 26. The preliminary contests will be held at twelve different places in the state. Questions for the contests will be mailed to the representatives today.

These preliminary contests will be held for such districts of the Nebraska State Teachers Association as may care to enter. Sectional contests of groups of counties are so arranged as to take place in practical centers.

Because of the nature of the tests, only good general school work will avail in the preparation for the contests. The awards will be made on

OPEN BASEBALL TOURNEY FOR GREEKS TODAY

Eight Teams Play In First Games At Rock Island and Ag College Fields

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

Each Aggregation Assured Of Three Games; Remainder is One-Game Elimination Type

Eight fraternity baseball teams will swing into action today, opening the interfraternity baseball tourney. At Rock Island Park, the Alpha Tau Omega nine will battle Theta Chi. At 1 o'clock. Scheduled for 3:30 at the same place is the game between Sigma Chi and Alpha Sigma Phi. Those teams are the four included in Group I of the drawings. Two games in Group II will also be played today. Pi Kappa Alpha will meet the Acacia diamond stars at 1 o'clock. At 5:30 Pi Kappa Phi plays the Sigma Nu nine. The Group II games will be played on the Ag College field.

The Greek baseball tournament this spring is more extensive than it has been in late years. This is principally due to the fact that there is no Varsity baseball this season at Nebraska. Instead of simply an elimination series as formerly, the teams will all be assured of playing at least three games against the other teams in their group. This will enable the aggregations to get fully under way before being dropped from competition, and make it possible to recover from poor starts. The winners of the various groups will be determined on a percentage basis. It is possible, however that a tie for the lead would result, two teams having won two games, and lost one. In this case, an extra game will have to be played between the leaders.

Winners Will Be Paired Off

The winners of the various groups will be paired off, and the remainder of the tourney will be a one-game elimination type. However, by that time, the nines should have played together enough to give a representation of the brand of ball they are capable of playing.

By Saturday evening, all of the fraternities entered should have played one game, unless some game is cancelled. If contests are not played according to schedule, the decision must be turned in to the Athletic office.

Interest in baseball seems apparent, when there are thirty teams entered in the series. Several practice games have already been played and the prospective hurlers have been warming up their arms.

Beginning today, two games will be played each day until May 4, when the first round ends. The remainder of the pairings was announced by the Athletic Board yesterday. The games scheduled for the week ending Saturday, May 8, are:

- Group V.
Game 5, Rock Island, Mon., 1:00 P. M.—Delta Sigma Delta vs. Alpha Chi Sigma.
Game 6, Rock Island, Mon., 3:30 P. M.—Phi Kappa vs. Xi Psi Phi.
- Group VI.
Game 5, Ag College, Mon., 1:00 P. M.—Mu Sigma vs. Kappa Sigma.
Game 6, Ag College, Mon., 3:30 P. M.—Alpha Gamma Rho vs. Delta Sigma Phi.
- Group VII.
Game 5, Rock Island, Tues., 1:00 P. M.—Delta Sigma Lambda vs. Alpha Theta Chi.
Game 6, Rock Island, Tues., 3:30 P. M.—Phi Gamma Delta vs. Delta Tau Delta.
Game 7, Ag College, Tues., 1:00 P. M.—Phi Delta Theta vs. Farm House.
Game 8, Ag College, Tues., 5:30 P. M.—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

Explains Missionaries Duty

"What is the missionaries duty? Higher education is necessary if development is secured. The western world has set the standard and now it must send these educated upper-grade teachers to train the leaders of these darkened lands, that they may bring the knowledge to the people of future generations.

"We need women who are living Christ, who love God, who are tactful, sympathetic and good to go into these fields where God is, but has not had the opportunity to express Himself, and teach these people His way," Miss Whiting concluded.

Ethel Saxon lead the service, and special music was furnished by Cleopatra Ross.

Pool Lectures On Ranier Park

Prof. R. J. Pool of the department of Botany gave an illustrated lecture on "Mount Ranier National Park" at Holmsville, April 13. The mountain has a wonderful forest about its base, with twenty-eight glaciers on which are many beautiful wild flowers. The colored lantern slides were made from Dr. Pool's own photographs.

Publish Article by Latimer

The March number of the Anatomical Record contains an abstract, "Further Studies of the Growth of the Chicken Skeleton," by Prof. H. B. Latimer of the department of anatomy. The title of the abstract was read at the recent convention of the anatomical society at New Haven, Conn.

Chancellor Avery To Review R.O.T.C. Parade

Chancellor Samuel Avery will review the University R. O. T. C. on the drill field this afternoon. A feature of the parade will be the escort of the colors, Parshing Rifles being the escort company.

Next week's parade will be held on Tuesday, honorary to the sponsors of the Military Department. According to the present plans, letters to the six high men on the rifle team will be presented at this time. Lammall, Shafer, Currier, Otradorsky, Madsen and Skinner are the letter winners on the 1926 team, which recently finished the season with twenty-one wins, twelve losses and one tie.

WHOLE WORLD OUR PROBLEM

Vesper Speaker Says U. S. Must Join in International Affairs

TELLS OF HINDU TROUBLE

"What we Americans must realize is that the world problem is our problem," declared Miss Ethel Whiting, University student and former missionary to India, when she spoke at Vespers, Tuesday evening at Ellen Smith Hall.

"India is undergoing a great change," she continued, "a change in the attitude of women and their duties as part of the inhabitants of the country. The greatest fault of this Hindu people is their disregard for physical matter in their effort to stress the spiritual life.

"The intervention of the British government has brought about a good part of the religious development," Miss Whiting pointed out. "The high cast is constantly learning more of the duty that it owes to the poor people. They are beginning to establish orphanages, asylums, widow's homes, and hospitals. These were not known before Christianity took its hold in this heathen land.

Social Change Is Pronounced

"The social change is very pronounced. Formerly the high class women were kept in absolute seclusion, now they may be seen walking about the streets in the same manner as any other law-abiding citizen. Everywhere the desire is for freedom. Old tradition is bound to cling to some, but the vast majority, particularly the younger men and women, are casting aside their old bonds and following the Christian way."

In the educational line not much progress was made until recent years, she said. In 800 there were no schools; the boys desirous of becoming priests studied with older priests; the girls had no opportunity, save that knowledge which came through the commands of the Mother.

"The government aid," Miss Whiting continued, "was an encouragement to these people, for they could see that England was not depriving them of their rights nor was she to interfere with their religious or social life; she merely wished to offer them new opportunities and it was not until the people of India themselves demanded compulsory primary education that such a measure was taken.

UNIFORMITY IN GRADES BACKED BY ENGINEERS

Only One College Accepts Recommendations of Senate Committee

USED ONLY AS GUIDE

Tabulations Will Not Be Accepted as Rigid Standard, But as Basis Of Comparison, Says Dean

The College of Engineering is the only College to accept the recommendations submitted last fall by a committee of the University Senate in regard to the establishment of a more uniform basis of grading. The committee made a study of the grades of both semesters last year and reported to the Senate in March. The Senate accepted the report, and made recommendations to the various colleges.

Prof. A. L. Candy, chairman of the Senate committee, said yesterday that the committee had accomplished its work and that it was now up to the various colleges to do as they saw fit with the recommendations. The committee was composed of Professor Candy of the College of Arts and Sciences, Prof. G. R. Chaburn of the College of Engineering, Prof. J. E. Kirshman of the College of Business Administration, Prof. H. E. Bradford of the College of Agriculture, Prof. F. E. Henzlick of the Teachers' College, and Prof. J. B. Burt of the College of Pharmacy.

Is Guide to Instructor

Dean O. T. Ferguson, of the College of Engineering, announced Tuesday afternoon: "The College of Engineering voted to accept the recommendations of the committee made for the purpose of establishing a little more uniformity in the basis of making grades. As a guide to the instructor in determining normalcy of his grades we agreed that in the ordinary twenty or more students we might expect that from twenty-five to forty-five per cent of the group to be graded in the seventies, a lesser percentage to be in the sixties and eighties, and a still lesser percentage in the nineties or below passing. An instructor therefore will view his distribution of grades in the light of that of which we consider to be a normal distribution and if his grades differ very materially from the normal curve he will be expected to present a reason for departure. For example, if he has a class in which he might have high grades and low grades and not be expected to follow the standard. The smaller the class the less can be expected on the basis of comparison.

"These are general advisory rules and a strict mathematical interpretation is not expected. They are really for the benefit of the instructor in assisting him to compare his grades with those of others."

Pre-Medic Society Arranges For Mixer

The all-University mixer which is to be held Saturday, April 24, at eight-thirty is to be sponsored by the pre-medic sorority, Mu Epsilon Delta. Music will be provided by a seven-piece orchestra. Entertainment and refreshments will also be included in the evening's program. Admission will be twenty-five cents.

Yellow Umbrellas Which Dot Campus Protect Engineers In Their Work

With the peach trees blooming and the campus peaches blossoming out in resplendent hues of springtime, a university campus presents a colorful picture.

Our Nebraska grounds, however, have flared up with splashes of color during the last day or so that seem to have aroused the curiosity of the most sophisticated.

The objects of this interest are the gay, yellow umbrellas dotting the green here and there, which are being used by the class in Civil Engineering in their plane table work.

"Are they for protection against rain or the sun?" the reporter heard one of a curious group inquire.

Although a source of amusement to many students, the sunshades have a very definite purpose. The class in plane table work to do their work outdoors, often in the light of a glaring sun which, reflected from the

MCPRANG IS CONTRIBUTOR

Former Nebraska Student Writes for "Literary Review"

Margaret McPrang, former University of Nebraska student and a member of The Daily Nebraskan staff, is now contributing editor for the "Literary Review," a supplement to the Daily Californian.

Among Miss McPrang's contributions to the Literary Review, is a very interesting article called the "Runaway Kite," appearing in the issue of Wednesday, April 14.

The article is a humorous comment on recent poetry and literary work.

ESSAY CONTEST CLOSING MAY 10

Poems Also Due; Entries Compiled Into Book Form If Quality Warrants

TO ANNOUNCE 1925 PLAY

May 10 is the last day manuscripts will be received in the essay contest which was started last fall. Poems, also must be handed in by this time. Plays will not be called for until next fall, when the best one will be put on by the University Players.

The essays and the poems which are handed in this spring will be compiled in book form, if the number and quality justify it, according to Prof. Rice, who is in charge of the contest. Thus far, indications point to a much larger list of entries than were handed in last year, although there will not be as many as were expected.

The book of Nebraska Verse for 1925 will be off the press about the middle of May. A book of Nebraska Verse for 1926 will be published next winter if there aren't enough essays to warrant putting them into book form now.

The play which won the 1925 play contest will be announced by the committee in a few days, and it will be put on by the University Players soon.

DEANS GIVE DINNER IN SEAVEY'S HONOR

Dean of Law College Here Goes to University of Pennsylvania Next Year

An informal dinner in honor of Dean Seavey of the College of Law, was given Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the University Club rooms by the deans of the various colleges. Dean Seavey will leave the University of Nebraska at the close of the school year to go to the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Dean Seavey explained in an informal way the nature of the special work he will take up in connection with an analysis of common law practice in America. He showed the magnitude of this task he is about to undertake.

Those present included Dean Sherman of the Graduate College, Dean Seavey of the College of Law, Dean Burnett of the College of Agriculture, Dean James of the College of Arts and Sciences, Executive Dean Engberg, Dean LeRosignol of the College of Business Administration, Dean Lyman of the College of Pharmacy, Dean Sealock of the Teachers College, Dean Keegan of the College of Medicine, Omaha, and Dean Ferguson of the College of Engineering. Dean Grubb of the College of Dentistry was unable to be present because of Dental Week which is being held this week.

HIGH SCHOOLS ENTER CONTESTS AT AG COLLEGE

Twenty-five Teams Will Compete In Annual Agricultural Events

PREDICT KEEN INTEREST

Will Use Livestock and Equipment at Ag College and Faculty Will Be Judges

Teams from more than twenty-five Nebraska high schools will compete in the twelfth annual high school agricultural contests at the College of Agriculture, April 22 and 23, according to instructors in the department of vocational education at the college in charge of the arrangements for the contests. More than twenty teams have entered in the general livestock judging contest.

Professor W. W. Derrick, instructor in the department of animal husbandry at the college and in charge of the animal husbandry division of the high school contests, predicts keen competition for the silver trophy now held by the Friend High School, to be awarded to the winning team in livestock judging and also for the silver loving cup to be presented to the individual winner in the general livestock judging contest. The winning livestock judging team will probably represent Nebraska at the American Royal Judging contest or at the International Livestock show contest, but the final decision regarding further competition for the winning team will not be announced until Friday.

Hold Events Thursday and Friday

The following events will be included in the competition on Thursday and Friday: general livestock, Babcock milk tests, grain grading and identification, egg grading, poultry production judging, egg show, and woodworking.

The livestock and equipment at the College of Agriculture will be used in all the contests and members of the faculty will be the officiating judges. Any high school in the state of Nebraska except the special state school of agriculture is eligible to enter a team, subject to the specified rules and regulations of the contest. Scholastic requirements for the contestants are the same as is required by the Nebraska High School Athletic Association for the high school athletic contests except that there is no age limit for the contestants. Any student who has competed in any previous contest of state or interstate nature is not eligible for a similar contest in the 1926 affair.

Instructions regarding the contents and complete sets of rules have been sent to all eligible high schools and it is expected that all entries will be in by this evening.

Many of the teams will stay at the College of Agriculture gymnasium where sleeping facilities have been provided.

IRON SPINX TAKE IN NEW MEMBERS

Sixty Initiated by Sophomore Interfraternity Organization on Tuesday Evening

Iron Sphinx, sophomore interfraternity organization, held its annual spring initiation at Robber's Cave Tuesday evening. Sixty men, representing thirty-two fraternities, were initiated.
